PREFACE

The uniformly welcome reception that has been accorded to the five previous editions of this book and the constant demand for it have rendered it necessary for the publishers to bring out a new edition of the same. The numerous, and, in some cases, important amendments made by the recent Adaptation of Indian Laws Order in Council passed under the new Government of India Act have been carried out in their proper places.

All Acts of any importance published up to August 1937 have been incorporated in this edition. The case-law has also been brought up to the end of August 1937. Special care has been bestowed in the preparation of this new edition to re-examine the citation of authorities and make them clear and exhaustive.

The several Provincial Amendments of the Court-Fees Act and the Stamp Act will be given in extenso at the end of the second volume.

5. (1) Where this Order requires that in any specified Indian law, or in any section or other portion of an Indian law, certain words shall be substituted for certain other words or that certain words shall be omitted, that substitution or omission, as the case may be, shall, except where it is otherwise expressly provided, be made wherever the words referred to occur in that law, or, as the case may be, in that section or portion.

(2) Where this Order requires that in any Indian law a plural noun shall be substituted for a singular noun or vice versa, or a masculine noun for a neuter noun or vice versa, there shall be made also in any verb or pronoun in the sentence in question such consequential amendment as the rules of grammar may require.

6. (1) The following provisions shall have effect where any Indian law which under this Order is to be adapted or modified has before the commencement of this Order been amended, either generally or in relation to any particular area, by the insertion or omission of words, or the substitution of words for other words:—

(a) Effect shall first be given in the amending law to any adaptation or modification required by paragraphs three and five of this Order to be made therein;

(b) the original law shall then be amended, either generally or, as the case may be, in its application to the particular area, so as to give effect to the directions contained in the amending law or, where any adaptation or modification has fallen to be made under sub-paragraph (a), in that law as so adapted or modified; and

(c) all adaptations or modifications required by this Order to be made in the original law shall then be made in that law as so amended, except so far as in the case of any particular area they may be inapplicable.

(2) In this paragraph references to the amendment of a law by the insertion or omission of words or the substitution of words do not include references to an amendment which is effected merely by directing that certain words shall be construed in a particular manner.

7. Subject to the foregoing provisions of this Order, any reference by whatever form of words in any Indian law in force immediately before the commencement of this Order to an authority competent at the date of the passing of that law to exercise any powers or authorities, or discharge any functions, in any part of British India shall, where a corresponding new authority has been constituted by or under any Part of the Government of India Act, 1935, for the time being in force, have effect until duly repealed or amended as if it were a reference to that new authority.

8. In any Indian law in force immediately before the commencement of this Order any reference by name or description to any territory shall, unless the contrary intention appears or unless it has been, or is by this Order, otherwise expressly provided, be construed as a reference to the territory which bore that name or answered to that description at the date when the enactment containing that name or description came into operation:

Provided that in the application of any enactment to Madras, Bombay, Bihar, or the Central Provinces, references in that enactment to Madras, Bombay, Bihar or the Central Provinces, as the case may be, shall be construed as exclusive of so much of those Provinces respectively as was separated therefrom on the constitution of the Provinces of Orissa and Sind.

9 The provisions of this Order which adapt or modify Indian laws so as to alter the manner in which, the authority by which, or the law under or in accordance with which, any powers are exercisable, shall not render invalid any notification, order, commitment, attachment, byelaw, rule or regulation duly made or issued, or anything duly done, before the commencement of this Order; and any such notification, order, commitment, attachment, byelaw, rule, regulation or thing may be revoked, varied or undone in the like manner, to the like extent and in the like circumstances as if it had been made, issued or done after the commencement of this Order by the competent authority and under and in accordance with the provisions then applicable to such a case.

10. Save as provided by this Order, all powers which under any law in force in British India, or in any part of British India, were immediately before the commencement of Part III of the Government of India Act, 1935, vested in, or exercisable by, any person or authority shall continue to be so vested or exercisable until other provision is made by some legislature or authority empowered to regulate the matter in question.

11. Nothing in this Order shall affect the previous operation of, or anything duly done or suffered under, any Indian law, or any right, privilege, obligation or liability already acquired, accrued or incurred under any such law, or any penalty, forfeiture or punishment incurred in respect of any offence already committed against any such law.

12. For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that--

(c) nothing in this Order shall affect the provisions of any Order in Council for the time being in force made under section one hundred and fifty-eight, section one hundred and fifty-nine or section one hundred and sixty of the said Act (which empower Orders to be made regulating the relations of India and Burma as to their monetary systems, relief from double taxation, customs, and ancillary and related matters), or under any corresponding provisions in the Government of Burma Act, 1935, and

(d) no repeal effected by this Order shall affect the operation of sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph fifteen of the Government of India (Commencement and Transitory Provisions) Order, 1936.

THE ACTING JUDGES' ACT (XVI OF 1867).¹

Short title given, Act XIV of 1897.

[1st March, 1867.]

An Act to authorize the making of acting appointments to certain Judicial Offices.

WHEREAS the Governor-General of India in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, is empowered by diverse enactments to appoint the Judges of certain Courts in British India: And whereas it has been doubted whether he or it is empowered to appoint persons to act temporarily as such Judges, and it is expedient to remove such doubts; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. In every case in which the Governor-General of India in Council, or the Local Government, as the case may be, has power under any Act or Regulation to appoint a Judge of any Court in British India, such power shall be taken to include the power to appoint any person capable of being appointed a permanent Judge of such Court, to act as Judge of the same Court for such time as the Governor-General of India in Council or the Local Government, as the case may be, shall direct. Every person so appointed to act temporarily as a Judge of any such Court shall have the powers and perform the duties which he would have had and been liable to perform in case he had been duly appointed a permanent Judge of the same Court.

Certain enactments to be construed as if they contained a clause like section 1 of this Act

2. Every such Act and Regulation shall be construed as if it contained a special class to the purport or effect of the first section of this Act.

plement, p. 180. This Act has been declared by notification under S. 3 (a) of the Scheduled Districts Act (XIV of 1874), to be in force in the following Scheduled Districts, namely—The Districts Hazaribagh, Lohardaga and Manbhum, and Pargana Dhalbhum and the Kolhan in the District of Singhbhum—see Gazette of India, 1881, Pt. THE ADMINISTRATOR-GENERAL'S ACT (III OF 1913).

Prefatory Note.—The jurisdiction of the Court to compel due administration of the estate of deceased persons has existed from a very early period. It seems to have been of gradual growth, and founded rather on the necessity of supplying the defects of the Courts of common law and the ecclesiastical Courts, than on execution of trusts cognizable in equity alone. (Ency. of Laws of England, Vol. I, p. 176.)

In ancient times, when a man died without making any disposition of such of his goods as were testable, it is said that the king, who is parens patriæ, and has the supreme care to provide for all his subjects, used to seize the goods of the intestate, to the intent that they should be preserved and disposed for the burial of the deceased, the payment of his debts, to advance his wife and children, if he had any, and if not, those of his blood. This prerogative the king continued to exercise for some time by his own Ministers of Justice, and probably in the County Court, where matters of all kinds were determined, and it was granted as a franchise to many lords of manors, and others, who had, until the passing of the Court of Probate Act, a prescriptive right to grant administration to their intestate tenants and suitors in their own Courts Baron and other Courts. Afterwards the Crown, in favour of the Church, invested the prelates with this branch of the prerogative; for it was said, none could be found more fit to have such care and charge of the transitory goods of the deceased than the Ordinary, who all his life had the cure and charge of his soul. (Williams on Executors, 11th Edn, 312, 313.)

The flagrant abuses of this power by the Ecclesiastical Courts occasioned the Legislature to interpose, in order to prevent the Ordinaries from keeping any longer the administration in their own hands, or those of their immediate dependents and therefore, S. 31 Edw III, St. 1, was passed.

The term "administration" applied broadly denotes the management of an estate by a person appointed by authority of law to take charge thereof in place of the proper owner. (Ame Cyc, Vol 1,—Title, Administration.)

Referring to the origin of the office of Administrator-General in British India, Mr Kenny in his book on Administration Practice in British India says—"The office of the Administrator-General in this country grew out of the Mercantile and Trading Community in Bengal, whose interest were safeguarded by the Charter establishing the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, dated the 26th March, 1774. Its functions have been developed, and regulated on lines which experience have shown to be necessary, and it is an illustration of the adoption, and modification, to suit local circumstances of those principles which underlie the law of trusts, and the law affecting the administration of the estates, of deceased persons."

The earliest office out of which the office of the Administrator-General was developed is that of the Ecclesiastical Registrar in Bengal. The first parliamentary statute which dealt with the powers of Ecclesiastical Registrar in Bengal and the other provinces to obtain administration to estates was 39 and 40 Geo III, Cap 79. In order to understand the position of the Registrar under this statute, attention may be directed to S. 21 of the Act which reads as follows—"And whereas great inconveniences have arisen from the practice of granting Letters of Administration by the said Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William aforesaid in cases where the next of kin or any of the creditors of the deceased do not apply for the same, to persons calling themselves friends of the deceased. Be it therefore further enacted that from and after the first day of March which will be in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and one, whenever, any British subject shall die intestate within either of the presidencies of Fort William, Fort Saint George or Bombay, or the territories subordinate to either of the said Presidencies or to become subordinate thereto, and on return of the citation to be issued from the proper Ecclesiastical Court, no next-of-kin or creditors shall appear and make out their claim to the administration of the effect of the intestate deceased to the satisfaction of the said Court, it shall and may be lawful for the Registrar of such Court, and he is hereby required and directed to grant such letters of administration and colligenda as to such Court shall seem meet, by virtue whereof such Registrar shall collect the assets of the deceased and shall bring them for safe custody into such Court and account for them regularly in like manner as is now by law provided in cases where assets are vested in the hands of any officer of the Court under or by virtue of the equitable jurisdiction of any such Court."

It was not long before it became necessary to further develop the law on the subject. To this end Stat 55, Geo III, Cap. 84, was enacted.

The Registrar, under the old Act, had not by any means such a monopoly of administration of estates as was at one time considered to be the case: but private administrators were not by any means subject to similar restrictions in regard to the question of the method of keeping and filing their accounts, etc. The precautions, however, above referred to prove to be quite inadequate.

Gross irregularities and abuses were discovered in respect of estates under the charge of certain persons who held the office of Ecclesiastical Registrar, with the result that an order was passed by the Supreme Court on the 8th March, 1848, appointing a Committee to enquire into the working of that office. The Committee so appointed, duly enquired into the working of the office, and presented their report on the 24th January, 1849. Among other things it proved the Registrars had abused their powers that they had employed the monies in their hands in trade and that heavy losses had been incurred.

The Government of India, in view of the disclosures above alluded to, considered it advisable to take steps to protect the interests of the beneficiaries and next-of-kin of persons dying intestate as well as those who left wills, and after some consideration it was resolved that a public official should be appointed, who would protect the property of persons dying in cases where no steps were taken by the next-of-kin (if any) or where the next-of-kin were resident out of British India. It was also considered advisable to give such official power to deal with the estates of persons who had left wills where either the beneficiaries under the will were resident out of British India, or where they, or the executors named, took no steps to protect the estate. After carefully considering the position of matters the Government of India passed Act VII of 1849, which may be termed the first Administrator-General's Act in British India.

The next was Act II of 1850 (passed on 11th January, 1850) by which the Act of 1849 was extended to Madras and Bombay. It was provided that the rate of commission charged was not to be the same that the Administrator-General of these two provinces were not to cease to hold the office of Ecclesiastical Registrar and by S 4 of the Act, the Administrator-General was strictly prohibited from trading, etc. This Act remained in force until the year 1855 when a further Act was passed (Act VIII of 1855), which repealed both the last mentioned Acts.

This Act (VIII of 1855) remained in force until the year 1867, when Act XXXI of 1867 was passed as a repealing and re-enacting Code relating to the subject.

Act II of 1874, which was the Act in force until it was repealed and re-enacted by the present Act was presented to the Legislative Council on the 27th January, 1874. It related that having regard to the fact of certain amendments, and also to the fact that the Act of 1867 had already been amended by Act XIX of 1867 and Act V of 1870, it was thought advisable to repeal the then existing Acts and re-enact them, so as to have the law conveniently within the compass of one Act. The Act again came up for discussion on 10th February 1874, when it was discussed and finally received the assent of the Governor-General.

In 1913 it was thought expedient to consolidate Act II of 1874 and its several amending enactments, and also to make certain amendments in the law relating to the powers and duties of the Administrator-General, and this was effected by the Act which is now in force, Act III of 1913 (See Preface to Kinney's Administration Practice in India, Statement of Objects and Reasons; Report of Select Committee and Proceedings in Council.)

THE AGRICULTURISTS' LOANS ACT (XII OF 1884).

Prefatory Note.—In a country like India, where agriculture is the main source of income for the vast majority of the people, and the income from which source contributes by far the largest portion of the revenues of State, the progress of agriculture is one of the main concerns of Government

The poverty of the people engaged in agriculture necessitates the advance of loans by the Government to the raiyats engaged in the cultivation of land, for necessary agricultural purposes, as for instance, for purchase of seed and ploughing cattle in proper seasons, and for obtaining other agricultural implements.

The legislature has therefore provided for the granting of such loans on moderate and reasonable rates of interest and for their recovery in small instalments, spread over a number of years. But for such help, these poor raiyats, many of them illiterate, would fall into the hands of greedy and usurious money-lenders. This Act as well as the Northern India Takkavi Act were passed for the purpose of giving relief to agriculturists by grant of loans from Government funds for purposes connected with cultivation

6. Prefatory Note Reasons for the passing of the Act.—The Anand Marriage Act, 1909, was passed in order to remove all doubts as to the validity of the marriage ceremony common among the Sikhs called "Anand". The object of this Act was to set at rest doubts as to the validity of the marriage rite of the Sikhs called "Anand". This form of marriage had long been practised among the Sikhs, but it was apprehended that there were good reasons to believe that, in the absence of a validating enactment, doubts might be thrown upon it, and the Sikhs might have had to face great difficulties in the future, and incur heavy expenses on suits instituted in the Civil Courts. It was also apprehended that, in the absence of such a law, some judicial officers might be uncertain as to the validity of this orthodox Sikh custom. It was therefore thought desirable that all doubts should be set at rest for the future, by passing this enactment, which merely validates an existing rite and involves no new principle. See Statement of Objects and Reasons.

[22nd October, 1909.]

An Act to remove doubts as to the validity of the marriage ceremony common among the Sikhs called Anand.

WHEREAS it is expedient to remove any doubts as to the validity of the marriage ceremony common among the Sikhs called Anand; It is hereby enacted as follows:

1. (1) This Act may be called THE ANAND MARRIAGE ACT, 1909; and
- (2) It extends to the whole of British India.
2. All marriages which may be or may have been duly solemnized according to the Sikh marriage ceremony called Anand shall be, and shall be deemed to have been with effect from the date of the solemnization of each respectively, good and valid in law.
3. Nothing in this Act shall apply to—
 - (a) any marriage between persons not professing the Sikh religion, or
 - (b) any marriage which has been judicially declared to be null and void.
4. Nothing in this Act shall affect the validity of any marriage duly solemnized according to any other marriage ceremony customary among the Sikhs.

5. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to validate any marriage between persons who are related to each other in any degree of consanguinity or affinity which would, according to the customary law of the Sikhs, render a marriage between them illegal.

Prefatory Note—An Apprentice is a person bound in the form of law to a master, to learn from him his art, trade, or business, and to serve him during the time of his apprenticeship [1 Black. Com. 426, 2 Kent 211; Attenuus v. Ely, 3 Rawle (Pa) 307.]

Apprenticeship is a contract by which one person who understands some art, trade, or business, and is called the master, undertakes to teach the same to another person, commonly a minor, and called the apprentice, who, on his part, is bound to serve the master, during a definite period of time, in such art, trade, or business. The term "apprenticeship" is also used to denote the term during which an apprentice is to serve (Pardessus, Droit Comm. n. 34)

A contract of apprenticeship is not invalid because the master to whom the apprentice is bound is a corporation. [(1891) 1 Q.B. 75.]

At common law, an infant may bind himself apprentice by indenture, because it is for his benefit. [5 M. & S. 257, 5 D. & R. 339.] But this contract, on account of its liability to abuse, has been regulated by statute, and is not binding upon the infant unless entered into by him with the consent of the parent or guardian.

To be binding on the apprentice, the contract must be made as prescribed by statute.

Education is necessary for an infant. What particular kind of education is necessary is a matter that is settled having regard to the infant's inclinations, state of mind and condition in life. Therefore, where an infant executes an apprenticeship deed by which he covenants to pay a certain premium, and it is found that the arrangement is provident and proper and beneficial for him and that the premium is fair and reasonable, and that instruction has been given under the deed, it is held that he is liable to pay the premium, as being a necessary, and the fact that he enters into a covenant for the payment of it does not prevent his being liable. [Waller v. Everard (1881) 2 Q.B. 369.]

A contract of apprenticeship is generally to be regarded as for the benefit of an infant, and, therefore, he may make a legal binding contract of apprenticeship, under conditions laid down by this Act [R. v. St. Petrox, 4 T.R. 196.] If he could not do so, he could not be bound at all, for a father has no common law authority to bind his infant son as an apprentice without his consent. [R. v. Arnesby, 3 B. & Ald. 584.]

The contract of apprenticeship need not specify the particular trade to be taught, but it is sufficient if it be a contract to teach such manual occupation or branch of business as shall be found best suited to the genius or capacity of the apprentice [Fowler v. Hollenbeck, 9 Barb. (N.Y.) 309, People v. Pillow, 1 Sandf. (N.Y.) 672.]

A contract of apprenticeship, of hiring and service, may be beneficial to an infant, and would, generally speaking, be binding upon him, and may be made even with his own father or mother. [R. v. Chillisford, 4 B. & C. 94.] Such a contract would subject him to the statutable regulations applicable to masters and servants, although he might not be liable to any action upon the contract. For if an infant of five years of age or other person who is non potens in corpore, be retained and served in the best manner he can his master must pay him his wages [See Phillips v. Jones, 1 A. & E. 333.]

Difficult questions sometimes arise whether or not an agreement of hiring and service, of an infant is so beneficial as to be binding upon him. It is impossible to frame a deed between a master and an apprentice in which some stipulations are not in favour of the master. When any stipulation is relied upon by the infant as being unfair to him, it is the duty of the Court to decide on the construction of the whole contract, and then to say whether, as a whole, it is clearly and manifestly for the benefit of the infant. The question is whether the agreement taken as a whole is so much to the detriment of the infant as to render it unfair that he should be bound by his agreement. If there is any stipulation such as to make the whole contract an unfair one, then the whole contract is void [Corn v. Matthews (1893) 1 Q.B. 310. See also (1894) 2 Q.B. 65, (1894) 2 Q.B. 482.]

The duties of the master are to instruct the apprentice by teaching him the knowledge of the art which he has undertaken to teach him, though he will be excused for not making a good workman if the apprentice is incapable of learning the trade, the burden of proving which is on the master. [Barger v. Caldwell, 2 Dana (Ky.) 131; Clancy v. Overman, 18 N.C. 402.] He ought to watch over the conduct of the apprentice, giving him prudent advice and showing him a good example, and fulfilling towards him the duties of a father, as in his character of master he stands in loco parentis. He is also required to fulfil all the covenants he has entered into by the contract. He must not abuse his authority, either by bad treatment or by employing his apprentice in menial employments wholly unconnected with the business he has to learn, or in any service which is immoral or contrary to law. [4 Clark & F. 234; Hall v. Gardner, 1 Mass. 172] but may correct him with moderation for negligence and misbehaviour [Com. v. Baird, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 267; 4 Keb. 661, pl. 50; People v. Sniffen, 1 Wheel. Cr. Cas. (N.Y.) 502.]

An apprentice is bound to obey his master in all his lawful commands, take care of his property, and promote his interest, endeavour to learn his trade or business, and perform all the conditions of his contract not contrary to law. He must not leave his master's service during the terms of his apprenticeship. [James v. Le Roy, 6 Johns. (N.Y.) 274, Coffin v. Bassett, 2 Pick. (Mass.) 357.]

Apprenticeship is a relation which cannot be assigned at common law though if under such an assignment the apprentice continue with his new master, with the consent of all the parties and his own, it will be construed as a continuation of the old apprenticeship. [See Bowdler's Law Dictionary, Tit. "Apprentice".]

any ill-behaviour of such apprentice, or if such apprentice shall have absconded, the Magistrate may issue his warrant for apprehending such apprentice, and may hear and determine the complaint, and punish the offender by an order for keeping the offender, if a boy, in confinement in any debtor's prison or other suitable place, not being a criminal gaol, for any time not exceeding one month, of which one week may be in solitary confinement, during which time such allowance shall be made for his subsistence by the master or his agent as the Magistrate shall order; and, if the offender be a boy of not more than fourteen years of age, may order him to be privately whipped; or, if the offender be a girl, or in the case of any boy, the Magistrate deem any such punishment unfit, he may pass an order empowering the master of the apprentice or his agent to keep the offender in close confinement in his own house, or on board the vessel to which he belongs, upon bread and water, or such other plain food as may be given without injury to the health of the apprentice, for a period not exceeding one month.

Notes.

Sec 14—It is conceived, notwithstanding passages which may be found in the books apparently to the contrary that no master would be justified by the law of England even in moderately chastising a hired servant of full age for dereliction of duty, and that where the books speak of a master being justified in moderately chastising his servant or apprentice, they must be taken to apply only to the case of a servant or apprentice under age; and the only civil remedies a master has for idleness, disobedience or other dereliction of duty, or breach of contract on the part of a servant are, to bring an action against him, or, as Puffendorf expressed it, "to expel the lazy drone from his family, and leave him to his own beggarly condition". The circumstances which justify the discharge of a servant will also sometimes justify the non-payment of his wages. (See Smith's Master and Servant, 5th Ed., p. 107)

16. Upon complaint of wilful and repeated ill-behaviour on the part of the apprentice, and on the demand of the master, the Magistrate may order the contract of apprenticeship to be cancelled, whether or not the charge is proved; but only with the consent of the apprentice and of his father or guardian, if the charge is not proved; and such cancelling shall be with or without refund of the whole or part of any premium that may have been paid to the master on binding such apprentice, as to the Magistrate seems fit on consideration of the case; and all sums so refunded shall be applied under the direction of the Magistrate for behoof of the apprentice.

17. The Magistrate may order any sum recovered for behoof of the apprentice on cancelling the contract to be either laid out in binding him to another master, or otherwise for his benefit, or to be paid to the person by whom any premium was paid when he was bound apprentice.

18. No Magistrate shall entertain a complaint on the part of a master against an apprentice under this Act unless it be brought within one month after the cause of complaint arose, or, if the cause of complaint arose on board ship during a voyage, within one month after the arrival thereof at a port or place in the said territories, and no Magistrate shall entertain a complaint on the part of an apprentice against his master or the agent of his master under this Act unless it be brought within three months after the cause of complaint arose, or, if the cause of complaint arose on board ship during a voyage, within three months after the arrival thereof at a port or place in the said territories.

19. If the master of any apprentice shall die before the end of the apprenticeship, the contract of apprenticeship shall be thereby determined; and a proportionate part, corresponding to the unexpired portion of the term of any premium, which shall have been paid to such master on the binding of the apprentice to him, shall be returned by the executors or administrators out of the estate of the deceased to the person or persons who shall have paid the same; unless the executors or administrators of the deceased master shall continue the business in which such apprentice shall have been employed, and shall, within three months from the death of the late master, make offer in writing to keep the apprentice on the terms of the original contract; in which case the estate of the deceased shall be discharged from all liabilities on account of such premium.

20. If such offer to keep the apprentice shall be made as aforesaid, the same shall be fully expressed and certified by the executors 1[or] administrators on the original contract of apprenticeship, and also on the office copies thereof, by the Magistrate 2[*] and the apprentice shall be bound to the executors or administrators so keeping him for the remaining term of his apprenticeship.

21. Any apprentice bound under this Act, whose master shall die during the apprenticeship, shall be entitled to maintenance for three months from and after the death of his master, out of the assets left by him: Provided that during such three months such apprentice shall con-

22. The apprentice of any person against whom a commission of bankruptcy shall be issued, or who shall be adjudged to have committed an act of insolvency, during the apprenticeship, shall be discharged from all obligation under the contract of apprenticeship, and, if any premium was paid on binding him as an apprentice, he or a person by whom he was bound shall be entitled to claim the amount thereof as a debt against the estate of the bankrupt or insolvent¹.

23. For the purposes of this Act all British subjects, wherever or of whatever parents born, as well as other persons in ²[British India] without the towns of Calcutta and Madras and the town and island of Bombay, shall be amenable to the jurisdiction of the Courts and ²[Magistrates of British India].

24. An appeal shall lie from any order passed by any Magistrate without the said towns and island to the Court of Session to which such Magistrate is subordinate, provided the appeal is made within one month from the date of the order.

¹SUPPLY OF FOOD, CLOTHES AND LODGING.—At common law the duty of a master or mistress to supply food and other necessities to their servants, and apprentices arises solely from a contract, either express or implied, on their part to do so. And the omission to perform this duty was formerly merely a breach of contract, for which they were civilly, but not criminally, liable, except in the case of a person of tender years. But at a meeting of all the Judges (except Lord Kenyon and Rooke, J.), held 25th February, 1802, the general opinion was, that it was indictable as a misdemeanor to refuse or neglect to provide sufficient food, bedding, etc., to any infant of tender years unable to provide for and take care of itself (whether the such infant were child, apprentice or servant), whom a man was obliged by duty or contract to provide for, so as thereby to injure its health. THE ARBITRATION ACT (IX OF 1899).¹

| Year. | No. | Short title | How repealed or otherwise affected by legislation |

| 1899 | IX | The Indian Arbitration Act, 1899. | S. 3 rep. in pt., Act VII of 1913, S. 23 (as to Lower Burma) and Act I of 1900, S. 47. S. 4 (b) am. (in U.P.) by Act I of 1912. Application restricted in (Punjab) Punjab Act I of 1911. S. 2—Am. Act XXXVIII of 1920. S. 23 (1)—Am. Act XI of 1923. |

Prefatory Note.—THE INDIAN ARBITRATION ACT has been drawn on the lines of the English Arbitration Act of 1889 and was the outcome of certain representations received from the Chambers of Commerce at Rangoon, Karachi and Calcutta. The proposal thus made was circulated for opinion and elicited very general support from all including the Bengal, Madras and Bombay Chambers of Commerce, the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, and the British Indian Association. The case for legislation was based upon the inadequacy of the then existing law. The provisions of the subject which prior to the present Act were to be found in the Contract and Specific Relief Acts amounted to this, that if a person who had contracted to refer to arbitration any dispute that might arise between him and another, refuses to do so, his contract will be a bar to his afterwards bringing a suit in respect of the matter which he originally agreed so to refer. These provisions were, however, of a negative kind and ineffective in practice, for the recalcitrant party has, as a rule, only to remain inactive in order to be beyond the reach of the other party. The Code of Civil Procedure no doubt aimed at what was required, but the sections in point were defective in that (1) they were held to apply only to disputes which had arisen at the time of the agreement to refer, and not to dispute which might arise in the future and (2) they required the agreement to refer either to name the particular arbitrator or to leave the Court to appoint one. The first of these defects had been to some extent removed by a Full Bench ruling of the Bombay High Court delivered just before the passing of the present Act in the case of Fazulbhoy Meral Chmoy v The Bombay and Persian Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., (20 B. 232), in which it was held that the Code applied to future disputes also, but the second defect remained, with the result, that the case of an agreement to refer, for example, to the arbitration of a person to be nominated by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, was apparently unprovided for. Moreover it was then uncertain whether the other High Courts would follow the Bombay Judges, who had expressed that the provisions of Chapter XXXVII of the Code required revision in view of the many conflicting decisions found regarding them in the Law Reports. To remedy these defects the present Act was passed.

THE ARBITRATION ACT (IX OF 1899).

[3rd March, 1899.

In Act to amend the Law relating to Arbitration.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the law relating to arbitration by agreement without the intervention of a Court of Justice; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement 1. (1) This Act may be called THE INDIAN ARBITRATION ACT, 1899;

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and

(3) It shall come into force on the first day of July, 1899.

Notes.

Sec. 1: SCOPE OF THE ACT—GENERAL.—THE Act is an independent enactment, and has no connection with rules relating to appeals under C. P. Code. 1 Rang 661 This is an amending Act and must be construed strictly. 43 B. 809. See also 1934 Sind 29 Even Arbitration Courts must act according to the principles of natural justice and not deliberately refuse a hearing or take evidence from one side behind the back of the other. 64 I. C. 706 Though arbitrators are not bound by technical rules of evidence they are nevertheless expected to conform to the fundamental rules of evidence and procedure (Ibid) 11 Mys. L. J. 300=39 Mys. H. C. R. 51. Private inquiries behind the backs of parties by arbitrators is against the ordinary rules of justice. 1934 Pat. 550 Statement of arbitrators as to what transpires before them—Conclusiveness of. See 17 L. W. 648=75 I. C. 850=1924 Mad 274. The Indian law as to arbitration is irrelevant where the parties agreed in referring to an arbitration to be bound by English law and procedure. 15 M. 496=43 M. L. J. 422 (P.C.). Questions of fact and law upon which the jurisdiction of the arbitrators depends are for the Courts. 44 All. 472. An application to Court to appoint fresh arbitrators amounts to an abandonment of the previous proceedings 46 Bom. 854. The provisions of the C. P. Code, as to joinder of claims cannot be strictly applied to arbitration proceedings. 9 I. C. 712=4 S.L.R. 196. Judge cannot put himself in the position of arbitrator without the consent of the parties. 1930

Rang 8 A Court has very limited jurisdiction to review awards passed by arbitrators The nature of the jurisdiction of the Court is not that of a Court of appeal reviewing the decision of an inferior Court. 122 I. C. 516 A reference to arbitration deprives a party of his right to resort to the ordinary tribunals, and it must be strictly construed, more so against the party who is responsible for the reference being drawn up in a particular manner 148 I. C. 977=1934 Sind 29, 43 Bom 809. A clause in a contract providing for reference to arbitration does not oust jurisdiction of Court or make it obligatory on plaintiff to submit to arbitration before going to Court. The only effect of such a clause is that if a suit is brought, the defendant may apply for a stay of the suit 142 I. C. 351=33 P.L.R. 1020=1933 Lah 79. An arbitration clause can be incorporated into a contract by reference 27 S. L. R. 159=140 I. C. 626=1933 Sind 75. Such a clause in a contract will be binding on an assignee if the subject-matter of reference is capable of assignment. (Ibid) It is clear law that it is not necessary that there should be the signatures of both parties to a written submission. A document signed by one party and accepted by the other party is enough, for the purposes of the Arbitration Act, to constitute a submission. 61 Cal. 702=1934 Cal. 796=38 C.W.N. 737. As to validity of oral submission to arbitration, see 36 Bom. L. R. 47=1934 Bom. 79. A Court has jurisdiction to entertain an application to file an award or enforce it as a decree only if it has jurisdiction to entertain a suit the subject

2. Subject to the provisions of section 23, this Act shall apply only in cases where, if the subject-matter submitted to arbitration were the subject of a suit the suit could, whether with Application leave or otherwise, be instituted in a Presidency-town:

Provided that the Local Government, [1* *] may, by notification in the local official Gazette, declare this Act applicable in any other local area² as if it were a Presidency-town.

3. The last thirty-seven words of section 21 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, and sections 523 to 526 of the Code of Civil Procedure³ shall not apply to any submission or arbitration to which the provisions of the Act for the time being apply:

Exclusion of certain enactments in certain cases where Act applies. Provided that nothing in this Act shall affect any arbitration pending in a Presidency-town at the commencement of this Act or in any local area at the date of the application thereto of this Act as aforesaid, but shall apply to every arbitration commenced after the commencement of this Act or the date of the application thereof, as the case may be, under any agreement or order previously made.

of which is the subject-matter submitted to arbitration. 148 I. C. 977=1934 Sind 29. See also 1934 Sind 183; 1935 Sind 228, 1934 Lah 652. An arbitrator cannot abdicate his functions in favour of a third party. If the parties desire the arbitrator to take the opinion of the members of a panchayat, he can do so but he would act illegally if he undertakes to be bound by the decision of the panchayat and to give his award in accordance with the wishes of the panchayat. 152 I. C. 1023.

ACT AS AMENDED BY U. P. LOCAL ACT, S. 2.—Under the Arbitration Act as amended by the U. P. Local Act, in order to make the Act applicable, the parties themselves should agree that the arbitration proceedings should take place under the Arbitration Act. It is, therefore, necessary that there should be a specific reference in the agreement to the Indian Arbitration Act, and a mere reference to arbitration in general would not bring in the operation of the Act. 1937 A. L. J. 98=1937 A. W. R. 52.

Sec. 2: APPLICABILITY OF THE ACT.—The Act does not apply to arbitrations in the course of litigation. 49 Cal. 608. See also 38 C. W. N. 648=1934 Cal. 643; 60 C. L. J. 173. But is applicable to suits which can be instituted at plaintiff's option in a Presidency-town or elsewhere. 15 I. C. 402=37 P. R. 1912. See also 8 S. L. R. 107 27 I. C. 129; 4 S. L. R. 20=7 I. C. 593; 1 S. L. R. 10 7 I. C. 588. "Presidency town," meaning of. 56 Cal. 755=33 C. W. N. 888. A case falls within the purview of S. 2 of the Arbitration Act only where the subject-matter in dispute is of such a nature as to be the subject of dispute in a Presidency town, and not where the subject-matter is not of such a nature and the suit could be filed because the defendant resides there. 1937 A. L. J. 98=1937 A. W. R. 52. Where a dispute relating to property was referred to arbitration and it appeared that only a small portion of the property was situated within the limits of the original jurisdiction of the High Court, held, that the reference was competent under S. 2 of the Act though a suit could not be maintained on the Original Side without leave. 31 C. W. N. 208; 50 M. L. J. 35=114 I. C. 818. The Act has been made applicable to Karachi. See Bombay Gazette, 1899, Pt. I, p. 112. See also 1934 Lah 652; to Lahore only if specially mentioned in the agreement that it is to apply. 145 I. C. 129=1933 Lah 173; 35 P. L. R. 482=1934 Lah 652 152 I. C. 135. It is not accurate to say that the Arbitration Act only applies to arbitration in a Presidency-town. Reading S. 2 in conjunction with Cl. 12 of the Letters Patent it may be said generally that the Act applies to arbitrations which are connected, either as to the subject-matter or as to the parties, with a Presidency-town. 36 Bom. L. R. 47=58 Bom. 369=1934 Bom. 79. As to applicability of the Act to references to arbitration under the Companies Act, see 14 Lah. 249=141 I. C. 64=33 P. L. R. 1048=1933 Lah 44; 143 I. (a) "the Court" means, in the Presidency-towns, the High Court, and, elsewhere, the Court of the District Judge; and is a corporation registered under the Companies Act, S 152 (3) of that Act applies and an award obtained by it may be filed under the provisions of the Arbitration Act. (1933 Lah 44 and 1933 Pat 49, Foll.). 1935 Sind 228. An award made against a firm is executable against an individual partner thereof personally even though he has not received notice of the arbitration or of the filing of the award. It is not necessary to give notice of the filing of an award made under the Arbitration Act to the parties to the reference or to every number of a firm who is sought to be made liable. 61 C. L. J. 515. As to arbitrator's fees, see 1933 Sind 300.

Sec. 4 (a).—The District Court is specially described as the Arbitration Court under the Act. 52 I. C. 139=13 S. L. R. 23. See also 151 I. C. 860=1934 Pesh 103.

Sec. 4 (b).—A submission is a written agreement signed by both parties to submit differences to arbitration; and this agreement may be collected from a series of documents even though connected by parol evidence. 42 A. 525; 53 A. 384, or contained in the bye-laws framed under Bombay Cotton Contract Act 32 Bom. L. R. 1451. One of the essential ingredients of a submission to arbitration is that the parties should intend to have the dispute referred determined quasi-judicially. If it is not to be so determined, the agreement is not a submission, nor the person deciding it an arbitrator. That is the distinction between an agreement for submission to an arbitrator and an agreement to accept the decision of a valuer or appraiser or of a racing steward or of counsel for the parties. In these latter cases there is no ammut arbandi. 28 S. L. R. 223=1934 Sind 200.

The term submission is construed very broadly. Where a contract between the parties was subject to the rules and bye-laws of an Association, which provided that disputes in relation to the contract should be referred to arbitration by two disinterested persons, prescribed the procedure provided for an appeal to the Board of Directors of the Association, and finally made provision for the award being filed in the High Court, a reference to arbitration under the bye-laws in question would amount to a submission as defined by S. 4 (b) of the Act. 36 Bom. L. R. 1005=1934 Bom. 476. The requirements of S. 4 are duly complied with, if the submission is in writing and is binding on both the parties as their agreement or as the equivalent in law to an agreement between them. Their actual signatures are not essential. 49 I. C. 135; 32 C. W. N. 1101=56 C. 118 (dissenting from 53 C. 65). See also 19 I. C. 925=6 S. L. R. 278; 1929 Sind 83. But see 61 C. 702=38 C. W. N. 737 (Signatures of both parties necessary for validity of a written submission to arbitration). When a party interested in the dispute does not join in making the reference the Court has no jurisdiction to refer the dispute to arbitration. 1929 Lah 171. The existence of a "dispute" is essential to the validity of a reference to arbitration under the terms of a contract. A dispute involves the assertion of a right by one party and its denial by the other. 64 I. C. 798=33 C. L. J. 545. See also 47 Cal. 799; 46 Cal. 534. Only matters in dispute between the parties to a litigation which affect private rights can be referred to arbitration. 72 I. C. 1016=1923 Nag. 112. Withholding of payment is a 'dispute' between the parties. 46 Cal. 534. But see 1931 B. 164. What amounts to submission to arbitration, see 33 C. 1237; 33 C. 1169. See also 6 S. L. R. 278, 4 S. L. R. 14. The definition of submission in S. 4 covers what is ordinarily termed an arbitration clause as well as what is commonly called a reference. 35 I. C. 536=10 S. L. R. 1. See also 71 I. C. 817=1924 Lah 405.

ORAL SUBMISSION.—Award based on—Validity of. See 63 M. L. J. 610; 1931 Pat. 92. "Submission" is, of course, defined as a submission in writing and all the operative sections of the Act proceed on the assumption that it is in writing. But an oral submission is not in terms prohibited by the Act. An oral agreement to refer to arbitration can therefore be proved and sued on. 36 Bom. L. R. 47=1934 Bom. 79=150 I. C. 478=58 B. 369.

WHAT ARE SUBMISSIONS.—Where an association, at the instance of and on a claim by the members against another member, lays the matter before arbitrators and the latter member in his own hand and over his signature sent an answer to the claim, the document constituted a written agreement to submit their difference to arbitrators within S. 4 (b). 43 All. 348. A policy of marine insurance provided, "all disputes must be referred to in England for settlement and no legal proceedings shall be taken to enforce any claim except in England where the under-writers are domiciled and carry on business." Held, that the clause amounted to a submission to arbitration. 26 Bom. L. R. 224=80 I. C. 523=1924 Bom. 381. A clause in a Bill of lading that all disputes shall be settled by the British Consul at the port of destination is similar to a submission to arbitration. 15 S. L. R. 88. The Submission to be irrevocable except by leave of Court.

5. A submission, unless a different intention is expressed therein, shall be irrevocable, except by leave of the Court.

Notes.

petition of compromise in a suit for accounts amounts to a submission to arbitration within the meaning of S. 4 71 I.C. 817=1924 L. 405.

WHAT ARE NOT 'SUBMISSIONS' TO ARBITRATION.—A document embodying the terms of an agreement to refer to arbitration, which is not signed by or on behalf of both parties is not a submission as defined in S. 4. 19 I.C. 925=6 S.L.R. 278. Writing amounting to a bond does not amount to a submission to arbitration. 16 I.C. 861=6 S.L.R. 89. The words "office dhara" (office terms) do not constitute a written agreement to submit differences to arbitration. They are used merely as symbols to denote that such an agreement had been made and the use of such symbols does not justify the Court in accepting oral evidence of the agreement 19 I.C. 925=6 S.L.R. 278.

WHO MAY SUBMIT.—(i) As to infant, see 14 C.L.J. 188. As an infant is unable to bind himself by contract, he cannot enter into a submission which will render the award absolutely binding on him. In the case of a pending suit, the Court may authorise a submission to arbitration so as to render the award binding on the infant. 14 C.L.J. 188=11 I.C. 481. (ii) Guardian (Ibid., 12 L. 767, 59 C.L.J. 521; 38 B. 153). (iii) Father, manager of Hindu family. 24 I.C. 863, 1930 Lah. 388. (iv) Mother of minors. 29 I.C. 800=8 Bur. L. T. 122. (v) Manager of Court of Wards. 1930 Sind 195=121 I.C. 164.

WHAT MATTERS MAY BE REFERRED TO ARBITRATION. See 24 I.C. 264=5 S.L.R. 4. Criminal complaint cannot be referred 1929 Lah. 394. In a suit for restitution of conjugal rights, the question of validity of marriage can be referred. 1929 Lah. 177=118 I.C. 464. See also 1930 Sind 195=121 I.C. 164.

CONSTRUCTION OF REFERENCES TO ARBITRATOR to be liberal. 15 I.C. 321. See also 43 Bom. 809; 148 I.C. 977=1934 Sind 29. The intention of the parties is to be the sole guide for determining the mode of working out the submission and reaching a final decision. 36 Bom. L. R. 1005=1934 Bom. 476. Reference to arbitration and proceedings thereon, how far affected by rules of special bodies or corporations. 42 C. 1140; 20 C.W.N. 365. See also 47 C. 849, 46 C. 534. Effect of award on oral submission. 33 B. 69.

LEGALITY AND BINDING NATURE OF AWARD.—Opportunity to prove to be given to the parties. 65 I.C. 497=1922 L. 149. There cannot be two tribunals each with jurisdiction to insist on deciding the rights of the parties and to compel them to accept its decision. 26 C.W.N. 967=69 I.C. 863=

1923 C. 135 (2). Motive award if prevents fresh reference.—Court's power to decide if there was a valid contract. 44 A. 472.

STAMP.—Stamp duty on agreement to refer to arbitration. 33 C. 669; 13 C.W.N. 63, 19 Bom. 32, 40 C. 219. Want of proper stamp when and how can be called in question. 39 C. 669. On this section, see also 27 Bom. L. R. 1098.

Sec. 5: SCOPE OF SECTION. Once a valid submission has been made it is irrevocable without good cause. 12 M.L.A. 112 at 130; 7 A. 273, 8 M.H.C.R. 40; 27 M. 112; 20 A. 145, 29 A. 13; 1914 M.W.N. 52. The Court has jurisdiction, in a proper case, to grant leave to revoke an arbitration on good cause being shown. But that jurisdiction has to be exercised with great care and caution and should never be considered a venue for making applications, from time to time in pending arbitrations with a view to obstruct the progress of the arbitration. Unless, therefore, a strong and irresistible case is made out, the Court should be reluctant to supersede an arbitration. 36 Bom. L. R. 827=1934 B. 388. If the arbitrator refuses or neglects to act, the procedure under S. 8 of the Act should be followed. 44 I.C. 360=20 I.C. 504.

POWERS OF ARBITRATOR. An arbitrator has jurisdiction to inquire and decide whether a party to the submission has signed it or whether the signature is that of a partnership and if so, who the individual partners are. 11 I.C. 271 (S.).

PROCEDURE.—The ordinary rule is to refer to a single arbitrator. An intention to refer to more than one arbitrator must be plain and clear. 12 I.C. 662=5 S.L.R. 97. An order refusing to set aside an award based purely on evidence recorded by Court itself is not bad in law. 11 I.C. 274 (S.). Leave to revoke a reference to arbitration will not be given unless a substantial miscarriage of justice will take place in the event of leave being refused. 1933 Sind 317.

WHAT ARE PROPER GROUNDS.—Good grounds for revocation (i) Collusion (29 A. 131), (ii) Partiality (29 C. 278); (iii) Incompetence of arbitrator to one of the parties (29 C. 278, 3 C.W.N. 361; 25 C. 141); (iv) Unreasonable delay (17 C. 200); (v) Neglect of arbitrator (11 S.L.R. 101, 11 I.C. 360). See also 144 I.C. 42; 1933 S. 115.

WHAT ARE NOT PROPER GROUNDS. (i) Excess of authority by arbitrator not proper ground. 37 B. 183=24 M.L.J. 328 (P.C.). (ii) Mere delay in making award. 1 Pat. L. J. 394. See also 44 A. 432.

DEATH OF PARTY.—Effect on reference, see 15 C.L.J. 360; 4 S.L.R. 14=7 I.C. 590; 14 C.W.N. 759; 10 C.L.J. 419=4 I.C. 370.

"LEAVE OF COURT."—Granted only when

6. A submission, unless a different intention is expressed therein, shall be deemed to include the provisions set forth in the First Schedule, in so far as they are applicable to the reference under submission.

Provisions implied in submissions.

Reference to arbitrator to be appointed by third person.

7. The parties to a submission may agree that the reference shall be to an arbitrator or arbitrators to be appointed by a person designated therein.

Such person may be designated either by name or as the holder for the time being of any office or appointment.

Illustration.

The parties to a submission may agree that any dispute arising between them in respect of the subject-matter of the submission shall be referred to an arbitrator to be appointed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, or, as the case may be, to an arbitrator to be appointed by the President for the time being of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Power for the Court in certain cases to appoint an arbitrator, umpire or third arbitrator.

8. (1) In any of the following cases:

(a) where a submission provides that the reference shall be to a single arbitrator, and all the parties do not, after differences have arisen, concur in the appointment of an arbitrator;

(b) if an appointed arbitrator neglects or refuses to act, or is incapable of acting, or dies, or is removed, and the submission does not show that it was intended that the vacancy should not be supplied, and the parties do not supply the vacancy;

Notes.

there would be failure of justice 10 Bom L. R. 351 But see 11 Bom. L. R. 1. Irregularity in reference may be waived. 14 C.L.J. 188 If an award is valid, it is operative, even though neither party has sought to enforce it by a regular suit or by summary procedure. 28 C W N 140 Agreement to refer—Subsequent suit on contract not maintainable 45 A 472 See also 26 C W N 69=69 I C 863.

POWER OF ARBITRATOR—Once the arbitrator has parted with the award he is functus officio and he cannot exercise the power given to him by S. 7; nonetheless the Court is able to remit to him if satisfied that an honest mistake has been made 1923 A. 31

Sec 6—The intention of the parties is to be the sole guide for determining the mode of working out the submission and reaching a final decision. The law of arbitration is based upon the principle of withdrawing the dispute from the ordinary Court and enabling the parties to substitute a domestic tribunal. Once that tribunal reaches a final decision as contemplated or agreed upon by the parties, then the Arbitration Act steps in to help the parties to enforce the said decision. 36 Bom. L. R. 1005=1934 Bom 476.

Sec. 7.—Where a clause in the contract between the parties relating to certain drainage works provided for reference of the disputes to the Chief Engineer of the Karachi Municipality, the mere fact that the Chief Engineer had a duty to look after the interests of the Municipality and as an interested party might have already formed an opinion upon the matters in dispute is not sufficient to prevent him from being a proper person to decide the disputes. 27 S.L.R. 169=140 I C 626=1933 Sind 75.

Sec 8: SCOPE OF SECTION.—43 B 809 Act does not limit number of arbitrators. 43 A 456

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION—Section is not applicable where a different course is provided by contract 44 M 406=40 M L J. 166 Nor to the case of independent appointments of two arbitrators 43 B 809 Not to independent appointment of second arbitrator 1924 Sind 29.

Sec 8, Cl. (1) (a)—When according to the agreement an arbitrator has been nominated and the same is communicated to the other party in clear and unequivocal language, it ipso facto confers authority to arbitrate. If he refuses to act and the submission does not show that it was intended the vacancy should not be supplied. Section 8 provides for the appointment of another but the right of the party to nominate is exhausted 1925 Sind 12.

Sec 8, Cl (1) (b).—The Court has no power to appoint new arbitrators in place of those who declined to proceed further in a case submitted to them, when the number of arbitrators is more than two. 43 B. 809. Any vacancy is to be filled up by original appointer as mentioned in S. 9. (Ibid.) The neglect of an arbitrator in not acting for nearly three years is in itself a sufficient ground for appointing another arbitrator in his place 144 I.C. 42=1933 Sind 115. Where two arbitrators were mutually agreed upon and appointed by the parties but there

(c) where the parties or two arbitrators are at liberty to appoint an umpire or third arbitrator and do not appoint him;

(d) where an appointed umpire or third arbitrator refuses to act, or is incapable of acting, or dies, or is removed, and the submission does not show that it was intended that the vacancy should not be supplied, and the parties or arbitrators do not supply the vacancy;

any party may serve the other parties or the arbitrators, as the case may be, with a written notice to concur in appointing an arbitrator, umpire or third arbitrator.

(2) If the appointment is not made within seven clear days, after the service of the notice, the Court may, on application by the party who gave the notice and after giving the other party an opportunity of being heard, appoint an arbitrator, umpire or third arbitrator, who shall have the like power to act in the reference and make an award as if he had been appointed by consent of all parties.

9. Where a submission provides that the reference shall be to two arbitrators, one to be appointed by each party, then, unless a different intention is expressed therein,—

(a) if either of the appointed arbitrators refuses to act, or is incapable of acting, or dies, or is removed, the party who appointed him may appoint a new arbitrator in his place; was no provision made as to filling up of a vacancy, and it so happened that one of the arbitrators refused to act, held, that S. 8 (1) (b) of the Arbitration Act and not S. 9 or S. 8 (1) (a) would apply. Meaning of the expression "appointed arbitrator" discussed. 56 C. 848.

Notes.

Sec. 8, Cl. (1) (c).—If the arbitrators are directed to appoint an umpire in the first instance, they cannot appoint an umpire after they have entered on the reference. 13 C.W.N. 297.

Sec. 8, Cl. (2).—Where agreement have twenty days' time after receipt of notice within which the other party was to appoint an arbitrator failing which the other arbitrator was entitled to make a binding award, held, the failure to give the requisite number of days was fatal to the award delivered by the only arbitrator. 42 A. 525. Section 8 of the Arbitration Act deals only with cases of appointment of a single arbitrator or of an umpire or a third arbitrator. Where, therefore, the intention of the parties, as expressed in the agreement of reference, is that the submission should be to more than one arbitrator, the District Judge has no jurisdiction to appoint an arbitrator under S. 8 (2). 152 I.C. 319 (1)=11 O.W.N. 1347=1935 Oudh 26.

Secs 8 and 9: DIFFERENCE BETWEEN.—Under S. 8 an application must be made to the Court and the Court appoints an arbitrator, while under S. 9 appointment may be made by a party, whether originally or by way of substitution. 1927 Sind 177. See also 1929 Sind 55.

Sec. 9: APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—Section applies only where a different intention is not expressed in the submission. 7 S.L.R. 1=20 I.C. 504. Section 9 does not apply where the parties by their contract provide that a different course should be adopted if one of the parties fails to nominate an arbitrator as provided in the contract. 40 M.L.J. 166. 44 M. 406. See also 1927 Sind 177. Section 9 provides for an appointment by way of substitution in a case when each party is entitled to appoint an arbitrator. It does not provide for the case where one party is entitled in certain circumstances to appoint two arbitrators. 112 I.C. 706=1933 Sind 6. Official Receiver is not a "party" within this section. 1926 Sind 209. Where the agreement between the parties contained a term that on the default of either party to appoint an arbitrator in time, the chairman of the Trade Association was to appoint one on behalf of the defaulter, held, that S. 9 (b) would not apply and an award made by one arbitrator alone, who was appointed by one of the parties was without jurisdiction. 50 C. 1. 44 M.L.J. 758 (P.C.). Where the indent provided that in case of dispute there was to be a reference to arbitration and that if the buyers failed to appoint an arbitrator the sellers would have the power to appoint an arbitrator on behalf of the buyers but no such power was conferred on the buyers in the event of the sellers failing to appoint an arbitrator, held, that in such an eventuality, the right of the buyers was to appoint the arbitrator nominated by them as sole arbitrator under S. 9 of the Act. 27 S.L.R. 186=1933 Sind 328. (Case-law discussed.) Where in pursuance of an agreement, both parties appoint an arbitrator each, it is not necessary that there should be a reference in writing or that they should accept the appointment formally in writing. The fact that the arbitrators peruse relevant papers in the absence of parties does not

(b) if, on such a reference, one party fails to appoint an arbitrator, either originally or by way of substitution as aforesaid, for seven clear days after the other party, having appointed his arbitrator, has served the party making default with a written notice to make the appointment the party who has appointed an arbitrator may appoint that arbitrator to act as sole arbitrator in the reference, and his award shall be binding on both parties as if he had been appointed by consent:

Provided that the Court may set aside any appointment made in pursuance of clause (b) of this section.

10. The arbitrators or umpire acting under a submission shall, unless a different intention is expressed therein,—

(a) have power to administer oaths to the parties and witnesses appearing;

(b) have power to state a special case for the opinion of the Court on any question of law involved; and amount to misconduct. They are judges of law and fact and an erroneous decision on a point of law will not justify interference. 76 I C 36=1924 Sind 91.

(c) have power to correct in an award any clerical mistake or error arising from any accidental slip or omission.

Sec. 10: POWER OF COURT—Civil Courts have no power to issue a summons or commission to a witness to give evidence in a private arbitration. Consent of parties cannot confer this power 47 B. 250. The arbitrators have no power to summon witnesses and procure their attendance when the arbitrators are acting under the provisions of the Arbitration Act. If parties go to private arbitration under the Act it is for them to produce witness before the arbitrators 1933 Sind 300. Where questions of fact under the Arbitration Act as to the conduct of arbitrators or the umpire, the procedure adopted and the instructions and so forth are raised, the Court should have evidence properly brought before it. 64 I.C 706 (All)

POWERS OF ARBITRATORS—Powers depend on clause of reference the scope of which is to be decided by the Court 47 B 378=44 M L J 706 (P C.). The arbitrator has the power to act on any evidence which would satisfy a reasonable man without reference to strict rules of evidence. 49 I C. 135=12 S R. 55, or to strict judicial procedure, 1928 M. 48, in a reference for partition to determine everything incidental or consequential relating to the mode of partition and the rights of female members, 1924 Oudh 54, to allow interest on amount awarded after date of award, 27 C W N. 933, dissenting from 27 C W. N 494, when a party to reference is a firm to decide whether a person is a partner, 19 I.C. 363; but see 1932 B 375, if so empowered to appoint a receiver, 1929 Sind 200.

Re his power to use personal knowledge, see 1926 B 527, Re his power to make successive award. But they have no power to delegate their powers, e.g., of appointing an umpire, 17 B. 129, unless the reference is to an association consisting of a large and fluctuating body who can only select individuals as arbitrators. 33 C. 1169, or the delegated work is of a ministerial nature, 4 Pat 670

DUTIES OF ARBITRATORS—To hear each side only in the presence of the other, if one of the parties should not appear to give notice of his intention to proceed ex parte, 66 I C. 389=34 C L J 39; to give effect to all legal defences, e.g., plea based on limitation; 56 C 1048=56 M L J. 614 (P C.).

POWERS OF UMPIRE—Same as those of arbitrator. He has a discretion to state a special case for the opinion of the Court and his refusal to do so is not misconduct. 27 C W N 494, 1928 M 107, 61 M L J. 623 (P C.). He cannot take evidence from the notes of arbitrators in the face of objection by parties unless so authorised by the submission 64 I.C 706

FORM OF OATH—See 2 L W 320=29 I C. 49

PROCEDURE—Where an umpire is appointed owing to disagreement he must re-hear the evidence if applied to, and failure to do so would be misconduct, but if no application is made to that effect, he can proceed with the case and decide it on the evidence already produced 63 I C 141=15 S L R 68. An award of an umpire without hearing parties is against principles of equity and justice. Award of costs, without mentioning the amount, is bad for uncertainty, and the umpire can award costs only for the reference and award. The costs of obtaining an order from the Court is at the discretion of the Court. 12 I.C. 637.

IRREGULARITY—WAIVER OF—The party who makes an objection must prove that he objected at the time to the umpire's proceedings in making a final award without hearing his witnesses. He cannot, in law, be allowed to question the regularity, subsequently if there was any decision upon merits. 64 I.C. 706 (All.), 61 M.L.J. 761; 1931 M. 619. But if the party in fact objected, his proceeding with the case and defending himself as best as he can does not amount to waiver of his objection. 1931 B. 81; 55 B. 503=33 Bom. L.R. 759.

EFFECT AND NATURE OF ORDER UNDER S. 10 (b).—Where arbitrators state a case for the opinion of the Court, the order thereon is not necessarily binding on them, as they still remain the final Judges of the fact and law. Nor can such order amount to a judgment or operate as res judicata. Distinction between the English and Indian Acts pointed out. 79 I.C. 986=1925 S. 83.

AMBIGUITY IN AWARD.—In the case of a reference to arbitration the umpire is functus officio after he has published his umpirage or award and the document must speak for itself. Where an ambiguity in the award is patent it would not be competent to the Court to launch into an inquiry to ascertain which of the two possible interpretations of the document the Court should accept. 1927 Bom. 428=29 Bom. L.R. 660.

INTERFERENCE WITH AWARDS.—It is necessary that Courts should be very cautious in interfering with awards and the grounds on which the Court will remit the matter for reconsideration are.—(1) that the award is bad on the face of it, (2) that there has been misconduct on the part of the arbitrator, (3) that there has been an admitted mistake and the arbitrator asks that the matter may be remitted to him, (4) where additional evidence has been discovered after the making of the award. 49 C. 646. Mere errors in law unless distinctly appearing on the face of the award or from any document accompanying or forming part of the award are not sufficient ground for remitting an award. (Ibid.) The decision of the arbitrators is final. If there is on the face of the award, a patent inconsistency such as a flat contradiction in measurement, or a mistake of arithmetical calculation the Court to which application is made can send the award back to the arbitrators to correct it before a decree is passed in accordance with it. But anything of this kind cannot be done in execution proceedings. 45 A. 628. Award beyond reference but with consent of parties is valid.—Arithmetical error does not vitiate award. 42 A. 277. Award as to division of testator's property is not invalid by reason of the pendency of probate proceedings. 25 Bom. L.R. 437=1923 B. 365.

SECS. 10 TO 15: FILING AWARD OF OTHERS THAN ARBITRATOR OR UMPIRE.—Where by an association contract the arbitrator's award was made subject to the decision of the committee in appeal and in the particular case the committee reversed the arbitrator's award and their decision was sought to be filed in Court; held, that the award of the committee is not within the terms of the Arbitration Act and cannot be filed under it. 1927 C. 391. But see 1927 C. 647. Per Pearson, J.—Ss. 10 to 15 of the Act are general sections applying to all awards under the Act whether the provisions of the first schedule are applicable to the particular arbitration, whether they are excluded by the expressed intention of the parties or not. (Ibid.) Unless therefore the meaning of the word 'umpire' itself in the Act can be enlarged beyond its ordinary meaning, there is no recognition to be found in the Act for an award by a tribunal superior to the umpire. It would be impossible to hold that 'umpire' meant 'umpire or any higher domestic tribunal upon which the parties may agree'. (Ibid.)

AGAINST WHOM AWARD CAN BE EXECUTED.—An award obtained against a firm cannot be executed against a party who is alleged to have been a partner in the firm but who was not served either with the notice of arbitration or the filing of the award. 1927 Bom. 428.

Per C. C. Ghose, J. "There is nothing to prevent the parties from agreeing to a submission containing in it a further submission to arbitration. No doubt in S. 11 of the Arbitration Act there is not to be found any reference to arbitration by a committee, but it does not matter in the slightest whether the committee is described as a committee of appeal or whether they are described as a fresh set of arbitrator. The contract contains as it were two submissions or a submission within a submission." 1927 Cal. 647. But see 1927 Cal. 391.

ESSENTIALS.—An award under S. 11 must be in writing and signed. 3 Bom. L.J. 102=82 I.C. 802=1924 Rang. 319. See also 7 M.L.T. 355=5 I.C. 374. If not signed, it cannot be made a rule of Court. 56 M.L.J. 35. Where a third arbitrator resigned because there was a majority against his view and did not sign the award, held, that did not affect the validity of the award. 76 I.C. 1007=1923 Lah. 411. Under S. 11 of the Act, the award must be signed by all the arbitrators who join in making the award. But the omission on the part of some of them to so sign it is a mere irregularity capable of being rectified. 36 Bom. L.R. 1005=1934 Bom. 476. Where the arbitrators take a reasonable fee for their services before entering upon their duties with a view to avoid the necessity of suing the parties in Court, their conduct in so doing, does not amount to misconduct and does not vitiate the award 17 L.W. 648 =75 I.C. 850=1924 Mad. 274. An application to file in Court, a compromise, settling the differences independently of arbitrators appointed, and signed by the parties and arbitrators, cannot be granted inasmuch as such a deed does not amount to an award. 48 P.L.R. 1915=28 I.C. 298.

NOTICE.—Where an arbitrator proceeds ex parte he should give notice to the parties before he so proceeds, otherwise his award is liable to be set aside 47 C. 951 See also 47 C. 29. Failure to give notice of filing an award does not by itself vitiate award. 1926 Sind 242. Award—Legality of—Ministerial Act—Notice to parties—No necessity for 17 L.W. 648=75 I.C. 850 =1924 Mad. 274.

AWARD WHEN ENFORCEABLE.—An award becomes enforceable as soon as it is filed in Court and no notice of filing need be given to the parties by the arbitrator. 47 C. 951 =60 I.C. 987. See also 5 R. 171=102 I. C. 800. The filing of an award is an act to be done at the instance of an arbitrator, and when it is filed the result is not that there is a suit in which a decree has been passed, but that there is an award enforceable as if it were a decree 40 C. 219

PROCEDURE.—The provisions of the Act and the requirements of the rules and orders of the High Court must be complied with before the Registrar can file the award and that it is only when the award is legally and properly filed that it will be executable as a decree 5 R. 171 The procedure laid down by the Act seems to be that the various stages to be found in Ss. 11 to 15 are to be followed in the same chronological order as the numerical order of the sections and that an application to set aside is not as a rule within the jurisdiction of the Court, until some application or attempt has been made to file the award or some other similar step is taken to enforce it 1923 All. 31. See also 160 I.C. 693=1936 Pesh. 2 There are express provisions to be found in S. 11 of the Act as to what is to be done by an arbitrator, if he has made his award. When the question, when an arbitrator in India becomes functus officio comes to be decided, the line will have to be drawn somewhere in the procedure which is laid down in S. 11 for getting the award into Court. It is difficult to hold that an arbitrator is functus officio, while there are still express statutory duties laid upon him by the Act 1923 All. 31. A rule framed by the Court under, but not in accordance with, the Arbitration Act will not be given effect to. 40 C. 219.

FILING OF THE AWARD.—Any one of the arbitrators can legally file the award, the filing being a purely ministerial act 29 I.C. 602=8 S.L.R. 302. Irregularities in filing can be rectified by Court in exercise of its inherent jurisdiction. 5 R. 171. But part of an award cannot be filed. 56 M.L.J. 35. Though under the proviso to S. 2 the Act is made applicable to Karachi, the Act is rendered inapplicable by S. 2 to an award made on a reference to arbitration in Karachi entitling a party to realise a certain sum of money by the sale of the properties at Lahore which were mortgaged in his favour, as a suit relating to the subject-matter submitted to arbitration could be instituted only at Lahore and not at Karachi according to S. 16, C. P. Code Such an award could not therefore be legally filed under the Act. 152 I.C. 135=35 P.L.R. 482=1934 Lah. 652.

APPOINTMENT WHEN COMPLETE.—The appointment of a certain person as arbitrator is not complete, until such person has accepted the reference and consented to act. 29 I.C. 602=8 S.L.R. 302.

Arbitrators can decide questions of law as well as points involving construction of agreement 53 B. 271=31 Bom.L.R. 21 =117 I.C. 417=1929 Bom. 19 (See also 32 Bom.L.R. 43 construction of clause in bill of lading excluding jurisdiction of Courts in that respect) Arbitrator can also appoint receiver for estate in dispute. 119 I.C. 529=1929 Sind 200 [29 C. 590 (P.C.), Rel. on] See also 1928 Sind 144 As to power of arbitrator to make successive awards, see 1930 Lah. 425 and cases referred to therein.

APPEAL.—An order refusing to set aside an award is a judgment within Letters Patent and is appealable. There is no right of appeal against such an order under S. 104, C.P. Code, which has no application to the filing of an award under S. 11, Cl. (2) of the Arbitration Act 46 I.C. 687=45 C. 502. No appeal lies unless it is given by law There can be no appeal from an order setting aside an award. 5 Bur. L. T. 155 =6 L.B.R. 88; 1934 Lah. 1019 (1)=36 P.L.R. 283.

SECS. 11 TO 14.—Application by arbitrator to District Judge for filing award—District Judge transferring file to Sub-Judge—Procedure not legal. 160 I.C. 693=1936 Pesh. 2.

(3) Where the arbitrators or umpire state a special case under section 10, clause (b), the Court shall deliver its opinion thereon, and such opinion shall be added to, and shall form part of the award.

Power for Court to enlarge time for making award. 12. The time for making an award may, from time to time, be enlarged by order of the Court, whether the time for making the award has expired or not.

Power to remit award. 13. (1) The Court may, from time to time, remit the award to the re-consideration of the arbitrators or umpire.

(2) Where an award is remitted under sub-section (1) the arbitrators or umpire shall, unless the Court otherwise directs, make a fresh award within three months after the date of the order remitting the award.

14. Where an arbitrator or umpire has misconducted himself, or an arbitration or award has been improperly procured, the Court may set aside the award.

Notes.

Sec. 12: POWER OF COURT TO EXTEND TIME.—Under S. 12 of the Arbitration Act, the Court has power to extend the time though the time for making the award is over. The Appellate Court can extend the time under O. 41, R. 33 of C. P. Code 40 C. 1059. See also 1935 Sind 30; 19 I. C. 374; 1926 Sind 8; 54 M. L. J. 49 (F. B.) (18 I. A. 55, Dist.); 1935 Lah. 191.

Before extending the time under S. 12 the Court is bound to consider whether the case is a fit one for the grant of the indulgence asked for and is not confined merely to the consideration of the question whether or not, the arbitrator had been diligent. 22 I. C. 16=8 S. L. R. 269. See also 78 I. C. 521. Appeal against order refusing extension of time, 46 C. 1059. When time is not extended and the award is not made within time, the award is worthless. 64 I. C. 706 (A.).

Sec. 13: AWARD WHEN CAN BE REMITTED.—When the award is set aside for legal and not moral misconduct, it can be remitted to the same arbitrator for further consideration. 41 C. 313. See also 66 I. C. 389=34 C. L. J. 39. Ordinarily an Appellate Court will not interfere with discretion of the first Court in declining to remit an award, but the Appellate Court will interfere where no grounds have been shown. 70 I. C. 353=16 L. W. 657=1923 Mad 222. Where an arbitration is made without the intervention of a Court and an application is made to file the award, then if the award is good in part, the Court cannot remit the arbitrator for amendment or declare valid the part to which no exception is taken even if it is separable from the bad part. 74 I. C. 649=1923 Pat 470. When an award is remitted for reconsideration by arbitrator with specific direction on certain points, the arbitrator has power to indicate the method by which his decisions can be carried out. This incidental and consequential power is always implied in a remittal of the award 1936 Lah. 865.

AWARD WHEN CANNOT BE REMITTED.—When

the misconduct is one justifying the removal of the arbitrator, the Court will not remit the award but will set it aside. 60 I. C. 319=34 C. L. J. 39. Order by a Court to arbitrators to make an award anew, is equal to refusal to file an award and is not appealable either under the C. P. Code or the Arbitration Act. 1 Rang. 661.

Sec. 14: SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—See 38 Bom. L. R. 480 60 Bom. 645=1930 Bom. 259. Section 14 of the Act applies not only in cases where there has been misconduct on the part of the arbitrators but it also applies to cases where the arbitration itself has been improperly or illegally procured. 1932 Lah. 378. See also 60 Bom. 615=1936 Bom. 259, 157 I. C. 607=41 L. W. 261=1935 M. 319 68 M. L. J. 537. Therefore, an objection alleging that consent to a submission has been obtained by misrepresentation would come within the purview of the section. 1930 S. 195. An objection that an award out of Court is invalid for want of jurisdiction may be taken by way of a notice of motion under S. 14 of the Act and a separate suit is not necessary. 121 I. C. 760. The fact that an arbitrator fixed the damages for breach of contract at a particular figure though, in his opinion, there were no sufficient materials to assess the damages, is no ground for holding that there is an objection to the legality of the award apparent on the face of it. 122 I. C. 516. Where several persons joined together to give one reference in very wide terms in favour of a set of arbitrators referring all the disputes to them arising out of different contracts which formed a chain of contracts between them and the arbitrators gave their award, held; that an objection to the award on the ground of multifariousness could not be taken under S. 14 of the Act. 1930 S. 170.

WHAT AMOUNTS TO 'MISCONDUCT.'—The failure on the part of an arbitrator to give a reasonable opportunity to one of the parties to appear before him amounts to misconduct. Misconduct does not necessarily involve any moral turpitude, dishonesty, partiality or has on the part of the arbitrator. 1924 S. 132. An arbitrator who does not give a party an opportunity to put his case before him and does not decide all points of dispute, is guilty of legal misconduct. 41 C. 313. Where the arbitrators held their sittings for about 14 or 15 months and every opportunity was given to the parties to place their case before the arbitrators and to adduce their evidence, held; that the arbitrators are not guilty of misconduct in giving time to a party to produce their witnesses or in deciding the matter on such evidence as was placed before them. 1933 Sind 300. See also 12 Mys. L. J. 81=39 Mys. H. C. Rep 263. It is imperative that arbitrators should always scrupulously avoid any course of action which even remotely bears the completion of their having put themselves into a position where it might be said against them that they had received a pecuniary inducement which might have had some effect on their determination of the matters submitted to their adjudication. They ought altogether avoid a mode of collecting their fees which might lay them to imputations of corruption or prejudice—however unfounded such imputations might prove on close examination. 38 C.W.N. 784. The failure of an arbitrator to sign the award is legal flaw, but when his refusal to sign was at the instance of one of the parties though he had agreed to the award, that party cannot take advantage of the flaw. 20 A L J 392. Arbitrators not acting together—Award not legal. 74 I. C. 299. See also 2 Bur L.J. 229=1924 Rang 153; 1930 Cal 255, 65 I.C. 339=1922 Oudh 108, 30 I C 384.

Award is vitiated by the legal misconduct of the umpire, if he proceeds with the reference without giving any notice to the parties of the enquiry by him 70 I.C 353=16 L.W 657=1923 Mad 232. An award given in the absence of one of the parties and without any notice as to the time or the place where the arbitrators would sit to decide the dispute is illegal 65 I.C 577. See also 13 C.W.N. 63. Failure of umpire to take fresh evidence. 27 C.W.N. 601. Irregularities in procedure which amount to no proper hearing of the matters in dispute may amount to misconduct enough to vitiate the award. 66 I.C. 349=34 C.L.J. 39. An award passed on reference by a guardian and based on information received in the absence of the parties or on the arbitrator's own knowledge of the facts in regard to the matters in issue between the parties would be invalid. 44 M.L.J. 263. But parties who are sui juris may agree to a reference that the arbitrator shall decide the dispute on his own knowledge or that there is no need for him to take any evidence and they will be bound by such a reference and no legal misconduct can be imputed to the arbitrator, if he based his award on such materials. (Ibid.) See also 42 A. 185.

OBJECTIONS TO AWARD.—Any objection to an award on the ground of misconduct or irregularity on the part of the arbitrator ought no doubt to be taken by motion to set aside the award but where it is alleged that an arbitrator has acted wholly without jurisdiction, his award can be questioned in a suit brought, for that purpose. 50 C. 1=44 M.L.J. 758=49 I.A. 366 (P.C.). Where an award by arbitrators is based on grounds, some of which did not justify the exercise of their jurisdiction, and the Court cannot hold with certainty that the arbitrators were exclusively within their jurisdiction the award is null and void. 66 I.C. 342=34 C.L.J. 253. As to objecting to award on the ground of incompleteness or indefiniteness of the award, see 1930 Lah. 425 and cases referred to therein; see also 1930 P.C. 110=59 M.L.J. 336 (P.C.). AWARD WHEN CAN BE SET ASIDE.—A party to an arbitration can get an ex parte award passed against him set aside by a Court if he shows sufficient cause for non-appearance. 27 I.C 135 (2). See also 29 Bom L R. 1087. The Arbitration Court has exclusive jurisdiction to adjudicate on matters arising under S. 14 76 I.C 953. Where an agreement to refer to arbitration is impeached, an injunction may be issued to restrain arbitration proceedings. But when the agreement is not impeached, and a suit covering the matter referred to arbitration is pending, injunction ought not to be issued. 9 I C. 707. The principles under which the validity of an arbitration should be judged are more rigid than those which apply to a case of family agreement. Where the parties to it were under a misapprehension as to their legal position and right, the award is had 2 Pat. 554. Where charges of misconduct and corruption are levelled against an arbitrator, he should be given an opportunity to explain, the charges being put fairly and squarely before him (113 I.C. 360) and the onus is upon the party to prove the charges 64 I.C 706 (All.). In case of an agreement to allow the disputes to be tried by another tribunal, the Court will take into consideration all those grounds as in a case of submission to arbitration. 15 S.L.R. 88. Setting aside award for patent error of law, see 1924 S. 75, for collusion, 46 M.L.J. 334 (P.C.). Error of law or fact by itself no ground 3 Pat. 443. Nor is the fact that the award is not in accordance with the law of limitation a sufficient ground for setting the award aside, when party took no objection at the time. 1931 M. 619. cretion vested in a Court by a statute to set aside the award when it is sought to be filed. The question is not whether a party shall be compelled to carry out the terms of the contract but whether the Court would be exercising a proper discretion in conferring on the award the efficacy of its own decree. 42 I.C. 706.

SEPARATE SUIT WHEN CAN LIT.—A person dissatisfied with an award, made without the intervention of a Court of justice, is entitled to bring an action to set it aside on the ground that no contract providing for a reference to arbitration was made or that the contract if made was cancelled before the reference in favour of the arbitrator had been executed. 81 I.C. 782=1924 S. 25. It is not open to a party to move a Court to set aside an award only on some of his objections and to reserve other objections falling within the scope of S. 14 for a separate suit. The principle of constructive res judicata in S. 11, Expl IV, C.P. Code, will apply 76 I.C. 953. There is no appeal against an order refusing to set aside an award. 17 I.C. 902; 1922 C. 73. Where an award is challenged on the ground that there was no submission to arbitration by the parties, the remedy lies in regular suit and not in an application under S. 14. 47 C. 806. See also 32 Bom. L. R. 389. Where a party objects to a reference and award on grounds which go to the very root of the reference, it is open to him to file a suit to set aside the reference and award. 1930 S. 170; 31 C.L.J. 283=56 I.C. 541=24 C.W.N. 454. Award is no bar to a suit is not stayed under para. 18, C.P. Code, Sch. 2 or S. 19 of this Act. See 1926 Sind 86. When an award under the Act has been made and filed, a party affected thereby can maintain a suit to impeach it on grounds not included within S. 14. Law does not permit the same question to be decided by a Court of law as well as by an arbitrator and it is only when the dispute before two tribunals is identical that the decision given by the arbitrator must be treated as ultra vires. But where the dispute before arbitration and Civil Court is not the same the jurisdiction of the arbitrator is not ousted. 117 I.C. 74=1929 Lah. 564.

Sec. 15: SCOPE OF SECTION.—The fact that an award has been enforced by execution under S. 15 is not a bar to a suit to have it declared void and for consequential relief. Section 15 does not enact that award when filed is to be deemed a decree of Court, but only that it is to be enforceable as if it were a decree. 50 C. 1=44 M.L.J. 758 (P.C.), 1927 B. 428. When the legislature provided under S. 15 that an award on being filed was enforceable as if it were a decree of Court, its intention was that all the provisions of the C.P. Code applicable to the execution of decree should apply to an award so filed. 27 C.W.N. 666=1924 C. 117, 50 S. 47 C.P. Code is applicable for purpose of appeal 1929 L. 228. See also 31 C.W.N. 1097=104 I.C. 808. 1927 C. 853, 56 M.L.J. 35. An award is a decree and executable as such on and from the date it is available in the Court for putting it on the file, that is the day on which it is received in the Court for that purpose. 27 S.L.R. 109=142 I.C. 489=1933 Sind 78. See also 143 I.C. 435=1933 Pesh. 66. Award on submission cannot be made decree of Court, but only to be filed in Court. 1929 L. 882, 115 I.C. 584. Though an award can be executed by Court, it cannot pass a decree on the basis of the award. 31 C.W.N. 268. Where Court is itself appointed to act as arbitrator, no separate award need be passed inviting objections. The award is itself a decree. 26 I.C. 355 (M.) Where the disputes between the parties are referred by agreement to arbitration and the arbitrator files the award in Court and no order is made for remitting the award to the consideration of the arbitrator not is the award set aside, the award remains filed in Court and it is enforceable as if it were a decree of the Court. The Arbitration Act does not contain any provision for making a decree on an award such as is contained in Sch. II, para 21, C.P. Code, and if such a decree is made it is one without jurisdiction and therefore a nullity. But a party to the arbitration is however entitled under the Act to enforce the arbitrator's award through the Court in exactly the same way as if it was a decree. 60 I.A. 71. 60 C. 670=142 I.C. 324=1933 P.C. 61=64 M.L.J. 341 (P.C.). Even after an award is enforced under the Arbitration Act, it is open to a party affected by it to sue for its being set aside on the ground that the arbitrator had acted wholly without jurisdiction. It follows, therefore, that the mere pendency of proceedings under S. 15 of the Arbitration Act is no bar to a suit for a declaration that the award is null and void and for a perpetual injunction to restrain the defendants from executing it. 1935 Lah. 76. See also 1935 Sind 184.

passes an order purporting to mortgage certain property owned by the other party situate beyond its jurisdiction, the order is valid in so far as it records under O. 21, R. 2, C. P. Code, an agreement between the parties although the High Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit to enforce the mortgage. The order is operative as mortgage of the property specified in it, but although binding on the parties as an agreement it cannot be enforced by the Bombay High Court as a decree as it has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit on the mortgage. 159 I. C. 739=1935 N. 250 (F. B.)

LIMITATION—For purposes of execution of an award filed in Court it is governed by the period of limitation prescribed for execution of decree by that Court. 1927 C. 853. So, award filed in a High Court is governed by Art. 183, Limitation Act. (Ibid.) An award made on a reference under the Arbitration Act becomes enforceable as a decree only when it has been filed, and it is only then that the execution can arise. Consequently an application to execute an award more than three years from the making of the award is not barred by limitation, if it is within three years from the date of the filing thereof. There is no provision of law which bars an application to file an award presented more than three years after the making thereof. 61 C. L. J. 515.

NATURE OF PROCEEDING—A proceeding under the Act is not a suit and does not end in a decree. The Act does not provide for the Court making an order filing or refusing to file an award. The award is filed by the arbitrators under S. 11 and unless it is remitted to them under S. 13 (1) or set aside under S. 14, it becomes enforceable as if it were a decree of Court. The order of a Court in whatever terms it may be expressed under the Act is one setting aside or refusing to set aside an award. 10 I. C. 211=5 S. L. R. 61. Provisions of C. P. Code, if apply. 77 I. C. 868=1924 C. 117.

FILING OF AWARD—(i) Procedure for filing award. 15 C. L. J. 110, 13 C. W. N. 63. (ii) Effect of filing award. 40 C. 219. (iii) Effect of not filing award. 5 I. C. 425. Cost of the filing award is in discretion of Court. 27 I. C. 526=8 S. L. R. 136. Conditions under which award can be made rule of Court. See 56 M. L. J. 35.

ESTOPPEL—If a part of an award is found to be invalid as being in excess of the arbitrators' powers and is separable from the rest, the remainder of the award being good can be maintained and acted upon, while the excessive part of the award can be declared to be unenforceable. But if a party has taken advantage of the invalid part of the award he is estopped from setting up that this clause of the award is invalid. 1935 Rang. 34.

APPEAL—No appeal lies against an order under the Arbitration Act as the orders are neither decrees nor appealable orders under Ss. 104 and 146 of the C. P. Code. There can be only a revision under S. 115 of the C. P. Code. 10 I. C. 211, 19 I. C. 405 (Cal.). The proceedings for enforcement of an award under S. 15, Arbitration Act, are governed by S. 47, C. P. Code, and an appeal is competent from an order rejecting such application. The fact that an objection was raised that the award was given without jurisdiction does not preclude the applicability of S. 47. 151 I. C. 881=1934 Lah. 49=35 P. L. R. 635.

Sec. 17—Costs incurred before umpire or arbitrator are not to be regarded as costs incurred in Court. Costs in S. 17 refers to costs incurred in Court where there is no valid reference or valid award. Court has no jurisdiction to award costs. 1928 Mad. 370=54 M. L. J. 580.

Sec. 19: APPLICABILITY—The section does not apply and there is no dispute between the parties and the mere failure to pay what is admittedly due does not amount to a dispute. 1931 B. 164. Where a party to a contract containing arbitration clause brings a suit to impeach the validity of that clause it is not a suit in respect of "any matter agreed to be referred to arbitration" and so the section does not apply. 58 I C 790 (S), 61 I C. 141 (S). Before the jurisdiction of a Court to make an order for stay under S. 19, can be invoked, it must be established beyond doubt that there is a valid submission. It cannot be said that an arbitration clause is an ordinary incident of a contract for the sale or purchase of goods, and such a clause cannot be incorporated into a contract by reference to another contract between one of the parties and a third party. 38 C.W.N. 737=61 Cal 702=1934 Cal. 796. Where a party seeks to avoid the contract for reasons dehors it, the arbitration clause cannot be resorted to by him. In other words a party cannot rely on a term of the contract to repudiate it and still say the arbitration clause should not apply. 53 Bom 573. If in consequence of misrepresentation or other circumstances the clause for reference is invalid, if there is a binding contract at all between the parties, such questions do not constitute disputes arising out of a contract so that when such questions are raised in a suit. S. 19 has no application and the Court has no power to stay. 82 I.C. 81 (S); 44 All 472 at 480; but see 24 C W N 567.

MEANING OF TERMS.—The words "a submission to which this Act applies" in S. 19 provide for the case where a suit is filed in an upcountry Court in an area to which the Act has not been applied though part of the cause of action has arising in a Presidency-town. The Court has power to stay the suit, if the suit could with leave or otherwise have been filed in a Presidency-town. (31 Bom. 236, diss.) 45 Bom 1. The expression "after appearance" in S. 19 is merely directory and the section is intended to prevent a party from filing an application after he has attained to the jurisdiction of the Court. 48 I C 434 (S). An appearance for the purpose of making a stay application may be treated as an appearance in the suit. (Ibid.) An oral application for the time to file a written statement by defendant's counsel in answer to a Court's question is taking a "step in the proceedings" within the meaning of S. 19. 28 C W N 771=1924 Cal. 789. Any application to the Court, even one for time is a "step in the proceedings" within S. 19. 40 I C 81 (S). But merely applying for a copy of plaint is not. 52 Cal 453.

BURDEN OF PROOF.—When a suit is filed in connection with a dispute, the onus is on the plaintiff to show why he should not be bound by the agreement to refer. 75 I.C. 1041=1924 S. 49. See also 47 Cal. 819. The burden of proving that a particular dispute cannot be referred to arbitration lies on the party alleging it. 53 Bom 271. Where a defendant does not plead at the early stages of a trial a subsisting agreement to refer to arbitration but submits to the jurisdiction of the Court and allows the trial to proceed, he cannot afterwards raise the plea. 20 A L. J. 975=71 I.C. 141-1923 A. 139.

COURT EMPOWERED TO STAY.—The "Court" means the Court trying the suit and not the District Court. 1928 Bom 275; 1931 Lah. 66; 1931 Lah. 641; 1931 Sind 106. "The Court in S. 19 means the Court seized of the case, whether such Court be a High Court or a District Court, or any other Court, of inferior jurisdiction, such as the Court of Small Causes or a subordinate Court. It is that Court which is in a better position to know and to decide expeditiously whether the application for stay has been filed after appearance in Court and before taking any step in the proceedings. (Case law reviewed.) 1933 Sind 376 (F.B.); 150 I.C. 839. Court in S. 19 of the Act is the one in which the proceedings or other attempts to bring a suit are in fact. 43 All. 553. Suit in Cal. Pres. S.C.C.—Application for stay can be made in Calcutta High Court. 56 Cal 755=33 C W N 888.

STAY.—The Court is vested with a discretion either to stay or not to stay the suit; but the discretion must be guided by judicial principles. 75 I.C. 1041-1924 S. 49; 43 C. L. J. 297; 54 Bom 197; 56 C. 848, 55 I.C. 817 (C). As to what must be proved by an applicant before granting his application for stay, see 1928 Sind 94. There can be no stay of proceedings under S. 19 when there is no "submission" in the true sense of the word. A submission to arbitration, which deprives a party of his right under the law to have his disputes decided by a Court of law, must be construed strictly; and unless it clearly appears from the terms of the submission that a party has so deprived himself, no stay should be granted. Stay ought to be refused in a case where the tribunal contemplated by the parties has irrevocably committed itself to certain views. 28 S. L. R. 223=1934 Sind 200. Where legal proceedings were for a long time threatened against a person in respect of a contract which provided for all settlement of disputes accordance with the submission and that the applicant was, at the time when the proceedings were commenced, and still remains, ready and willing to do all things necessary to the proper conduct of the arbitration, may make an order staying the proceedings.

by arbitration, and when instituted that person applied for a stay of suit pending arbitration he can claim it as a matter of right. His failure to object to the litigation is no ground for refusing stay. 45 M.L.J. 653=47 Mad 164 Stay of suit pending arbitration—Discretion of Court—Charges of fraud. 22 A L J. 1031 An order staying a suit is a permanent one unless otherwise provided in the order itself and an order staying suit where the subject-matter was referred to arbitration and a decree was passed in terms of the award is sufficient to finally dispose of the suit. 43 All 270, 43 All 533 See also 47 Cal. 849. The case would be different if by a reference and award before the suit the rights and liabilities of the parties had been determined at the date of the suit. 47 Cal. 752; 56 I.C. 160 Institution of suit after reference to arbitration by one of the parties and omission on the part of the other to apply for stay of suit amounts to waiver of right to arbitration. 44 A 292. "STEPS IN THE PROCEEDINGS"—MEANING OF —If a party formally appears before the Registrar of the Court through his advocate's clerk, before he has had a reasonable time to enable him to decide on the course of action to be taken, that cannot ordinarily debar him from applying for stay of suit; that cannot amount to a step in the proceeding within the meaning of S 19 28 S L R 223=1934 Sind 200 Application for adjournment is not a step in the proceedings. 61 Cal. 702=38 C. W N 737=1934 Cal. 796. An application made to the Court for postponement of the hearing of the suit is a step in the proceedings within the meaning of S 19 irrespective of the intention with which the application is made. Whether the applicant wishes to have further time to file a written statement or to raise as a bar to the suit the agreement to refer to arbitration, in either event, his application is an application to invite the Court to do something which would enable him to establish his defence. It is for the Court to determine whether any particular act or application is a step in the proceeding 155 I.C. 895=28 S L R 366=1935 S 62.

EVIDENCE.—Before an order staying proceedings, can be made, it must be proved that there is a valid submission, that there is no sufficient reason why the matter should not be referred according to the submission and that the applicant was and is ready to do all things necessary to the proper conduct of the arbitration. 47 Cal. 1020. It is largely in the discretion of the Court to make an order staying proceedings in such a matter and when the discretion has been exercised, the Appellate Court will interfere only when a strong case is made out. 47 Cal. 1020. A suit is not barred by a reference to arbitration made before, but the award in which is delivered after the suit. 56 I.C. 150=13 S L.R. 193 Arbitrators can decide questions of law and the occurrence of a difficult or complicated question of law is not a sufficient ground to take the matter out of the arbitrator's hands. 58 C. 1107. So long as the authority delegated to an arbitrator is not revoked he has the power to make an award and there would be no impropriety of conduct on his part in proceeding with the reference after a suit is filed unless he has notice that there has been an application for leave to revoke the authority conferred on him to some competent Court. 35 I. C. 536=10 S L R. 1 Though it appears desirable to have the matter tried in Court the proper course is not to ignore the arbitration but to direct the defendant to take necessary steps to revoke the submission. 35 I.C. 536=10 S L R 1 See also 11 I. C 274 (S) An arbitration clause in a contract does not oust the jurisdiction of the Court in case of its breach 20 I. C 504=7 S L R 1. Where an action has been commenced upon a contract which contains a provision for reference to arbitration then even if a reference to arbitration has taken place before the suit is instituted and if no application is made to stay the suit pending the arbitration, the award is of no effect. 38 C L J 67

ESTOPPEL.—Where after the trial Court dismissed the defendants' application for stay under S 19 and pending an appeal therefrom, the defendants applied for an adjournment to file a written statement and consented to the issues being referred to the Commissioner, held, that those facts did not constitute evidence of consent on the part of the defendants precluding them from urging their application for stay in the appellate Court. (4 I.C. 359, Rel) 27 S L.R. 169=140 I.C. 626=1933 Sind 75.

STAY—GROUNDS FOR—CONSIDERATIONS FOR COURT.—Under S. 19, a suit can only be stayed when it is in respect of any matter agreed to be referred but not otherwise. If it is not in respect of the same matter which is agreed to be referred there can be no Power for High Court to make rules.

(b) the filing and hearing of special cases and all proceedings consequent thereon or incidental thereto;

Notes.

stay of suit and there can be no question that the arbitrators are functus officio until such suit is stayed. Where one of the parties who have agreed to refer the dispute to arbitration files a suit praying for a declaration that the other party has no right to refer any matter to arbitration and that the arbitrators have no jurisdiction in any matter relating to the agreements between the parties, their claim strikes at the very root of the submission clause, but does not come within the submission clause as to render the arbitrators functus officio. The mere fact that the other party has applied for stay of suit under S. 19 and that the application is pending does not affect the question nor does the institution of suit by the party objecting to the award when it is instituted subsequent to the filing of award. 1935 Sind 228. See also 155 I.C. 932=1935 Bom 155. What is a sufficient cause for refusing to stay on an application for stay under S. 19 depends on the particular facts of each case. The fact that a submission clause does not include all the matters which are the subject of legal proceedings may be a sufficient cause for refusing to stay. When there is a charge of fraud or forgery against one of the parties to a submission clause, a Court has discretion to refuse a stay. Generally speaking where the party charged desires a public inquiry, the Court will generally refuse to send the case to arbitration, but where the party making the charge desires that the matter should be dealt with in Court, the Court will be less inclined to stay the suit. 155 I.C. 895=1935 Sind 62.

PRACTICE—In respect of a suit pending on the file of the Judicial Commissioner at Sind, the practice is to file a separate application for stay under S. 19 of the Act and not an application in the suit. 27 S.L.R. 169=140 I.C. 626=1933 Sind 75.

MISCELLANEOUS.—A decision of a Judge as an arbitrator with the consent of the parties is binding on the parties as if it were an award of an arbitrator, even though the Judge, as such, had no jurisdiction over the matter in controversy. But this doctrine cannot apply where the Judge was chosen as arbitrator not voluntarily but under great judicial pressure. 15 C.L.J. 142=13 I.C. 898=16 C.W.N. 444. An agreement to refer to arbitrator is not bad merely for the reason that it included disputes other than that before the Court, if there was a distinct clause to the effect that the arbitrators would only report to the Court their decision on the subject-matter of the suit. 76 I.C. 1007=1923 Lah. 411. Where a private information got by an arbitrator was, in the presence of the parties, communicated to the other arbitrators, an award by them is not invalid. Courts proceed very warily in allowing revision is awards. 41 M.L.J. 676. The umpire is not justified in the face of an objection by either party in taking any part of the evidence from the notes of the arbitrators unless there are specific provisions in the submission permitting him to do so. 64 I.C. 706. When a Court is asked to file an award, it is not sitting as a Court of appeal from the arbitrators, but the Court can certainly decide if the award sought to be filed is the production of a tribunal duly constituted under the terms of a contract binding on both parties. 41 A. 481. Where the Court below had cancelled the reference to arbitration on account of the delay in making the award, it is not competent to the appellate Court to look into the award or treat it as if it were the report of a commissioner. 4 Lah.L.J. 48=1922 L. 194 (2). On this section, see also 39 C. 669 (Rules of Bengal Chamber of Commerce); 1923 Lah. 453, 28 C.W.N. 110. 27 Bom. RES JUDICATA.—Where an application for stay is rejected and the order is not set aside, a second application for stay is barred as res judicata even if the first order is erroneous. 1935 Sind 62. 155 I.C. 895. 28 S.L.R. 366.

APPEAL.—From an order refusing stay under S. 19 no appeal lies, only revision is competent. 1937 Lah. 206.

REVISION.—An application made under S. 19 is not an interlocutory proceeding or a mere branch of a suit within the meaning of S. 115 of the C. P. Code. It is a case in itself and decides finally between the parties whether the matter shall or shall not be decided by arbitration, therefore an application in revision will lie and is not excluded by S. 115. 1936 Sind 205. See also 1937 Lah. 206.

THE ARBITRATION (PROTOCOL AND CONVENTION) ACT (VI OF 1937).

[4th March, 1937.

An Act to make certain further provisions respecting the law of arbitration in British India.

WHEREAS India was a State signatory to the Protocol on Arbitration 'Clauses set forth in the First Schedule, and to the Convention on the Execution of Foreign Arbitral Awards set forth in the Second Schedule, subject in each case to a reservation of the right to limit its obligations in respect thereof to contracts which are considered as commercial under the law in force in British India;

AND WHEREAS it is expedient, for the purpose of giving effect to the said Protocol and of enabling the said Convention to become operative in British India, to make certain further provisions respecting the law of arbitration;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and operation 1. (1) This Act may be called THE ARBITRATION (PROTOCOL AND CONVENTION) ACT, 1937.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) The provisions of this Act, except this section, shall have effect only from such date as the ¹[Central Government] may, by notification in the ¹[Official Gazette,] appoint in this behalf, and the ¹[Central Government] may appoint different dates for the coming into effect of different provisions of the Act.

2. In this Act "foreign award" means an award on differences relating to matters considered as commercial under the law in force in British India, made after the 28th day of

Interpretation
July, 1924,—

(a) in pursuance of an agreement for arbitration to which the Protocol set forth in the First Schedule applies, and

(b) between persons of whom one is subject to the jurisdiction of some one of such Powers as the ¹[Central Government,] being satisfied that reciprocal provisions have been made, may, by notification in the [Official Gazette,] declare to be parties to the Convention set forth in the Second Schedule, and of whom the other is subject to the jurisdiction of some other of the Powers aforesaid, and

(c) in one of such territories as the ¹[Central Government,] being satisfied that reciprocal provisions have been made, may, by like notification, declare to be territories to which the said Convention applies, and for the purposes of this Act an award shall not be deemed to be final if any proceedings for the purpose of contesting the validity of the award are pending in the country in which it was made.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Arbitration Act, 1899, or in the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, if any party to a submission made in pursuance of an agreement to which the Protocol set forth in the First Schedule as modified by the reservation subject to which it was signed by India applies, or any person claiming through or under him, commences any legal proceedings in any Court against any other party to the submission or any person claiming through or under him in respect of any matter agreed to be referred, any party to such legal proceedings may, at any time after appearance and before filing a written statement or taking any other steps in the proceedings, apply to the Court to stay the proceedings, and the Court unless satisfied that the agreement or arbitration has become inoperative or cannot proceed, or that there is not in fact any dispute between the parties with regard to the matter agreed to be referred, shall make an order staying the proceedings,

Stay of proceedings in respect of matters to be referred to arbitration

4 (1) A foreign award shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be enforceable in British India as if it were an award made on a matter referred to arbitration in British India.

(2) Any foreign award which would be enforceable under this Act shall be treated as binding for all purposes on the persons as between whom it was made, and may accordingly be relied on by any of those persons by way of defence, set off or otherwise in any legal proceedings in British India, and any references in this Act to enforcing a foreign award shall be construed as including references to relying on an award.

5. (1) Any person interested in a foreign award may apply to any Court having jurisdiction over the subject-matter of the award that the award be filed in Court.

(2) The application shall be in writing and shall be numbered and registered as a suit between the applicant as plaintiff and the other parties as defendants.

(3) The Court shall direct notice to be given to the parties to the arbitration, other than the applicant, requiring them to show cause, within a time specified, why the award should not be filed.

6. (1) Where the Court is satisfied that the foreign award is enforceable under this Act, the Court shall order the award to be filed and shall proceed to pronounce judgment according to the award.

(2) Upon the judgment so pronounced a decree shall follow, and no appeal shall lie from such decree except in so far as the decree is in excess of or not in accordance with the award.

7. (1) In order that a foreign award may be enforceable under this Act it must have—

(a) been made in pursuance of an agreement for arbitration which was valid under the law by which it was governed,

(b) been made by the tribunal provided for in the agreement or constituted in manner agreed upon by the parties,

(c) been made in conformity with the law governing the arbitration procedure,

(d) become final in the country in which it was made,

(e) been in respect of a matter which may lawfully be referred to arbitration under the law of British India, and the enforcement thereof must not be contrary to the public policy or the law of British India.

(2) A foreign award shall not be enforceable under this Act if the Court dealing with the case is satisfied that—

(a) the award has been annulled in the country in which it was made, or

(b) the party against whom it is sought to enforce the award was not given notice of the arbitration proceedings in sufficient time to enable him to present his case, or was under some legal incapacity and was not properly represented, or

(c) the award does not deal with all the questions referred or contains decisions on matters beyond the scope of the agreement for arbitration:

Provided that if the award does not deal with all questions referred the Court may, if it thinks fit, either postpone the enforcement of the award or order its enforcement subject to the giving of such security by the person seeking to enforce it as the Court may think fit.

(c) If a party seeking to resist the enforcement of a foreign award proves that there is any ground other than the non-existence of the conditions specified in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of sub-section (1), or the existence of the conditions specified in clauses (b) and (c) of sub-section (2), entitling him to contest the validity of the award, the Court may, if it thinks fit, either refuse to enforce the award or adjourn the hearing until after the expiration of such period as appears to the Court to be reasonably sufficient to enable that party to take the necessary steps to have the award annulled by the competent tribunal.

Evidence 8. (1) The party seeking to enforce a foreign award must produce—

(a) the original award or a copy thereof duly authenticated in manner required by the law of the country in which it was made;

(b) evidence proving that the award has become final; and

(c) such evidence as may be necessary to prove that the award is a foreign award and that the conditions mentioned in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of sub-section (1) of section 7 are satisfied.

(2) Where any document requiring to be produced under sub-section (1) is in a foreign language, the party seeking to enforce the award shall produce a translation into English certified as correct by a diplomatic or consular agent of the country to which that party belongs or certified as correct in such other manner as may be sufficient according to the law in force in British India.

Saving 9. Nothing in this Act shall—

(a) prejudice any rights which any person would have had of enforcing in British India any award or of availing himself in British India of any award if this Act had not been passed, or

(b) apply to any award made on an arbitration agreement governed by the law of British India.

Rule-making powers of the High Court 10. The High Court may make rules consistent with this Act as to—

(a) the filing of foreign awards and all proceedings consequent thereon or incidental thereto;

(b) the evidence which must be furnished by a party seeking to enforce a foreign award under this Act; and

(c) generally, all proceedings in Court under this Act.

PROTOCOL ON ARBITRATION CLAUSES.

The undersigned, being duly authorised, declare that they accept, on behalf of the countries which they represent, the following provisions:

1. Each of the Contracting States recognises the validity of an agreement whether relating to existing or future differences between parties subject respectively to the jurisdiction of different Contracting States by which the parties to a contract agree to submit to arbitration all or any differences that may arise in connection with such contract relating to commercial matters or to any other matter capable of settlement by arbitration, whether or not the arbitration is to take place in a country to whose jurisdiction none of the parties is subject.

Each Contracting State reserves the right to limit the obligation mentioned above to contracts which are considered as commercial under its national law. Any Contracting State which avails itself of this right will notify the Secretary-General of the League of Nations in order that the other Contracting States may be so informed.

2. The arbitral procedure, including the constitution of the Arbitral Tribunal, shall be governed by the will of the parties and by the law of the country in whose territory the arbitration takes place.

The Contracting States agree to facilitate all steps in the procedure which require to be taken in their own territories, in accordance with the provisions of their law governing arbitral procedure applicable to existing differences.

3. Each Contracting State undertakes to ensure the execution by its authorities and in accordance with the provisions of its national laws of arbitral awards made in its own territory under the preceding articles.

4. The Tribunals of the Contracting Parties, on being seized of a dispute regarding a contract made between persons to whom Article 1 applies and including an Arbitration Agreement whether referring to present or future differences which is valid in virtue of the said article and capable of being carried into effect, shall refer the parties on the application of either of them to the decision of the Arbitrators.

Such reference shall not prejudice the competence of the judicial tribunals in case the agreement or the arbitration cannot proceed or becomes inoperative.

5. The present Protocol, which shall remain open for signature by all States, shall be ratified. The ratification shall be deposited as soon as possible with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, who shall notify such deposit to all the Signatory States.

6. The present Protocol will come into force as soon as two ratifications have been deposited. Thereafter it will take effect, in the case of each Contracting State, one month after the notification by the Secretary-General of the deposit of its ratification.

7. The present Protocol may be denounced by any Contracting State on giving one year's notice. Denunciation shall be effected by a notification addressed to the Secretary-General of the League, who will immediately transmit copies of such notification to all the other Signatory States and inform them of the date on which it was received. The denunciation shall take effect one year after the date on which it was notified to the Secretary-General, and shall operate only in respect of the notifying State.

8. The Contracting States may declare that their acceptance of the present Protocol does not include any or all of the undermentioned territories: that is to say, their colonies, overseas possessions or territories, protectorates or the territories over which they exercise a mandate.

The said States may subsequently adhere separately on behalf of any territory thus excluded. The Secretary-General of the League of Nations shall be informed as soon as possible of such adhesions. He shall notify such adhesions to all Signatory States. They will take effect one month after the notification by the Secretary General to all Signatory States.

The Contracting States may also denounce the Protocol separately on behalf of any of the territories referred to above. Article 7 applies to such denunciation.

THE SECOND SCHEDULE.

CONVENTION ON THE EXECUTION OF FOREIGN ARBITRAL AWARDS.

Article 1.—In the territories of any High Contracting Party to which the present Convention applies, an arbitral award made in pursuance of an agreement, whether relating to existing or future differences (hereinafter called "a submission to arbitration") covered by the Protocol on Arbitration Clauses opened at Geneva on September 24, 1923, shall be recognised as binding and shall be enforced in accordance with the rules of the procedure of the territory where the award is relied upon, provided that the said award has been made in a territory of one of the High Contracting Parties to which the present Convention applies and between persons who are subject to the jurisdiction of one of the High Contracting Parties.

To obtain such recognition or enforcement, it shall, further, be necessary:

(a) That the award has been made in pursuance of a submission to arbitration which is valid under the law applicable thereto;

(b) That the subject-matter of the award is capable of settlement by arbitration under the law of the country in which the award is sought to be relied upon;

(c) That the award has been made by the Arbitral Tribunal provided for in the submission to arbitration or constituted in the manner agreed upon by the parties and in conformity with the law governing the arbitration procedure;

(d) That the award has become final in the country in which it has been made, in the sense that it will not be considered as such if it is open to opposition, appel or pourvoi en cassation (in the countries where such forms of procedure exist) or if it is proved that any proceedings for the purpose of contesting the validity of the award are pending;

(e) That the recognition or enforcement of the award is not contrary to the public policy or to the principles of the law of the country in which it is sought to be relied upon.

Article 2.—Even if the conditions laid down in Article 1 hereof are fulfilled, recognition and enforcement of the award shall be refused if the Court is satisfied:

(a) That the award has been annulled in the country in which it was made;

(b) That the party against whom it is sought to use the award was not given notice of the arbitration proceedings in sufficient time to enable him to present his case; or that, being under a legal incapacity, he was not properly represented,

(c) That the award does not deal with the differences contemplated by or falling within the terms of the submission to arbitration or that it contains decisions on matters beyond the scope of the submission to arbitration.

If the award has not covered all the questions submitted to the arbitral tribunal, the competent authority of the country where recognition or enforcement of the award is sought can, if it thinks fit, postpone such recognition or enforcement or grant it subject to such guarantee as that authority may decide.

Article 3 —If the party against whom the award has been made proves that, under the law governing the arbitration procedure, there is a ground, other than the grounds referred to in Article 1 (a) and (c), and Article 2 (b) and (c), entitling him to contest the validity of the award in a Court of law, the Court may, if it thinks fit, either refuse recognition or enforcement of the award or adjourn the consideration thereof, giving such party a reasonable time within which to have the award annulled by the competent tribunal.

Article 4 —The party relying upon an award or claiming its enforcement must supply, in particular:

(1) The original award or a copy thereof duly authenticated, according to the requirements of the law of the country in which it was made;

(2) Documentary or other evidence to prove that the award has become final, in the sense defined in Article 1 (d), in the country in which it was made;

(3) When necessary, documentary or other evidence to prove that the conditions laid down in Article 1, paragraph 1 and paragraph 2 (a) and (c), have been fulfilled.

A translation of the award and of the other documents mentioned in this Article into the official language of the country where the award is sought to be relied upon may be demanded. Such translations must be certified correct by a diplomatic or consular agent of the country to which the party who seeks to rely upon the award belongs or by a sworn translator of the country where the award is sought to be relied upon.

Article 5.—The provisions of the above Articles shall not deprive any interested party of the right of availing himself of an arbitral award in the manner and to the extent allowed by the law or the treaties of the country where such award is sought to be relied upon.

Article 6.—The present Convention applies only to arbitral awards made after the coming into force of the Protocol on Arbitration Clauses, opened at Geneva on September 24, 1923.

Article 7.—The present Convention, which will remain open to the signature of all the signatories of the Protocol of 1923 on Arbitration Clauses, shall be ratified.

It may be ratified only on behalf of those Members of the League of Nations and non-Member States on whose behalf the Protocol of 1923 shall have been ratified.

Ratifications shall be deposited as soon as possible with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, who will notify such deposit to all the signatories.

Article 8.—The present Convention shall come into force three months after it shall have been ratified on behalf of two High Contracting Parties. Thereafter, it shall take effect, in the case of each High Contracting Party, three months after the deposit of the ratification on its behalf with the Secretary-General of the League of Nations.

Article 9.—The present Convention may be denounced on behalf of any Member of the League or non-Member State. Denunciation shall be notified in writing to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations, who will immediately send a copy thereof, certified to be in conformity with the notifications, to all the other Contracting Parties, at the same time informing them of the date on which he received it.

The denunciation shall come into force only in respect of the High Contracting Party which shall have notified it and one year after such notification shall have reached the Secretary-General of the League of Nations.

The denunciation of the Protocol on Arbitration Clauses shall entail, ipso facto, the denunciation of the present Convention.

Article 10.—The present Convention does not apply to the Colonies, Protectorates or territories under suzerainty or mandate of any High Contracting Party unless they are specially mentioned.

The application of this Convention to one or more of such Colonies, Protectorates or territories to which the Protocol on Arbitration Clauses opened at Geneva on September 24, 1923, applies, can be effected at any time by means of a declaration addressed to the Secretary-General of the League of Nations by one of the High Contracting Parties.

Such declaration shall take effect three months after the deposit thereof.

The High Contracting Parties can at any time denounce the Convention for all or any of the Colonies, Protectorates or territories referred to above. Article 9 hereof applies to such denunciation.

Article 11.—A certified copy of the present Convention shall be transmitted by the Secretary-General of the League of Nations to every Member of the League of Nations and to every non-Member State which signs the same.

THE BANKERS' BOOKS EVIDENCE ACT (XVIII OF 1891).

Prefatory Note.—The following is the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the Bill:—

"It is some time since the Imperial Parliament recognised the great inconvenience which is caused to bankers from their being required to produce their books in Courts of Justice. In the first place, these books are usually of great size and weight, and, in the second place, they are required for entering the daily transactions of the bank. Facilities were provided for proving the contents of bankers' books by means of certified copies, and in the year 1891, an Act was passed for British India upon the same lines. Unfortunately the definition of a company adopted in the Act was too narrow. It failed to provide for banking companies carrying on business in the country but registered or incorporated in the United Kingdom, and in a criminal case which was recently tried in Calcutta it was discovered that the entries in the books of the Delhi and London Bank could not be proved by copies. The Advocate-General immediately called attention to this defect in the law and suggested the draft of a Bill for removing it. This Act was intended to widen the definition of the company adopted in the Act of 1891.

"The Bengal Chamber of Commerce had asked the Government to consider the question of extending the definition so as to include all foreign banks in India, but, after carefully considering the question, the Government of India came to the conclusion that it would be better to leave these foreign banks to be admitted in particular cases one by one under the power of notification given by S. 3 of the Act of 1891" (See Proceedings in Council, Fort St George Gazette, 20th July, 1900.)

The Hon'ble Sir Alexander Miller in presenting the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the Law of Evidence with respect to Bankers' Books said:—

"The Select Committee have made several considerable changes in detail, but none which, I think, affects the principle of the Bill. The alterations are briefly these. Instead of the elaborate machinery proposed in the Bill in which it is to be proved by a system of affidavits that the books were examined and the extracts verified, we propose to introduce a system of certified copies, exactly analogous to that in the present law in respect to certified copies of public documents and we do not propose to permit any evidence to be given otherwise than by the production of the books themselves, or by the certified copies. We were asked to extend the Act to all kinds of mercantile concerns but that was not desirable. We have omitted all reference to Government Savings Banks and to the Post Office because we think that the books of these bodies are "public documents" within the meaning of the Evidence Act. We have, however, introduced a clause enabling the Local Government in any case to extend the provisions of the Act to the books of any company which keeps a regular set of books analogous to the recognized bankers' books and to which the Local Government consider it desirable to extend them. We have also introduced provisions enabling the bank, if it thinks fit, to offer to produce certified copies instead of allowing its books to be examined. We thought there might be very good reasons for this course, and that in the interest of the bank or its clients the clause which proposed to enable any party to obtain authority to look through the books of the bank may offer to give copies of the necessary certificates. There is one point in connection with this matter, which is, that we propose in that case, that the bank should have to certify that it has given all the relevant entries. One of the District Judges has made a note to the effect that it is impossible for a bank to judge what entries are or are not relevant. The answer is that the bank is not bound to take advantage of this provision. If for the purpose of concealing the accounts it chooses to take advantage of it and does not insert all relevant entries, it must act on its own responsibility and at its own risk.

We have inserted no clauses with reference to the payment of any fee to a bank for the supply of certified copies, but we have given a discretionary power to the Court, where the matter comes before it, to award costs to or against the bank as it may think just; and the reason is that we think that in most cases it would be more beneficial to the bank to give these certificates free of cost than to have their books produced, and possibly detained for days, or even weeks, for purposes of legal proceedings, but if in any case the bank does not choose to grant these certified copies without payment, the party will have it in his own power either to pay what the bank asks, or to go before the Court and get an order. Probably in many cases an agreement with the bank would be come to in preference to going before the Court, but if the matter does go before the Court, then we give the Court complete power to make any order which it thinks proper as to costs for or against the bank.

The Bill does not contain any express power to the Court to require the production of the books instead of acting on the certified copies.

I think the power is given incidentally, because we say that these certified copies shall be received as prima facie evidence of the existence of the entries and also that no officer of a bank shall in proceedings to which the bank is not a party be compelled to produce the books without special order; but I am not quite sure that it may not be desirable to insert a clause to the effect that notwithstanding anything in the Act the Court may order the production of the books themselves whenever it thinks this necessary." (See Proceedings in Council, Fort St. George Gazette, 6th October, 1891 Supp., pp. 1, 2)

LOCAL EXTENT OF THE OPERATION OF THE ACT—The Act has been extended by notification under S. 5 of the Scheduled Districts Act XIV of 1874 to British Baluchistan, see Gazette of India, 1896, Pt. II, p. 1004. It was declared in force in Upper Burma (except the Shan States) by the Burma Laws Act XIII of 1898. It has been declared in force in the Santhal Parganas by S. 3 of Santhal Parganas Settlement Regulation III of 1872 as amended by the Santhal Parganas Justice and Laws Regulation III of 1899. See Calcutta Gazette, 1892, Pt. I, p. 448.

THE INDIAN BAR COUNCILS ACT (XXXVIII OF 1926).

Prefatory Note.—The necessity for, and the circumstances under which this Act is passed is thus explained in the Statement of Objects and Reason—The recommendation of the Indian Bar Committee in regard to the constitution of Bar Councils and their functions were as follows.—

1. An all India Bar or Council is impracticable. Statutory Bar Councils should, however, be established at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Allahabad, Patna and Rangoon, but provision should be made permitting the constitution of councils at Lahore, Nagpur, Karachi and Lucknow later on (Paragraphs 48 and 55)

2 The Council should consist of 15 members, four of whom should be nominated by the High Court, including, where possible, the Advocate-General or the Government Advocate and the Government Pleader. The remaining eleven, of whom six should be advocates of at least 10 years' standing, should be elected by advocates of the High Court, provided that in Calcutta and Bombay the High Courts should determine how many of the eleven should be advocates entitled to practise on the original side. The nominated members should ordinarily be advocates, but it should be left to the High Courts to nominate Judges past and present. (Paragraphs 57 and 58)

3 The first Councils should hold office for 3 years, the term of office of subsequent Councils being determined by rules to be framed by the Councils themselves (Paragraph 57.)

4. A Bar Council should have power to make rules subject to the approval of the High Court in respect of the following matters —

(a) the qualifications, admission and certificates of proper persons to be advocates of the High Court,

(b) the powers and duties of advocates,

(c) the conduct of any examination which may be prescribed by it and the fees to be paid for appearing at the same,

(d) legal education including the delivery of lectures to students and the fees to be chargeable therefor,

(e) matters relating to the discipline and professional conduct of advocates,

(f) procedure and practice in cases falling within the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Council,

(g) the method of holding elections of members of the Council and all matters incidental thereto,

(h) the meetings of the Council, the quorum necessary for the transaction of business, the election of a President or other officer and the appointment of committees for special purposes,

(i) the period for which a Council, after the first Council, should hold office and the filling of vacancies occurring between elections,

(j) the terms on which advocates of another High Court may be permitted to appear occasionally in the High Court to which the Council is attached, and

(k) any other matter prescribed by the High Court. (Paragraph 59.)

5. The rules regulating the election of the first Council and the filling of vacancies before rules are made by the Council should be made by the High Court, and it should be provided that no rules shall be made affecting the special provisions suggested for the original sides of the Calcutta and Bombay High Courts so long as those provisions remain in force (Paragraph 59.)

6. A Bar Council should have power either of its own motion or on complaint or on a reference by the High Court to inquire into all matters of the kind referred to in Sections 12 and 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879, breaches of rules and other improper conduct in which an advocate of the Court is concerned, and make a report to the High Court with a recommendation as to the action, if any, to be taken by the Court.

A Bar Council should also be entitled to be heard in any matter relating to the admission of an advocate or in support of any report made by it to the Court. (Paragraph 60.)

7. The existing disciplinary jurisdiction of the High Court should be maintained, but the Court should be bound before taking disciplinary action against an advocate, except in regard to contempt of Court and the like to refer the case to the Bar Council for inquiry and report. On receipt of a report from the Bar Council the Court should be empowered itself to make or require the Council to make further inquiry. At the request of a Bar Council or on its own motion a High Court should be authorised to order an inquiry to be held by a local Court. (Paragraph 61.)

8. Provision should be made for procuring with the sanction of the Court the attendance of witnesses and production of documents required by the Council for an inquiry and witnesses should receive the same protection as when they give evidence before a Court. (Paragraph 61.)

(The paragraphs referred to are paragraphs in the Report.)

The Government of India consulted Local Governments and High Courts upon these recommendations. In certain respects it appeared necessary to amplify them and in some respects to modify them in the light of the views urged by the authorities consulted. It is intended that these recommendations with the amplifications and modifications should be given effect to by or under the Bill.

2. The Bill is intended also to carry out as far as possible the following miscellaneous recommendations of the committee—

(a) The ideal to be kept in view should be the disappearance of different grades of legal practitioners so that ultimately there may be a single grade entitled to appear in all Courts. At present the largest degree of unification possible should be effected. (Paragraphs 11 and 17.)

(b) In all High Courts a single grade of practitioners entitled to plead should be enrolled, to be called advocates (not barristers), the grade of High Court Vakils or Pleaders being abolished, and when special conditions are maintained for admission to plead on the original side the only distinction should be within that grade which shall consist of advocates entitled to appear on the original side and advocates not so entitled. (Paragraph 19.)

(c) Advocates of one High Court should be entitled to practise in another High Court subject to conditions to be imposed by the Bar Council of the latter Court or by the Court where there is no Bar Council. (Paragraph 20.)

(d) Where there is a compulsory dual agency system at present it should be allowed to continue. (Paragraph 26.)

(e) The High Courts should retain their power to fix the amount payable by a party in respect of the fees of an adversary's legal practitioner. (Paragraph 61.)

(f) Partnerships between legal practitioners should be permitted wherever all classes of legal practitioners are entitled to act as well as to appear and plead. (Paragraph 69.)

(g) The High Courts, where this is not now permitted, should consider the advisability of allowing Indian barristers applying for enrolment as advocates to read with an approved Indian practitioner instead of reading in chambers in England, at least when it is shewn that the individual cannot obtain entry in suitable chambers in England. (Paragraph 68.)

3. Incidentally it is intended that the provisions of the Bill and the rules which may be made under it shall, in regard to advocates entitled as of right to practise in the High Courts, replace the relevant provisions of the Legal Practitioners' Act, the Bombay Pleaders' Act and the Letters Patent of the various High Courts of Judicature as well as the rules made under those provisions. In regard to certain matters for which provision has not been made in the Bill it has, however, been necessary to retain the residuary powers of the High Courts of Judicature under their Letters Patent.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Committee in paragraph 56 of their Report the enrolment and control of legal practitioners other than Advocates is left to the High Courts under the Legal Practitioners' Act and the Bombay Pleaders' Act as amended by the Bill.

4. The principal modifications of the Committee's recommendations which are contained in the Bill are as follows—

(a) the constitution of the Bar Councils differs slightly from the recommendations in that the Advocate-General must be a member and the number of members to be elected is ten, instead of eleven;

(b) the rules regarding all election of the Councils instead of only the election of the first Councils are to be made by the High Courts, the powers of the Councils in this respect being restricted to the making of bye-laws in regard to matters not provided for by the rules made by the High Courts. For the making of these bye-laws, however, the approval of the High Court will not be required;

(c) power is given to the Councils, with the sanction of the High Court, to prescribe fees to be payable to the Councils in respect of admission and enrolment and of the issue of certificates, and

(d) the powers of the Councils to hold inquiries into complaints of unprofessional conduct are restricted to cases referred to the Council by the High Court, and the inquiries are to be held by a Tribunal consisting of members of the Council appointed for the purposes of the inquiry by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge of the High Court. The High Court is, however, required to refer all complaints of unprofessional conduct which it does not dismiss either to the Bar Council or to a subordinate Court for inquiry. Instead of requiring the sanction of the Court for compelling the attendance of witnesses in each case a Tribunal is given power to enforce such attendance. A Tribunal is also given power to administer oaths to witnesses, and the protection of the witnesses who give evidence, which was recommended by the Committee, is secured by applying the provisions of section 132 of the Indian Evidence Act to proceedings before a Tribunal. On the other hand, rules governing the procedure of a Tribunal are to be prescribed by the High Courts instead of by the Council with the approval of the High Court. (Statement of Objects and Reasons)- [Gazette of India, dated 2nd January, 1927, Part V, pages 6, 7 and the Report of the Bar Committee.]

When the Bill was referred to a Select Committee, several other alterations and amendments were made, with reference to which they said:-

"We have made a large number of alterations in the Bill, but we have not radically altered its scope in view of the fact that, although many of the opinions received are in favour of the conferment of much wider powers upon Bar Councils, many others, including some of great weight reveal considerable opposition to the innovations already proposed. In these circumstances, we think it would be unwise to depart from the present scheme of the Bill as a more or less tentative measure which is intended to be the first step towards the unification and eventual autonomy of the legal profession. With these preliminary remarks we now proceed to refer in detail to the more important amendments which we have made."

Clause 1—We wish to record a suggestion that the Local Government of the United Provinces and the Chief Judge of the Chief Court of Oudh might well be consulted as to the desirability of applying the provisions of the Act to that Court.

Clause 4.—We think it desirable to indicate clearly that Judges of the High Court may be represented on the Bar Council, and have provided that two out of the four persons nominated by the Court may be Judges.

Sub-clause (3) of this clause was intended to provide for the representation on the Bar Council of advocates entitled to practise on the Original Side of the two High Courts to which it refers and more especially for the representation of the barrister element among them, an element which will no doubt tend to diminish with the course of time. We have accordingly provided definitely that at least one-half of the representation of Original Side advocates on the Bar Councils of these two High Courts shall be Barristers.

We think it is essential, in view of the status of the Advocate-General in the Presidency towns, that they should be made ex-officio Chaimen of the Bar Councils to which they respectively belong.

Clause 6—The matters to be dealt with by rules made under this clause are, we think, matters which should ordinarily be dealt with by the Bar Councils themselves. We have accordingly provided that the rules should be made only in the first instance by the High Court and thereafter by the Bar Council with the previous sanction of the High Court. This involves the omission of sub-clause (c) of clause 7, which in the Bill as introduced was not altogether consistent with the provisions of clause 6.

Clause 8.—We have, in the first place, omitted the last part of the proviso to sub-clause (1) of this clause, as we are of opinion that it would not be possible to hold that a person appearing, pleading or acting on his own behalf or by his recognized agent could be held to be "practising".

We are also of opinion that the objection to sub clause (2) which has been raised by several High Courts, namely, that the preparation and maintenance of the roll of advocates should be entrusted to the High Court instead of to the Bar Council, is well founded. We have accordingly provided for the maintenance of the roll by the High Court and for the maintenance of a copy of it by the Bar Council, principally in order that the election roll of persons entitled to elect members to the Bar Council may be kept up to date. In order to enable this to be done we lay upon the High Court the duty of furnishing a copy of the roll to the Bar Council and of communicating to it all alterations and additions as they are made.

Objection has been taken to the provision for the imposition of a fee in respect of enrolment of persons who are advocates, vakils or pleaders of the High Court at the time when the provisions of the Act come into force in respect thereof. We think that, if only for the purpose of starting the Bar Council in funds, some nominal fee should be payable by such persons and we have fixed this at the sum of Rs 10. In cases of new entrants the fee payable will be that prescribed by rules made by the Bar Council under the next following clause. We desire to point out that persons who have once been enrolled in a High Court as advocates, vakils or pleaders will not, in view of the provisions of Article 30 in Schedule I to the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, be required to pay stamp duty again in respect of their enrolment under this Act.

We have added to this clause two sub-clauses providing respectively for the seniority of advocates inter se and their respective rights of pre audience. Sub-clause (4) as drafted by us enables the High Court in individual cases to grant precedence to an advocate out of the order of his seniority. We think a provision of this kind might be used to the advantage not only of a rising and successful, but also of a senior and less successful, advocate.

Finally, in view of some of the opinions received, we consider it desirable to point out that clause 1 (3) of the Bill is designed to enable the various provisions of the Bill to be brought into force on different dates and thus to prevent the possibility of any period intervening between the operation of the prohibition contained in sub-clause (1) of clause 8 and the preparation of the new roll.

Clause 9.—Objections were raised to the provisions of sub-clause (4) of this clause in the Bill as introduced which was intended merely to preserve the existing powers of the Chartered High Courts under their Letters Patent to regulate the numbers of admissions and to refuse admission to individuals at their discretion. As, however, no High Court has, we believe, attempted to restrict in any way the numbers of new entrants, we think a provision enabling them to do so is unnecessary. But we do consider it essential that the High Court should have power to refuse admission to any person otherwise qualified if it considers that he would be on other grounds an undesirable addition to the Bar, and have made provision accordingly by means of a proviso to sub-clause (1).

We have added a new sub-clause (4) to this clause to meet a criticism advanced by the High Court of Judicature at Bombay that under the Bill as introduced, the powers of the High Court in respect of admissions to the Original Side were not sufficiently defined. The new sub-clause is intended to make it clear that the powers of the High Courts at Calcutta and Bombay to regulate absolutely the qualifications for admission to practise on the Original Side will remain unimpaired.

Clause 10.—It has been pointed out that the expression 'unprofessional conduct' does not cover the whole range of cases in which it may be necessary to take disciplinary action against advocates, and we have made some drafting alterations in this clause to meet this point.

Some misunderstanding appears to have arisen as to the object of providing for a reference of cases of misconduct to Subordinate Courts. Such a provision is necessary as a Tribunal of the Bar Council will not in all cases be in a position to inquire satisfactorily into matters which have occurred in the mofussil. We think that the allocation of inquiries between Subordinate Courts and the Bar Council must be left to the discretion of the High Court, but we have provided that the High Courts shall be bound to consult the Bar Council in any case before referring it to such a Court, and we have further provided that Courts to which such reference may be made shall be the Courts of District Judges.

We have omitted the punishment of fine for which the Bill originally provided.

Clause 12.—The alterations which we have made in this clause provide, firstly, that the Advocate-General shall have notice of, and shall be entitled to appear at the hearing of, every case before the High Court, whether the inquiry has been made by a Tribunal of a Bar Council or by a District Court, and secondly, that the High Court shall have the power to review its orders. This power will enable it to accept a belated apology, if it thinks fit, and remit or reduce the punishment.

Clause 13.—We have added a proviso to sub-clause (1) to give effect to a suggestion made by the High Court of Judicature at Bombay that the Tribunal should not have unrestricted power to enforce the attendance of judicial officers, a power which might result in dislocation of judicial business and inconvenience to the public. We therefore, require the Tribunal to obtain the previous sanction of the High Court or of the Local Government, as the case may be, before issuing a summons to the presiding officer of any Court.

We have further thought it advisable to make definite provision as to the manner in which Tribunals may be enabled to utilise the powers conferred by this section.

Clause 14.—We think the provisions of the Bill as introduced were somewhat too stringent in refusing to allow an advocate of one High Court to appear before another unless rules had been made by the latter Court or by the Bar Council, where such exists, regulating the conditions of such appearances. We think it reasonable to give advocates the right of appearing in another High Court unconditionally unless conditions are imposed by such rules and we have re-drafted the clause accordingly. We have also made an addition to sub-clause (1) to provide for certain cases which have been brought to our notice in which legal practitioners are at present entitled to appear before certain public officers or bodies not legally authorised to take evidence.

Clause 15.—We have given effect to a suggestion that provision should be made for rules to regulate the investment and general management of the funds of the Bar Council.

We have also added a clause which will enable rules to be made in respect of other matters which experience may reveal as requiring regulation.

Clause 17.—We have inserted this clause in the usual form to provide indemnity for bona fide action taken by Bar Councils and Committees, Tribunals and members of Bar Councils.—[Gazette of India, dated 21st August, 1926, Part V, pages 119-121.]

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the constitution and incorporation of Bar Councils for certain Courts in British India, to confer powers and impose duties on such Bar Councils, and to consolidate and amend the law relating to legal practitioners entitled to practise in such Courts; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preliminary.

Short title, extent, application and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called THE INDIAN BAR COUNCILS ACT, 1926.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, and shall apply to the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal, and at Madras, Bombay, Allahabad² [and Patna] and to such other High Courts within the meaning of clause (24) of section 3 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, as the² [Provincial Government] may, by notification³ in the² [Official Gazette], declare to be High Courts to which this Act applies.

Notes.

Sec 1 —(Per Sulaiman, Banerjee and Sen, JJ) —Independently of the Indian Bar Councils Act, the High Court does not any longer possess any inherent jurisdiction to punish an advocate for professional misconduct or to adopt a procedure for enquiry other than that laid down in the Act or to pass an order for costs against him or to impose a fine not contemplated by the Act 1930 A 225=52 A 619=125 I C 477=1930 A L J 402 (F B.)

The High Court has power to refuse admission to the Bar to any person at its discretion. But weight should be attached to the recommendation of the Bar Council which represents the view of the legal profession 1930 A 22=1929 A L J. 1105=123 I C. 683; 6 O W N 1080=124 I C. 5 Luck. 615.

It is right and proper that all judicial officers should keep a vigilant eye on the conduct of legal practitioners of whatever status, who are all ministers of the Court and should in proper cases institute inquiries under the Bar Councils Act according to the status of the legal practitioner concerned; but legal practitioners are one and all entitled also to the protection of the Court and inquiries should not be instituted on complaints made without having given very grave consideration to the reasonable probability of the case against the legal practitioner being well founded. As much in justice may be done to a legal practitioner by ill-conceived proceedings against him as may be done to the public interest and to the general body of legal practitioners by failure to keep a vigilant eye upon and take proper and strong action against cases of misconduct. (3) Of the elected members of the Bar Councils to be constituted for the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal and at Bombay such proportion as the High Court may direct in each case shall be persons who have, for such minimum period as the High Court may determine, been entitled to practise in the High Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction, and such number as may be fixed by the High Court out of the said proportion shall be barristers of England or Ireland or members of the Faculty of Advocates in Scotland.

(4) There shall be a Chairman and Vice-Chairman of each Bar Council elected by the Council in such manner as may be prescribed:

(3) No election of a member or members to the Council shall be called in question on the ground that due notice thereof has not been given to any person entitled to vote thereat, if notice of the date fixed for the election has, not less than thirty days before that date, been published in the local official Gazette of the province, or of each province, as the case may be, in which the High Court exercises jurisdiction.

(4) Rules made under clause (b) of sub-section (1) may provide for the retirement of members from office by rotation and for the manner in which the order of such retirement shall be determined.

7. The Bar Council may make by-laws consistent with this Act and any rules made thereunder to provide for any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the appointment of such ministerial officers and servants as the Bar Council may deem necessary, and the pay and allowances and other conditions of service of such officers and servants; and

Notes.

Sec. 6 (2) —Where, in framing the rules, there is substantial compliance with the provisions of the Bar Councils Act, the omission on the part of the Bar Council strictly to follow the procedure enjoined in S. 6 (2) does not amount to an illegality and it is no more than an irregularity. 1935 A.W.R. 110=157 I.C. 220=1935 All. 295.

Sec. 8: PRACTICE—MEANING OF.—Advocates enrolled in the High Court of Madras are entitled not only to appear and plead but also act in the insolvency jurisdiction of the High Court. 52 M. 92=55 M.L.J. 551=1928 Mad. 1182.

(a) all such persons as are referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (2) shall be entered first in the order in which they were respectively entitled to seniority inter se immediately before the date on which this section comes into force in respect of the High Court; and

(b) the seniority of any other person admitted to be an advocate of the High Court under this Act after the date shall be determined by the date of his admission, or, if he is a barrister, by the date of his admission or the date on which he was called to the Bar, whichever date is earlier:

Provided that, for the purposes of clause (b), the seniority of a person who before his admission to be an advocate was entitled as of right to practise in another High Court shall be determined by the date on which he became so entitled.

(4) The respective rights of pre-audience of advocates of the High Court shall be determined by seniority:

Provided that the Advocate-General shall have pre-audience over all other advocates, and King's Counsel shall have pre-audience over all advocates except the Advocate-General.]

1 (5) The High Court shall issue a certificate of enrolment to every person enrolled under this section.

1 (6) The High Court shall send to the Bar Council a copy of the roll as prepared under this section, and shall thereafter communicate to the Bar Council all alterations in, and additions to, the roll as soon as the same have been made.

1 (7) The Bar Council shall enter in the copy of the roll all alterations and additions so communicated to it.

9. (1) The Bar Council may, with the previous sanction of the High Court, make rules to regulate the admission of persons to be advocates of the High Court:

Provided that such rules shall not limit or in any way affect the power of the High Court to refuse admission to any person at its discretion.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules shall provide for the following matters, namely:

(a) the qualifications to be possessed by persons applying for admission as advocates;

Sec 8 (4): ACTING ADVOCATE-GENERAL.—THE ACTING ADVOCATE-GENERAL is entitled, as much as the Advocate-General, to a right of pre-audience over all other advocates in respect of all business whether for the Crown or of a private nature. 136 I.C 793=33 Bom L. R. 1500 (F.B.)

Secs 8 and 9 —The applicant passed his law examination in 1919; he was enrolled as a pleader in 1920 and as a pleader of the first grade in 1922. He applied for admission as an advocate of the Chief Court, which application was objected to by the Bar Council. It was found from record that in a suit wherein he had appeared, even though he had received a payment of sum which was due on a decree passed in favour of the decree-holder the pleader had retained the money from August 1924 till April 1926, and had then paid to the decree-holder, under circumstances not free from suspicion.

Held, that in this instance the Bar Council had not acted otherwise than honestly, fairly and without prejudice and therefore the applicant was refused admission as an advocate of the Chief Court. 6 O.W.N. 1080=1930 Oudh 121=5 Luck. 615.

If the Bar Council can establish that as fair-minded men, who have treated the application for admission as advocate on its merits and in a reasonable manner, they are convinced that a certain member of the profession does not deserve to be enrolled as an advocate and that his enrolment will be prejudicial to the credit of the body of advocates their objections should prevail. It may not be that the conduct in question deserves suspension or removal. Such conduct may not be such as to debar the applicant from practising in the Courts subordinate to the Chief Court. It may well be said that a man is not good enough to be an advocate, although he may be allowed to practise in such Courts. 6 O.W.N. 1080=1930 Oudh 121. See also 1930 All. 22=123 I.C 683.

(b) the form and manner in which applications shall be made to the High Court for admission;

(c) the giving of notice by the High Court to the Bar Council of all such applications;

(d) the hearing by the High Court of any objection preferred on behalf of the Bar Council to the admission of any applicant; and

(e) the charging of fees payable to the Bar Council in respect of enrolment.

(3) Rules made under this section shall provide that no woman shall be disqualified for admission to be an advocate by reason only of her sex.

(4) Nothing in this section or in any other provision of this Act shall be deemed to limit or in any way affect the powers of the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal and at Bombay to prescribe the qualifications to be possessed by persons applying to practise in those High Courts respectively in the exercise of their original jurisdiction or the powers of those High Courts to grant or refuse, as they think fit, any such application [or to prescribe the conditions under which such persons shall be entitled to practise or plead].

Misconduct.

10. (1) The High Court may, in the manner hereinafter provided, reprimand, suspend or remove from practice any advocate of the High Court whom it finds guilty of professional or other misconduct.

Sec 9 (4).—"High Court" referred to in Bar Councils Act, R 1 is a Chartered High Court. 1929 A L J 1195=122 I. C. 894=1930 All. 91 (1)

BENARES STATE CHIEF COURT is neither a High Court within the meaning of Bar Council, R. 1, nor is it subordinate to the Allahabad High Court, and hence a legal practitioner who enrolls himself as a pleader in Allahabad District Court and practises in the Benares State Courts cannot be treated as having practised in any High Court or a Court subordinate to Allahabad High Court and as such he is not entitled to be enrolled as an advocate of the Allahabad High Court. 1929 A L J 1195=122 I C 894=1930 All. 91 (1) See also 1930 A L J 839=1930 All. 887=128 I C 388

The Subordinate Courts referred to in the proviso to R 1 of the Allahabad High Court Rules framed under the section are Courts within the province. Courts in Ay-mere are not Courts subordinate to the Allahabad High Court. 1930 A.L.J. 839=128 I.C 388=1930 All. 887

Rule 10 of the Appellate Side Rules of the Bombay High Court is not ultra vires. Advocates on the Appellate Side did not come within the definition of "pleader" as defined in S 4 of the Cr P Code, because they are not authorised by law for the time being in force to practise in the Court side and they have no right of audience in that Court. 148 I.C 664=36 Bom.L R 1=1934 Bom. 70=58 B 456 (F.B.)

conduct—Notice issued by High Court after the Act came into force—Ultra vires. See 51 A 79. See also 1930 All 225=52 A. 619 (F B). The principle has to be recognised that the disciplinary jurisdiction vested in the High Court to reprimand, suspend or remove from practice an advocate for misconduct, should not be employed merely to supplement, as it were, by way of a further punishment, a punishment which the advocate has received under the law for the misconduct of which he is guilty. 63 Cal 867=162 I C 170=40 C W N 366=1936 Cal 158 (S B). See also 1935 Rang. 458

The word "may" in S 10 (1) makes it plain that while the High Court has unrestricted jurisdiction in all cases of misconduct, a discretion is left to the Court to take action in suitable cases only. It is not possible to lay down any hard and fast rule or any general principles with regard to exercise of such discretion. It must be exercised judicially. The test to which the Court has to apply is whether the proved misconduct of the advocate is such that he must be regarded as unworthy to remain a member of the honourable profession to which he has been admitted, or unfit to be entrusted with the responsible duties that an Advocate is called upon to perform. This test would be a sound working rule applicable to all branches of the profession. 63 Cal. 867=162 I.C. 170=40 C W N 366=1936 Cal. 158 (S.B.).

There is no reason why the words "professional or other misconduct" in S. 10 (1) should not be read in their plain and natural meaning. The legislature intended by the aforesaid words to confer on the High Court jurisdiction to take action in all cases of misconduct, misconduct in a professional or other capacity. The Court has a discretion to take action in suitable cases. 63 Cal 867=162 I.C. 170=40 C.W.N. 366=1930 Cal. 158 (S.B.).

In re Wallace (L.R. 1 P.C. 283) is no authority for holding that an advocate should never be punished professionally for contempt of Court committed by him in his personal capacity, however gross the offence may be. Each case must be dealt with according to the circumstances. Where a pleader in his capacity as a suitor in the Small Cause Court made a grossly improper remark reflecting upon the Judges of the High Court who at that stage had no concern whatever with the suit and a gratuitous hit at the Chief Justice without the slightest justification and was fined Rs. 75 for contempt of Court, held, that the fine was not under the circumstances sufficient and that he should be suspended from practice for six months. 55 A. 148=145 I.C. 847=1933 All. 224. But see also 1932 All. 492 (S.B.). It is beyond question that conviction for a criminal offence is per se evidence of misconduct. But all criminal convictions are not grounds for the exercise of the Court's disciplinary jurisdiction. A conviction for the offence of sedition under S. 124-A I.P. Code cannot be regarded as such misconduct as would, in all circumstances, require action to be taken under the Court's disciplinary jurisdiction and as would demand the removal of the advocate from practice. 63 Cal. 867=162 I.C. 170=40 C.W.N. 366=1936 Cal. 158 (S.B.). See also 1935 Rang. 458; 59 Bom. 676=69 M.L.J. 43 (P.C.). An advocate took a prominent part in Labour and Trade Union Movements and delivered a number of speeches advocating certain reforms. For some of these speeches he was bound over for one year under S. 107, Cr. P. Code. For others, he was prosecuted under S. 124-A, I.P. Code, and convicted thrice. There was no indication that he made any organised or persistent attempt to create a breach of peace or to incite acts tending to subvert law and order. The general tenor of the speeches was inoffensive and except on some particular occasions his views were not in any way hostile to the Government; and indeed several passages in them advocated obedience to law and order. The Tribunal of the Bar Council which held an enquiry reported that apart from his activities in connection with the labour movement, he was a young man of good character, inexperienced in his profession, honest and straight in his dealings, and while acquitting him of professional misconduct, the tribunal found him guilty of other misconduct and also observed that the case seemed to be very near the border line. Held, no further action was called for in the case. 63 Cal. 867=162 I.C. 170=37 Cr.L.J. 534=40 C.W.N. 366=1936 Cal. 158 (S.B.), 1935 Rang. 458. Where proceedings are taken against an advocate who has been convicted for offences, as to why his name should not be struck off from the roll of advocates, the application is not in the nature of a second trial or a new punishment. But the question is whether after the conduct of such advocate, it is proper that he should continue a member of a profession which should stand free from all suspicion. 1935 Rang. 458. See also 63 Cal. 907. Where proceedings are taken before the High Court for taking disciplinary action against an advocate who is convicted for a criminal offence, it is not incumbent on the Advocate-General to adduce evidence of the grounds on which the conviction is based. It is for the Court to decide whether conviction is evidence of such misconduct on the part of an advocate as to render him unfit for the exercise of his profession, or to call for the Court's censure. It is for the impugned advocate to adduce any considerations which might induce the Court to refrain from taking disciplinary action. 59 Bom. 676=157 I.C. 428=39 C.W.N. 1281=1935 P.C. 168=60 M.L.J. 431 (P.C.). But see also 1932 All. 492 (S.B.). The test that the Court has to apply in considering whether an advocate should be struck off the roll of advocates is whether the proved misconduct of the advocate is such that he must be regarded as unworthy to remain a member of the honourable profession to which he has been admitted, and unfit to be entrusted with the responsible duties that an advocate is called upon to perform. An advocate was convicted for submitting a false return of his income to the income-tax authorities and for taking up a false defence and maintaining it even up to the High Court, even though he knew such defence to be false. Held, that his conduct involved moral turpitude and that his name should be struck off the roll of advocates. 12 R. 110=1934 R. 33=149 I.C. 856. An advocate deliberately making false allegations involving imputations upon the fairness and impartiality of judicial officers in proceedings connected with an execution case to which he was himself a party cannot be punished under the disciplinary side under Bar Councils Act 1932 A.L.J. 773=1932 A. 492 (S.B.). An advocate was guilty of misconduct involving moral turpitude by falsely verifying an application and endeavouring to deceive the Court and to deprive the decreeholder of money due to him. But the complainant did not file his complaint out of any high sense of public duty. A third person, who had been engaged in litigation with the advocate in his personal capacity, was behind the application and had paid the expenses. The application was made out of a desire further to harass the advocate. The advocate was not acting for a client in this matter but was engaged in his own litigation, and in the end no one had suffered by his action. He was subjected to heavy expenses in defending himself upon all these charges. Held, that an order suspending the advocate from practice for the term of three calendar months would be sufficient in the peculiar circumstances 1932 A.L.J. 773=1932 All. 492 (S.B.).

COMPLAINT—LOCUS STANDI TO MAKE—It is open to any person to complain to the Court as to the undesirability of certain remarks made by a Counsel during the course of a trial. Where a Mahomedan Counsel is alleged to have made certain communal remarks during the course of a trial it is open to a Hindu Association to make a complaint to the High Court for taking action in the matter 162 I.C. 919=37 Cr. L.J. 783=1936 Sind 49.

When a complaint is made, the Court under the Act can only dismiss it summarily or else refer it to a Tribunal of the Bar Council to inquire into. The Court would not generally be justified in dismissing a petition summarily unless it was satisfied that, even if the allegations made in the petition be proved, there would be no case for taking action 138 I.C. 543=34 Bom. L.R. 443=1932 Bom. 199. As to specific cases of misconduct, see 158 I.C. 278=1935 O.W.N. 1029, 1935 All. 1023 (Advocate engaging as partner in a firm), 13 Rang 518=1935 R. 178 (Advocate bribing Judge). Mere negligence on the part of an advocate, however gross, does not amount to misconduct, professional or otherwise, under S. 10 (1) when it is not accompanied by moral delinquency 62 Cal. 158=157 I.C. 374=1935 Cal. 484 (S.B.). Negligence on the part of an advocate accompanied by suppression of truth or by deliberate misrepresentation would be misconduct 62 Cal. 158=157 I.C. 374=1935 Cal. 484 (S.B.).

Per Costello, J—If an advocate does not tell the truth in connection with a matter which he has undertaken to carry through on behalf of his client, such conduct might easily be said to involve moral delinquency. 62 Cal. 158=157 I.C. 374=1935 Cal. 484.

SECS. 10 AND 11: "PROFESSIONAL OR OTHER MISCONDUCT"—Merely having been member, or assisted the operation or managed the affairs, of an unlawful association does not render an advocate unfit to exercise his profession. Nor does such conduct necessarily involve any moral turpitude, or any attack upon the system of which the Court forms part, or embarrass in any way the administration of justice by the Court. No action is therefore called for in such a case. 59 B. 57=1935 Bom. 1=36 Bom. L.R. 1136 (F.B.). It is not part of the duty of the High Court to impose penalties for misconduct, unconnected with the exercise of the profession, which is either not punishable or has been, or can be, punished under the law of the land. The State imposes suitable penalties for the infringement of its laws, and provides proper sanctions for the enforcement of such penalties; and there is no reason why the Court's disciplinary jurisdiction should be employed merely in aid of the criminal law. In cases of misconduct involving moral turpitude, the Court has to see whether the advocate has shown himself to be unworthy of the confidence of the Court, or unfit to be entrusted with the business of his client or a person with whom his professional brethren cannot be expected to associate. But these are not the only cases in which the High Court may be called upon to take action. An advocate might engage in revolutionary activities designed to destroy the system of which the Court forms part, or activities likely to hamper or embarrass the administration of justice by the Courts. What has to be considered in such cases is the conduct of the advocate as it affects his position as an advocate and his relations to the Court. It will not tolerate on its rolls an advocate who is trying to undermine or destroy the authority of the Court. Anyone electing to engage in activities of that nature must do so without the authority and prestige attached to the position of an advocate 36 Bom. L.R. 1136=59 Bom. 57=1935 Bom. 1 (F.B.).

PROCEEDING UNDER JUDGMENT OF CIVIL COURT—RELEVANCY AND VALUE—Per Bennet and Ganga Nuth, JJ—The judgment and evidence in a civil suit are admissible as evidence in an enquiry under the Bar Councils Act but the judgment and decree are not conclusive proof. Per Iqbal Ahmad, J.—The finding recorded against an advocate by a Civil Court is not final and conclusive in proceedings taken against the advocate under the Bar Councils Act. When a case is referred to the Bar Council under S. 10 for an enquiry into the conduct of an advocate, it is the duty of the Council to inquire into the matter and to record a finding on the materials produced before it, irrespective of any finding on the point recorded by a Civil Court. The enquiry by the Council is with a view to ascertain whether or not the advocate concerned has been guilty of misconduct. The enquiry is of a quasi-criminal nature and a finding has to be arrived at on a consideration of the materials before the Council 159 I.C. 561=1935 A.W.R. 1229=1935 All. 1023.

HIGH COURT REFRAINING FROM DISCIPLINARY ACTION—SPECIAL LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL—Where the High Court in the exercise of its statutory discretion proceeded to consider whether in the circumstances the misconduct proved called for any disciplinary action, whether in the nature of reprimand, suspension, or removal from practice and the Judges decided that it did not. Held, that the action of the High Court in thus exercising their discretion was not such as His Majesty can be advised further to consider 59 Bom. 676=42 L.W. 480=157 I.C. 428=39 C.W.N. 1281=37 Bom. L.R. 722=1935 P.C. 168=69 M.L.J. 431 (P.C.).

(2) Upon receipt of a complaint made to it by any Court or by the Bar Council or by any other person that any such advocate has been guilty of misconduct, the High Court shall, if it does not summarily reject the complaint, refer the case for inquiry either to the Bar Council or, after consultation with the Bar Council, to the Court of a District Judge (hereinafter referred to as a District Court) and may of its own motion so refer any case in which it has otherwise reason to believe that any such advocate has been so guilty.

11. (1) Where any case is referred for inquiry to the Bar Council under section 10, the case shall be inquired into by a Committee of the Bar Council (hereinafter referred to as the Tribunal).

(2) The tribunal shall consist of not less than three and not more than five members of the Bar Council appointed for the purpose of the inquiry by the Chief Justice or Chief Judge of the High Court, and one of the members so appointed shall be appointed to be the President of the Tribunal.

12 (1) The High Court shall make rules to prescribe the procedure to be followed by Tribunals and by Districts Courts, respectively, in the conduct of inquiries referred under section 10.

Notes.

Secs. 10 to 13—Where a complaint has been made to the Chief Justice and the Judges of a High Court under S. 10, Bar Councils Act, and such complaint has been referred to the Bar Council to be enquired into by a tribunal, it is incumbent upon the tribunal to come to some finding or other and it cannot abandon the proceeding merely because the complainant withdrew the complaint 1930 Cal. 574=57 C 724. It is highly unsatisfactory from the point of view of advocates and of the public that any one should make a solemn complaint against one of them to the High Court and have the matter referred to the tribunal and that then, without any finding which could clear the advocate, the enquiry should be dropped. The complainant after the matter has been referred to the tribunal is not in any way a person who is like a plaintiff dominus lites and if such complainant withdraws the complaint, and if from circumstances and evidence the tribunal is of opinion that there is no need to investigate and the charge preferred has no substance it can so report. In other circumstances it is open to the tribunal to exercise its own discretion whether to employ its power to summon the complainant personally or other people. The Act requires that the tribunal should come to a finding 57 C. 724=1930 Cal. 574 (Per Rankin, C.J.). See also 1931 A. 580. The Bar Council is in the position of a trustee and guardian of the dignity and privileges of the Bar and the rights and duties of its members, and it is to the interest of the profession that when a charge is made against an advocate it should either be cleared or brought home to him. The rules are so designed that on a charge of misconduct there should be a finding one way or the other 57 C 724=1930 Cal 574 (Per Buckland, J.)

Secs 10 and 19.—A notice was issued on the 13th June, 1928, by the High Court against a pleader calling upon him to show cause why he should not be dealt with under the Legal Practitioners Act for professional misconduct. Objection was taken by the pleader in view of the Bar Councils Act which had come into force on 1st June, 1928. Held, that the provisions of the latter Patent in so far as they may conflict with the provisions of the Act, were abrogated by S. 19 (2), and therefore it was necessary for the case to be either referred to the Bar Council or at any rate for the Bar Council to be consulted. The Court was not properly seized of the case and that the notice issued to show cause was, as framed, ultra vires and a nullity 51 A 76=26 A I. T. 1039=112 I.C. 214=1928 All 439 (F.B.).

Sec. 12—In order to prevent counsel appearing for the other party, he must have a definite retainer, with a fee paid, or he must have such confidential instructions from one of the parties as would make it improper for him to appear for the other party. In the absence of either, it cannot be said to be unprofessional on the part of the counsel to appear for the other party (1932 All. 536, Ref.) 147 I C 1080=11 O.W.N. 23=1934 Oudh 58 (S B).

The High Court in considering what orders ought to be passed in a case that falls within S 12, Bar Councils Act, 1926, is not in any way fettered by the report of the tribunal or of the District Court, and although no doubt the greatest weight ought to be attached to the findings contained in such a report, it is competent to the Court to go into the facts for itself and to decide whether or not it agrees with those findings. The value of the report of the tribunal in a case is lessened where, in respect of the more serious charges, it is not unanimous and to some extent ambiguous. Where the report of the tribunal is ambiguous and not explicit on findings it is not necessary to send it back

(2) The finding of a Tribunal on an inquiry referred to the Bar Council under section 10 shall be forwarded to the High Court through the Bar Council, and the finding of a District Court on such an inquiry shall be forwarded direct to the High Court which shall cause a copy thereof to be sent to the Bar Council.

(3) On receipt of the finding, the High Court shall fix a date for the hearing of the case and shall cause notice of the day so fixed to be given to the Advocate concerned and to the Bar Council and to the Advocate-General, and shall afford the Advocate concerned and the Bar Council and the Advocate-General an opportunity of being heard before orders are passed in the case.

(4) The High Court may thereafter either pass such final orders in the case as it thinks fit or refer it back for further inquiry to the Tribunal through the Bar Council or to the District Court, as the case may be, and, upon receipt of the finding after such further inquiry, deal with the case in the manner provided in sub-section (3) and pass final orders thereon.

to the tribunal if after investigating the facts itself the Court is in no doubt as to the order that ought to be passed in the case. 1933 Rang 10. See also 155 I.C. 1054=1935 All 503 (1) (S.B.).

The Court's decision must rest not upon suspicion, but upon legal grounds established by legal testimony. [58 M.L.J. 635 (P.C.), Rel on.] 147 I.C. 1080=11 O.W.N. 23=1934 Oudh 58 (F.B.).

Sec. 12 (2).—The members of the Tribunal of the Bar Council can record separate findings and make more than one report and the High Court is entitled to consider the report and findings of the minority as well as the majority of the Tribunal. 54 Mad. 857=134 I.C. 33=61 M.L.J. 148=1932 Mad 131 (F.B.).

The offence of perjury always involves moral turpitude in varying degree according to the particular facts of each case. Although the High Court in proceedings under S. 12 against an Advocate convicted of perjury, cannot question the propriety of the conviction, it can with a view to fix the quantum of punishment look into the circumstances of the case and ascertain the degree of moral turpitude and extenuating circumstances if any. Thus the absence of direct evidence can be taken into account. It can also take into consideration testimonials speaking highly of the character of the Advocate. Advocate suspended for six months. 131 I.C. 67=8 O.W.N. 267=1931 Oudh 161.

Sec 12 (3).—Sub-S. (3) provides that on receipt of the finding of the Tribunal of the Bar Council, the Court shall fix a date for hearing and give notice of the day so fixed to the Advocate concerned and to the Advocate-General. It follows that the original petitioner is not entitled to be served with notice or to be heard on the hearing before the Court. The Bar Council is there in order to assist the Court in any way it can and the Advocate concerned is of course entitled to be heard. The correct course is for the Advocate-General to open by submitting the report of the Tribunal to the Court. Then the Advocate is entitled to be heard and, if necessary, the Advocate-General will have a right of reply. 33 Bom. L.R. 1215=1931 Bom. 557. Section 12 (3) cannot be intended to exclude the right of the Court to hear any person other than the persons mentioned therein when the object of it is to ensure that certain people shall have notice. Where the finding of the tribunal is considered by the High Court it is in the power of the High Court to hear the complainant. 35 C.W.N. 293=134 I.C. 1270=1931 Cal 680 (S.B.).

Sec. 12 (4).—It would need very good reasons to induce the High Court to throw over the findings of fact which have been arrived at by a Tribunal after a careful and elaborate enquiry. 35 C.W.N. 293=1931 Cal. 680. The exact extent of the rights of the complainants in such a matter may be left to be considered as occasion arises (Ibid). See also 1930 M.W.N. 216; 147 I.C. 139. See Notes under S. 1. Per Thom, J.—Although it is usual for the High Court to accept the findings of the Bar Tribunal upon charges of professional misconduct, especially when there is no objection preferred by the Government Advocate the High Court is not bound to do so in every case. 155 I.C. 1043=1935 A.L.J. 759=1935 A.W.R. 285=1935 All 425 (F.B.).

The finding of the Bar Council Tribunal can be reversed by a Bench of the High Court even though all the Judges constituting the Bench are not unanimous, and an order of the majority of the Judges reversing such finding, is not ultra vires. Cl. 8 of the Letters Patent confers jurisdiction upon the High Court to remove or suspend advocates, whereas S. 10 of the Bar Councils Act lays down the procedure according to which such jurisdiction should be exercised. The Benches of the High Court are, therefore, governed by the rule as to the opinion of the majority mentioned in the Letters Patent, as there is nothing in the Bar Councils Act or in any rules made thereunder which is inconsistent with such rule. 150 I.C. 653=1935 A.W.R. 1245.

(5) In passing final orders the High Court may pass such order as regards the payment of the costs of the inquiry and of the hearing in the High Court as it thinks fit.

(6) The High Court may, of its own motion or on application made to it in this behalf, review any order passed under sub-section (4) or sub-section (5) and maintain, vary or rescind the same, as it thinks fit.

(7) When any advocate is reprimanded or suspended under this Act, a record of the punishment shall be entered against his name in the roll of advocates of the High Court, and when an advocate is removed from practice his name shall forthwith be struck off the roll; and the certificate of any advocate so suspended or removed shall be recalled.

13 (1) For the purposes of any such inquiry as aforesaid, a Tribunal or a District Court shall have the same powers as are vested in a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, in respect of the following matters, namely:—

(a) enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath,

(b) compelling the production of documents, and

(c) issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses:

Provided that the Tribunal shall not have power to require the attendance of the presiding officer of any Court save with the previous sanction of the High Court or, in the case of an officer of a Criminal or Revenue Court, of the Local Government.

(2) Every such inquiry shall be deemed to be a judicial proceeding within the meaning of sections 193 and 228 of the Indian Penal Code; and a Tribunal shall be deemed to be a Civil Court for the purposes of sections 480, 482 and 485 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

(3) For the purpose of enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him upon oath or of compelling the production of documents or of issuing commissions—

(a) the local limits of the jurisdiction of a Tribunal shall be those of the jurisdiction of the High Court by which the Tribunal has been constituted; and

(b) a Tribunal may send to any Civil Court having jurisdiction in the place where the Tribunal is sitting any summons or other process for the attendance of a witness or the production of a document required by the Tribunal, or any commission which it desires to issue, and the Civil Court shall serve such process or issue such commission, as the case may be, and may enforce any such process as if it were a process for attendance or production before itself.

(4) Proceedings before a Tribunal or a District Court in any such inquiry shall be deemed to be civil proceedings for the purposes of section 132 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872, and the provisions of that section shall apply accordingly.

Notes.

Sec. 12 (5)—The Rules framed under the Act empower the High Court to assess the costs directed to be paid to the Advocate by the complainant. At the same time it is open to the Court to direct an enquiry by the Registrar as to what sums had been paid by the complainant and the Advocate and pass final orders after the amount spent has been ascertained. 35 C.W.N. 293=134 I.C. 1270=1931 Cal. 680 (S.B.). See also 54 M. 857 (F.B.).

Sec. 12 (6).—The power of review conferred upon High Courts under sub-S. (6), S. 12, cannot be extended to an order passed under S. 41, Legal Practitioners Act. 148 I.C. 299=1934 Oudh 140=11 O.W.N. 368 (S.B.).

Sec. 13—Inherent powers of the Supreme Court of Calcutta were not conferred on the Allahabad High Court by the Indian High Courts Act of 1861, and no power to exercise inherent disciplinary jurisdiction over legal practitioners independently of the Legal Practitioners Act and the Indian Bar Councils Act now exists in the Allahabad High Court in respect of their professional or other misconduct. 52 All. 619=1930 A.L.J. 402=1930 All. 225 (F.B.).

Miscellaneous.

Right of Advocates to practise. 14. (1) An advocate shall be entitled as of right to practise—

(a) subject to the provisions of sub-section (4) of section 9, in the High Court of which he is an advocate, and

(b) save as otherwise provided by sub-section (2) or by or under any other law for the time being in force, in any other Court in British India and before any other Tribunal or person legally authorized to take evidence, and

(c) before any other authority or person before whom such advocate is by or under the law for the time being in force entitled to practise.

(2) Where rules have been made by any High Court within the meaning of clause (24) of section 3 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, or in the case of a High Court for which a Bar Council has been constituted under this Act, by such Bar Council under section 15, regulating the conditions subject to which advocates of other High Courts may be permitted to practise in the High Court, such advocates shall not be entitled to practise therein otherwise than subject to such conditions.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit or in any way affect the power of the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal or of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay to make rules determining the persons who shall be entitled respectively to plead and to act in the High Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction.

15. A Bar Council may, with the previous sanction of the High Court for which it is constituted, make rules consistent with this Act to provide for and regulate any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the rights and duties of the advocates of the High Court and their discipline and professional conduct;

(b) the conditions subject to which advocates of other High Courts may be permitted to practise in the High Court;

(c) the giving of facilities for legal education and training and the holding and conduct of examinations by the Bar Council;

(d) the charging of fees payable to the Bar Council in respect of the enjoyment of educational facilities provided, or of the right to appear at examinations held, by the Bar Council,

(e) the investment and management of the funds of the Bar Council; and

(f) any other matter in respect of which the High Court may require rules to be made under this section.

Notes.

Sec. 14: ENTRY IN THE ROLL OF ADVOCATES
—EFFECT OF.—An ex-Judge of the Patna High Court, after his retirement as a Judge, applied to have his name entered on the roll of advocates. It was allowed with a condition refusing him the permission to appear in the Courts of the Province. Held, that the applicant's name being entered on the roll of advocates, he was entitled as of right to practise in the Courts of the Province. 58 I.A. 38=130 I.C. 305=1931 P.C. 22 (2)=60 M.L.J. 179 (P.C.).

Secs. 14 and 15.—Where an application is made on behalf of an advocate of one High Court for permission to appear in a case in another High Court under the rules framed under the Bar Councils Act, good reasons must be shown for the grant of such permission. The permission cannot be granted on mere application or as a matter of course. The Chief Justice of the High Court must use a judicial discretion in the matter and then grant or refuse permission. The right of an advocate of a particular bar to appear in other High Courts does not exist as a matter of right. Nor is there any question of reciprocity involved in the matter. The Chief Justice will apply his mind to the circumstances of the application and see whether good reasons have been made out for the grant of permission in any particular case. 17 Pat L.T. 861.

Sec. 15, R. 16: RULE APPLIES TO ELECTION OF ALL CANDIDATES—Rule 16 cannot be restricted to the election of any one candidate; the singular covers the plural and validity of the election of all the elected members can be challenged thereunder. 163 I.C. 510=1936 Sind 75 (S.B.).

16. The High Court shall make rules for fixing and regulating by taxation or otherwise the fees payable as costs by any party in respect of the fees of his adversary's advocate upon all proceedings in the High Court or in any Court subordinate thereto.

17. No suit or other legal proceeding shall lie against a Bar Council or any Committee, Tribunal or member of a Bar Council for any act in good faith done or intended to be done in pursuance of the provisions of this Act or of any rule made thereunder.

18. All rules made under this Act shall be published in the local official Gazette of the province, or of each province, as the case may be, in which the High Court by which or with whose sanction the rules are made exercises jurisdiction.

19. (1) When sections 8 to 16 come into force in respect of any High Court, any enactment mentioned in the first column of the Schedule which is in force in any province in which the High Court exercises jurisdiction shall, for the purpose of its application to that province, be amended to the extent and in the manner specified in the second column of the Schedule.

(2) When sections 8 to 16 come into force in respect of any High Court of Judicature established by Letters Patent, this Act shall have effect in respect of such Court notwithstanding anything contained in such Letters Patent, and such Letters Patent shall, in so far as they are inconsistent with this Act or any rules made thereunder, be deemed to have been repealed.

(3) When sections 8 to 16 come into force in respect of the High Court of Judicature at Bombay, the Bombay Pleaders' Act, 1920, except section 7 thereof, shall cease to apply to or in respect of any person enrolled as an advocate of the High Court under this Act, and nothing in that Act shall be deemed to authorize the admission or enrolment of any person as a vakil or pleader of the High Court.

(4) When this Act has come into force in respect of any High Court, any provision of any other enactment or any order, scheme, rule, form or bye law made thereunder, which was before that date applicable to advocates, vakils or pleaders entitled to practise in such High Court shall, unless such a construction is repugnant to the context or to any provision made by or under this Act, be construed as applying to advocates of the High Court enrolled under this Act.

THE BIRTHS, DEATHS AND MARRIAGES REGISTRATION ACT (VI OF 1886).

Prefatory Note.—The following is the Statement of Objects and Reasons appended to the Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Bill.—It is proposed by this Act (1) to establish a system of voluntary registration of births and deaths for the benefit of such classes of the community as would be likely to avail themselves of registration, (2) to establish general registry offices for keeping registers of the births and deaths so registered and of marriages registered under Act III of 1872 or the Indian Christian Marriage Act (XV of 1872), and (3) to provide a machinery for giving evidential value to certain existing registers of births, baptisms, deaths, burials and marriages, which have been kept under no law. The subject of the registration of births and deaths among Europeans in India had been frequently long under the consideration of the Government, whose attention had moreover been frequently directed to it by memorials from various Christian religious bodies, urging very strongly the need for legislation. The Indian Statute book contained at that

Notes.

Secs 1-3—The object of a bill of lading is to provide for the rights and liabilities of the parties in reference to the contract to carry and it is not concerned with liabilities to contribution in general average. The question whether an exemption clause covers the liability to contribution in general average in a case of proper jettison depends on the intention of the parties. If the shipowner wishes to relieve himself, he must do so in clear words. 78 I.C. 972. Where a bill of lading contains the usual exemption clause as regards the liability for acts of God, Kings enemies and the perils of the sea, in a suit by the consignee for damages for loss of goods, etc., the defendant ship-owner must plead and prove perils of the sea if that is his defence. If he makes out a prima facie case plaintiff can rebut it by proving negligence on the part of the defendant. 47 Mad. 610=47 M.L.J. 150. "At Merchants Risk," meaning of 78 I.C. 972. Section 3 of the Bills of Lading Act is limited to the master or the person signing the bills. 1925 S. 221.

time no general law for the registration of births and deaths. There were, indeed, enactments which provided for the registration of births and deaths within certain specified areas, principally municipalities and cantonments, but, in the first place, these enactments were strictly local in their nature, leaving the greater portion of the country unprovided for, and in the next place, their provisions being directed primarily to statistical purposes were not of such a nature as to make the registers of births and deaths kept under them of value for purposes of evidence. As to the numerous registers of baptisms and burials which were kept by ministers of religion in all parts of the country, it was doubtful how far they could be relied on for giving accurately the requisite particulars as to births and deaths, and most of them were, moreover, inadmissible in evidence. Such being the state of the law and considering the importance of the subject generally and having regard to the fact that references were frequently made to the Secretary of State for India and to the Government of India for proof of age or of death in connection with questions involving large individual interest, such as rights to property, the Government of India was of opinion that it was expedient to enact a permissible law under which full facilities for registering births and deaths should be given to persons valuing unimpeachable evidence of these events. As to the second object of the Bill, it was obvious that no system of registration of births and deaths could be complete or of practical value unless it provided for the establishment, at certain centres of general offices where the information registered at the various local offices should be collected and so arranged as to be readily available for public reference. In this connection the attention of the Government of India has been directed to the unsatisfactory nature of the system of registration of marriages under the Indian Christian Marriage Act, 1872 and Act III of 1872. Documentary evidence of all marriages under the former Act was, by the provisions of the Act or the orders thereunder, sent to the Secretary to the Local Government, who was also empowered to grant certified copies which were receivable in evidence. It would seem, therefore, at first sight that nothing further was required. But, as a matter of fact, not only were no arrangements made for maintaining an index to the marriages, the records of which were retained in the local Secretariate, but the greater portion of the marriage records which were received in the local Secretariate had, under section 81 of the Act and the orders in force, to be sent on in original to the Government of India in the Home Department for transmission to the Secretary of State, so that the greater number of the marriage records which reached the local Secretariate did not remain there for purposes of reference, and such as did remain were, owing to the absence of an index, practically valueless. As to Act III of 1872, this Act made no provisions for the marriages solemnized under it being reported to any central authority. The marriage certificate books for which it provided were retained by the Registrar, who was not even required to index them. Their value as records of the marriages to which they referred was accordingly much diminished. The Government of India had, therefore, availed themselves of the opportunity of the proposed legislation for the registration of births and deaths, to remove those defects in the marriages registration law by providing for general registry offices for keeping registers not only for the births and deaths which may be registered under the proposed law, but also of marriages which may be registered under Act III of 1872 or the Christian Marriage Act, 1872. THE CANTONMENTS ACT (II OF 1924).

Prefatory Note: NECESSITY FOR A SPECIAL LAW AS TO CANTONMENTS.—The Hon'ble Mr. Scoble in introducing the old cantonments Bill of 1910 said—

"There are one or two points in connection with this Bill, to which I think it is desirable briefly to call attention.

"Although there is no definition of the word 'cantonment' in the Bill, it has a well understood popular meaning. The term has for more than a century been applied to military stations in India and these stations have almost from their first establishment been subject to special regulations. The troops themselves being under military law, it became necessary to use the language of Bengal Regulation XX of 1810—from the great number of native retainers and followers attached to military establishments in India and the importance of a prompt and orderly discharge of their duties to the welfare of the troops—to bring them also to a certain extent under military discipline, and with this view, in order to ascertain the areas within which stricter rules thus sanctioned might be enforced, it was enacted that the limits of cantonments and garrisons, including the military bazaars attached thereto, at which any division or corps of the army, or any considerable detachment not being less than half a battalion may be quartered, shall be marked out by the commanding officer in concert with the magistrate, and submitted for the final orders of Government. Similar regulation were framed in Madras and Bombay and under one or other of these enactments all the other cantonments in India have been demarcated. It seemed to the Select Committee, therefore, better to adhere to the old method of determining what places were to be treated as subject to cantonment law than to attempt a new definition, and S. 4 of the Bill accordingly provides that the Local Government with the previous consent of the Governor-General in Council may by notification in the Official Gazette, declare any place within its territories, in which any of Her Majesty's regular forces are quartered to be a cantonment and the local authorities may also from time to time declare or vary the limits of cantonments and may also declare that places are no longer cantonments; while the Governor-General in Council is specially empowered to exclude the whole or any part of a cantonment from the operation of any portion of the Act. These provisions have been introduced in order to meet the changes which necessarily occur in the distribution of troops throughout the country, and it is considered that by requiring the concurrence of the Local Authority and the supreme Government to the establishment or continuance of cantonment law in any locality, every reasonable safeguard is secured that private rights will be respected and public convenience duly regarded.

"While recognising the necessity of maintaining special laws in places primarily intended for the occupation of troops and followers, it has been the object of the framers of the Bill to assimilate, wherever it was possible, the Cantonment Law to that prevailing in Municipalities. In some parts of India, Cantonments are included within the limits of Municipalities and special provisions have been introduced to prevent any conflict of jurisdiction from this cause. But in all cantonments only such taxes as can be imposed in a Municipality in the same province may be levied; and by S. 25 of the Bill, the Governor-General in Council is authorized to extend to any cantonment any enactment in force in any Municipality in British India, subject to such restrictions and modifications as circumstances may show to be expedient. Under this section I hope many useful sanitary provisions, to be found in local laws—such, for instance, as the provisions of S. 361 of the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888, with regard to the sale of adulterated articles of food—will be introduced into military stations.

"Section 26 of the Bill contains a very careful enumeration of the objects and purposes for which special rules may be made. To secure uniformity, it is provided that the rules shall be made by the Governor-General in Council, and to secure publicity that they shall not be made until the persons to be affected by them have had an opportunity of examining them and submitting such criticisms or objections as they may wish to offer. Exception has been taken to the power given to make rules for the construction and maintenance to the satisfaction of the cantonment authority, of buildings and of boundary walls, hedges and other fences. I think this is a very necessary power. It is possessed by municipal authorities everywhere; and owners of property will only have themselves to blame if rules of a really more oppressive or arbitrary character than those which prevail in well organised Civil communities are passed for the lack of due remonstrance on their part.

"With regard to cantonment funds, it may be observed that although the Bill requires that, as a general rule, they must be expended upon the purposes of the Act within the cantonment itself, power is taken, in S. 21, to apply them to like objects (as, for instance, the formation and conservancy of a cholera camp) beyonds the limits of the cantonment.

"One other point remains to be noticed. It will be obvious that the health and discipline of the dwellers in cantonments cannot be secured if breaches of cantonment rules can be committed with impunity, just outside their boundaries. Section 28 of the Bill accordingly provides that the Local Government may extend to the neighbourhood of a cantonment any enactment or rules in force within the cantonment itself. It will rest with the Local Government and not with the military authorities, to determine in what respects and within what area, these rules and enactments ought to be applied beyond cantonment limits, and, in order to prevent hardship or loss to owners of property in such neighbourhoods, it will be in the power of Local Government to award such compensation or to make such other conditions as the circumstances of the case may require."

See Fort St. George Gazette Supplement, 1910, pages 1 and 2.

Necessity for amendment of the old Act.—The following is the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the present Cantonments Bill.—

A committee, which was appointed by the Government of India in January, 1921, to consider what changes were necessary in order to introduce into the administration of cantonments the spirit of the reformed scheme of Government, recommended a complete revision and amalgamation of the Cantonments Act (Act XV of 1910) and the Cantonment Code, 1912, in order to bring them into conformity with ordinary Municipal Law and the system under which military cantonments are administered.

The recommendations of the committee have now been examined by the Government of India and the conclusions arrived at are embodied in the Bill.

The main features of the Bill are as follows—

(a) It is proposed to take power to municipalize Government of those cantonments which contain substantial civil population having no essential connexion with or dependence upon the military administration. In other cantonments where these circumstances do not fully exist, the administration of cantonment affairs will be vested in the hands of the commanding officer of the cantonment, who for the purpose of the Act, will be constituted a corporation sole. The general effect will be that the cantonment authority will cease to be purely executive agency of Government, which it is at present. In the larger cantonments the existing Cantonment Committee will be replaced by Cantonment Board which will be municipal in character and an essentially local self-Government body.

(b) The reformed Cantonment Authorities will have a separate legal persona, will be capable of suing and being sued in their name and of making contracts. They will also be empowered to make bye-laws to govern local matters of administration which require different treatment in different cantonments.

(c) The cantonment fund under the reformed system will be a local fund invested in the cantonment authority.

(d) In the reformed cantonments where a Board is constituted a proportion of the cantonment Board will be elected representatives of the civil inhabitants of the cantonment. An official majority will, however, be maintained.

(e) The Cantonment Magistrate, as such, will be eliminated. In his place an "Executive Officer" will be appointed. He will be paid by Government. He will perform amongst other things, the duty of the secretary of the Board, and he will have no judicial powers or functions.

(f) The Local Government will exercise certain larger powers of superintendence and control over cantonment affairs than they do at present.

(g) The military authorities will retain special powers in matters affecting the health, welfare and discipline of troops. (See Statement of Objects and Reasons—Fort St. George Gazette, 17th April, 1923, Pt. III, p. 228.)

An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the administration of cantonments.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the administration of cantonments; It is hereby enacted as follows: -

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called THE CANTONMENTS ACT, 1924

Notes.

Sec. 1—The Secretary of State is absolute owner of all Cantonment land, unless it can be proved that he parted with it. There can be no adverse possession against him. A person occupying land in cantonments not specifically transferred to him by the Secretary of State, can only hold it as a licensee from him, who could eject him at will by revoking his licence. 66 I.C. 582 = 1922 All 57. The mere fact that certain lands are declared by the Government to be within a cantonment area does not vest their ownership in the Government unless it is shown that the lands were acquired by the Government for that purpose. 31 C.W.N. 1033 = 105 I.C. 565 (2) = 1927 Cal 786. All land within cantonment area does not necessarily belong to Government. (Ibid.) It is not the necessary implication of the second paragraph of cl (6) of the Bengal Cantonment Regulations that all cantonment lands are the property of the Government, though the rules certainly suggest that the greater part of the land was at that time Government property. 57 I.A. 339 = 58 C. 858 = 35 C.W.N. 173 = 130 I.C. 616 = 1931 P.C. 1 = 60 M.L.J. 142 (F.C.). Where subsequent to the establishment of a cantonment the ownership of the land within the cantonment becomes vested in the Secretary of State and the prior owners of the land were compensated for the loss of such rights as they may have actually suffered, it is a fair presumption that the amount of compensation would vary according to whether the prior owner was deprived wholly of ownership and possession or whether he was deprived only of ownership and allowed to remain in possession as licensee without the payment of any rent. 1930 All 587 = 124 I.C. 441. The Peshawar Cantonment Board, as representing the Secretary of State who acquired the Peshawar Cantonment by purchase, is the owner of all the land situate within the Cantonment and is entitled to eject a licensee in possession on payment of compensation in respect of structures or improvements, if any, made by him. 142 I.C. 657 = 1933 Pesh 56. Subsequent to the establishment of cantonment possession of one enclosed plot of land was found to be with original owner described as 'mukhl' in official records, who subsequently built on portion of land with permission of cantonment authorities and let out buildings for shops. Permission to build is not licence with regard to site for shop, only but original owner continued to be licensee of whole plot of land. 1930 All 587. Where Army Regulations were in force by which a house could not be sold at all to civilians and later on it was allowed to be sold with the sanction of the Commanding Officer, held in the absence of evidence as to the actual terms, it must be presumed that the permission was subject to a reservation about sanction. 78 I.C. 642 = 46 A. 427 = 1924 All 415. Therefore every transfer made with the permission of the military authority must be treated as indicating an admission of a new licence upon the prevailing conditions (Ibid.) A transfer without sanction furnishes a cause of action for a declaration

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan.

(3) The 1[Central Government] may, by notification in the 1[Official Gazette], direct that this Act, or any provisions thereof which he may specify, shall come into force on such date^{1-a} as he may appoint in this behalf.

Definition of “annual value.” 64. For the purposes of this Chapter “annual value” means—

(a) in the case of railway stations, hotels, colleges, schools, hospitals, factories and any other buildings which a [Board] decides to assess under this clause, one-twentieth of the sum obtained by adding the estimated present cost of erecting the building to the estimated value of the land appertaining thereto, and

(b) in the case of a building or land not assessed under clause (a), the gross annual rent for which such building (exclusive of furniture or machinery therein) or such land is actually let or, where the building or land is not let or in the opinion of the [Board] is let for a sum less than its fair letting value, might reasonably be expected to let from year to year:

Provided that, where the annual value of any building is, by reason of exceptional circumstances, in the opinion of the [Board] excessive if calculated in the aforesaid manner, the [Board] may fix the annual value at any less amount which appears to it to be just.

65 (1) Save as otherwise expressly provided in the notification imposing the tax, every tax ^{1a}[assessed] on the annual value of buildings or lands or of both shall be leviable primarily upon the actual occupier of the property upon which the said tax is assessed, if he is the owner of the buildings or lands of holds them on a building or other lease ²[granted by or on behalf of the Crown or] the [Board] or on a building lease from any person

(3) On failure to recover any sum due on account of such tax from the person primarily liable, there may be recovered from the occupier of any part of the buildings or lands in respect of which the tax is due such portion of the sum due as bears to the whole amount due the same ratio which the rent annually payable by such occupier bears to the aggregate amount of rent so payable in respect of the whole of the said buildings or lands, or to the aggregate amount of the letting value thereof, if any, stated in the authenticated assessment list.

(4) An occupier who makes any payment for which he is not primarily liable under this section shall, in the absence of any contract to the contrary, be entitled to be reimbursed by the person primarily liable for the payment, and, if so entitled, may deduct the amount so paid from the amount of any rent from time to time becoming due from him to such person.

66. When a tax ³[assessed] on the annual value of buildings or lands or both is imposed, the [Board] shall cause an assessment list of all buildings or lands in the cantonment, or of Conditions of right to appeal. 87. No appeal shall be heard or determined under this Chapter unless—

(a) the appeal is, in the case of a tax assessed on the annual value of buildings or lands or both, brought within thirty days next after the date of the authentication of the assessment list under section 69 (exclusive of the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the relevant entries therein), or, as the case may be, within thirty days of the date on which an amendment is finally made under section 71, and, in the case of any other tax, within thirty days next after the date of the receipt of the notice of assessment or of alteration of assessment or, if no notice has been given, within thirty days next after the date of the presentation of the first bill in respect thereof.

Provided that an appeal may be admitted after the expiration of the period prescribed therefor by this section if the appellant satisfies the Court before whom the appeal is preferred that he had sufficient cause for not preferring it within that period;

(b) the amount, if any, in dispute in the appeal has been deposited by the appellant in the office of the [Board].

Finality of appellate orders. 88. The order of an appellate authority confirming, setting aside or modifying an order in respect of any valuation or assessment or liability to assessment or taxation shall be final:

Provided that it shall be lawful for the appellate authority, upon application or on its own motion, to review any order passed by it in appeal if application in this behalf is made within three months from the date of the original order.

Payment and Recovery of Taxes.

89. Save as otherwise expressly provided under this Act, any tax imposed under the provisions of this Act shall be payable on such dates and in such instalments, if any, as the [Board] may, by public notice, direct.

90. (1) When any tax has become due, the Executive Officer shall cause to be presented to the person liable for the payment thereof a bill for the amount due.

(2) Every such bill shall specify the particulars of the tax and the period for which the charge is made.

91. (1) If the amount of the tax for which any bill has been presented is not paid to the [Board] within thirty days from the presentation thereof, the Executive Officer may cause to be served upon the person liable for the payment of the same a notice of demand in the form set forth in Schedule I.

(2) For every notice of demand which the Executive Officer causes to be served on any person under this section, a fee of such amount, not exceeding one rupee, as shall in each case be fixed by the Executive Officer, shall be payable by the said person and shall be included in the costs of recovery.

92. (1) If the person liable to the payment of any tax does not, within thirty days from the service of the notice of demand, pay the amount due, or show sufficient cause for non-payment of the same to the satisfaction of the Executive Officer, such sum, with all costs of recovery, may be recovered under a warrant, issued in the form set forth in Schedule II, by distress and sale of the moveable property of the defaulter:

Provided that the Executive Officer shall not recover any sum the liability for which has been remitted on appeal under this Chapter.

(2) Every warrant issued under this section shall be signed by the Executive Officer.

93. (1) It shall be lawful for any servant of the [Board] to whom a warrant issued under section 92 is addressed to distress, wherever it may be found 1[in the Cantonment] any moveable property of 1[or standing timber, growing crops or grass belonging to] the person therein named as defaulter, subject to the following conditions, exceptions and exemptions, namely:—

(a) the following property shall not be distrained:—

(i) the necessary wearing apparel and bedding of the defaulter, his wife and children,

(ii) tools of artisans,

(iii) books of account, or

(iv) when the defaulter is an agriculturist, his implements of husbandry, seed-grain and such cattle as may be necessary to enable the defaulter to earn his livelihood,

(b) the distress shall not be excessive, that is to say, the property distrained shall be as nearly as possible equal in value to the amount recoverable under the warrant, and if any property has been distrained which, in the opinion of the Executive Officer, should not have been distrained, it shall forthwith be returned.

(2) The person charged with the execution of a warrant of distress shall forthwith make an inventory of the property which he seizes under such warrant, and shall, at the same time, give a written notice in the form set forth in Schedule III to the person in possession thereof at the time of seizure that the said property will be sold as therein mentioned

94. (1) When the property seized is subject to speedy and natural decay, or when the expense of keeping it in custody is, when added to the amount to be recovered, likely to exceed its value, the Executive Officer shall give notice to the person in whose possession the property was at the time of seizure that it will be sold at once, and shall sell it accordingly by public auction unless the amount mentioned in the warrant is forthwith paid.

(2) If the warrant is not in the meantime suspended by the Executive Officer, or discharged, the property seized shall, after the expiry of the period named in the notice served under sub-section (2) of section 93, be sold by public auction by order of the Executive Officer.

(3) The surplus of the sale-proceeds, if any, shall forthwith be credited to the cantonment fund, and notice of such credit shall be given at the same time to the person from whose possession the property was taken, and, if the same is claimed by written application to the [Board] within one year from the date of the notice, a refund thereof shall be made to such person. Any surplus not claimed within one year as aforesaid shall be the property of [Board]

(4) For every distraint made under this Chapter a fee of such amount, not exceeding one rupee, as shall in each case be fixed by the Executive Officer shall be charged, and the said fee shall be included in the costs of recovery.

95 (1) If the Executive Officer has reason to believe that any person from whom any sum is due 2[or is about to become due] on account of any tax is about to remove from the cantonment, he may direct the immediate payment by such person of the sum so due or about to become due, and cause a bill for the same to be served on such person.

(2) If, on the service of such bill, such person does not forthwith pay the sum so due or about to become due, the amount shall be leviable by distress and sale in the manner hereinbefore provided in this Chapter, except that it shall not be necessary to serve upon the defaulter any notice of demand and the warrant for distress and sale may be issued and executed without any delay.

96 Instead of proceeding against a defaulter by distress and sale as hereinbefore provided in this Chapter, or after a defaulter has been so proceeded against unsuccessfully or with only partial success, any sum due or the balance of any sum due, as the case may be, from such defaulter on account of a tax may be recovered from him by a suit in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

PROSECUTION BY EXECUTIVE OFFICER—LEGALITY OF.—In order that a person can be legally convicted under S. 236 it is necessary that the prosecution should be instituted strictly in accordance with the provisions laid down in sub-S. (2), S. 236. An Executive Officer of a Cantonment launched a prosecution under S. 236 against the accused and the accused was convicted under that section. The Executive Officer was not the person importuned, nor did the prosecution allege that the offence was committed in his presence or that he had been authorized in this behalf by the Officer Commanding the station. Held, that the prosecution being illegally instituted, the conviction of the accused must be set aside. 1933 Lah. 590=147 I.C. 1200=35 P.L.R. 284.

Air Force Police, being employed in the cantonment and authorised in this behalf by the 1[Officer Commanding the station], in whose presence the offence was committed, or of a police officer not below the rank of a sub-inspector 2[or a sergeant] who is employed in the cantonment and authorised in this behalf by the 1[Officer Commanding the station] 2[with the concurrence of the District Magistrate].

237. If the 3[Officer Commanding the station] is, after such inquiry as he thinks necessary, satisfied that any person residing in or frequenting the cantonment is a prostitute or has been convicted of an offence under section 236, or of the abetment of such an offence, he may cause to be served on such person an order in writing requiring such person to remove from the cantonment within such time as may be specified in the order, and prohibiting such person from re-entering it without the permission in writing of the 1[Officer Commanding the station].

Removal and exclusion from cantonments of disorderly persons. 238. (1) A Magistrate of the first class, having jurisdiction in a cantonment, on receiving information that any person residing in or frequenting the cantonment—

(a) is a disorderly person who has been convicted more than once of gaming or who keeps or frequents a common gaming house, a disorderly drinking shop or a disorderly house of any other description, or

(b) has been convicted more than once, either within the cantonment or elsewhere, of an offence punishable under Chapter XVII of the Indian Penal Code, or

(c) has been convicted, either within the cantonment or elsewhere, of any offence punishable under section 156 of the Army Act, or

(d) has been ordered under Chapter VIII of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, either within the cantonment or elsewhere, to execute a bond for his good behaviour, may record in writing the substance of the information received, and may issue a summons to such person requiring such person to appear and show cause why he should not be required to remove from the cantonment and be prohibited from re-entering it.

(2) Every summons issued under sub-section (1) shall be accompanied by a copy of the record aforesaid, and the copy shall be served along with the summons on the person against whom the summons is issued.

(3) The Magistrate shall, when the person so summoned appears before him, proceed to inquire into the truth of the information received and take such further evidence as he thinks fit, and if, upon such inquiry, it appears to him that such person is a person of any kind described in sub-section (1) and that it is necessary for the maintenance of good order in the cantonment that such person should be required to remove therefrom and be prohibited from re-entering the cantonment, the Magistrate shall report the matter to the 1[Officer Commanding the station], and if the 1[Officer Commanding the station] so directs, shall cause to be served on such person an order in writing requiring him to remove from the cantonment within such time as may be specified in the order and prohibiting him from re-entering it without the permission in writing of the 1[Officer Commanding the station].

239. (1) If any person in a cantonment causes or attempts to cause or does any act which he knows is likely to cause disloyalty, disaffection or breaches of discipline amongst any portion of His Majesty's forces or is a person who, the 1[Officer Commanding the station] has reason to believe, is likely to do any such act, the 1[Officer Commanding the station] may make an order in writing setting forth the reasons for the making of the same and requiring such person to remove from the cantonment within such time as may be specified in the order and prohibiting him from re-entering it without the permission in writing of the 1[Officer Commanding the station]:

Removal and exclusion from cantonment of seditious persons.

Provided that no order shall be made under this section against any person unless he has had a reasonable opportunity of being informed of the grounds on which it is proposed to make the order and of showing cause why the order should not be made.

(2) Every order made under sub-section (1) shall be sent to the Superintendent of Police of the district, who shall cause a copy thereof to be served on the person concerned.

(3) Upon the making of any order under sub-section (1), the 1[Officer Commanding the station] shall forthwith send a copy of the same to the 2[Central Government].

(4) The 2[Central Government] may, of its own motion, and shall, on application made to it in this behalf within one month of the date of the order by the person against whom the order has been made, call upon the District Magistrate to make, after such inquiry as the 2[Central Government] may prescribe, a report regarding the justice of the order and the necessity therefor. At every such inquiry the person against whom the order has been made shall be given an opportunity of being heard in his own defence.

(5) The 2[Central Government] may at any time after the receipt of a copy of an order sent under sub-section (3) or, where a report has been called for under sub-section (4), on receipt of that report, if it is of opinion that the order should be varied or rescinded, 2[make such orders thereon as it thinks fit.]

(6) Any person who has been excluded from a cantonment by an order made under this section may, at any time after the expiry of one month from the date thereof, apply to the officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command, for the rescission of the same and, on such application being made, the said Officer may, after making such inquiry, if any, as he thinks necessary, either reject the application or rescind the order.

Penalty.

240. Whoever—

(a) fails to comply with an order issued under this Chapter within the period specified therein, or, whilst an order prohibiting him from re-entering a cantonment without permission is in force, re-enters the cantonment without such permission, or

(b) knowing that any person has, under this Chapter, been required to remove from the cantonment and has not obtained the requisite permission to re-enter it, harbours or conceals such person in the cantonment, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to two hundred rupees, and, in the case of a continuing offence with an additional fine which may extend to twenty rupees for every day after the first during which he has persisted in the offence

CHAPTER XV.

POWERS, PROCEDURE, PENALTIES AND APPEALS.

Entry and Inspection.

241. It shall be lawful for the President or the Vice-President of a Board or the Executive Officer, or the Health Officer or Assistant Health Officer, or any person specially authorised by the Health Officer or the Assistant Health Officer or for any other person authorised by general or special order of a [Board] in this behalf, to enter into or upon any building or land with or without assistants or workmen in order to make any inquiry, inspection, measurement, valuation or survey, or to execute any work, which is authorised by or under this Act or which it is necessary to make or execute for any of the purposes or in pursuance of any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule, bye-law or order made thereunder:

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to confer upon any person any power such as is referred to in section 207 or section 215 or to authorise the conferment upon any person of any such power.

242. With the previous sanction of the President, any member of a Board may inspect any work or institution constructed or maintained, in whole or part, at the expense of the Board, and any register, book, accounts or other document belonging to, or in the possession of, the Board.

243. (1) A [Board] may, by general or special order, authorise any person—

(a) to inspect any drain, privy, latrine, urinal, cesspool, pipe, sewer or channel in or on any building or land in the cantonment, and, in his discretion, to cause the ground to be opened for the purpose of preventing or removing any nuisance arising from the drain, privy, latrine, urinal, cesspool, pipe, sewer or channel, as the case may be:

(b) to examine works under construction in the cantonment, to take levels or to remove, test, examine, replace or read any meter.

(2) If, on such inspection, the opening of the ground is found to be necessary for the prevention or removal of a nuisance, the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner or occupier of the land or building, but if it is found that no nuisance exists or but for such opening would have arisen, the ground or portion of any building, drain or other work opened, injured or removed for the purpose of such inspection shall be filled in, reinstated, or made good, as the case may be, by the [Board].

244. (1) The Executive Officer of a Cantonment may, with or without assistants or workmen, enter on any land within fifty yards of any work authorised by or under this Act for the purpose of depositing thereon any soil, gravel, stone or other materials, or of obtaining access to such work, or for any other purpose connected with the carrying on of the same.

(2) The Executive Officer shall, before entering on any land under subsection (1), give the occupier, or, if there is no occupier, the owner not less than three days' previous notice in writing of his intention to make such entry, and shall state the purpose thereof, and shall, if so required by the occupier or owner, fence off so much of the land as may be required for such purpose.

(3) The Executive Officer shall, in exercising any power conferred by this section, do as little damage as may be, and compensation shall be payable by the [Board] to the owner or occupier of such land, or to both, for any such damage whether permanent or temporary.

245. It shall be lawful for any person, authorised by or under this Act to make any entry into any place, to open or cause to be opened any door, gate or other barrier—

Breaking into premises.

(a) if he consider the opening thereof necessary for the purpose of such entry; and

(b) if the owner or occupier is absent, or being present refuses to open such door, gate or barrier.

Entry to be made in the day time.

246. Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, no entry authorised by or under this Act shall be made except between the hours of sunrise

247. Save as otherwise expressly provided in this Act, no building or land shall be entered without the consent of the occupier, or if there is no occupier, of the owner thereof, and no such entry shall be made without giving the said occupier or owner, as the case may be, not less than four hours' written notice of the intention to make such entry:

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary if the place to be inspected is a stable for horses or a shed for cattle, or a latrine, privy or urinal, or a work under construction.

248. When any place used as a human dwelling is entered under this Act, due regard shall be paid to the social and religious customs and usages of the occupants of the place entered, and no apartment in the actual occupancy of a female shall be entered or broken open until she has been informed that she is at liberty to withdraw and every reasonable facility has been afforded to her for withdrawing.

249. Whoever obstructs or molests any person employed by a [Board] who is not a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code or any person with whom the [Board] has lawfully contracted, in the execution of his duty or of anything which he is empowered or required to do by virtue or in consequence of any of the provisions of this Act or of any rule, bye-law or order made thereunder, or in fulfilment of his contract, as the case may be, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

Powers and Duties of Police Officers

250. Any member of the police force employed in a cantonment may, without a warrant, arrest any person committing in his view a breach of any of the provisions of this Act which are specified in Schedule IV:

Provided that—

(a) in the case of the breach of any such provision as is specified in Part B of Schedule IV, no person shall be so arrested who consents to give his name and address, unless there is reasonable ground for doubting the accuracy of the name or address so given, the burden of proof of which shall lie on the arresting officer, and no person so arrested shall be detained after his name and address have been ascertained; and

Notes.

Sec. 247: ENTRY WITH HOUSE-OWNER'S IMPLIED CONSENT.—NOTICE, IF REQUIRED.—The entry which is contemplated in S. 247 of the Cantonments Act which requires 4 hours' written notice is an entry without the consent of the occupier or the owner. Where the entry is with the implied consent of such occupier or owner, no question of written notice arises. 153 I.C. 469=36 Cr L.J. 356=1935 A.W.R. 71=1935 A.L.J. 175=1935 All. 160.

Sec. 249: OBSTRUCTION—REFUSAL TO PAY

RENT.—Where a tenant, who is liable to pay rent to a contractor of the Cantonment Committee who has been duly authorized to collect rent from him, refuses to pay rent either to him or to his servant, the mere refusal to pay rent does not amount to an obstruction within the purview of S. 249. Therefore a complaint founded on S. 249 is, to say the least of it, clearly misconceived and an action for malicious prosecution lies against the complainant. 188 I.C. 282=1932 All. 386.

(b) no person shall be so arrested for an offence under section 236 except—

(i) at the request of the person importuned or of a military officer in whose presence the offence was committed; or

(ii) by or at the request of a member of the Military or Air Force Police, who is employed in the cantonment and authorised in this behalf by the 1[Officer Commanding the station], and in whose presence the offence was committed or by or at the request of any police officer not below the rank of a sub-Inspector who is employed in the cantonment and authorised in this behalf by the 1[Officer Commanding the station].

251. It shall be the duty of all police officers to give immediate information to the [Board] of the commission of any offence against the provisions of this Act or of any rule or bye-law made thereunder, and to assist all cantonment officers and servants in the exercise of their lawful authority.

Notices.

252. Where any notice, order or requisition made under this Act or any rule or bye-law made thereunder requires anything to be done for the doing of which no time is fixed in this Act or in the rule or bye-law, the notice, order or requisition shall specify a reasonable time for doing the same.

253. Every notice, order or requisition issued by a [Board] under this Act or any rule or bye-law made thereunder shall be signed—

(a) 2[* * ] either by the President of the Board or by the Executive Officer, or 2[ * *].

(b) by the members of any committee especially authorised by the [Board] in this behalf.

254. (1) Every notice, order or requisition issued under this Act or any rule or bye-law made thereunder shall, save as otherwise expressly provided, be served or presented—

Service of notice, etc.

(a) by giving or tendering the notice, order or requisition, or sending it by post, to the person for whom it is intended; or

(b) if such person cannot be found, by affixing the notice, order or requisition on some conspicuous part of his last known place of abode or business, if within the cantonment, or by giving or tendering the notice, order or requisition to some adult male member or servant of his family, or by causing it to be affixed on some conspicuous part of the building or land, if any, to which it relates.

(2) When any such notice, order or requisition is required or permitted to be served upon an owner, lessee or occupier of any building or land, it shall not be necessary to name the owner, lessee or occupier therein, and the service thereof shall, save as otherwise expressly provided, be effected either—

(a) by giving or tendering the notice, order or requisition, or sending it by post, to the owner, lessee or occupier, or, if there are more owners, lessees or occupiers than one, on any one of them; or

(b) if no such owner, lessee or occupier can be found, by giving or tendering the notice, order or requisition to the authorised agent, if any, of any such owner, lessee or occupier, or to an adult male member or servant of the family of any such owner, lessee or occupier, or by causing it to be affixed on some conspicuous part of the building or land to which it relates.

(3) When the person on whom a notice, order or requisition is to be served is a minor, service upon his guardian or upon an adult male member or servant of his family shall be deemed to be service upon the minor.

255. Every notice which, by or under this Act, is to be given or served as a public notice or as a notice which is not required to be given to any individual therein specified shall, save as otherwise expressly provided, be deemed to have been sufficiently given or served if a copy thereof is affixed in such conspicuous part of the office of the [Board] or in such other public place, during such period or is published in such local newspaper or in such other manner, as the [Board] may direct.

256. In the event of non-compliance with the terms of any notice, order or requisition issued to any person under this Act, or any rule or bye-law made thereunder, requiring such person to execute any work or to do any act, it shall be lawful for the [Board] whether or not the person in default is liable to punishment for such default or has been prosecuted or sentenced to any punishment therefor, after giving notice in writing to such person, to take such action or such steps as may be necessary for the completion of the act or work required to be done or executed by him, and all the expenses incurred on such account shall be recoverable by the [Board].

Recovery of Money.

257. (1) If any such notice as is referred to in section 256 has been given to any person in respect of property of which he is the owner, the [Board] may require any occupier of such property or of any part thereof to pay to it, instead of to the owner, any rent payable by him in respect of such property, as it falls due, up to the amount recoverable from the owner under section 256:

Provided that, if the occupier, on application made to him by the [Board] refuses truly to disclose the amount of his rent or the name or address of the person to whom it is payable, the [Board] may recover from the occupier the whole amount recoverable under section 256.

(2) Any amount recovered from an occupier instead of from an owner under sub-section (1) shall, in the absence of any contract between the owner and the occupier to the contrary, be deemed to have been paid to the owner.

258. (1) Where any person, by reason of his receiving the rent of immoveable property as an agent or trustee, or of his being as an agent or trustee the person who would receive the rent if the property were let to a tenant, would under this Act be bound to discharge any obligation imposed on the owner of the property for the discharge of which money is required, he shall not be bound to discharge the obligation unless he has, or but for his own improper act or default might have had, funds in his hands belonging to the owner sufficient for the purpose.

(2) The burden of proving any fact entitling an agent or trustee to relief under sub-section (1) shall lie upon him.

(3) Where any agent or trustee has claimed and established his right to relief under this section, the [Board] may, by notice in writing, require him to apply to the discharge of such obligation as aforesaid the first monies which may come to his hands on behalf, or for the use, of the owner, and, on failure to comply with the notice, he shall be deemed to be personally liable to discharge the obligation.

Provided that the tools of artisans shall be exempt from such distress or sale.

Committees of Arbitration.

260. In the event of any disagreement as to the liability of a [Board] to pay any compensation under this Act, or as to the amount of any compensation so payable, the person claiming such compensation may apply to the [Board] for the reference of the matter to a Committee of Arbitration, and the [Board] shall forthwith proceed to convene a Committee of Arbitration to determine the matter in dispute.

261. When a Committee of Arbitration is to be convened, the [Board] shall cause a public notice to be published stating the matter to be determined, and shall forthwith send copies of the order to the District Magistrate, and to the other party concerned, and shall, as soon as may be, nominate such members of the Committee as it is entitled to nominate under section 262, and, by notice in writing, call upon the other persons who are entitled to nominate a member or members of the Committee to nominate such member or members in accordance with the provisions of that section.

Constitution of Committee of Arbitration. 262. (1) Every Committee of Arbitration shall consist of five members, namely:—

(a) a Chairman who shall be a person not in the service of the 1[Crown] or the [Board] and who shall be nominated by the 2[Officer Commanding the station];

(b) two persons nominated by the [Board], and

(c) two persons nominated by the other party concerned 3[* * * *].

(2) If the [Board] or the other party concerned or the 2[Officer Commanding the station] fails within seven days of the date of issue of the notice referred to in section 261 to make any nomination which it or he is entitled to make or, if any member who has been so nominated neglects or refuses to act and the [Board] or other person by whom such member was nominated fails to nominate another member in his place within seven days from the date on which it or he may be called upon to do so by the District Magistrate, the District Magistrate shall forthwith appoint a member or members, as the case may be, to fill the vacancy or vacancies.

No person to be nominated who has direct interest or whose services are not immediately available.

Sec 266: INTERPRETATION.—Section 266 only lays down that no Court shall proceed to the trial of any offence under the Act unless moved by the persons mentioned therein and if the persons mentioned therein initiate the proceedings as provided in the section, the Court must follow the procedure laid down in Cr P. Code. 109 I.C. 607=29 Cr.L.J. 591 (Nag.). A complaint was lodged by the Cantonment Board through a Sub-Overseer, signed by the Executive Officer of the Board. The Executive Officer never appeared before the Magistrate. Sub-Overseer did not hold any power of attorney on behalf of the Board. No power of authority was filed to show that the Executive Officer had any authority to lodge such a complaint. On conviction the accused filed a revision. The Executive Officer filed an affidavit that he had an authority to file the complaint. Held, that failure to file the authority was an omission curable under S. 537. Sec. 268 —The Executive Officer of the Cantonment is not a member of the "Cantonment Authority" as defined in S. 2 (7) of the Act and a notice issued by him for the removal of an encroachment is invalid. Consequently a person cannot be convicted for disobeying a notice issued by the Executive Officer for removal of encroachment on Government land. Subsequent confirmation of the action of the Executive Officer by the Cantonment Board is of no avail as the notice disobeyed is the notice from the Executive Officer. 1933 C. C. 816 (1)=1933 Lah. 545 (1). The Cantonment Authority gave a qualified sanction to A to proceed with the construction of his building at his own risk in that the site on which the construction was being built was claimed by the Government, but there was no "Municipal objection". As soon as A proceeded to build, the Cantonment Authority served him with a notice "to demolish the unauthorized construction." A having failed to comply with this notice, he was prosecuted under S. 187 read with S. 268. Held, that there was no unauthorized construction because A had sanction from the Board to build the room, that it was preposterous to suggest that when A had had the sanction of the Board in writing under S. 181, he did not have the permission in writing of the Cantonment Authority, and that the question between the parties was a purely civil one and as a matter of fact A had not exceeded the authority given him by the Board in sanctioning his application for building. 146 I.C. 2=34 Cr.L.J. 1191 =1933 All. 486. Sec 273—Section 273 (1) of the Act does not contemplate the class of suits of private contracts for which specific rules of evidence are prescribed by the Limitation Act. It contemplates actions brought against the Board in respect of acts done in pursuance of any rule or bye-law that has the force of law. Hence a suit against the Board for the price of goods supplied is not governed by S. 273 but by Art. 52, Limitation Act. 149 I.C. 49=1934 A.L.J. 805-1934 All. 436.

(4) Nothing in sub-section (1) shall be deemed to apply to a suit in which the only relief claimed is an injunction of which the object would be defeated by the giving of the notice or the postponement of the institution of the suit or proceeding.

Appeals and Revision.

274. (1) Any person aggrieved by any order described in the Second column of Schedule V may appeal to the authority specified in that behalf in the third column thereof.

(2) No such appeal shall be admitted if it is made after the expiry of the period specified in that behalf in the fourth column of the said Schedule.

(3) The period specified as aforesaid shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, with respect to the computation of periods of limitation thereunder.

275. (1) Every appeal under section 274 shall be made by petition in writing accompanied by a copy of the order appealed against.

(2) Any such petition may be presented to the authority which made the order against which the appeal is made, and that authority shall be bound to forward it to the appellate authority, and may attach thereto any report which it may desire to make by way of explanation.

276. On the admission of an appeal from an order, other than an order contained in a notice issued under clause (a) of section 137, section 140, section 17b, or section 238, all proceedings to enforce the order and all prosecutions for any contravention thereof shall be held in abeyance pending the decision of the appeal, and, if the order is set aside on appeal, disobedience thereto shall not be deemed to be an offence.

2[(1)] Where an appeal from an order made by the [Board] has been disposed of by the District Magistrate 3[either party to the proceeding] may, within thirty days from the date thereof, apply, through the 4[Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command], to the 4*[Central Government] or to such authority as the [Central Government] may appoint in this behalf, for a revision of the decision.

5[(2)] The provisions of this Chapter with respect to appeals shall apply, as far as may be, to applications for revision made under this section.

Finality of appellate orders. 278. Save as otherwise provided in section 277, every order of an appellate authority shall be final.

279. No appeal shall be decided under this Chapter unless the appellant has been heard, or has had a reasonable opportunity of being heard in person or through a legal practitioner.

When persons encroach on cantonment land, mere condonation by the Cantonment Board cannot confer on those persons title to the land encroached upon. A letter by the Government of India to the Cantonment Board reciting that the encroachments have been condoned by lapse of time does not confer any title to the land on the person encroaching; the letter is not law but only an executive instruction to the Board; nor does a resolution by the Cantonment Board passed in pursuance of such a letter reciting that the encroachment is "old and condonable", confer any legal title on the person encroaching. Title to land cannot be conferred by condonation. 1936 A.M.L.J. 44.

282. Subject to the provisions of this Act and of the rules made thereunder, a [Board] may, in addition to any bye-laws which it is empowered to make by any other provision of this Act, make bye-laws to provide for all or any of the following matters in the cantonment, namely:—

- (1) the registration of births, deaths and marriages, and the taking of a census;
- (2) the enforcement of compulsory vaccination,

- (4) the regulation or prohibition of any description of traffic in the streets,
- (5) the manner in which vehicles standing, driven, led or propelled in the streets between sunset and sunrise shall be lighted;
- (6) the seizure and confiscation of ownerless animals straying within the limits of the cantonment;
- (7) the prevention and extinction of fire;
- (8) the construction of scaffolding for building operations to secure the safety of the general public and of persons working thereon;
- (9) the regulation in any manner not specifically provided for in this Act of the construction, alteration, maintenance, preservation, cleaning and repairs of drains, ventilation-shafts, pipes, water-closets, privies, latrines, urinals, cesspools and other drainage works,

THE CANTONMENTS (HOUSE ACCOMMODATION) ACT (VI OF 1923).

PREFATORY NOTE.—Necessity for a special law relating to house accommodation in cantonments.—In introducing the first Bill of 1898 in the council, the law member said —“For many years past we have had under consideration

Necessity for the Act the question of house-accommodation in cantonments. In the early days of the British dominion in India, the camps, stations and posts of the field army developed into cantonments where troops were stationed in garrison. These cantonments were localities set apart for the troops, and were intended for their use only, but, as time went on, non-military persons were permitted to reside in cantonments under the regulations of the day; land was occupied, and houses were built for the accommodation of officers and for other purposes, under the rules and conditions prevailing at that time.

In later years, owing to various circumstances, great difficulties have been experienced in working the regulations applicable to cantonments, and the difficulties of finding suitable accommodation for officers—especially for those obliged to live in a particular part of cantonments—have much increased.

The whole question has been exhaustively considered by officers specially appointed by committees and by other authorities; it has been discussed in every possible aspect and the investigation has spread over a great many years. The present Bill is the outcome of that discussion, the objections raised have been carefully considered, and we have recognised that conditions of ownership and tenancy must be governed by the regulations in force when any particular house was built. But as cantonments are and were intended for occupation of troops, and as the whole of the land belongs, as a general rule, to the State, and houses were built in many cases by persons who had no status in cantonments, not for their own use, but as a source of profit, we consider that it is not inequitable to lay upon house-holders the burden of proving that they hold their grants under special conditions, and ought not to be subjected to the provisions which convenience and military requirements dictate in a locality which has been set apart for military purposes. The necessity for securing house-accommodation for the military and civil officers of the Government is essential, but we have endeavoured to safeguard the interests of the house-owners, and to remove any reasons for complaint on the part of the latter.

It will be observed that in the Bill the cantonment Rules have been indefinitely referred to, inasmuch as, though prepared and published for criticism sometime ago, they have not yet come into force. It is intended, however, to bring them into operation before the Bill becomes law. These results will provide fully for the matters dealt with in the Bill so far as grants made under them will be concerned. Consequently, I may point out that the operation of the Bill will be practically restricted to past grants only.” (See also Statement of Objects and Reasons and also proceedings in Council, Fort St George Gazette, Suppl. 22nd Nov, 1898).

As stated in the preamble to this Bill, various conditions, rules, and regulations and orders in regard to the grant of land and the occupation of land and houses in cantonments have been from time to time made with the object of making accommodation available for officers whose duties require their residence within cantonment limits. These provisions have been collected and published for general information but, notwithstanding their issue in the past, great difficulties have been, and are still being, experienced in the matter.

The necessity for removing these difficulties and of making suitable provision for the housing of officers has long been recognised by the Government and a special chapter was in 1888 with that object included in the Bill “to amend the law relating to cantonments” The chapter was, however, subjected to criticisms at that time, and as the matter seemed to call for further consideration, while it was thought undesirable to delay the whole measure on that account, it was decided to exclude the provisions in question and to proceed with the rest of the Bill, which was eventually passed into law as the Cantonments Act 1889, (XIII of 1889). The difficulties referred to have, as was expected, steadily increased and the Government of India consider it inexpedient any longer to defer remedial legislation on the subject.

The Bill which it is proposed now to introduce has been framed, after careful consideration of the objections previously raised, and, while aiming at securing house accommodation for the military and civil officers of the Government whose presence in cantonments is obviously necessary, it endeavours also to safeguard as far as possible the interests of the house owners concerned.

This Bill was passed as the Cantonments House Accommodation Act of 1899, which is the first enactment in British India specifically dealing with the accommodation of Houses.

within cantonment limits. There were certain defects in this Act, and consequently a necessity was felt for amendment and codification. Hence, this Act again came for the consideration of the Government of India in 1901.

The Hon'ble Sir Edmund Ellis in introducing the Cantonments Bill (1901) into the Council made the following statements as to the necessity for amendment and the enactment of a new measure.

Cantonments Bill of 1901
—Necessity for amendment.

"My lord, I propose to make a statement regarding the course which we intend to pursue in dealing with the Cantonments (House Accommodation) Bill. "This Bill, the object of which is to grapple with the great and ever increasing difficulty experienced by officers in securing suitable accommodation in houses built within the limits of cantonment was, after the most prolonged consideration dating back to the year 1887 if not earlier, introduced in the Legislative Council by my predecessor Sir Edwin Collier on the 4th November, 1898. The Statement of Objects and Reasons and the Bill were duly published in the Gazette of India and circulated for criticism, and the result was the receipt, during the year 1899, of a large number of representations official and non-official, regarding the measure. To all of these the most anxious consideration has been given by the Governor General in Council.

"As was only to be expected, the bill has not been favourably received by the majority of the house-owners in cantonments, the objections put forward being most pronounced in the case of the very cantonments in which the want of accommodation for officers has been most acutely felt. On the other hand the measure has met with approval in many quarters, and in some cases even the house-owners themselves have admitted the necessity for such a Bill and the equity of its provisions.

"Now, I desire to make it very plain at the outset that the Government of India are unable to admit that cantonment areas can be regarded in the same light as the other parts of the country. On the contrary, the circumstances in them are altogether special and totally different from the circumstances anywhere else and I have no hesitation in asserting that this fact is well known and thoroughly felt and appreciated by every resident of any of the permanent military stations, which here in India we call cantonments. The term has for over a century been applied in this country to well defined areas, always primarily and in some instances almost exclusively set apart for the occupation of troops and their followers. The necessity for maintaining special laws in such places surely goes without saying and this has indeed been recognised in actual practice and throughout all our legislation affecting cantonments. When therefore I find the common law of England cited and vague denunciations directed against the measure on the ground that it encroaches upon private rights which ought to be held sacred and inviolable, my answer is that the subject is approached from the wrong standpoint and that I fail to perceive the force of arguments which beg the question and have in fact no application to the case.

"And this brings me at once to the most important part of the bill and of the opposition which it has excited, I allude to clause (3) sub-clause (5) in which it is laid down that all land in a cantonment to which the provisions of the proposed Act are, after due enquiry, applied shall be presumed to be held under a grant from His Majesty, unless and until the person in possession proves to the satisfaction of the Local Government, that he held the land by a lawful title acquired prior to the formation of the cantonment. This provision, of course, shifts the burden of proof from the Government on to the shoulders of the cantonment house owner and it has, perhaps not unnaturally, been objected to as involving a serious interference with the rights of property. It has been urged that the presumption laid down by it is directly opposed to the ordinary legal principle which recognises possession as good prima facie evidence of title and that it is unfair to remove the onus probandi from the Government on whom it ought to be to the house owner. From what I have already said it will be anticipated that I cannot admit that this objection should be allowed to prevail. Cantonments are military stations in which military considerations always have been and always must be regarded as paramount and can never have been intentionally put on one side. The position of the Government with regard to them has been clear, for throughout all the various orders which have been issued, the principle has constantly been affirmed that land in cantonments is held subject to the requirements of the military authorities. Proceeding on the presumption which I have alluded to above and which I maintain is a fair presumption of which on persons permitted to build house in cantonments has been consistently aimed at ever since cantonments were formed in India and has, as I shall endeavour to show, been insisted upon by a series of executive orders issued in Army Regulations for the guidance of cantonment authorities. As the orders in the three presidencies were distinct, it will be necessary to notice each separately. "In Bengal the first order was issued in April 1801, and by it, the Governor-General in Council directed that if individuals not officers shall purchase they must remove the materials as the ground within the cantonment is to be kept appropriated exclusively to the use of troops, this order was republished on the 28th September 1807. Again in 1836 regulations were laid down for the occupation of land and the disposal of buildings in cantonments. Four conditions were attached—First, that the Government should retain the power of resumption on one month's notice; second, that the ground being in every case the property of the Government could not be sold by the grantee; third, that the buildings erected on the land should not be sold to any civilian without the consent of the officer commanding stations, and fourth, that the transfer of any house of over 5,000 Rupees in value to a native of India should be subject to the sanction of the Government. The attention of all officers commanding stations was drawn to these orders by the Commander-in-Chief on the 20th April, 1853 and the General Regulations of the Bengal Army of 1885 practically reproduced them. In 1858 they were incorporated in Code of Regulations for the Public Works Department and they were again and again reproduced in the Regulations issued in 1873, 1880 and 1897. In the Punjab it may be added the Bengal Regulations were followed. In Bombay a general order of January 1807 pointed out that any permission which officers might receive to erect houses on ground within Military cantonments conferred on them no rights of property in the land as that continued to be the property of the State. Another general order, dated the 30th October, 1832 asserted that no private landed property was to be included within the limits of a cantonment in which the whole of the ground belongs to Government. It at the same time provided for the removal from cantonments of any person not being an officer or a soldier, and in such cases permitted the taking away of the materials of any building belonging to any such person. In 1835 another Government order laid down rules for the occupation of land in cantonment and pointed out that "permission" to occupy ground within the limits of a cantonment conferred no proprietary rights on the occupant. This was affirmed by an order which was issued in May, 1838 and included a clause for resumption on one month's notice. In 1851 these orders were affirmed and in 1862 a Government Resolution was issued restating the principles already laid down. The regulation for the Bombay Presidency of 1875 and the Army Regulations (India), of 1887 followed on the same lines.

In Madras the earliest order on the subject appears to have been issued on the 8th May, 1812, and in it the Governor in Council laid down that no officer or person should be permitted to erect any building on ground, belonging to the company within the walls of a Fort or within the limits of any cantonment, but on condition of immediate surrender to the Government, and that no grant in perpetuity of any piece of ground within the precincts of a Fort or cantonment should be accorded to any individual. Leases renewable at the pleasure of the Government were to be given. These orders were republished as a Code of Regulations under the authority of the Governor in Council on the 1st October, 1813. Revised Codes embodying the same conditions were republished on the 12th September, 1820 and again on the 19th December, 1826. Similar orders were issued on the 4th December, 1829, and on the 17th April, 1849, revised rules framed on the same principles were published. These appear again in the Madras Army Regulations of 1869 and 1876 and in the Army Regulations (India) of 1887. From the above it is evident that the Government have consistently and continuously affirmed their rights as regards building sites in cantonments. Moreover in regard to the right of Government to regulate the purchase and letting of houses for the accommodation of Military officers, I would point out that the right was recognised by the Cantonments Acts of 1864 and 1880. By section 19 of Act XXII of 1864 it was provided that rules might be made—first, for regulating any cases in which the land within the limits of a cantonment was the property of the Government but the occupation and use of which by private persons was permissive and for imposing terms on which such occupation and use should be allowed and conditions under which the Government might resume possession on giving compensations, secondly, for maintaining proper Registers of immovable property within cantonment limits and for providing for the registration of transfer of such property, and thirdly, for regulating the manner in which houses within the limits of cantonments should be claimable for purchase or hire for the accommodation, when necessary of Military officers. These three headings were reproduced in Section 27 of Act III of 1880 and it appears to me that if house owners urge that they purchased property in ignorance of the conditions imposed by the Government they have only themselves to blame, for not having made ordinary inquiries as to the circumstances in which land in cantonments has in fact always been and must of necessity always be held. I now come to deal with the present position which appears to be this. In some cases the Government would undoubtedly be able to prove that conditions such as those which I just described were expressly imposed and as expressly accepted. In most cases it could prove that the existence of the orders on the subject above referred to was so much a matter of common knowledge that the imposition and the acceptance of the conditions laid down in them must be implied. But in others it might be able to prove nothing except that the particular cantonment concerned had existed as such for so many years and that some sort of control over the building of houses in it had always been exercised. It may be that the orders laid down by the higher military authorities and the Government have not always been observed and that express and unconditional grants of building sites or express agreements permitting the building of houses and imposing no conditions whatsoever have been made. In such cases there is recourse to clause 4 of the Bill, which I shall be prepared to amend in order to make the point perfectly clear that there is no intention to interfere except in a certain number of exceptional cases, and it is to meet these that this measure is proposed. Neither the Government nor the house owner, if put to proof, could show either how the land was originally included in the cantonment or under what circumstances the building on it came to be erected. I maintain that in such cases it is but right to give to the Government the benefit of whatever doubt and uncertainty there may be and to presume in the absence of title-deeds on either side that the land is the Government land and must be treated upon as paramount. The very existence of houses in most cantonments depends primarily on the presence of His Majesty's troops; the value of house property would as a rule be much diminished if the troops were withdrawn; and under these circumstances, it is surely not too much to assume that houses in cantonments were in fact built for the accommodation of Military men, and that appropriation for their use in suitable repair and at reasonable rents is perfectly reasonable, just and proper.

By the earlier part of clause (3) of the Bill the application of the measure is to be left to the Local Governments and is to depend on the result of a careful inquiry regarding the precise circumstances of each cantonment. If the occupant of any building site can show to the satisfaction of the Local Government—judicial proof, he it noticed is not required—that he holds the land by a lawful title acquired prior to the formation of the cantonment then the land will be excluded from the operation of the proposed Act. And subject to the burden of proof referred to above instead of there being anything to prevent a resort to the Civil Courts by any one aggrieved in the matter, the obnoxious clause under consideration expressly directs that, if pending the inquiry or at any time thereafter any land is proved by the decree of a court of competent jurisdiction to be held, under such a lawful title, it shall be excluded from the area of the notification bringing the measure into operation. (See Fort St. Geo. Gaz., Part III, 5th Nov., 1901, pp 28—29)

The present Act is Act of 1923. The Bill which subsequently became Act of 1923 was introduced in the Legislative Council in 1922. The following extracts from the Statement of Objects and Reasons attached to the Bill may most usefully be noticed.

The following is the Statement of Objects and Reasons to the Cantonments House Accommodation Act, 1922.

"A Committee which was appointed in the winter 1920-1921 to enquire into and make recommendations in regard to the administration of cantonments recommended inter alia that the Cantonments House Accommodation Act should be revised, so as to remove certain defects which have been brought to light and to carry out more fully the intention of the Act, namely the better provision of house accommodation for military officers in cantonments. These recommendations have now been examined by the Government of India whose conclusions are embodied in the draft Bill.

A number of the amendments are designed merely to bring the Act up to date by specifying, in place of the authorities by whom the Act is at present administered, other authorities recently constituted, e.g., District Commanders in lieu of Divisional Commanders.

The principal changes of substance which the Bill seeks to introduce are—firstly, to substitute for the procedure under which houses are liable to be appropriated for use, on a monthly tenancy, by military officers, holding direct from the house owner, a procedure, under which Government will take such houses as may be required on a repairing lease for a term of at least 5 years and will allot the houses so leased to officers requiring accommodation. Under this procedure officers will become the tenants of Government, who alone will deal with the house owners. Where a military officer prefers to take a house by private agreement with a house owner and not from Government, it is considered that there is no justification for interference between the two parties in cases of dispute, which will in future be settled, as they would outside a cantonment, either by agreement between the parties or by recourse to the law Courts. Thirdly, the Bill alters the constitution of committees of Arbitration and provides for an appeal to the Court against the decisions of such committees.

(1) Where the Officer Commanding the station considers that the liability imposed by section 5 should be enforced in respect of any house, he shall serve a notice on the owner of the house requiring him to permit the house to be inspected, measured and surveyed by such person and on such day, not being less than three days from the service of the notice, and at such time as may be specified in the notice.

(2) On the day and at the time so specified, the owner shall be bound to afford all reasonable facilities to the person specified in the notice for the purpose of the inspection, measurement and survey of the house, and, if he refuses or neglects to do so, the said person may, subject to rules made under this Act, enter on the premises and do all such things as may be reasonably necessary for the said purpose.

Notes.

Secs 6 and 11—The Cantonments Act does not contain any prohibition against a transfer by an owner of his right to continue in occupation of the house. All that the Act says is that no notice shall be issued under S. 6 if the house is occupied by the owner. The owner, therefore, may agree that if the house is required by the military authorities, he would deliver possession thereof to them. The Cantonment Magistrate is not prohibited from entering into any such agreement with an intending purchaser or even an owner in possession. Such an agreement would not defeat the provisions of the Cantonments Act. 25 Bom. L.R. 938=85 I.C. 442=1924 Bom. 238.

tion that the owner will carry out the required repairs, if any. It shall also contain an estimate of the cost of such repairs.

(3) The following shall be deemed to be conditions of every lease executed under sub-section (1), namely:—

(a) that the house shall, on the expiration of the lease, be redelivered to the owner in a state of reasonable repair, and

(b) that the grounds and the garden, if any, appertaining to the house shall be maintained in the condition in which they are at the time at which the lease is executed; ¹ Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall be deemed to affect the right of the Government to avoid the lease in any such event as is specified in clause (e) of section 108 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882].

9. No house in any cantonment or part of a cantonment in which this Act is operative shall, unless it was so occupied at the date of the issue of the notification declaring this Act, or the 3Cantonments (House Accommodation) Act, 1902, as the case may be, to be operative, be occupied for the purposes of a hospital, school, school hostel, bank, hotel, or shop, or by a railway administration, a company or firm engaged in trade or business or a club, without the previous sanction of the Officer Commanding the District given with the concurrence of the Commissioner or, in a province where there are no Commissioners, of the Collector.

10. No notice shall be issued under section 7 if the house—

(a) was, at the date of the issue of the notification declaring this Act or the 3Cantonments (House Accommodation) Act, 1902, as the case may be, to be operative in the cantonment or part of the cantonment, or is, with such sanction as is required by section 9, occupied as a hospital, school, school hostel, bank, hotel or shop, and has been so occupied continuously during the three years immediately preceding the time when the occasion for issuing the notice arises, or

(b) was, at the date of such notification as is referred to in clause (a) or is, with such sanction as aforesaid, occupied by a railway administration or by a company or firm engaged in trade or business or by a club, or

(c) is occupied by the owner, or

(d) has been appropriated by the 3^a [Provincial Government] with the concurrence of the Officer Commanding the District, or by the 3^a [Central Government] for use as a public office or for any other purpose.

(i) that the house in respect of which it is proposed to issue the notice is suitable for occupation by a military officer or a military mess, and been omitted by Act IX of 1930.

⁴ This word was substituted for the word "Committee" by S. 5 of the Cantonments (House-Accommodation Amendment) Act 1925 (X of 1925).

AND WHEREAS it is expedient that British India should accede to the Convention and should make provision for giving effect to the said Convention in British India:

AND WHEREAS it is also expedient to make provision for applying the rules contained in the Convention (subject to exceptions, adaptations and modifications) to carriage by air in British India which is not international carriage within the meaning of the Convention;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement. 1. (1) This Act may be called THE CARRIAGE BY AIR ACT, 1934.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the Sonthal Parganas.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the 1[Central Government] may, by notification in the 1[Official Gazette] appoint.

2. (1) The rules contained in the First Schedule, being the provisions of the convention relating to the rights and liabilities of carriage, passengers, consignors, consignees and other persons shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, have the force of law in British India in relation to any carriage by air to which those rules apply, irrespective of the nationality of the aircraft performing the carriage.

(2) The 1[Central Government] may, by notification in the 1[Official Gazette] certify who are the High Contracting Parties to the Convention, in respect of what territories they are parties, and to what extent they have availed themselves of the Additional Protocol to the Convention, and any such notification shall be conclusive evidence of the matters certified therein.

(3) Any reference in the First Schedule to the territory of any High Contracting Party to the Convention shall be construed as a reference to all the territories in respect of which he is a party.

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in the Indian Fatal Accidents Act, 1855, or any other enactment or rule of law in force in any part of British India, the rules contained in the First Schedule shall, in all cases to which those rules apply, determine the liability of a carrier in respect of the death of a passenger, and the rules contained in the Second Schedule shall determine the persons by whom and for whose benefit and the manner in which such liability may be enforced.

(5) Any sum in francs mentioned in rule 22 of the First Schedule shall, for the purpose of any action against a carrier, be converted into rupees at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date on which the amount of damages to be paid by the carrier is ascertained by the Court.

3. (2) The High Court may make rules of procedure providing for all matters which may be expedient to enable such suits to be instituted and carried on.

(3) Nothing in this section shall authorise any Court to attach or sell any property of a High Contracting Party to the Convention.

4. The 1[Central Government] may, by notification in the 1[Official Gazette] apply the rules contained in the first Schedule and any provision of section 2 to such carriage by air, not being international carriage by air as defined in the First Schedule, as may be specified in the notification, subject however to such exceptions, adaptations and modifications, if any, as may be so specified.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

SCOPE—DEFINITIONS

1. (1) These rules apply to all international carriage of persons, luggage or goods performed by aircraft for reward. They apply also to such carriage when performed gratuitously by an air transport undertaking.

(2) In these rules "High Contracting Party" means a High Contracting Party to the Convention.

(3) For the purposes of these rules the expression "international carriage" means any carriage in which, according to the contract made by the parties, the place of departure and the place of destination, whether or not there be a break in the carriage or transshipment, are situated either within the territories of two High Contracting Parties, or within the territory of a single High Contracting Party, if there is an agreed stopping place within a territory subject to the sovereignty, suzerainty, mandate or authority of another Power, even though that Power is not a party to the Convention. A carriage without such an agreed stopping place between territories subject to the sovereignty, suzerainty, mandate or authority of the same High Contracting Party is not deemed to be international for the purposes of these rules.

(4) A carriage to be performed by several successive air carriers is deemed, for the purposes of these rules, to be one undivided carriage, if it has been regarded by the parties as a single operation, whether it has been agreed upon under the form of a single contract or of a series of contracts, and it does not lose its international character merely because one contract or a series of contracts is to be performed entirely within a territory subject to the sovereignty, suzerainty, mandate or authority of the same High Contracting Party.

2. (1) These rules apply to carriage performed by the State or by legally constituted public bodies provided it falls within the conditions laid down in R. 1.

(2) These rules do not apply to carriage performed under the terms of any international postal Convention.

CHAPTER II

DOCUMENTS OF CARRIAGE.

Part I.—Passenger ticket.

3 (1) For the carriage of passengers the carrier must deliver a passenger ticket which shall contain the following particulars —

(a) the place and date of issue.

(b) the place of departure, and of destination,

(c) the agreed stopping places, provided that the carrier may reserve the right to alter the stopping places in case of necessity, and that if he exercises that right the alteration shall not have the effect of depriving the carriage of its international character,

(d) the name and address of the carrier or carriers;

(e) a statement that the carriage is subject to the rules relating to liability contained in this Schedule.

(2) The absence, irregularity or loss of the passenger ticket does not affect the existence or the validity of the contract of carriage, which shall none the less be subject to these rules. Nevertheless, if the carrier accepts a passenger without a passenger ticket having been delivered he shall not be entitled to avail himself of those provisions of the Schedule which exclude or limit his liability.

Part II.—Luggage ticket

4. (1) For the carriage of luggage, other than small personal objects of which the passenger takes charge himself, the carrier must deliver a luggage ticket.

(2) The luggage ticket shall be made out in duplicate one part for the passenger and the other part for the carrier.

(3) The luggage ticket shall contain the following particulars —

- (h) a statement that the carriage is subject to the rules relating to liability contained in this Schedule.

(4) The absence, irregularity or loss of the luggage ticket does not affect the existence or the validity of the contract of carriage, which shall none the less be subject to these rules. Nevertheless, if the carrier accepts luggage without a luggage ticket having been delivered, or if the luggage ticket does not contain the particulars set out at (d), (f) and (h) of sub-rule (3), the carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of those provisions of this Schedule which exclude or limit his liability.

Part III.—Air consignment note.

5 (1) Every carrier of goods has the right to require the consignor to make out and hand over to him a document called an "air consignment note", and every consignor has the right to require the carrier to accept this document.

(2) The absence, irregularity or loss of this document does not affect the existence or the validity of the contract of carriage which shall, subject to the provisions of R. 9, be none the less governed by these rules.

6 (1) The air consignment note shall be made out by the consignor in three original parts and be handed over with the goods.

(2) The first part shall be marked "for the carrier", and shall be signed by the consignor. The second part shall be marked "for the consignee"; it shall be signed by the consignor and by the carrier and shall accompany the goods. The third part shall be signed by the carrier and handed by him to the consignor after the goods have been accepted.

(3) The carrier shall sign an acceptance of the goods.

(4) The signature of the carrier may be stamped; that of the consignor may be printed or stamped.

(5) If, at the request of the consignor, the carrier makes out the air consignment note, he shall be deemed, subject to proof to the contrary, to have done so on behalf of the consignor.

7. The carrier of goods has the right to require the consignor to make out separate consignment notes when there is more than one package.

8. The air consignment note shall contain the following particulars:—

- (a) the place and date of its execution;
- (b) the place of departure and of destination,
- (c) the agreed stopping places, provided that the carrier may reserve the right to alter the stopping places in case of necessity, and that if he exercises that right the alteration shall not have the effect of depriving the carriage of its international character,
- (d) the name and address of the consignor,
- (e) the name and address of the first carrier,
- (f) the name and address of the consignee, if the case so requires,
- (g) the nature of the goods,
- (h) the number of the packages, the method of packing and the particular marks or numbers upon them,
- (i) the weight, the quantity and the volume or dimensions of the goods,
- (j) the apparent condition of the goods and of the packing,
- (k) the freight, if it has been agreed upon, the date and place of payment, and the person who is to pay it,
- (l) if the goods are sent for payment on delivery, the price of the goods, and if the case so requires, the amount of the expenses incurred,
- (m) the amount of the value declared in accordance with R. 22 (2),
- (n) the number of parts of the air consignment note;
- (o) the documents handed to the carrier to accompany the air consignment note;
- (p) the time fixed for the completion of the carriage and a brief note of the route to be followed, if these matters have been agreed upon;
- (q) a statement that the carriage is subject to the rules relating to liability contained in this Schedule.

9. If the carrier accepts goods without an air consignment note having been made out, or if the air consignment note does not contain all the particulars set out in R. 8 (a) to (i) inclusive and (q), the carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of the provisions of this Schedule which exclude or limit his liability.

10. (1) The consignor is responsible for the correctness of the particulars and statements relating to the goods which he inserts in the air consignment note.

(2) The consignor will be liable for all damages suffered by the carrier or any other person by reason of the irregularity, incorrectness or incompleteness of the said particulars and statements.

11 (1) The air consignment note is prima facie evidence of the conclusion of contract, of the receipt of the goods and of the conditions of carriages.

(2) Statements in the air consignment note relating to the weight, dimensions and packing of the goods, as well as those relating to the number of packages, are prima facie evidence of the facts stated; those relating to the quantity, volume and condition of the goods do not constitute evidence against the carrier except so far as they both have been, and are stated in the air consignment note to have been, checked by him in the presence of the consignor or relate to the apparent condition of the goods.

12. (1) Subject to his liability to carry out all his obligations under the contract of carriage, the consignor has the right to dispose of the goods by withdrawing them at the aerodrome of departure or destination, or by stopping them in the course of the journey on any landing, or by calling for them to be delivered at the place of destination or in the course of the journey to a person other than the consignee named in the air consignment note, or by requiring them to be returned to the aerodrome of departure. He must not exercise this right of disposition in such a way as to prejudice the carrier or other consignors and he must repay any expenses occasioned by the exercise of this right.

(2) If it is impossible to carry out the orders of the consignor the carrier must so inform him forthwith.

(3) If the carrier obeys the orders of the consignor for the disposition of the goods without requiring the production of the part of the air consignment note delivered to the latter, he will be liable, without prejudice to his right of recovery from the consignor, for any damage which may be caused thereby to any person who is lawfully in possession of that part of the air consignment note.

(4) The right conferred on the consignor ceases at the moment when that of the consignee begins in accordance with R. 13. Nevertheless, if the consignee declines to accept the consignment note or the goods, or if he cannot be communicated with, the consignor resumes his right of disposition.

13. (1) Except in the circumstances set out in R. 12, the consignee is entitled, on arrival of the goods at the place of destination, to require the carrier to hand over to him the air consignment note and to deliver the goods to him, on payment of the charges due and on complying with the conditions of carriage set out in the air consignment note.

(2) Unless it is otherwise agreed, it is the duty of the carrier to give notice to the consignee as soon as the goods arrive.

(3) If the carrier admits the loss of the goods, or if the goods have not arrived at the expiration of seven days after the date on which they ought to have arrived, the consignee is entitled to put into force against the carrier the rights which flow from the contract of carriage.

14. The consignor and the consignee can respectively enforce all the rights given them by Rr. 12 and 13, each in his own name, whether he is acting in his own interest or in the interest of another, provided that he carries out the obligations imposed by the contract.

15. (1) Rules 12, 13 and 14 do not affect either the relations of the consignor or the consignee with each other or the mutual relations of third parties whose rights are derived either from the consignor or from the consignee.

(2) The provisions of Rr. 12, 13 and 14 can only be varied by express provision in the air consignment note.

16. (1) The consignor must furnish such information and attach to the air consignment note such documents as are necessary to meet the formalities of customs, octroi or police before the goods can be delivered to the consignee. The consignor is liable to the carrier for any damage occasioned by the absence, insufficiency or irregularity of any such information or documents, unless the damage is due to the fault of the carrier or his agents.

(2) The carrier is under no obligation to enquire into the correctness or sufficiency of such information or documents.

LIABILITY OF THE CARRIER.

17. The carrier is liable for damage sustained in the event of the death or wounding of a passenger or any other bodily injury suffered by a passenger, if the accident which caused the damage so sustained took place on board the aircraft or in the course of any of the operations of embarking or disembarking.

18. (1) The carrier is liable for damage sustained in the event of the destruction or loss of, or of damage to, any registered luggage or any goods, if the occurrence which caused the damage so sustained took place during the carriage by air.

(2) The carriage by air within the meaning of the preceding paragraph comprises the period during which the luggage or goods are in charge of the carrier, whether in an aerodrome or on board an aircraft, or, in the case of a landing outside an aerodrome, in any place whatsoever.

(3) The period of the carriage by air does not extend to any carriage by land, by sea or by river performed outside an aerodrome. If, however, such a carriage takes place in the performance of a contract for carriage by air, for the purpose of loading, delivery or transhipment, any damage is presumed, subject to proof to the contrary, to have been the result of an event which took place during the carriage by air.

19. The carrier is liable for damage occasioned by delay in the carriage by air of passengers, luggage or goods.

20. (1) The carrier is not liable if he proves that he and his agents have taken all necessary measures to avoid the damage or that it was impossible for him or them to take such measures.

(2) In the carriage of goods and luggage the carrier is not liable if he proves that the damage was occasioned by negligent pilotage or negligence in the handling of the aircraft or in navigation and that, in all other respects, he and his agents have taken all necessary measures to avoid the damage.

21. If the carrier proves that the damage was caused by or contributed to by the negligence of the injured person the Court may exonerate the carrier wholly or partly from his liability.

22. (1) In the carriage of passengers the liability of the carrier for each passenger is limited to the sum of 1,25,000 francs. Where damages may be awarded in the form of periodical payments, the equivalent capital value of the said payments shall not exceed 1,25,000 francs. Nevertheless, by special contract, the carrier and the passenger may agree to a higher limit of liability.

(2) In the carriage of registered luggage and of goods, the liability of the carrier is limited to a sum of 250 francs per kilogram, unless the consignor has made, at the time when the package was handed over to the carrier, a special declaration of the value at delivery and has paid a supplementary sum if the case so requires. In that case the carrier will be liable to pay a sum not exceeding the declared sum, unless he proves that that sum is greater than the actual value of the consignor at delivery.

(3) As regards objects of which the passenger takes charge himself the liability of the carrier is limited to 5,000 francs per passenger.

(4) The sums mentioned in this rule shall be deemed to refer to the French franc consisting of 65 $\frac{1}{2}$ milligrams gold of millesimal fineness 900.

23. Any provision tending to relieve the carrier of liability or to fix a lower limit than that which is laid down in these rules shall be null and void, but the nullity of any such provision does not involve the nullity of the whole contract, which shall remain subject to the provisions of this Schedule.

24. (1) In the cases covered by Rr. 18 and 19 any action for damages, however founded, can only be brought subject to the conditions and limits set out in this Schedule.

(2) In the cases covered by R. 17 the provisions of sub-R. (1) also apply, without prejudice to the questions as to who are the persons who have the right to bring suit and what are their respective rights.

25. (1) The carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of the provisions of this Schedule which exclude or limit his liability if the damage is caused by his wilful misconduct or by such default on his part as is in the opinion of the Court equivalent to wilful misconduct.

(2) Similarly the carrier shall not be entitled to avail himself of the said provisions, if the damage is caused as aforesaid by any agent of the carrier acting within the scope of his employment.

26. (1) Receipt by the person entitled to delivery of luggage or goods without complaint is prima facie evidence that the same have been delivered in good condition and in accordance with the document of carriage.

(2) In the case of damage, the person entitled to delivery must complain to the carrier forthwith after the discovery of the damage, and, at the latest, within three days from the date of receipt in the case of luggage and seven days from the date of receipt in the case of goods. In the case of delay the complaint must be made at the latest within fourteen days from the date on which the luggage or goods have been placed at his disposal.

(3) Every complaint must be made in writing upon the document of carriage or by separate notice in writing despatched within the times aforesaid.

(4) Failing complaint within the times aforesaid, no action shall lie against the carrier, save in the case of fraud on his part.

27. In the case of the death of the person liable, an action for damages lies in accordance with these rules against those legally representing his estate.

28. An action for damages must be brought at the option of the plaintiff, either before the Court having jurisdiction where the carrier is ordinarily resident, or has his principal place of business, or has an establishment by which the contract has been made or before the Court having jurisdiction at the place of destination.

29. The right of damages shall be extinguished if an action is not brought within two years, reckoned from the date of arrival at the destination, or from the date on which the aircraft ought to have arrived, or from the date on which the carriage stopped.

30. (1) In the case of carriage to be performed by various successive carriers and falling within the definition set out in sub-R. (4) of R. 1, each carrier who accepts passengers, luggage or goods is subjected to the rules set out in this Schedule, and is deemed to be one of the contracting parties to the contract of carriage in so far as the contract deals with that part of the carriage which is performed under his supervision.

(2) In the case of carriage of this nature, the passenger or his representative can take action only against the carrier who performed the carriage during which the accident or the delay occurred, save in the case where, by express agreement, the first carrier has assumed liability for the whole journey.

(3) As regards luggage or goods, the passenger or consignor will have a right of action against the first carrier, and the passenger or consignee who is entitled to delivery will have a right of action against the last carrier, and further, each may take action against the carrier who performed the carriage during which the destruction, loss, damage or delay took place. These carriers will be jointly and severally liable to the passenger or to the consignor or consignee.

CHAPTER IV.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO COMBINED CARRIAGE.

31. (1) In the case of combined carriage performed partly by air and partly by any other mode of carriage, the provisions of this Schedule apply only to the carriage by air, provided that the carriage by air falls within the terms of R. 1.

(2) Nothing in this Schedule shall prevent the parties in the case of combined carriage from inserting in the document of air carriage conditions relating to other modes of carriage, provided that the provisions of this Schedule are observed as regards the carriage by air.

CHAPTER V.

GENERAL AND FINAL PROVISIONS.

32. Any clause contained in the contract and all special agreements entered into before the damage occurred by which the parties purport to infringe the rules laid down by this Schedule, whether by deciding the law to be applied, or by altering the rules as to jurisdiction shall be null and void. Nevertheless for the carriage of goods arbitration clauses are allowed, subject to these rules, if the arbitration is to take place in the territory of one of the High Contracting Parties within one of the jurisdictions referred to in R. 28.

33. Nothing contained in this Schedule shall prevent the carrier from refusing to enter into any contract of carriage, or from making regulations which do not conflict with the provisions of this Schedule.

34. This Schedule does not apply to international carriage by air performed by way of experimental trial by air navigation undertakings with the view to the establishment of a regular line of air navigation, nor does it apply to carriage performed in extraordinary circumstances outside the normal scope of an air carrier's business.

35. The expression "days" when used in these rules means current days, not working days.

36. When a High Contracting Party has declared at the time of ratification of or of accession to the Convention that the first paragraph of Art 2 of the Convention shall not apply to international carriage by air performed directly by the State, its colonies, protectorates or mandated territories or by any other territory under its sovereignty, suzerainty or authority, these rules shall not apply to international carriage by air so performed.

SECOND SCHEDULE

PROVISIONS AS TO LIABILITY OF CARRIERS IN THE EVENT OF THE DEATH OF A PASSENGER

1. The liability shall be enforceable for the benefit of such of the members of the passenger's family as sustained damage by reason of his death.

In this rule the expression "member of a family" means wife or husband, parent, step-parent, grand-parent, brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, child, step-child, grand-child:

Provided that, in deducing any such relationship as aforesaid any illegitimate person and any adopted person shall be treated as being, or as having been, the legitimate child of his mother and reputed father or, as the case may be, of his adopters.

2. An action to enforce the liability may be brought by the personal representative of the passenger or by any person for whose benefit the liability is under the last preceding rule enforceable, but only one action shall be brought in British India in respect of the death of any one passenger, and every such action by whomsoever brought shall be for the benefit of all such persons so entitled as aforesaid as either are domiciled in British India, or, not being domiciled there express a desire to take the benefit of the action.

3. Subject to the provisions of the next succeeding rule the amount recovered in any such action, after deducting any costs not recovered from the defendant, shall be divided between the persons entitled in such proportions as the Court may direct.

4. The Court before which any such action is brought may at any stage of the proceedings make any such order as appears to the Court to be just and equitable in view of the provisions of the First Schedule to this Act limiting the liability of a carrier and of any proceedings which have been, or are likely to be, commenced outside British India in respect of the death of the passenger in question.

² Substituted by Order in Council, 1937.

(c) The apparent state and condition of the goods:

4 Such a bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence of the receipt by the carrier of the goods as therein described in accordance with paragraph 3 (a), (b) and (c).

5. The shipper shall be deemed to have guaranteed to the carrier the accuracy at the time of shipment of the marks, number, quantity and weight, as furnished by him, and the shipper shall indemnify the carrier against all loss, damages and expenses arising or resulting from inaccuracies in such particulars. The right of the carrier to such indemnity shall in no way limit his responsibility and liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper.

Unless notice of loss or damage and the general nature of such loss or damage be given in writing to the carrier or his agent at the port of discharge before or at the time of the removal of the goods into the custody of the person entitled to delivery thereof under the contract of carriage, or, if the loss or damage be not apparent, within three days, such removal shall be prima facie evidence of the delivery by the carrier of the goods as described in the bill of lading.²

A benefit of insurance or similar clause shall be deemed to be a clause relieving the carrier from liability

ARTICLE IV.

RIGHTS AND IMMUNITIES.

Notes.

Sch. I, Art. III, Para 6: CONSTRUCTION—PERIOD OF ONE YEAR—IF CAN BE EXTENDED—The period of one year fixed in para. 6, Art. 3, Sch. I is to be construed strictly and is not to be allowed to be extended by vague and indefinite arguments and pleas. Where a ship leaves the port on a particular date, she must be deemed to have delivered the cargo to the consignees within the meaning of para. 6, Art. 3, and it is not open to the consignees to take advantage of a survey, which has been unduly delayed in order to extend the period of time 1937 Sind 11.

PORT TRUST—IF AGENTS OF SHIP OWNERS.—The Port Trust are not the agents of the ship-owners to hold identified and ascertained consignments indefinitely at the will of the consignees, so as to make the ship-owners liable for the loss caused to the consignments, although in particular cases it may well be that they are agents of the ship-owners for the limited purpose of identifying and delivering the consignments mixed together 1937 Sind 11.

'REMOVAL'—MEANING.—The word 'removal' in Para 6, Art 3, Sch. I, Carriage of Goods by Sea Act, means physical removal 1937 Sind 11

Whenever loss or damage had resulted from unseaworthiness, the burden of proving the exercise of due diligence shall be on the carrier or other person claiming exemption under this section

2. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible for loss or damage arising or resulting from—

- (a) act, neglect, or default of the master, mariner, pilot, or the servants of the carrier in the navigation or in the management of the ship;
- (b) fire, unless caused by the actual fault or privity of the carrier;
- (c) perils, dangers and accidents of the sea or other navigable waters,
- (d) act of God,
- (e) act of war,
- (f) act of public enemies,
- (g) arrest or restraint of princes, rulers or people, or seizure under legal process;
- (h) quarantine restriction,
- (i) act or omission of the shipper or owner of the goods, his agent, or representative,
- (j) strikes or lock-outs or stoppage, or restraint of labour from whatever cause, whether partial or general,
- (k) riots and civil commotions;
- (l) saving or attempting to save life or property at sea,
- (m) wastage in bulk or weight or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality, or vice of the goods,
- (n) insufficiency of packing,
- (o) insufficiency or inadequacy of marks;
- (p) latent defects not discoverable by due diligence,
- (q) any other cause arising without the actual fault or privity of the carrier, or without the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier, but the burden of proof shall be on the person claiming the benefit of this exception to show that neither the actual fault or privity of the carrier nor the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier contributed to the loss or damage.

3. The shipper shall not be responsible for loss or damage sustained by the carrier or the ship arising or resulting from any cause without the act, fault or neglect of the shipper, his agents or his servants

4. Any deviation in saving or attempting to save life or property at sea or any reasonable deviation shall not be deemed to be an infringement or breach of these rules or of the contract of carriage and the carrier shall not be liable for any loss or damage resulting therefrom

5. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall in any event be or become liable for any loss or damage to or in connexion with goods in an amount exceeding 100*l* per package or unit, or the equivalent of that sum in other currency unless the nature and value of such goods have been declared by the shipper before shipment and inserted in the bill of lading

This declaration if embodied in the bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence, but shall not be binding or conclusive on the carrier.

By agreement between the carrier, master or agent of the carrier and the shipper another maximum amount than that mentioned in this paragraph may be fixed, provided that such maximum shall not be less than the figure above named

Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible in any event for loss or damage to or in connexion with goods if the nature or value thereof has been knowingly mis-stated by the shipper in the bill of lading.

6. Goods of an inflammable, explosive or dangerous nature to the shipment whereof the carrier, master or agent of the carrier, has not consented, with knowledge of their nature and character may at any time before discharge be landed at any place or destroyed or rendered innocuous by the carrier without compensation, and the shipper of such goods shall be liable for all damages and expenses directly or indirectly arising out of or resulting from such shipment

If any such goods shipped with such knowledge and consent shall become a danger to the ship or cargo, they may in like manner be landed at any place or destroyed or rendered innocuous by the carrier without liability on the part of the carrier except to general average, if any

ARTICLE V

SURRENDER OF RIGHTS AND IMMUNITIES, AND INCREASE OF RESPONSIBILITIES AND LIABILITIES.

A carrier shall be at liberty to surrender in whole or in part all or any of his rights and immunities or to increase any of his responsibilities and liabilities under the rules contained in any of these Articles, provided such surrender or increase shall be embodied in the bill of lading issued to the shipper.

The provisions of these rules shall not be applicable to charterparties, but if bills of lading are issued in the case of a ship under a charterparty they shall comply with the terms of these rules. Nothing in these rules shall be held to prevent the insertion in a bill of lading of any lawful provision regarding general average

ARTICLE VI.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding Articles, a carrier, master or agent of the carrier, and a shipper shall in regard to any particular goods be at liberty to enter into any agreement in any terms as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier for such goods, and as to the rights and immunities of the carrier in respect of such goods, or his obligation as to seaworthiness, so far as this stipulation is not contrary to public policy, or the care or diligence of his servants or agents in regard to the loading, handling, stowage, carriage, custody, care, and discharge of the goods carried by sea, provided that in this case no bill of lading has been or shall be issued and that the terms agreed shall be embodied in a receipt which shall be a non-negotiable document and shall be marked as such.

Any agreement so entered into shall have full legal effect.

Provided that this Article shall not apply to ordinary commercial shipments made in the ordinary course of trade, but only to other shipments where the character or condition of the property to be carried or the circumstances, terms and conditions under which the carriage is to be performed, are such as reasonably to justify a special agreement.

ARTICLE VII.

LIMITATIONS ON THE APPLICATION OF THE RULES

Nothing herein contained shall prevent a carrier or a shipper from entering into any agreement, stipulation, condition, reservation or exemption as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier or the ship for the loss or damage to or in connexion with the custody and care and handling of goods prior to the loading on and subsequent to the discharge from the ship on which the goods are carried by sea.

ARTICLE VIII.

LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

The provisions of these Rules shall not affect the rights and obligations of the carrier under any statute for the time being in force relating to the limitation of the liability of owners of sea-going vessels.

ARTICLE IX.

The monetary units mentioned in these Rules are to be taken to be gold value.

Prefatory Note: DEFINITION AND KINDS OF CARRIERS—A carrier is one who undertakes the transportation of persons or moveable property, and the authorities, both elementary and judicial, recognize two kinds of classes of carriers, viz., 'private carriers' and 'common carriers'. While a common carrier has been defined as one who holds himself out to the public to carry persons or freight for hire, the term did not, at the common law, embrace a carrier of passengers, and is commonly confined to carriers of goods, as distinguished from common carriers of passengers. (See the definition in S. 2.) A private carrier is one who, without being engaged in such business as a public employment, undertakes to deliver goods in a particular case for hire or reward. A common carrier differs from a private carrier in two important respects: (1) In respect of duty, he being obliged by law to undertake the charge of transportation, which no other person, without a special agreement is. (2) In respect of risk, the former being regarded by the law as an insurer, the latter, being liable like ordinary bailees.

APPLICABILITY OF LAW OF BAILEES—(1) TO CARRIAGE OF GOODS.—The rules of liability applicable to private carriers of goods are those which are in general applicable to ordinary bailees, and the law as to common carriers of goods is a branch of the law covering the subject of bailments. That is, the carrier of goods is a bailee, and, aside from any considerations of public policy which affect the liability of a carrier conducting a public employment his duties and liabilities are in general those of an ordinary bailee; but these considerations of public policy have led to the recognition by the Courts, from an early period in the history of the common law, of rules respecting the duty of the common carrier as to serving the public, and as to liability for goods entrusted to his care which do not apply to private carriers of goods.

(2) TO CARRIAGE OF PASSENGERS.—A carrier of passengers is not, as to the person of the passenger, a bailee, and in this respect the law of carriers of passengers is not a part of the subject of bailments; but inasmuch as those who hold themselves out as prosecuting the business of carrying passengers for hire are regarded as undertaking a public duty, they are properly classed in this respect with public carriers of goods, and it is proper to treat them under the general heading of "Carriers". Moreover public carriers of passengers are deemed common carriers as to the baggage accepted by them for transportation as a part of the business of transporting passengers.

WHO ARE COMMON CARRIERS OF GOODS.—A common carrier has been defined as "one who undertakes for hire or reward, to transport the goods of such as choose to employ him from place to place".

RIGHTS AND LIABILITIES OF COMMON CARRIERS.—"A common carrier must carry all goods that are tendered to him for carrying without insisting upon an unreasonable condition, provided they are of the description which he professes to carry, [Garton v. Bristol and Exeter Railway, (1861) 1 B. and S. 162, Great Western Railway v. Sutton, 1868 L.R. 4 H.L. 226], he has accommodation for the goods [Jackson v. Rogers, (1863) 2 Show 327], and reasonable payment of their carriage is offered [Wyld v. Pickford, (1841) 8 Mec. and W. 443; 58 R. R. 775], and the sender is ready and willing to pay it (Bullen and Leake, 3rd Ed., p. 277); and also provided that the goods are brought neither too late for the journey by which they are to go [see Pickford v. Grand Junction Railway, (1844) 12 Mec. and W. 766]; nor too long a time before the journey is to begin [Lane v. Cotton, (1701) 1 Raym. (Ld.); at p. 652; see Great Western Railway v. Bunch, (1888) 13 App. Cas. 31]. But the carrier may apparently refuse to take goods which will subject him to exceptional danger [Edwards v. Sherratt, (1801) 1 East 604, per Hale, C. J.; Morse v. Slue; (1672) 1 Vent 238]. Unless otherwise agreed, he must deliver within a reasonable time, having regard to the circumstances of the case [Taylor v. Great Northern Railway, (1866) L.R. 1 C.P. 385; Hales v. London and North-Western Railway, (1863) 4 B. and S. 661] and by the route which he professes to be his route [Foster v. G. W. Ry., (1904) 2 K. B. 306, distinguishing Mallet v. G. E. Ry., (1899) 1 Q.B. 309, see Ency. of Laws of England, Vol. II, p. 580]. A carrier is liable for injury arising from negligence in the execution of his contract to carry, unless he has effectively stipulated that he shall be free from such liability. If the contract is one which deprives the passenger of the benefit of a duty or care which he is prima facie entitled to expect that the Railway Company has accepted, the latter must discharge the burden of proving that the passenger assented to the special terms imposed. This he may show to have been done either in person or through the agency of another. Such agency will be held to have been established when he is shown to have authorised antecedently or by way of ratification the making of the contract under circumstances in which he must be taken to have left everything to his agent. In such a case, it is sufficient to prove that he has been content to accept the risk of allowing terms to be made without taking the trouble to learn what was being agreed to. In such cases the Railway Company may infer his intention from his conduct. Where, therefore a passenger who is to be carried upon special conditions at a reduced fare has allowed terms to be made for him by an agent the presumption is that the passenger was content to accept the risk without enquiring what the terms agreed upon by his agent were. 19 C.W.N. 905 (P.C.); see also 54 Cal. 430.

Notes

Sec 1: ACT IS NOT EXHAUSTIVE THE LIABILITY OF THE COMMON CARRIERS IS GOVERNED BY THE ENGLISH COMMON LAW AS MODIFIED BY THE CARRIERS ACT.—A common carrier is subject to two distinct classes of liability, the one as insurer, in which the element of default is absent, the other for losses, as he is under an obligation to carry safely, in which that element is present. The Carriers Act modifies this by providing that the liability as insurer for goods not mentioned in the schedule may be limited by special contract where the loss is due to negligence. 38 C. 28, 15 C.W.N. 226.

ACT NOT AFFECTED BY CONTRACT ACT.—3 B. 109, 18 C. 620 (P.C.), 20 I.C. 546=38 M. 941=25 M.L.J. 162

WHO ARE COMMON CARRIERS.—Owners of sea-going merchant ships (26 C. 562); owners of steamships plying periodically (3 M. 107); carrier by water generally (38 M. 941) See also 28 M. 400

As to duties of common carriers under the Act, see 51 I.A. 28=51 C. 304 (P.C.)

LIABILITY OF COMMON CARRIER.—A common carrier does not cease to fill that character if he enters into a special contract limiting his liability both under the Carriers Act and under the Indian Railways Act. 31 I.C. 474=11 N.L.R. 174. Carrier is ordinarily the agent of the buyer not only to take delivery but also to assent to appropriation. 12 I.C. 662 A common carrier in India is liable as an insurer. He is responsible for safety of goods entrusted to him except when loss or injury arises from act of God or King's enemies. But this liability may be varied by contract 29 I.C. 260=21 C.L.J. 565 In India carriers by sea do not get the benefit of the Act. 40 B. 529=33 I.C. 536. Carriers by sea for hire are common carriers though the Carriers Act of 1865 does not apply to them. 38 M. 941 The duties and liabilities of a common carrier are governed in India by the principles of the English Common Law on the subject except where they have been departed from the Carriers Act, or by the Railways Act. (Ibid) Where the bill of lading contained the clause “At shipper's risk with option of carrying on deck,” and the goods (betel leaves) went bad for want of ventilation, held, that the carrier was not liable in damages, being exempted by the special clause. 30 I.C. 939 (1). Stipulations exempting the carrier from liability will be held to limit his liability as insurer and not his liability for negligence unless negligence is expressly included. 17 I.C. 37=6 S.L.R. 103 (32 M. 9, Foll.). The burden of proving absence of negligence is on the common carrier, loss or damage being deemed prima facie proof of negligence. 29 I.C. 260=21 C.L.J. 565 In a contract to carry a load from one place to another where no fixed route is settled upon, the more convenient route may be followed though it is a longer one and carriage cost should be calculated on the same. 11 I.C. 43 (Cal.). The definition of a “Common Carrier” in S. 2 is framed without reference to the extent of his liability 31 I.C. 474=11 N.L.R. 174. A carrier in its general sense means a person or company which undertakes to transport the goods of another person from one place to another for hire 34 M.L.J. 553 Where goods have to be carried with the aid of different agencies to arrive at the destination, the carrier with whom the contract is made at one end is, in the absence of a contract limiting his liability to his own transport system, liable for loss or destruction of the goods beyond his own system or in consequence of act done by or default of persons other than his own servant. (Ibid.) See also 54 Cal. 430=1927 Cal. 394.

THE CASTE DISABILITIES REMOVAL ACT (XXI OF 1850).

Effect of subsequent legislation Short title given by Act XIV of 1827.

Declared in force—throughout British India except as regards the Scheduled Districts, Act XV of 1874, S. 3, in the Sonthal Parganas, Reg. III of 1872, S. 3, as amended by Reg. III of 1899, S. 3

Prefatory Note.—"When Warren Hastings became the Governor of Bengal, one of his first acts was to lay down a plan for the administration of civil justice in the interior of Bengal. With respect to civil rights, Warren Hastings' plan of 1772 directed by his twenty-third rule, that "in all suits regarding marriage, inheritance and caste and other religious usage and institutions, the laws of the Koran with respect to Mahomedans, and those of Shaster with respect to Gentus (Hindus) shall be invariably adhered to". Moulvies or Brahmins were directed to attend the Courts for the purpose of expounding the law and giving assistance in framing the decrees. The principle laid down by the above rule of Warren Hastings was recognised and confirmed by the code of regulations issued by the Government of Bengal in 1780, as also by the British Parliament in 1881 by the provision contained in S. 18 of 21 Geo. III, c. 70. Enactments to the same effect have been introduced into numerous subsequent English and Indian enactments. A Bengal regulation of 1832 (VII of 1832), whilst re-enacting the rules of Warren Hastings which had been embodied in previous regulations qualified their application by a provision which attracted little attention at that time, but afterwards became the subject of considerable discussion. It declared that these rules are intended and shall be held to apply to such person as bona fide professes those religions at the time of the application of the law to the case, and were designed for the protection of the rights of such persons, not for the deprivation of the rights of others. Where, therefore, in any civil suit the parties to such suits may be of different persuasion, where one party shall be of the Hindu and the other of the Mahomedan persuasion, or where one or more of the parties to such suit shall not be either of the Mahomedan or Hindu persuasion the laws of those religions shall not be permitted to operate to deprive such party or parties of any property to which, but for the operation of such laws they would have been entitled. In all such cases the decision shall be governed by the principles of justice and equity, and this provision shall not be considered as justifying the introduction of the English or any foreign law or the application to such cases of any rules not sanctioned by those principles. In the year 1850 the Government of India passed the law (XXI of 1850) of which the object was to extend the principle of this regulation throughout the territories subject to the Government of the East India Company. This Act, which was at the time of its passing, known as the Lex Loci Act, excited considerable opposition among orthodox Hindus as unduly favouring converts and has been criticised from the Hindu point of view with respect to its operation on the guardianship of children in a case where one of two parents had been converted from Hinduism to Mahomedanism. It will have been observed that Warren Hastings' rule and the enactment based upon it apply to Hindus and Mahomedans. There are, of course, many natives of India who are neither Hindus nor Mahomedans, such as the Portuguese and Armenian Christians, the parsis, the Sikhs, the Jains, the Buddhists of Burma and elsewhere and the Jews. The tendency of the Courts or the legislature has been to apply to these classes the spirit of Warren Hastings' rule and to leave them in the enjoyment of family law, except so far as they have shown a disposition to place themselves under English Law" (See Ilbert's Government of India, 2nd Ed., 1907, pp. 323, 329). This Act was originally known as the Lex Loci Act, and is even now generally cited under the same designation. The title is, however, a misnomer. It was properly applied to the other provisions which were subsequently dropped. (See the evidence of Mr. Cameron before the Select Committee of the House of Lords in 1852; Ilbert's Government of India, 2nd Ed., 1907, p. 328 Note.)

Notes.

Secs. 10 and 11—Under S 10 the defendant has the option either to deposit money or to furnish security. The Court can order him to do one of these two things but cannot specify which he is to do. 69 I.C. 658 The security furnished under

S. 10 however relates to the expenditure actually incurred or likely to be incurred by the plaintiff which is quite a different matter from the costs of the suit. The Court cannot direct payment of this expenditure otherwise than in accordance with that section, and when security has been furnished the Court is incompetent to order execution against the surety. 13. (1) 2[* * *]

(2) The 1[appropriate Government] may make rules consistent with this Act for—

(a) prescribing the fees to be paid to the Government in respect of any property vested under this Act in a Treasurer of Charitable Endowments;

(b) regulating the cases and mode in which schemes or any modification thereof are to be published before they are settled or made under section 5;

(c) prescribing the forms in which accounts are to be kept by Treasurers of Charitable Endowments, and the mode in which such accounts are to be audited; and

(d) generally, carrying into effect the purposes of this Act.

14. No suit shall be instituted against the 1[Crown] in respect of anything done or purporting to be done under this Act, or in respect of any alleged neglect or omission to perform any duty devolving on the Government under this Act, or in respect of the exercise of, or the failure to exercise, any power conferred by this Act on the Government, nor shall any suit be instituted against a Treasurer of Charitable Endowments except for divesting him of property on the ground of its not being subject to a trust for a charitable purpose, or for making him chargeable with or accountable for the loss or misapplication of any property vested in him, or the income thereof, where the loss or misapplication has been occasioned by or through his wilful neglect or default.

15. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to impair the operation of section 111 of the 3 Statute 53, George III, Chapter 155, or of any other enactment for the time being in force, respecting the authority of an Advocate-General at a presidency to act with respect to any charity, or of sections 8, 9, 10 and 11 of Act 4 No. XVII of 1864 (an Act to constitute an Office of Official Trustee) respecting the vesting of property in trust for a charitable purpose in an Official Trustee.

THE CHARITABLE AND RELIGIOUS TRUSTS ACT (XIV OF 1920).

| 1920 | XIV | The Charitable and Religious Trusts Act, 1920. | Section 2 amended by Act XLI of 1923, Sec 2 |

An Act to provide more effectual control over the administration of Charitable and Religious Trusts.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide facilities for the obtaining of information regarding trusts created for public purposes of a charitable or religious nature, and to enable the trustees of such trusts to obtain the directions of a Court on certain matters, and to make special provision for the payment of the expenditure incurred in certain suits against the trustees of such trusts; it is hereby enacted as follows:—

1 (1) This Act may be called THE CHARITABLE AND RELIGIOUS TRUSTS ACT, 1920.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India:

Provided that the ¹[Government of any Province] may, by notification in the Gazette of India, direct that this Act, or any specified part thereof, shall not extend to ¹[that Province or any specified area therein] or to any specified trust or class of trusts.

2. In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, “the Court” means the Court of the District Judge ²[or any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government] and includes the High Court in the exercise of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction.

3. Save as hereinafter provided in this Act, any person having an interest in any express or constructive trust created or existing for a public purpose of a charitable or religious nature may apply by petition to the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any substantial part of the subject-matter of the trust is situate to obtain an order embodying all or any of the following directions, namely:—

² These words were added after the words “District Judge” by Act XLI of 1923, S. 2

Notes.

Secs. 1 and 3—The Act does not cease to apply to a case where the trustee has parted with the entire trust property. 78 I C 174 Persons who claim adversely to the trust and who are not liable under S. 3 are not proper parties to an application for directing the trustee to produce the accounts (Ibid) As to applicability of the Act to property on condition of holding so long as temple lasted—No direction as to appropriation of income—Public trust, if constituted See 5 O W N 50 The Madras Hindu Religious Endowments Act (II of 1927) has not taken away the jurisdiction of the District Judge under S. 5 of the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act. To a certain extent both the Acts cover the same ground. When the District Judge passes an order under S. 5 of Act XIV of 1920, because the Madras Hindu Religious Endowment Board showed no inclination to exercise its powers under the Madras Act, it is a good reason for exercising his discretion; and the order cannot be revised by the High Court under S. 115, C P. Code. 152 I C. 1052=1935 Mad 56 (1)=68 M L J 55.

Sec 2.—Under this Act the District Court is a Court subordinate to the High Court 27 A.L.J 911=1929 All. 581=121 I.C. 267.

Sec. 3—The Charitable and Religious Trusts Act of 1920 applies only to those cases where the entire benefit under the wakf or trust is allotted for public purposes. Also where a trust is of public nature any person having an interest in the said trust is entitled to make the application contem-

(2) directing that the accounts of the trust shall be examined and audited.

Provided that no person shall apply for any such direction in respect of accounts relating to a period more than three years prior to the date of the petition.

4. (1) The petition shall show in what way the petitioner claims to be interested in the trust, and shall specify, as far as may be, the particulars and the audit which he seeks to obtain.

(2) The petition shall be in writing and shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for signing and verifying plaints.

5. (1) If the Court on receipt of a petition under section 3, after taking such evidence and making such inquiry, if any, as it may consider necessary, is of opinion that the trust to which the petition relates is a trust to which this Act applies, and that the petitioner has an interest therein, it shall fix a date for the hearing of the petition, and shall cause a copy thereof, together with notice of the date so fixed, to be

SECS. 3 AND 5: SHORT OP.—The Act is intended to provide more effectual control over the administration of charitable and religious trust and provision is made therein for obtaining an order calling on the trustee to give particulars of the object of the trust and if the trust is denied to file a suit. No such provision is made in the Mussalman Wakf Act of 1923. 1927 Pat. 189. See also 1936 Lah. 695. Application under—No notice to all the trustees. Notice served on three trustees only. Locality of order. 1924 M.W.N. 515 82 I.C. 733 35 M.L.T. (H.C.) 51. An application under S. 3 of the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act does not cease to be maintainable simply because the opponents raise a question of title. Though under S. 5 (6) of the Act, the Court has no jurisdiction to decide any question of title between the petitioner and any one claiming title adversely to the trust, it does not mean that the moment a claim adverse to the trust is advanced, the jurisdiction of the Court is ousted. When such a claim is put forward, it in effect amounts to a denial of the existence of the trust. It is open to the claimant to take advantage of S. 5 (3) and to get the question determined in a regular suit. If he does not avail himself of this course, the Court must decide whether a trust exists. The opposing party has still his remedy by way of suit. 58 Bom. 623=152 I.C. 781=36 Bom.L.R. 687=1934 Bom. 343.

Sec. 5.—In proceedings for examination of accounts of trust property under the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act (1920), the District Judge did not refer to the oriserved on the trustee and upon any other person to whom in its opinion notice of the petition should be given.

(2) On the date fixed for the hearing of the petition, or on any subsequent date to which the hearing may be adjourned, the Court shall proceed to hear the petitioner and the trustee, if he appears, and any other person who has appeared in consequence of the notice, or who it considers ought to be heard, and shall make such further inquiries, if any, as it thinks fit. The trustee may, and, if so required by the Court, shall at the time of the first hearing or within such time as the Court may permit present a written statement of his case. If he does present a written statement, the statement shall be signed and verified in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, for signing and verifying pleadings.

(3) If any person appears at the hearing of the petition and either denies the existence of the trust or denies that it is a trust to which this Act applies, and undertakes to institute within three months a suit for a declaration to that effect and for any other appropriate relief, the Court shall order a stay of the proceedings and, if such suit is so instituted, shall continue the stay until the suit is finally decided.

(4) If no such undertaking is given, or if after the expiry of the three months no such suit has been instituted, the Court shall itself decide the question.

(5) On completion of the inquiry provided for in sub section (2), the Court shall either dismiss the petition or pass thereon such other order as it thinks fit:

Provided that, where a suit has been instituted in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (3), no order shall be passed by the Court which conflicts with the final decision therein.

(6) Save as provided in this section, the Court shall not try or determine any question of title between the petitioner and any person claiming title adversely to the trust.

ginal grant at all, but based his order on certain statements which were wholly irrelevant and inadmissible for the purpose of construing the terms of the original grant. Held, the order was illegal and was vitiated by material irregularity and could be set aside in revision. The fact that the petitioner had the remedy of suit open to him is no bar to the order being set aside in revision. 58 Bom 623=152 I.C. 781=36 Bom L.R. 687=1934 Bom 343. On this section, see also 152 I.C. 1052=1935 Mad. 56=68 M.L.J. 55, cited under S. 1. The District Judge has no jurisdiction under the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act to decide questions of title. The Act does not bar the questions of title being agitated and decided in a regular suit by a Court exercising ordinary original civil jurisdiction. The mere fact that the Act provides a summary remedy does not create a bar to the filing of a regular suit by the unsuccessful party. The party who seeks to oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Court must establish his contention. 152 I.C. 861=7 R.O. 250=11 O.W.N. 1435=1935 Oudh 96.

Secs. 5 and 6.—On an application under the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act praying that the respondents be directed to file accounts of their management of the property alleging that it is a religious endowment, the District Judge is no doubt authorised to decide the question whether the property is or is not devoted to public, religious or charitable purposes. But the proceedings of the District Judge are of a summary nature and do not fall within the definition of a suit and his decision cannot operate as res judicata. 36 P.L.R. 13=1934 Lah. 771. Per Niamatullah.—The order of the District Judge under S. 5 of Act XIV of 1920 is only an order passed in summary proceedings and it has not the force of a decree and has the effect merely of withdrawing certain restrictions imposed on the persons desirous of instituting suits under S. 92, Cr. P. Code. The decision under S. 5 on an application for examination of accounts of the alleged trust property does not bar a suit for declaration that the property does not belong to the trust but is in the absolute ownership of the alleged trustee. (Ibid.) The maintenance of a suit so as to nullify the effect of S. 6 of the Act is not permissible. 27 A.L.J. 653=118 I.C. 513=1929 A. 506.

Section 5 of the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act does not by itself contemplate the intervention of other persons for compelling the mutawalli to file his accounts except possibly as a mere reminder to the Judge that the accounts have not been filed with a view to induce the Judge to take proceedings under S. 10. 118 I.C. 717.

6. If a trustee without reasonable excuse fails to comply with an order made under sub-section (5) of section 5, such trustee shall, without prejudice to any other penalty or liability which he may incur under any law for the time being in force, be deemed to have committed a breach of trust affording ground for a suit under the provisions of section 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908; and any such suit may, so far as it is based on such failure, be instituted without the previous consent of the Advocate-General.

7. (1) Save as hereinafter provided in this Act, any trustee of an express or constructive trust created or existing for a public purpose of a charitable or religious nature may apply by petition to the Court, within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any substantial part of the subject-matter of the trust is situate, for the opinion, advice or direction of the Court on any question affecting the management or administration of the trust property, and the Court shall give its opinion, advice or direction, as the case may be, thereon:

Provided that the Court shall not be bound to give such opinion, advice or direction on any question which it considers to be a question not proper for summary disposal.

(2) The Court, on a petition under sub-section (1), may either give its opinion, advice or direction thereon forthwith, or fix a date for the hearing of the petition, and may direct a copy thereof, together with notice of the date so fixed, to be served on such of the persons interested in the trust, or to be published for information in such manner, as it thinks fit.

(3) On any date fixed under sub-section (2) or on any subsequent date to which the hearing may be adjourned, the Court, before giving any opinion, advice or direction shall afford a reasonable opportunity of being heard to all persons appearing in connection with the petition.

(4) A trustee stating in good faith the facts of any matter relating to the trust in a petition under sub-section (1), and acting upon the opinion, advice or direction of the Court given thereon, shall be deemed, as far as his own responsibility is concerned, to have discharged his duty as such trustee in the matter in respect of which the petition was made.

8. The costs, charges and expenses of and incidental to any petition, and all proceedings in connection therewith, under the foregoing provisions of this Act shall be in the discretion of the Court, which may direct the whole or any part of any such costs, charges and expenses to be met from the property or income of the trust in respect of which the petition is made, or to be borne and paid in such manner and by such persons as it thinks fit:

Notes.

Sec 6.—Section 6 says that once a breach of trust has been committed, by the trustee by his refusal to produce the accounts, a suit so far as it is based on such failure may be instituted without the previous sanction of the Advocate-General. It nowhere says by whom such a suit should be instituted. Once an order has been passed under S. 6 of the Act, a suit under S. 92 of the C. P. Code may be continued by other persons, even though the original plaintiff who applied under Ss. 3 and 4 and secured the order from the District Court under S. 6 of the Act has dropped out of the suit. 146 I.C. 628 (2)=1933 Mad. 854 =65 M.L.J. 690. A suit contemplated by S. 6 of the Act does not become incompetent on the ground that one of the reliefs claimed therein cannot be said to be "based on such failure", i.e., the failure of the trustee to render accounts. The Court can entertain the suit so far as the other reliefs are concerned. (Ibid) See also 28 A.L.J. 1291.

Sec 7.—When a trustee makes an application to the District Judge to obtain his opinion or advice a case is presented before the District Judge for decision. 48 I.A. 280=44 M. 656 (Appl.) 1929 All. 581=27 A.L.J. 911.

Provided that no such order shall be made against any person (other than the petitioner) who has not received notice of the petition and had a reasonable opportunity of being heard thereon.

9. No petition under the foregoing provision of this Act in relation to any trust shall be entertained in any of the following circumstances, namely :—

(a) if a suit instituted in accordance with the provisions of section 92 of the Code of Civil procedure, 1908, is pending in respect of the trust in question;

(b) if the trust property is vested in the Treasurer of Charitable Endowments, the Administrator-General, the Official Trustee or any society registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860; or

(c) if a scheme for the administration of the trust property has been settled or approved by any Court of competent jurisdiction or by any other authority acting under the provisions of any enactment.

10. (1) In any suit instituted under section 14 of the Religious Endowments Act, 1863, or under Section 92 of the Code of Power of Courts as to costs in certain suits against trustees of charitable and religious trust

Civil Procedure, 1908, the Court trying such suit may if, on application of the plaintiff and after hearing the defendant and making such inquiry as it thinks fit, it is satisfied that such an order is necessary in the public interest, direct the defendant either to furnish security for any expenditure incurred or likely to be incurred by the plaintiff in instituting and maintaining such suit, or to deposit from any money in his hands as trustee of the trust to which the suit relates such sum as such Court considers sufficient to meet such expenditure in whole or in part.

(2) When any money has been deposited in accordance with an order made under sub-section (1), the Court may make over to the plaintiff the whole or any part of such sum for the conduct of the suit. Before making over any sum to the plaintiff, the Court shall take security from the plaintiff for the refund of the same in the event of such refund being subsequently ordered by the Court.

Provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure to apply 11. (1) The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, relating to—

(a) the proof of facts by affidavit,

(b) the enforcing of the attendance of any person and his examination on oath,

(c) the enforcing of the production of documents, and

(d) the issuing of commissions, shall apply to all proceedings under this Act and the provisions relating to the service of summonses shall apply to the service of notices thereunder.

(2) The provisions of the said Code relating to the execution of decrees shall, so far as they are applicable, apply to the execution of order under this Act

12. No appeal shall lie from any order passed or against any opinion, advice or direction given under this Act.

Barring of appeals.

Sec 10 —Under S. 10 of the Charitable and Religious Trusts Act, the District Judge has the power to punish a mutawali if, without any reasonable cause, the burden of proving which shall lie upon him, he fails to furnish statement of particulars of documents, of statement of accounts This is purely a penal proceeding in the course of which the Judge may enquire as to whether a wakf is one to which the Act is applicable. But, till that stage arises, the Judge cannot hold any such enquiry and compel a mutawalli, who is not admitting the applicability of the Act, to file accounts. 118 I.C 717 =1930 A 81=52 A. 167.

THE CHILD MARRIAGE RESTRAINT ACT (XIX OF 1929).

Prefatory Note—The necessity for the passing of this Act was explained as follows in the original Statement of Object and Reasons—

"1 The object of the Bill is twofold. The main object, by declaring invalid the marriages of girls below 12 years of age, is to put a stop to such girls becoming widows. The second object, by laying down the minimum marriageable ages of boys and girls, is to prevent, so far as may be, their physical and moral deterioration by removing a principal obstacle to their physical and mental development.

2 According to the Census Report of 1921 A.D., there were in that year 612 Hindu widows who were less than one year old, 2,024 who were under 5 years, 97,857 who were under 10 years, and 3,32,024 who were under 15 years of age. The deplorable feature of the situation, however, is that the majority of these child widows are prevented by Hindu custom and usage from remarrying. Such a lamentable state of affairs exists in no country, civilized or uncivilized, in the world. And it is high time, that the law came in to the assistance of these helpless victims of social customs, which, whatever their origin or justification in old days, are admittedly out of date and are the source of untold misery and harm at the present time.

3. According to the Brahmins, the most ancient and the most authoritative book containing the laws of the Hindus, the minimum marriageable age of a man is 24 and a woman 16. And if the welfare of the girl were the only consideration in fixing the age, the law should fix 16 as the minimum age for the valid marriage of a girl. But amongst the Hindus, there are people who hold the belief that a girl should not remain unmarried after she attains puberty. And as in this country, some girls attain puberty at an age as early as 12, the Bill fixes 12 as the minimum age for the valid marriage of a Hindu girl.

4 In order, however, to make the Bill acceptable to the most conservative Hindu opinion, provision is made in the Bill that for conscientious reasons, the marriage of a Hindu girl would be permissible even when she is 11 years old. No Hindu Sastra enjoins marriage of a girl before she attains puberty, and the time has arrived and public opinion sufficiently developed, when the first step towards the accomplishment of the social reform so necessary for the removal of a great injustice to its helpless victims and so essential to the vital interests of a large part of humanity, should be taken, by enacting a law declaring invalid the marriages of girls below 11 years of age.

5 With regard to boys, the Sastras do not enjoin marriage at a particular age. Thoughtful public opinion amongst the Hindus would fix 18 as the minimum marriageable age for a boy. But as some classes of Hindus would regard such legislation as too drastic, the Bill takes the line of least resistance by providing 15 years as the age below which the marriage of a Hindu boy shall be invalid. Even in England, where child marriages are unknown and early marriages are exceptions, it has been found necessary to fix the ages below which boys and girls may not marry."

The following is the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill

"We have considered the Bill and the opinions in considerable detail, and a number of matters were discussed to which we do not think it necessary to refer in this report, as no serious difference among the members of our Committee was disclosed in regard to them. We shall, therefore, refer only to the decisions which either have resulted in an amendment of the Bill or have been arrived at by a vote of the majority of the Committee.

Clause 2.—We considered a suggestion that the minimum age to determine whether a female is a child for the purposes of sub-clause (a) should be reduced to 11 and another suggestion that it should be reduced to 12 years. The Committee, however, were emphatically of opinion that any such reduction would nullify the whole object of the Bill.

Clause 5—We considered that this clause as originally drafted by Select Committee, would include within its scope a betrothal ceremony which though it might be a necessary preliminary to a marriage, would not constitute a marriage without a further ceremony.

We are further of opinion that the clause would spread the net too wide by including too large a number of persons, and that it is only necessary to penalise the person who actually officiates in that part of the ceremony which finally renders the marriage tie indissoluble.

We consider it necessary to exempt any person who has officiated at a child marriage but who can prove to the Court that he had taken reasonable precautions to satisfy himself that the contracting parties were over the minimum age.

Finally, we negatived a proposal to re-insert a provision on the lines of clause 6 of the Bill as introduced, whereby a guardian could obtain a certificate enabling him to celebrate a child marriage on the ground that he conscientiously believes the marriage to be enjoined by his religion.

Clause 6.—We have provided that the punishment of imprisonment shall not be inflicted in the case of a female parent or guardian; and we rejected a proposal for the omission of the presumption contained in the second part of this clause, as we consider the presumption reasonable in itself and necessary to enable the provisions of the clause to have their proper effect.

Clause 11.—We rejected two proposals in regard to this clause; one that the bond should be a personal bond without sureties, and the other that security should not be required in the case of a complaint made with the sanction of a Magistrate competent to try the offence. The latter provision might, we consider, lead to two separate inquiries and unnecessary recapitulation of evidence.

We have made a few drafting changes to which it is necessary for us to refer in detail, and we have rejected a proposal which is to be found amongst the opinions upon the Bill that the Act should be applicable locally by notification of the Local Government. We think that a provision of this kind would greatly facilitate evasion of the law by enabling a child marriage to be conducted in a province in which the law was not in force, although the contracting parties belonged to a province to which it had been applied.”—(Report of Select Committee.)

The following Minutes of Dissent were also appended to the Select Committee's Report—

“The principle of the Bill affects the personal law of the Mussalmans and therefore it should not be applicable to the Mussalmans at all. I am therefore of opinion that the Mussalmans should be exempted from the operation of the Bill.”—(Muhammad Rafique.)

“I think that the provision relating to the throwing of the burden of proving want of knowledge on the person who operates at a marriage is not justifiable. This burden should always be on the prosecution. I am also not in agreement with the provision that the parent or guardian should prove that he did not fail negligently to prevent a child marriage of his son or daughter or ward.

The provision relating to the furnishing of sureties is another matter where I feel myself unable to agree. I would further favour a provision for registration of marriages.”—(Thakurdas Bhargava.)

“I agree to the report of the Committee with the following observations:—After the report of the last Select Committee the Bill was re-circulated for eliciting opinion thereon. I have carefully gone through the opinions collected from representative quarters, and the Committee have ascertained the orthodox South Indian view in the matter in other ways. There is no denying the probability that there are influential sections among our people who may be out to arrest the progress of the operation of the Act, and this will mean extreme hardship to many. People may be in danger of being compelled to lose occupation and means of their livelihood. I may here, for instance, indicate the cases of many temple priests. This seems more probable when in many cases leaders of our community have nothing to do with marriage or family life. I should like to put in a clause making it illegal for people, especially people having no family life, to associate themselves in any attempt at excommunication of the man performing marriage under the provisions of this Act. But under the circumstances such a provision may not be possible.

There may be other instances also where a poor man may require to marry two girls together, or a dying parent may like to see the child married before death for various reasons, and other cases of like nature.

I, therefore, feel that some room should be given to such hard cases. It is not however easy to give an exhaustive list of these cases as a schedule to this Act. Then the question arises as to the authority competent to deal with such hard cases and give relief in the best exercise of its discretion. It seems to me that such power should not be entrusted to a Criminal Court which is not quite in touch with cases of hardship of various kinds. I will therefore entrust the power to the principal Court of civil jurisdiction in the districts and the City Civil Court in the metropolis or a Court corresponding to it in the provinces. I wish that a general provision be made to the following effect—

Nothing in this Act shall apply to a case of child marriage where the girl married is not below 12 years of age and where the contracting parties of the parents or guardians have obtained the sanction of the principal Court of civil jurisdiction upon an application made prior to the solemnization of the marriage stating the circumstances under which they are compelled to solemnize the marriage the non-performance of which would mean hardship to the girl or her family.

In section 9, I think the period should be less than one year, at most 3 months.”—(Nalakantha Das.)

“I sign the report subject to the observation that an overwhelming majority of the Mussalmans, including eminent and distinguished Olanas, is strongly against the application of this bill to the Muslim community on the ground that it interferes with their religion.”—(Muhammad Yakub.)

Subject to note of dissent that the Bill as now drafted is shorn of all utility and amounts to a pious resolution at social reform.”—(H. A. J. Gidney.)

"I do not agree with the majority of my colleagues on two important points. The proposal to make marriages of girls below the age of 14 years punishable by law has rightly roused much opposition among the large body of orthodox Hindus. I regard that the age should be fixed at 12 so that a law to restrain child marriages might be passed with the unanimous support of all sections of the community. Kinnar Chandra Sinha proposed that 12 should be substituted for 14. But that also was rejected by the majority. If even 12 is fixed as the age marriages below which shall be punishable, it is possible that a section of orthodox opinion will be reconciled to it. But in view of the fact that marriage is a religious sacrament among Hindus and in view of the belief which has prevailed on the question of the age of marriage among them for a very long time, to make a marriage above the age of 12 and below the age of 14 punishable by law will be a violent interference with the Hindu religion which I consider it my duty, frankly to oppose. We must not forget that even in England the legal marriageable age for girls is 12 years. I think we should leave the raising of the age of the marriage of girls beyond 12 to the greater spread of education and of ideas of social and physical well being among the people. Their effects are already visible and should not be ignored."

I am also opposed to imprisonment being awarded as a punishment to any person who offends against the provisions of the proposed law. I expect that if the Government and the public will co-operate to have a knowledge of the provisions of the Act made universally known among the people, the fear of the infliction of a fine which may extend up to a thousand rupees and the opprobrium of being exposed to a prosecution will act as effective deterrents to prevent people from celebrating child marriages in contravention of the provisions of the proposed law. In any event, I would not provide imprisonment as an alternative punishment for the first few years of the new legislation." (Mr. M. Malaviya)

"I think 14 years will be considered too high to be the minimum marriageable age for girls by a large section of the Hindu community. I am aware of the fact that communities like the Mahomedan, the Christian, the Parsi and even a considerable section of the Hindu community to all of whom this Bill has now been made applicable, will regard the declaration of the legal age for marriage of girls below 14 years as a retrograde measure and a possible incentive to reduce the age of marriage in their respective societies. But I am also not oblivious of the very strong opinion in favour of pre-puberty marriage held by a very large section of the Hindu community. They look upon marriage as a sacrament, and, generally speaking, to them, the celebration of marriage does not necessarily mean the consummation of marriage."

We see that the Hindu Mahasabha having within its fold various sections of the Hindu community fixes 12 years as the minimum age for the marriage of girls and so does the All-India Sanatana Dharma Mahasabha representing the most orthodox section of the Hindu community. Its resolution No. 7 passed at its sitting held at Allahabad in January, 1928, under the presidency of Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya, when translated into English will read thus.

"7. (a) In the opinion of this Sanatana Dharma Mahasabha no marriage of a Hindu boy should take place till he is 18 years of age

(b) This Mahasabha exhorts the Hindu community that the marriage of girls should never be celebrated before they have entered upon their 12th year."

But in the subsequent resolution No. 8, it clearly indicates that the consummation of marriage should not take place before the girl attains her 16th year.

The translation of the resolution is as follows.—

"8. In the opinion of this Sanatana Dharma Mahasabha, it is extremely necessary in order to make the community physically and religiously strong, that even when the wedding ceremony has been performed the consummation of marriage should not take place till the girl has attained the age of 16 years."

This measure is the first effort of its kind and I am of opinion that the line of least resistance should be adopted in this matter by all those who want its success. The fixing of minimum age-limit has by no means a binding effect on the higher age. For instance, we see that in several Western countries, the age of consent is much below the age in which marriages usually take place. That being so, I think that it is but proper that the views of such a large number of people should not be ignored and that the minimum marriageable age for girls should be fixed at twelve years. If any legal protection be deemed necessary in respect of the consummation of marriage, that might be afforded to the girls by further raising the age of consent. Of course it might be argued that the age of consent clause of the Indian Penal Code is a dead-letter. But it must also be recognised that any social legislation, if it has to succeed, must not be so drastic as to make it wholly unacceptable to a large number of people. I hope, therefore, that those who advocate the raising of the minimum marriageable age of girls above 12 would appreciate the difficulties underlying its acceptance and be content with fixing the minimum marriageable age of girls at 12 years. We should wait to see the measure of success that the piece of legislation achieves in this modified form."— (Ganganand Sinha) qualification than that of a Civil Surgeon that the girl is not under 14, the persons concerned are guilty and their action is not in good faith as they ought to have gone to Civil Surgeon to obtain certificate. The existence of the certificate so obtained is a matter which may be taken into account in considering whether imprisonment or fine should be ordered. 148 I. C. 351=1934 All. 331. A trial under this Act may be summary, as it is permitted by S. 260 (1) (a), Cr. P. Code, as the offences charged come under the heading "offences not punishable with imprisonment for a term exceeding six months". And the mere provision in S. 18 that the trial is to take place in the Court of the District Magistrate does not mean that the trial should not be summary. 1934 Cr. C. 414 (2)=1934 All. 331=148 I. C. 351.

Secs. 5 and 6: GAUNA CEREMONY NOT PERFORMED—EFFECT.—The fact that the gauna ceremony has not been performed as yet does not affect the performance of the marriage, which is complete as soon as the ceremony or the marriage is performed. Consummation is not a part of the marriage ceremony. 158 I. C. 1006=36 Cr. L. J. 1483=1935 A. L. J. 1166.

RESPECTIVE SCOPE—Secs 5 and 6 deal with different offences. S. 6 provides for the offence only in case where a minor himself contracts a child marriage. It is only in such a case that any person having charge of the minor, whether a parent or guardian or in any other capacity, lawful or unlawful, who does any act to promote the marriage, permits it to be solemnized, or negligently fails to prevent it from being solemnized, shall be punishable. S. 5 deals with the cases in which the marriage is not contracted by a minor. The section not only relates to priests and strangers but is wide enough to cover the case of the fathers of both the bridegroom and the bride. 158 I. C. 1007=36 Cr. L. J. 1483=1935 A. L. J. 1166.

SENTENCE ON PRIEST—The Courts are not at liberty to treat the Act as a legislative imposture. In order to make it effective the Court should pass a deterrent sentence on the priest or other celebrant without whose aid the Act could not have been infringed. 146 I. C. 298=14 Pat. L. T. 438=1933 Pat. 471. For the purposes of S. 5 of the Act it is only the marriage ceremony that has to be considered. It is quite immaterial where, when or by whom the tilak ceremony is performed. The marriage cannot be properly called a "consequence" of the tilak ceremony. Therefore, the offence, under S. 5, of performing, conducting or directing a child marriage, must, under S. 177, Cr. P. Code, be enquired into by a Court within whose jurisdiction the marriage is performed. 150 I. C. 993=35 Cr. L. J. 1175 (1)=1934 A. L. J. 681=1934 All. 820 (1).

Liability of parents, see 1932 Nag. 174.

The mere submission of an application to the Municipal Board for permission to hold a nach with music and fire works, etc., on the occasion of a marriage would not amount to an offence under S. 5 of the Act. 162 I. C. 389 (2)=36 Cr. L. J. 616=1936 O. W. N. 480=1936 Oudh 311.

Though the Child Marriage Restraint Act makes no mention of abetting, yet, under the provisions of the Penal Code, a prosecution is possible for abetting an offence, although the accused is not the father or one of the parties who is under age so long as the other party is below the prescribed age. In other words, even if the prosecution is unable to establish that the son of the accused was under 18 years of age, yet if the Court is satisfied that the girl was under 14 years of age, the father of the boy would be guilty of abetting an offence under the Act. 16 Pat. L. T. 629=1935 Pat. 474.

The Child Marriage Restraint Act is limited in its operation to British India and only strikes at marriages contracted in British India. A child marriage contracted outside British India is not an offence under the Act and cannot be punished under the Act. The Act contains no provision such as is contained in S. 4, I. P. Code, and the prosecution has therefore to prove that the Act makes penal a child marriage performed outside British India. S. 6 of the Act only aims at permitting or failing to prevent a marriage which is made penal under the Act, and does not impose a penalty for permitting a marriage which is lawful. 37 Bom. L. R. 885=1935 Bom. 437.

The Child Marriage Restraint Act makes it an offence to celebrate a child marriage. This penal law applies not only to the celebration of such a marriage in British India by any one, but also to the celebration of such marriages even outside British India by native Indian subjects. The petitioners were convicted under Ss. 5 and 6 of the Act. They pleaded that at the time of marriage, it was doubtful whether Frenchpet where

(1) Where a minor contracts a child marriage, any person having charge of the minor, whether as parent or guardian or in any other capacity, lawful or unlawful, who does any act to promote the marriage or permits it to be solemnised, or negligently fails to prevent it from being solemnised, shall be punishable with simple imprisonment which may extend to one month, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both:

Punishment for parent or guardian concerned in a child marriage

Provided that no woman shall be punishable with imprisonment.

(2) For the purposes of this section, it shall be presumed, unless and until the contrary is proved, that, where a minor has contracted a child marriage, the person having charge of such minor has negligently failed to prevent the marriage from being solemnised.

7. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 25 of the General Clauses Act, 1897, or section 64 of the Indian Penal Code, a Court sentencing an offender under section 3 shall not be competent to direct that, in default of payment of the fine imposed, he shall undergo any term of imprisonment.

8. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 190 of Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, no Court other than that of a Presidency Magistrate or a District Magistrate shall take cognizance of, or try, any offence under this Act.

9. No Court shall take cognizance of any offence under this Act save upon complaint made within one year of the solemnisation of the marriage in respect of which the offence is alleged to have been committed.

10. The Court taking cognizance of an offence under this Act shall unless it dismisses the complaint under section 203 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, either itself make an inquiry under section 202 of that Code, or direct a Magistrate of the first class subordinate to it to make such inquiry.

11. (1) At any time after examining the complainant and before issuing process for compelling the attendance of the accused, the Court shall, except for reasons to be recorded in writing, require the complainant to execute a bond, the marriage was celebrated for which they were convicted, was part of British India, and therefore they were not liable to be convicted. Held, that the Act was extra territorial and that the mistake of fact under which they were labouring, namely that Frenchpet was French territory and not British India, even if bona fide, did not render the celebration of the marriage innocuous or innocent, and it did not follow that the proceedings were void or that the conviction was wrong. A mistake of fact like the one could be pleaded successfully only if on account of such mistake an act which otherwise would be an offence ceased to be an offence. There was consequently nothing illegal in the conviction. 45 L. W. 210=1937 Mad. 273=(1937) 1 M.L.J. 388

Sec 10.—The Court taking cognizance of an offence under the Act is bound to hold a preliminary inquiry before taking further actions. Unless the complaint is dismissed under S. 203, Cr. P. Code, failure to hold preliminary inquiry will vitiate the trial. 12 Lah. 383. Prefatory Note—Mr Ritchie, to whom the task of drafting the Christian Marriage Bill and getting it passed in the Legislative Council was entrusted, thus explained the object of the Bill.—The object of the Bill is to put an end to the state of uncertainty which now exists in regard to marriages in India of persons, one or both of whom are of the Christian religion, but which are solemnized in any of the modes expressly recognized by the law as valid. These modes are three in number, two of them being generally applicable to all persons of whatever denomination of the Christian religion, and one being applicable only to a particular class. The first consists in the performance of the marriage ceremony by a clergyman in Holy Orders, according to the sense in which the English Law understands that term, that is a clergyman who has been episcopally ordained. No particular rite or religious ceremony is legally requisite to this form of marriage, but the presence of a clergyman in Orders at the time of the mutual promise to become man and wife is essential. The clergyman need not be of the same religious denomination as either of the parties. But the clergyman of the denomination which does not recognise episcopacy, who has not been ordained by a Bishop confers no special privilege by his presence, and stands on the same footing in this respect as a layman. This was the only form of marriage recognised by the English Common Law as valid, as was decided in 1844 in the House of Lords in the well-known case of The Queen v Mills. In 1848 it was provided by an Act of Parliament (58 Geo. III, c. 84) that marriages between persons one or both of whom were of the Church of Scotland solemnized by ordained ministers of that church as by law established or by a chaplain of the East India Company in India should be of the same force and effect as if they were solemnized by ordained clergyman of the Church of England according to the rites and ceremonies of the Church of England. The privilege was subsequently extended by the Legislative Council to ordained Ministers of the Church of Scotland other than Government Chaplains (see Act XXIV of 1860). Until the reign of Queen Victoria no other positive law regarding the solemnization of marriages existed in India. But there was a general impression in consequence of Lord Stowell's famous decision in Darlymple v. Darlymple, that the presence of a Clergyman in Orders required by the English Marriage Act was not essential to the validity of a marriage in any part of the British Dominions beyond the operation of these Acts; and that a simple contract of marriage in words showing that it was to take effect at once would suffice. The House of Lords in Mills' case decided upon the opinion of the English Judges, that the English Common Law of marriage as above stated obtained in Ireland, though the Marriage Act did not extend there, and that the presence of ordained Clergyman in Orders was thus essential. In consequence of the doubt thus thrown upon the validity of the marriages in India the absence of a Clergyman in Orders, the Statute 14 and 15 Vict. c. 40 commonly called the Indian Marriage Act, was passed. This was followed by Act V of 1852 which gave effect to the provisions of the Statute. Under these Acts, marriages in the presence of a Marriage Registrar were legalized. No religious ceremony was necessary, but it was optional to the parties to go through any religious ceremony they please. The Act of Parliament legalized all past marriages solemnized in India by persons not in Holy Orders, not being otherwise invalid, by declaring them valid in law to all intents and purposes. But the doubt which existed as to the validity of such marriages at Common Law was not cleared up in regard to marriages contracted after the Statute. For it was provided that "nothing in the Act shall invalidate any marriage which might be solemnized in India by any person in Holy Orders, or under the Statute of George III already cited, or any other marriage which under the law in force for the time being in India might have been there solemnized if the Act had not been passed, provided that the Governor-General in Council might provide by laws and regulations for the registration of such marriages". The doubt thus left open as to marriages contracted since 1851 still existed in 1872. On the one hand Sir Erskine Perry when Chief Justice of Bombay, and Doctor Lushington, as Dean of the Arches, had held that the principle laid down in Queen v. Mills could not be applied to a country such as India or Australia in which on the first introduction of English Laws and institutions, there were clergymen in Holy Orders before whom marriage could be celebrated (see the case of Malcolm v. Crisall, Perry's Oriental Cases 75; Indian Decisions, Old Series, Vol IV, p. 69) and the House of Lords by passing a Divorce Bill founded on Sir Erskine Perry's decision, has, to some extent though by no means conclusively, sanctioned that view. On the other hand the Court of Exchequer had held that the decision in question extended to invalidate a marriage performed between British subjects in Beyrout solemnized before a British clergyman not in Orders. And the Statute of 1848, and the Act of 1860, in favour of marriages performed by Ministers of the Scotch Church, seemed to show that the legislatures both in England and in India considered that the English Common Law applied to Indian marriages. It was almost impossible to determine which of these views was correct though it might be the former was right in principle. But the result of the doubt was, that there was a distressing degree of uncertainty as to the validity of many marriages solemnized since 1857, and that a great deal of fraud with regard to the performance of a sham marriage ceremony by persons having no special qualifications but pretending to be qualified has passed unpunished. In 1854 it was brought to the notice of the Government, that a person who had once been a schoolmaster but had never been ordained to the ministry in any way, professed to have authority to marry, and did perform the ceremony of marriage between several couples of Native Christians in the Backergunge District. Similar practices had been found to have prevailed in other districts, but as the person officiating did not profess to be a Marriage Registrar but only to have authority to marry, and as according to the view of the law the marriages thus solemnized were legal, and the persons referred to therefore, as witnesses did assist in rendering the marriages effectual, it was found impossible to punish him for his imposition. It was felt by the Government of India to be time to put end to the uncertainty which then surrounded the question and which, on so important a subject as the validity of marriages, ought not to be allowed to continue for a day longer than could be avoided. One ground upon which it was supposed that the Legislature in India left the question unsettled for some year prior to 1872, was that a law effectually dealing with the subject of Christian marriage must to some extent, effect, or interfere with the provisions of the English Statute of 1851, which it was then beyond the power of the Legislative Council as then constituted, to touch. The difficulty was removed as the Indian Councils Act contained no restriction upon the interference with the Act of Parliament passed in the year above mentioned, and the proposed change of law was quite within the competency of the Council as was constituted, after the Indian Councils Act. The only effectual mode of dealing with the question appeared to be to pass a law declaring that after the passing of the proposed Christian Marriage Act no marriage between persons, both or one of whom shall profess the Christian religion, shall be valid in law unless it be celebrated in one of the modes expressly declared and recognized by law (see Secs. 4 and 5 of the Act). There was then no hardship in thus declaring the law in 1872. For the Marriage Acts of 1851-52 had been previously for over 10 years in operation. Their provisions were generally well known throughout India and the facilities for contracting marriage under those Acts had been rendered great by the appointment of Registrars at every place of any importance, both in the British Dominions and in those foreign States in alliance with Great Britain. In regard to past marriages it was proposed to declare that all marriages previously contracted in the presence of persons not in Holy Orders if not otherwise invalid, should be deemed good and valid. This was the course which had been adopted on occasions on which Parliament has prescribed a stricter rule for the future than that which had previously existed, or had been supposed to exist in regard to marriages (See Proceedings in Council and Statement of Objects and Reasons.)

Notes

Sec. 1.—There is nothing either in the Divorce Act or in the Christian Marriage Act as regards the age of consent for a Christian marriage. Under S. 7, Divorce Act, the Indian High Courts have to act according to the principles and rules of English Courts. Therefore in India the age of consent for a Christian marriage will be determined according to the law in England at the time of the marriage. 55 A. 243=144 I C. 960=1933 A.L.J. 168=1933 All 135 (2).

"Church of Scotland" means the Church of Scotland as by law established;

"Church of Rome" and "Roman Catholic" mean and apply to the Church which regards the Pope of Rome as its spiritual head;

"Church" includes any chapel or other building generally used for public Christian worship:

"minor" means a person who has not completed the age of twenty-one years and who is not a widower or a widow;

the expression "Christians" means persons professing the Christian religion; and the expression "Native Christians" includes the Christian descendants of Natives of India converted to Christianity, as well as such converts;

Sec 4 MARRIAGE OPPOSED TO RULES OF CHURCH—VALIDITY OF.—The distinction advanced in a contention that though a marriage carried out in complete disregard of the rules of the Church to which the parties to the marriage belonged, may be gravely unlawful, it would nevertheless, according to the canon law of the Roman Church, be valid is a distinction unknown to civil law. 55 A. 185=144 I C. 906=1933 All. 122.

JURISDICTION.—The various grounds on which the Court can give a decree of nullity under the Divorce Act refer to cases where there has been a marriage validly performed. Questions arise under Ss. 4 and 5, Christian Marriage Act, when the marriage has not been validly performed. There is a clear distinction between a decree of nullity of a valid marriage and a declaration that the marriage itself is illegal and void. There can therefore be no doubt that there is jurisdiction in the High Court to hear and decide questions under the Christian Marriage Act. [47 I.C. 544, Rel on; 13 Beng. L. Provided that, if either party has dwelt in the place stated in the notice for more than one month, it may be stated therein that he or she has dwelt there one month and upwards.

39. Every Marriage Registrar shall, on receiving any such notice, cause a copy thereof to be affixed in some conspicuous place in his office

41. If the party by whom the notice was given request the Marriage Registrar to issue the certificate next hereinafter mentioned, and if one of the parties intending marriage has made oath as hereinafter required, the Marriage Registrar shall issue under his hand a certificate of such notice having been given and of such oath having been made:

Provided--

and the said Judge of the High Court or District Judge, as the case may be, shall examine into the allegations of the petition and the circumstances of the case;

and if, upon such examination, it appears that the person forbidding the issue of such certificate is not authorized by law so to do, such Judge of the High Court or District Judge, as the case may be, shall declare that the person forbidding the issue of such certificate is not authorized as aforesaid, and thereupon such certificate shall be issued, and the like proceedings may be had in relation to such marriage as if the issue had not been forbidden.

THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE (V OF 1908).

[21st March, 1908.]

An Act to consolidate and amend the laws relating to the Procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature.

WHEREAS it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the procedure of the Courts of Civil Judicature; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

PRELIMINARY.

Short title, commencement and extent.

1. 1[S. 1.] (1) This Act may be cited as THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE, 1908.

Leg. Ref.

¹ For statement of Objects and Reasons, See Gazette of India, 1907, Pt. V, p. 179, for

Notes.

Sec. 1. CODE.—The object of codification of any branch of law is that on any point

(2) It shall come into force on the first day of January, 1909.

Leg. Ref.

Report of Select Committee. see ibid, 1908 Pt. V, p. 35, and for proceedings in Council, see ibid, 1907, Pt. VI, p. 135; ibid, 1908, pp. 8, 12 and 212.

The figures within square brackets [] represent the corresponding section of the old Act XIV of 1882.

specifically dealt with in that Code, the law should thenceforward be ascertained by interpreting the language used therein, and not by a search among the authorities to discover as to what may be the law as laid down in prior decisions. 23 C. 563=6 M.L.J. 71=23 I.A. 18 (P.C.), 28 C. 517.

CONSOLIDATE.—The object of consolidation is to gather and bring up to date the statutory law relating to any particular subject, so that it may serve as a useful Code applicable to the circumstances existing at the time when the consolidating Act is passed. 22 C. 788=22 I.A. 107 (P.C.).

SCORE.—This Code is intended mainly to regulate procedure in Civil Court; it is not primarily intended to create new rights or take away existing ones. 13 L. 618=1932 L. 401, 1930 R. 317=128 I.C. 382. The Code is not exhaustive. An equitable set-off can be claimed independently of the specific provisions of this Code. 1930 A. 875=128 I.C. 763. There is no provision in this Code for making a counter-claim although a set-off is permitted to a defendant. 32 Bom L.R. 212=1930 B. 216. But this Code is to be deemed exhaustive on points specifically dealt with therein. See 24 M.L.J. 235, 10 C.L.J. 527. Where there is no specific provision in the Code it is the duty of the Court to act according to justice, equity and good conscience and to decide the point upon general principles. 2 Pat L.J. 306=39 I.C. 779, 33 C. 927; 2 P.L.T. 240=61 I.C. 922; 1 L. 339=58 I.C. 748; 36 C. 193=1 I.C. 913, 33 C. 1094=10 C.W.N. 719. A Court passing any order with jurisdiction to pass the same, has an inherent power to order that the same be carried into effect. 2 Pat.L.J. 361=39 I.C. 763.

OPERATION.—As the Code deals with procedure only it applies to all actions pending as well as future, in accordance with the general principle that alterations in procedure have always retrospective operation, unless there are good reasons for the contrary. 8 B. 511; 12 C. 583; 21 B. 822; 19 B. 204, 21 C. 940; 27 M. 538; 14 M.L.J. 340, 7 I.C. 11; 9 I.C. 815. See also 19 C.I.J. 545; 1931 A. 735; 1930 C. 34=56 C. 1117; 8 Luck. 504=1933 O. 274; 1930 A. 706. Where a suit was filed when the Code of 1882 was in force but the same was decreed after the new Code took effect and the question of substitution of heirs was raised, the procedure under the new Code was held applicable. 57 C. 148=1930 C. 422=124 I.C. 817. But change 1925 N. 377, 1930 L. 1044. Nor can an appellate Court reverse an order of the Court of first instance because a different rule has been enacted since then. 12 I.C. 553=(1911) 2 M.W.N. 386. See also 36 A. 350 (P.C.). The coming into force of this Code was deferred by Cl. (2), to a long period, with a view to enable persons who had rights under the old Code to have them enforced before this Code came into operation. 40 C. 704. Also S. 154 expressly preserves the right of appeal which shall have accrued to any party at the commencement of this Code.

APPLICATION.—The Code is inapplicable to Village Munsif's Courts. 29 M.L.J. 474, 1930 M. 795. The provisions of the Code do not apply en bloc to proceedings in Revenue Courts. 48 I.C. 119=21 O.C. 220. See 21 C. 428; 14 Bom L.R. 947. As to applicability of the Code to proceedings under Probate and Administration Act, see 20 I.C. 281=6 Bur. L.T. 87. A Municipal election tribunal should be guided wherever possible by the provisions of this Code. 91 I.C. 450=1926 M. 1043 (F.B.). In cases where the Cr. P. Code prescribes no procedure a magistrate may well follow procedure laid down in this Code (as in proceedings under S. 202, Cr. P. Code). 52 C. 670=29 C.W.N. 817=88 I.C. 862. The C.P. Code is not applicable to proceedings before the Controller of accounts under the Patents and Designs Act. But the principles underlying the Code, in so far as they are principles of natural justice must be followed by him, as they must be observed by all authorities exercising judicial or quasi-judicial functions. 61 C. 450=152 I.C. 914=38 C.W.N. 729=1934 C. 725.

CONSTRUCTION.—What the law was prior to the Act being enacted, is immaterial for the purpose of construing the Act. 6 M.L.J. 71=23 C. 563=23 I.A. 18 (P.C.). It is not right to interpret the Code of Civil Procedure of 1908 with reference to the Codes of 1859 and 1882, 5 Luck 552=1930 O. 148 (F.B.). See also 1931 A. 735, 19 I.C. 793. Where the intention of the legislature is apparent in the Act itself, and the language of the Act is sufficiently flexible, a construction favourable to that intention should be adopted in preference to a strictly literal construction of the words used in the Act. 21 A. 391. The following should not be made to prevail in the matter of construing an Act. (i) Proceedings in the legislature. 22 C. 788=22 I.A. 107 (P.C.); 18 B. 133, but see 33 M.L.J. 591 (593) and 2 C.L.J. 546 (553). (ii) Marginal notes. 26 A. 393=8 C.W.N. 699=31 I.A. 132 (P.C.); 23 C. 55; 25 C. 852=2 C.W.N. 577. (iii) Illustrations to sections. 21 C.W.N. 257=1917 M.W.N. 162=19 Bom L.R. 157=39 I.C. 401=43 I.A. 256 (P.C.), 32 M.L.J. 347; 49 M. 728 (F.B.). (iv) Forms given in the Schedule. 21 C.W.N. 1147=40 I.C. 816; 22 I.C. 690. See also 29 M.L.J. 766. (v) As to

(3) This section and sections 155 to 158 extend to the whole of British India: the rest of the Code extends to the whole of British India, except the Scheduled Districts.

Definitions.

2. [S. 2.] In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Code" includes rules:

(2) "decree" means the formal expression of an adjudication which, so far as regards the Court expressing it, conclusively determines the rights of the

Notes.

DIVISION OF THE CODE INTO SECTIONS AND RULES—RULES OF CONSTRUCTION.—The body of the Code creates jurisdiction and the rules indicate the mode in which that jurisdiction is to be exercised and they must be read together. 44 C. 929 (F.B.), 41 C. 108. See also 43 C. 148. Provisions of this Code and of the Limitation Act are to be read and interpreted together. See 85 I.C. 29=6 Pat. L.T. 729.

JUDICIAL DISCRETION.—Where the Code leaves certain matters to the discretion of Courts, such discretion should be exercised in accordance with judicial principles and be guided by justice and equity and must not be exercised arbitrarily and in a vague or fanciful manner. 9 R. 281=1931 R. 194=1924 B. 1=48 B. 87 (F.B.), 5 C. 259.

"BRITISH INDIA."—For definition of, see S. 3, Cl. 17 of the General Clauses Act 'British India' includes British Burma. 13 C. 221. Aden, also cantonment of Wadhwan. 9 B. 244. The Code does not apply to Agency Tracts. 13 M.L.J. 15, nor to tributary mahals of Orissa. 29 C. 400. As to application of Code to Sonthal Parganas, see 18 C. 133; 42 C. 116 (P.C.). For a list of Scheduled Districts, see Schedule I to the Scheduled Districts Act (XIV of 1874). Under the powers conferred by S. 5 of the said Act, the Code has been extended to several Scheduled Districts, including Sind, Ajmere, Merwara and the Scheduled Districts of the Punjab.

FOREIGNERS.—Code extends to the whole of British India and foreigners are not excepted from the jurisdiction of British Indian Courts. 49 A. 669=25 A.L.J. 356, following 22 C. 222 (P.C.).

Sec. 2. "UNLESS THERE BE SOMETHING REPUGNANT IN THE SUBJECT OR CONTEXT."—These words have been inserted with a view to enable anomalies being avoided in cases where a strict adherence to the definitions contained in the Code would involve such anomalies. 46 B. 990=24 Bom L.R. 496=67 I.C. 667=1923 B. 26.

Sec. 2 (2): DECREE.—'FORMAL EXPRESSION OF AN ADJUDICATION.'—Unless and until a decree is formally drawn up in terms of the judgment there can be neither appeal nor execution. 15 I.C. 935=8 N.L.R. 22=34 B. 182=4 I.C. 829; 37 B. 480=19 I.C. 894. See also 25 Bom L.R. 826=76 I.C. 763 and 76 I.C. 1014=1924 B. 33. Misdescription of a decision as an order, while in fact it amounts to a decree, does not make the decision any the less a decree. 54 M. 337=132 I.C. 654=1931

M. 471=60 M.L.J. 167. See also 62 I.C. 467; 26 N.L.R. 24=1930 N. 122.

"MATTERS IN CONTEST IN THE SUIT."—

The expression must not be understood as relating solely to the merits of the case. It would cover any question relating to the character and status of a party, sum, to the jurisdiction of the Court, to the maintainability of a suit and to other preliminary matters which necessitate an adjudication before a suit is enquired into. It does not include proceedings preliminary to institution of a suit (e.g.) an application for leave to sue as a pauper and proceedings passed in execution as well as orders granting day costs. 2 L.W. 519=29 I.C. 393, nor an order of punishment for contempt. 27 A. 380. The term 'suit' does not include an application under S. 72, C.P. Code, and an order under the section is not a decree. 1 Pat L.T. 296=57 I.C. 421=5 Pat L.J. 415.

WHAT ARE DECREES.—The decision of a District Court on appeal that the Court below has no jurisdiction, is a decree. 54 I.C. 749=11 L.W. 3. Revisional order passed by High Court. 148 I.C. 893=1934 A.L.J. 552=1934 A. 134. A decision as to possession in a suit for possession and mesne profits is a preliminary decree. 25 I.C. 435=19 C.L.J. 346. Final decree in mortgage suit is decree. 39 C.W.N. 1284. Where one issue is settled and the case remanded to the lower Court for the determination of another issue, the order is a decree. 45 I.C. 100=3 Pat.L.J. 99. Opinion pronounced by a Judge on a reference by Registrar under Cl. 26, R. 50 Original Side Rules (Calcutta High Court) is not decree. 40 C.W.N. 1264 So also order directing an execution case to be dismissed for non-prosecution. 162 I.C. 777=1936 C. 267 Also order in execution giving leave to decree-holder to amend execution petition. 44 L.W. 99=1936 M. 623=71 M.L.J. 256

"CONCLUSIVELY DETERMINES"—To constitute a decree, there must be final adjudication. No particular form is necessary. 16 I.C. 45=1912 M.W.N. 1122. If a decision really determines the rights of the parties fully and finally, it is in the eye of the law a decree and as such appealable even though the Court giving the decision has not formally embodied its result in the form of a decree. 26 N.L.R. 24=1930 N. 122; 54 M. 337=33 L.W. 143=1931 M. 471=60 M.L.J. 167. Decree becomes final when there is no appeal and appeal time expires. 86 I.C. 957=47 A. 533=1425 A. 291. An order disposing of the defendant's claim to set-off is not a decree: the decision could be attacked in an appeal against the final order. 39 I.C. 508=62 P.R. 1917. Regarding decisions upon preliminary issues in a case, such as misjoinder, limitation and Jurisdiction see 39 B. 339 (F.B.). As to when a decision whether plaintiff is an agriculturist under the Dekkhan Agriculturists, Relief Act, 1879, amounts to a decree. see 12 Bom. L.R. 762, 39 B. 422. An interlocutory order to be decree must conclusively determine the rights of the parties. So an order accepting security for stay of execution proceedings is not a decree. 41 C. 160=20 I.C. 72=17 C.W.N. 1240, also an order directing assessment of mesne profits, 15 I.C. 573, also an order refusing leave to bid, to a decree-holder under O. 21, R. 72. 38 C. 717. Also an order under S. 148 extending time. 35 A. 582. Also an order directing partition in a particular manner passed after the confirmation in appeal of a preliminary decree for a partition and before the final decree. 35 A. 159. Also an order giving directions to the commissioner appointed subsequent to the preliminary decree to take accounts in partnership suit. 107 I.C. 214=1928 Sind. 100. After preliminary decree an order directing that accounts should be taken up to a certain date is merely a finding of fact and not a decree. 1929 L. 699=120 I.C. 429. Also an order extending time for payment of mortgage money under a decree. 39 M. 876=29 M.L.J. 708. But see 14 A. 520, also an order disallowing interrogatories. 58 I.C. 721=14 S.L.R. 28

"RIGHTS OF PARTIES"—The words mean rights of parties inter se in the subject-matter of the suit. 13 I.C. 800=82 P.R. 1911. It includes general rights such as those relating to status, jurisdiction, limitation, framing suits, accounts, etc., which if decided must have a general effect upon the proceedings in the suit. 38 B. 392=23 I.C. 889=16 Bom. L.R. 206; 2 L.W. 519=17 M.L.T. 447=29 I.C. 393. The word "parties" includes only those that are joined as plaintiffs or defendants. 20 I.C. 898=16 O.C. 350. The determination of the right of one party to an account is a decree. 40 I.C. 579=3 Pat. L.J. 67 [23 A. 152 (P.C.), Foll.]. Also an order striking out the name of a defendant and dismissing suit as against him. 42 M. 219=36 M.L.J. 169. Also an order finally deciding that a particular defendant is not liable for mesne profits. 1923 C. 308. But an order rejecting the application of one of two claimants, not parties to suit is not a decree. 47 M.L.J. 3=80 I.C. 942=1924 M. 813. An order rejecting an application to be added as a party to the suit is not a decree. 13 C. 100. An order dismissing application to be brought on record as legal representative, is not a decree. 1 L. 493=57 I.C. 137, 20 I.C. 808=16 O.C. 350; 62 I.C. 303=17 N.L.R. 45 (a suit for declaration is not barred by the order). 38 I.C. 833=13 N.L.R. 32. But see 39 M.L.J. 218=58 I.C. 498=43 M. 812, where it has been held that such an order is an adjudication on the applicant's claim and hence is a decree. (42 M. 219, Appl., 39 M. 488, Dist.) Where one of several applicants was brought on record as legal representative, there is no abatement within the meaning of O. 43, R. 1 (k) nor any decree within the meaning of S. 2, Cl. (2). 1924 M. 622=40 M.L.J. 129. An order directing a surety to pay the debt of a judgment-debtor is not a decree except for purposes of an appeal under S. 145. 2 Pat. L.J. 197=39 I.C. 648. Notes

Rejection of an application for a final decree for sale in a mortgage suit, is a decree and not an order under S. 47. 42 M. 52=35 M.L.J. 552; 1932 L. 214. As to order directing defaulting bidder to make good loss on re-sale, see 23 N.L.R. 14.

(b) What orders are not decrees—But an order returning plaint for amendment is not a decree. 96 P. R. 1911=11 I.C. 231=216 P. L.R. 1911. Also an order returning a memorandum of appeal for presentation to proper Court is not a decree. 13 A. 320. As to order of remand, see 103 I.C. 864; 6 P. 380=103 I.C. 722.

ORDERS IN EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—(See also notes under S. 47)—Every order in execution proceedings is not a decree. It must be an order determining the rights of the parties in the execution proceedings. An order for arrest without notice is not a final order. 1929 M. 718, 1935 R. 500. See also 1929 L. 815. An order granting or refusing process for examination of a witness or determining a point of law arising incidentally and not granting or refusing any relief is not a decree. 115 P.L.R. 1920=55 I.C. 173, 1927 A. 208=99 I.C. 455. An order dismissing for default the objection petition to an execution filed by the judgment-debtor is not a decree. 26 A.L.J. 1395=112 I.C. 380=1929 A. 123. A decision under S. 47 is not a decree unless it determines the rights of the parties with regard to all or any of the matters in controversy. A decision on a question of the valuation to be inserted in a sale proclamation is not a decree. 5 Pat.L.J. 270=55 I.C. 452. Order in execution granting leave to decree-holder to amend execution petition is not decree. 44 L.W. 99=1936 M. 623=71 M.L.J. 256. An order granting leave to execute a decree against any person on the ground that he is a partner made under O. 21, R. 50 (2) and (3) is not a decree. 53 B. 839. Also refusal to postpone a sale. 1929 A. 85. An order determining question of under valuation of property to be sold. 6 O.W.N. 1085. Order under O. 21, R. 66 (proclamation of sale) is not a decree. 59 I.C. 282=1 Pat.L.T. 647. Nor an order on application under O. 21, R. 90. 1936 A.L.J. 959=165 I.C. 654=1936 A. 763. An order in proceedings for a recovery of the loss caused by re-sale owing to the default of the prior purchaser in depositing the purchase-money is a decree. 44 A. 266. An order that the decree-holder is liable for mesne profits by way of restitution is a decree. 56 C. 550. As to order for security to stay execution, see 5 R. 534=104 I.C. 324=1927 Rang. 317.

DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT.—An order dismissing a suit for default is not a decree. 12 M.L.J. 473, 29 C. 60; 18 C.L.J. 128=20 I.C. 1=18 C.W.N. 604, also an order dismissing an appeal for default, 15 C.L.J. 334=14 I.C. 823 (1); 39 C. 241, 23 C. 115; 23 C. 827, 22 M.L.J. 284, 2 P. 739=75 I.C. 284; 101 I.C. 618=1927 R. 148. Dismissal for default of an objection of a judgment-debtor in execution proceedings is not a decree. 1 O.W.N. 854.

DECREE—PRELIMINARY AND FINAL.—The preliminary decree is not dependent on the final one but the latter is dependent and subordinate to the former, and does not extinguish it but gives effect to it. 21 C.W.N. 1174=35 I.C. 873 (F.B.). Failure to deposit commission fee after preliminary decree in partition suit—Dismissal of suit is not decree—No appeal lies, but only revision. 86 I.C. 785=1925 P. 433. A preliminary decree ascertains what is to be done while the final decree states the result achieved by means of the preliminary decree. The cases where the legislature contemplates a preliminary decree are specified in O. 20, Rr. 12 to 18. 20 C.L.J. 476=27 I.C. 317=19 C.W.N. 755. There should be only one preliminary decree in a suit to be followed by one final decree, (Ibid.) Second preliminary decree in a suit for partition is not impossible where there are facts or circumstances alleged to have come into existence after the passing of the first. 15 I.C. 372=11 A.L.J. 120. See also 1925 P. 433. 57 M. 437=66 M.L.J. 178. In a partnership suit order granting directions to commissioner does not amount to a preliminary decree. 107 I.C. 214. Where, in a suit for accounts, the Court after passing a preliminary decree for accounts, passed a further order fixing the mode of taking accounts and the period for which it should be done, the latter is also preliminary decree. 27 C.W.N. 989=1924 C. 160. Mere omission to style an order a preliminary decree or to embody it as such does not negative the party's right to appeal. 27 I.C. 317=19 C.W.N. 755. A finding whether a party is an agriculturist under the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act is not a preliminary decree. 45 B. 627=60 I.C. 885=23 Bom. L.R. 92, 70 I.C. 728. But if the finding necessarily involves a direction for the taking of an account in the manner provided by S. 13 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, it amounts to a preliminary decree. 39 B. 422. A decree for accounts is not a mere direction to report but is one determining the rights of the party and is a final decree. 13 I.C. 374=14 C.L.J. 603. An adjudication cannot be partly a decree and partly an order not amounting to a decree. 42 C. 914=29 M.L.J. 70 (P.C.). An order in a suit for taking accounts of a partnership declaring the partnership as dissolved from a particular date and ordering an enquiry by the referee as to who were the partners is a decree in so far as it declares the rights of the parties. It does not cease to be so, because a part of it might have been separately made as an order. So the whole decree cannot be challenged in an appeal against the final decree, not being itself appealed against (Ibid.) The decree in appeal is decree in suit, for appeal is a continuation of the suit. 30 M.L.J. 379. In a decree for possession and for mesne profits the decree for possession is final and the decree for mesne profits is only preliminary as the amount has to be found upon further enquiry.

- (a) any adjudication from which an appeal lies as an appeal from an order, or
 (b) any order of dismissal for default.

Explanation.—A decree is preliminary when further proceedings have to be taken before the suit can be completely disposed of. It is final when such adjudication completely disposes of the suit. It may be partly preliminary and partly final:

(3) "decree-holder" means any person in whose favour a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made:

(4) "district" means the local limits of the jurisdiction of a principal Civil Court of original jurisdiction (hereinafter called a "District Court") and includes the local limits of the ordinary original civil jurisdiction of a High Court:

(5) "foreign Court" means a Court situate beyond the limits of British India which has no authority in British India and is not established or continued by [the Central Government or the Crown Representative]

(6) "foreign judgment" means the judgment of a foreign Court:

(7) "Government Pleader" includes any officer appointed by the Local Government to perform all or any of the functions expressly imposed by this Code on the Government Pleader and also any pleader acting under the directions of the Government Pleader.

(8) "Judge" means the presiding officer of a Civil Court:

CONSENT DECREE—'Decree' includes a compromise or a consent decree 34 C.L.J. 96=66 I C 273 (2)

Sec 2 (3). 'DECREE-HOLDER'—[See under DECREE.] "Decree-holder" is not confined only to plaintiff. A sub-mortgagee and a puisne or prior mortgagee sometimes become decree-holder as against the judgment-debtor in suits brought for foreclosure of sale of mortgaged property or for redemption thereof, as on the happening of certain contingencies they acquire the right to have property sold to discharge the amount declared to be due to them 116 I C. 212=1929 L 492. Decree for specific performance can be executed by the defendants as well as by the plaintiff, and the defendants in such a case are "decree-holders" within the meaning of this clause 46 B 990=24 Bom.L.R 496=67 I C 667=1923 B. 26; 59 C 501=36 C.W. Sec. 2 (4). DISTRICT COURT—Though the word "District" in the C.P. Code does include the local limits of a High Court in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, still it is not legitimate to construe the words "District Court" wherever they appear to mean and include a High Court in its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction 45 C.L.J. 71=100 I C. 331=1927 C 290

Sec. 2 (5). FOREIGN COURT—Privy Council is not within the definition. 8 B. 571 (574). All other Courts in England are foreign Courts. 8 B 571; 31 C. 274. The Ceylon Court is a foreign Court 32 M. 469 (471). And also Courts in Native States in India (1913) M W N 605, 191 P.R 1888. (9) "judgment" means the statement given by the Judge of the grounds of a decree or order.

(10) "judgment debtor" means any person against whom a decree has been passed or an order capable of execution has been made:

(11) "legal representative" means a person who in law represents the estate of a deceased person, and includes any person who intermeddles with the estate of the deceased and where a party sues or is sued in a representative character the person on whom the estate devolves on the death of the party so suing or sued.

This definition of the term 'legal representative' in the Code is not exhaustive, and it should be qualified by Ss 50 and 53 of the Code (Ibid). An auction-purchaser is not the representative of the original judgment-debtors in respect of a liability which had arisen subsequent to the mortgages on which the decree for sale was founded but is the representative of the judgment-debtor qua the rights and liabilities which stood on the date of the mortgage. 117 I.C. 452=1929 O. 353. A Zamindar, to whom the house and grove in possession of his tenant, escheat on the death of the latter, is not his legal representative. 23 I.C. 969=1 O.L.J. 86.

LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE—PLEAS OPEN TO—A person who is added as a legal representative of a deceased defendant cannot and need not set up in defence pleas which are open to him only personally. 1925 M. 59. See also notes under S. 50. He is not at liberty to depart from or contradict the position taken up by the party in the suit whose legal representative he is. If he has any independent right, then he is bound to apply to come in such right or capacity either with or without assuming the capacity of a legal representative. But so long as he is on the record only as a legal representative, he cannot be allowed to take up a position directly contradictory to that of his predecessor in law. 1935 M. 522=40 L.W. 730.

DECREE AGAINST WRONG LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE—BINDING NATURE OF—A true legal representative will be bound by a decree passed against the wrong legal representative if the following conditions are satisfied: (i) the plaintiff decree-holder must have acted bona fide, (ii) the decree obtained must be free from fraud and collusion, (iii) the person wrongly impleaded must have been impleaded in a representative capacity, (iv) the decree or order must have been passed against him as representing the estate of the deceased, (v) the plaintiff must have been ignorant of facts which operate to displace the title of the supposed legal representative, and (vi) the person having the real title must not have intervened during the pendency of the suit. 30 L.W. 778=1929 M. 482. See also 34 P.L.R. 511=141 I.C. 580=1933 L. 380.

It is open to the plaintiff or decree-holder to choose as the legal representative the one who appears to have the prima facie title. 30 L.W. 778=1929 M. 482; 63 M.L.J. 319. The actual decision in this case was that a compromise decree consented to by an alleged adopted son of a Hindu widow who died pending suit and as whose legal representative the alleged adopted son was added, was not binding on the proper legal representatives of the widow. And mere failure to make more detailed inquiries would not necessarily lead to the conclusion that the plaintiff had not acted bona fide. 144 I.C. 663=29 N.L.R. 89=1933 N. 73.

Where possession of defendant is not wrongful, no mesne profits can be awarded. 150 I.C. 924=1934 L. 322. And the plaintiff claiming mesne profits must be entitled to possession. 37 P.L.R. 50=157 I.C. 90=1935 L. 379. The only relevant consideration for the Court is whether the defendant's possession was wrongful or not. If it was wrongful, the Court is not justified in going further and inquiring what the degree of the misconduct or culpability is. The defendant in wrongful possession is liable only for the time he was actually in possession. If he was excluded from possession, he cannot be said to have been in wrongful possession (Ibid). ASSESSMENT OF MESNE PROFITS.—The rental value of the land would ordinarily be the proper basis of calculating mesne profits when the person charged had merely let the land out to others. In such a case the rent that he received, if there was no evidence that a higher rent could "with ordinary diligence" have been obtained, would be the measure of the profits for which he would be liable. But when the wrongdoers cultivated the land themselves, the definition of "mesne profits" in S 2 (12), C. P. Code, clearly makes the cultivation profits the primary consideration. The test set by the statutory definition of mesne profits is clearly not what the plaintiff has lost by his exclusion, but what the defendant has or might reasonably have made by his wrongful possession. What the plaintiff in such a case might or would have made can only be relevant as evidence of what the defendant might with reasonable diligence have received. Land, which was capable of producing more profitable crops, was, in fact, planted by the wrongdoers with indigo, an inferior crop, for their special purpose. In ascertaining the mesne profits payable by them the Courts in India calculated the profits merely upon the basis of more profitable crops which the land was capable of producing. In all such cases the true test would be what the prudent agriculturist would have grown. 57 I.A. 105=58 M.L.J. 215 (P.C.); 59 C. 859=55 C.L.J. 205=138 I.C. 882=1932 C. 600; 62 C. 217=38 C.W.N. 1197=156 I.C. 489=1935 C. 206. See also 47 M.L.J. 730; 3 C.W.N. 904, 25 A. 266, 24 C. 413; 11 I.C. 504=15 C.W.N. 825, 15 I.C. 1; 19 I.C. 974=17 C.W.N. 984, 46 I.C. 624, 61 I.C. 425=1 P.L.J. 235. But see 16 I.C. 126=9 A.L.J. 774, where the basis was held to be what the plaintiff would have made out of the land but for the defendant's unlawful trespass and not what the defendant has done. See also 30 M.L.J. 326; 1923 N. 64 (1), 1930 C. 53; 35 C.W.N. 367=135 I.C. 876=1931 C. 802. The correct principle for the assessment of mesne profits is that the letting value of the property should be determined and not what the defendant actually gained. 10 I.C. 312=16 C.L.J. 93, 1927 R. 116. See also 1935 C. 206=38 C.W.N. 1197; 44 C.L.J. 182=1926 C. 1233, 94 I.C. 255=1926 C. 860. But where the person dispossessed is himself a cultivator of the land in dispute, he is entitled to such profits as the trespasser might have obtained by actual cultivation with due diligence and not merely to what he has really obtained by sub-letting the land. 43 I.C. 53; 20 N.L.R. 112=1924 N. 427. See also 15 W.R. 428; 47 M.L.J. 730; 53 C. 992.

Where the person in wrongful possession of land has given no evidence to show that he could not cultivate the land himself or that the land was in possession of tenants before he entered upon it as a trespasser he is bound to pay mesne profits on the basis as if he was in direct possession of the lands in suit. 1928 C. 474. The principles which would ordinarily guide a Court in determining the mesne profits are: (1) wrongful trespasser should not profit by it, (2) restoration of status before dispossession financially; and (3) use to which decree-holder would have put land if he was himself in possession. 39 I.C. 516=1917 P. 146. In order to assess the mesne profits of property in the wrongful possession of tenants, the Court should direct the Commissioner to ascertain (1) the gross profits which the tenant did obtain (or could reasonably have obtained) from his cultivation of the soil, (2) what ought, reasonably, to be deducted from that gross sum for (a) costs of cultivation, (b) on account of rent paid, and (c) the cost of maintenance of the cultivators. After deducting the cost of cultivation, and the rent paid and the cost of maintenance, the balance left is the 'profit' referred to in S 2 (12). 151 I.C. 922=38 C.W.N. 384=1934 C. 503. As to mode of assessment of mesne profits in the case of a co-sharer's claim based on his exclusion, see 30 N.L.R. 71=147 I.C. 445=1933 N. 316. Assessment can be based by local inspection and crop-cutting experiments conducted by a Commissioner. 47 M. 800. Deduction should be made for cost of cultivation and seasonal fluctuations. 99 I.C. 923=44 C.L.J. 559. See also where lands are subject to floods, deductions ought to be made on that account. 101 I.C. 371=1927 R. 116. COMPENSATION FOR IMPROVEMENTS AND OTHER EXPENSES.—The person dispossessed is entitled to compensation for improvements effected. 26 C.W.N. 257=35 C.L.J. 121, 42 M.L.J. 243. He is also entitled to compensation for all sums spent by him in managing the property but not for infructuous litigation in connection with the management. 22 M.L.J. 253. All such payments made by the defendant as the plaintiff would have been bound to make if he had been in possession towards rent, revenue or cesses should be deducted from the gross earnings. 17 B. 35; 21 C. 142, 20 N.L.R. 112=1924 N. 427. See also 33 I.C. 520. But the Court should not allow the expenses of collecting the profits unless the defendant entered on the property in the exercise of a bona fide claim of right. 20 N.L.R. 112=1924 N. 427; 70 I.C. 6=34 C.L.J. 415; 16 I.C. 866, 22 A. 262; 24 A. 376. bility of the party liable, and so the expenses of management or collection should be allowed in the calculation of the mesne profits, even where the defendant has not proved his bona fides in taking possession of the property. INTEREST ON MESNE PROFITS—Interest should ordinarily be allowed on mesne profits, though the interest as well as the mesne profits are in the discretion of the Court. 70 I.C. 6-34 C.L.J. 415, 50 A. 857=1928 A. 532. See also 10 C. 785; 27 C. 951. (P.C.); 1927 M.W.N. 661, 44 C.L.J. 182=1926 C. 1233=131 I.C. 833=1931 M. 513. The proper rate of interest to be granted on mesne profits is 6 per cent. in the absence of special circumstances. 62 I.A. 53=62 C. 499=68 M.L.J. 580 (P.C.) (noted infra). The words "together with interest on such profits" do not refer to interest due after the ascertainment of the amount of mesne profits due under the decree. They contemplate that interest should form a separate item in the calculation of that amount due as mesne profits 30 C. 506. See also 25 A. 275, 1930 A. 525. Mesne profits include interest. Where a decree is silent as to interest on mesne profits, it must be deemed to carry interest at the Court rate of 6 per cent and executed accordingly 44 A. 579, 17 I.C. 915=10 A.L.J. 533. But see 53 I.C. 227=30 C.L.J. 205, 21 A. 425 (F.B.), 27 C. 951 (P.C.), 33 C. 329. Interests should not be allowed for more than three years from the decree or until possession within that time, 27 C. 951 (P.C.). The Court has a discretion whether to allow interest on mesne profits after three years or not. 31 I.C. 387=2 L.W. 1129, 1931 M. 513. Mesne profits carry interest from the date of the preliminary decree awarding the same 46 A. 842, 33 C. 29. Liability—Joint wrong doer for mesne profits. See 53 C. 992, 1931 C. 802.

BURDEN OF PROOF—When mesne profits are claimed, the onus of proving what profits might with diligence have been received in any year lies upon the party claiming mesne profits 62 I.A. 53=62 C. 499=39 C.W.N. 405=(1905) P.C. 49=68 M.L.J. 580 (P.C.). Profits always means the difference between the amount realized and the expenses incurred in realizing it. In the case of mesne profits 10 per cent is the customary allowance in India for the expenses of collection, and it is unnecessary for the person liable to pay mesne profits to adduce any evidence on the subject (Ibid.). But the onus of proving what profits the person in wrongful possession actually received lies on the person in possession. 47 M.L.J. 730. See also 47 M. 800; 1933 M.W.N. 1182=1933 M. 825. Where it is shown that a portion of the suit land had been let out at a produce rent, the Court will be justified in presuming that the entire land was so let out 53 C. 992. See also 99 I.C. 923=44 C.L.J. 559.

PRACTICE—Mesne profits should be determined in the suit itself and not by way of execution for a fixed sum of money. 39 C. 220. Transfer to higher Court of protracted proceedings on account of the mesne profits accruing during pendency of litigation swelling up to an amount beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the original Court is not an interruption so as to make the subsequent proceedings in the higher Court a different suit 58 I.C. 179=24 C.W.N. 342. Plaintiff filed a suit for loss of crops on 15th October, 1930, alleging that defendants had dispossessed him on 1st June, 1930. It was not shown that defendants had or should have received any profits before that time. It was held that no cause of action as to the claim brought existed on the date of suit 147 I.C. 709=1933 N. 222 (55 I.A. 299 and 31 M. 502, Dist).

Sec. 2 (13)—This definition has set at rest the conflicting decisions that existed previously among the different High Courts. Under the General Clauses Act, S. 3 (25) "standing crops" are immoveable property. But it is otherwise under this definition. This definition must be taken to be confined to the limited purposes of this Code 27 I.C. 935.

Sec. 2 (14)—See also notes under S. 2, Cl (2) and S. 2, Cl (9). As to nature of order for alimony pending suit for divorce, see 32 C.W.N. 179. An order made on a notice of motion for contempt of Court would be an order within the meaning of S. 2 (14), C.P. Code, and be executable under S. 36, C.P. Code 36 Bom.L.R. 992=1934 B. 452.

Sec. 2 (15)—As to construction of this definition see, 8 B. 105. As to whether vakils of Indian High Courts can practice before the Judicial Committee of Privy Council, see 16 C. 636. Pleader, vakil or attorney duly appointed to act for a party, has authority to do all acts incidental to that general authority, and they will be binding on the party. 9 S.L.R. 218=34 I.C. 928. But the acts must be bona fide, neither due to fraud or mistake, nor against the express instructions of his client (Ibid.) 29 I.A. 76=25 M. 367=6 C.W.N. 641=4 Bom.L.R. 543 (P.C.). He may withdraw the suit as to frame or withdraw any plea. 21 M. 274=8 M.L.J. 40; may get a witness summoned, dispensed with his evidence. 25 M. 367 (P.C.) (noted supra); may abandon an issue

(17) "public officer" means a person falling under any of the following descriptions, namely:—

But unless specially authorized, he cannot consent to the settlement of a case by oath being taken by the opposite party. 14 B. 455, or give up a portion of the claim. 12 W.R. 279, 3 B.L.R. (App) 15, or transfer a decree. 2 N.W.P. H.C.R. 695, or consent to a decree in respect of property not in suit. 2 M. (A.C.) 420.

ADMISSION BY PLEADER—Admissions of fact by pleader made during the actual progress of a suit and not in mere conversation are binding on the party. 9 W.R. 375; 485; 10 W.R. 322, 21 W.R. 332, 21 M. 274, 15 I.C. 156, 20 C.W.N. 995, 7 C.W.N. 351; 86 P.L.R. 1916=104 P.W.R. 1916=35 I.C. 870. It is not necessary that the client must be present when the admission is made. 2 M.I. A. 253; and the party who wants to repudiate the admission as being against his instructions should do so at the earliest opportunity. 38 I.C. 800. The admission should however, be within the scope of the pleader's authority. 18 W.R. 436. He may admit liability and a decree may be passed thereon against the client. 21 W.R. 332. Verbal admissions by pleader must be taken as a whole and should not be unduly stretched. 6 A. 406. Court is not to act upon admissions by pleader, where the evidence of the records shows that they were wrongly made. 104 P.L.R. 1916=179 P.W.R. 1916=36 I.C. 212; nor upon mere opinion expressed by pleader adverse to his clients' claim. 18 M. 72. Nor upon an erroneous admission as a point of law. 24 B. 360=2 Bom.L.R. 467; 45 I.C. 983; 52 I.C. 178; 8 S.L.R. 156=27 I.C. 357. See also 27 C. 156. Mere allegation of party to the contrary is not sufficient to contradict his pleader in respect of a statement of fact made on his behalf by the pleader. 136 I.C. 622=1931 A. 415.

AUTHORITY TO COMPROMISE—A pleader employed to conduct a case has no implied authority to compromise it, and there must be express authority in the Vakalatnama if the compromise is to bind the client. 21 M. 274; 41 M. 233=41 I.C. 429; 4 C.W.N. 169. But it is otherwise in the case of Counsel. 13 A. 272; and also in the case of attorney or solicitor. 7 Bom.H.C.O.C. 79. In any event, the compromise should not be against clients' express instructions. 41 C.L.J. 213=88 I.C. 369=1925 C. 866, 32 C.W.N. 44=106 I.C. 309=1928 C. 378. Nor with reference to matters outside the scope of the particular case. 27 C. 428. A pleader should have special Vakalatnama to enter into any particular compromise. 9 S.L.R. 218=34 I.C. 928. But see contra 12 M.L.T. 348=23 M.L.J. 381. Compromise entered into outside the Court, would be binding only when sanctioned by the Court. 52 C. 386=88 I.C. 413=1925 C. 696; 55 C. 113=104 I.C. 387=1927 C. 714. Compromise may be set aside at the instance of party, if pleader, council or solicitor had consented under misrepresentation or mistake. 6 C. 687; 3 R. 261=1925 R. 314. But the application should be made before the judgment is pronounced. 13 A. 272; 13 C. 115.

REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION BY PLEADER—A pleader duly appointed to act for a party has authority to apply for a reference to arbitration, and the same would be binding on his client even if it is against the wishes of his client. 9 S.L.R. 183=34 I.C. 845. The Code of 1908 has effected a change of the law in this respect (Ibid.) 6 N.W.P. 210 and 14 B. 455, which held otherwise were under the old Code.

WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT BY PLEADER—Pleader holding Vakalatnama to do all acts necessary in connection with the suit, has prima facie power to apply to withdraw the suit, provided there is nothing to show that the same is contrary to the clients' instructions, or due to misconduct of the pleader. 5 W.R. 80.

Sec. 2 (16) "RULING"—As to the meaning of this term see cl. (18), infra.

Sec. 2 (17)—[Note the legislature amendment of this definition.] Cf. definition of 'public servant' in I. P. Code, S. 21. Sec. 2 (19).—As to definition of, 'stock' see S. 2, Indian Trustees Act XXVII of 1866, and of 'bond', see S. 2 (5), Indian Stamp Act II of 1905 'Debenture' and 'debenture-stock' are nowhere defined in any enactment, but they are well-known terms in the commercial world. A debenture is a bond in the nature of a charge or Government stock or the stock of a public company. 'Debenture stock' is borrowed capital consolidated into one mass for the sake of convenience. Instead of each lender having a separate bond or mortgage, he has a certificate entitling him to a certain sum, being a portion of one large loan (Lindley, p. 346).

Sec. 2 (20).—Cf the definition of the term 'signed' in the General Clauses Act, where it is given a restricted meaning. That a person should be unable to write or sign his name is not a condition precedent to the use of a stamp 3 A. 575. As to whether signing includes initiating, see 8 A. 293, 185 P. R. 1889 (F. B.)

Sec. 3.—The list of Subordinate Courts in the section is not exhaustive and does not exclude all other Courts from being subordinate to the High Court. 37 B. 114=17 I. C. 676. So a collector exercising judicial functions under the Bombay Mamlatdar's Act is subordinate to the Bombay High Court. (Ibid.) Judge should follow the rulings of the High Court to which he is subject. 17 B. 555, 10 C. 82, 15 B. 419; 6 M. 424, 19 C. W. N. 841=4 Pat. L. J. 565; 29 M. L. J. 63=42 I. The original side of High Court sitting in insolvency is not a Court subordinate to the High Court in its appellate jurisdiction. 55 M. L. J. 671=1928 M. 1091

Sec. 4.—This section cannot be construed as making inapplicable the C. P. Code in respect of proceedings under Special or

Savings. nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any special or local law now in force or any special jurisdiction or power conferred, or any special form of procedure prescribed by or under any other law for the time being in force.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the proposition contained in sub-section (1), nothing in this Code shall be deemed to limit or otherwise affect any remedy which a landholder or landlord may have under any law for the time being in force for the recovery of rent of agricultural land from the produce of such land.

5. [S. 4-A.] (1) Where any Revenue Courts are governed by the provisions of this Code in those matters of procedure upon which any special enactment applicable to them is silent, the 1[Provincial] Government, 2[* * * * ] may, by notification in the 3[ * * * ] official Gazette, declare that any portions of those provisions which are not expressly made applicable by this Code shall not apply to those Courts, or shall only apply to them with such modifications as the 1[Provincial] Government, 2[ * * * *] may prescribe

(2) "Revenue Court" in sub-section (1) means a Court having jurisdiction under any local law to entertain suits or other proceeding relating to the rent, revenue or profits of land used for agricultural purposes, but does not include a Civil Court having original jurisdiction under this Code to try such suits or proceedings as being suits or proceedings of a civil nature.

6. [S. 6, last para.] Save in so far as is otherwise expressly provided, nothing herein contained shall operate to give any Court jurisdiction over suits the amount or value of the subject-matter of which exceeds the pecuniary limits (if any) of its ordinary jurisdiction.

Local laws, as it only enacts that where there is an inconsistency, the rules of the C.P. Code do not prevail as against the rules contained in the Special or Local laws. 3 C. 221. In view of S 4 the law applicable to soldiers is the Army Act and it overrides S 60 of the Code. 43 B. 368=28 Bom. L. R 137. S 40, C. P. As far as the latter Court is concerned the Act is in the same position as the legislation of a foreign country. Hence the United Provinces Court of Wards Act could not be invoked in a proceeding in Bengal 56 C. 704. all civil matters, legislation that ousts their jurisdiction must be very carefully examined, and unless the Courts are satisfied that the conditions upon which they are ousted are fulfilled to their own satisfaction, they will not hold that they are debarred from inquiring into any matter before them. They will not take the mere ipse dixit of the authority which ousts them, unless the law definitely states that they are bound to do so. 11 R. 125=1933 R. 124. See also 67 M.L.J. 1=61 L.A. 177=57 M. 443=1934 P.C. 84=118 I.C. 327 (P.C.) The burden of proof is on the party who seeks to oust the jurisdiction of Civil Courts 1928 L. 121 (F.B.) When the Statute which creates the right also prescribes a special remedy, the person aggrieved is limited to the remedy so prescribed. If, however, a legal right is recognised, to exist apart from and independently of the statute and no special remedy is provided, the Civil Courts would continue to exercise their jurisdiction under S. 9 of the C.P. Code 143 I.C. 514=29 N.L.R. 278=1933 N. 193 (F.B.) See also 43 L.W. 262=1935 M.W.N. 1207=160 I.C. 209=1936 M. 421 But see 1935 A.W.R. 1094=157 I.C. 270=1935 A.L.J. 1111.

SPECIAL TRIBUNAL.—The grant of jurisdiction to a Special Tribunal to deal finally or exclusively with the cases arising out of the lawful administration of a particular statute cannot take away the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts to afford relief against any illegality committed under colour of that Statute. If the special tribunal arbitrarily refuses to exercise its jurisdiction or if the rules which create the special tribunal and lay down the procedure are themselves impeached as being ultra vires, then the Civil Courts have jurisdiction to correct the illegality and give proper relief to the aggrieved person 143 I.C. 514=29 N.L.R. 278=1933 N. 193 (F.B.) Where a right and liability has been created by statute and where the legislature has left to another authority the appointment of a tribunal to try such liability and the framing of the procedure under which the tribunal so to be appointed is to carry out its duties, but the tribunal so contemplated by the legislature has never been brought into existence, the subject has the right to proceed in the ordinary Civil Courts with corresponding rights of appeal, unless and until the legislature carries out its duty of appointing a special tribunal. 14 P. 24=152 I.C. 805=15 Pat.L.T. 623=1934 P. 670 (2) (F.B.) Per Courney Terrell, C.J.—When a special tribunal has been appointed and its procedure framed, then the subject cannot proceed to a civil suit in the event of the special tribunal refusing or neglecting to carry out its duties in a proper manner, in other words, refusing or neglecting to exercise its jurisdiction. JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS IN GENERAL.

—Every presumption should be made in favour of the jurisdiction of a Civil Court, which can be taken away only by express words or by necessary implication. 17 C.W. N. 408=17 C.L.J. 239, 33 M. 208; 10 Pat.L.T. 157, 1932 O. 199 (F.B.) The jurisdiction of Courts depends upon the allegations made in the plaint and not upon those which may be ultimately found to be true. 1922 N. 10=18 N.L.R. 121. After annexation of Burmah the Thathanabany or the Burmese Buddhist hierarchy ceased to have jurisdiction to decide civil disputes between members of the Burmese Buddhist priesthood. It is only Civil Courts established by law that could do so. 13 R. 548=158 I.C. 865=1935 R. 376 (F.B.), (6 R. 783=114 I.C. 540=1929 R. 77, Over.) Courts have power in any matter of spiritual and temporal character to enquire into the laws or rules of the tribunal or authority which has inflicted the alleged injury. 39 M. 1056=30 M.L.J. 423. A Court will interfere in a case of dismissal of an officer of a Trust Corporation where the relationship between the officer and the corporation is one of trust and estui que trust but will not, where the relationship is a contractual one. 41 C. 19. As to power of Criminal Court to question action taken by Municipality, see 93 I.C 827=1926 L. 461. "Neota" is not a legal but a social obligation and is therefore not recoverable by means of a suit. 34 P.L.R. 218 = 1933 L. 317 (1). See also 20 B. 190 which relates to a sum of money which, by a resolution of the caste, every casteman was to pay on the occasion of any marriage in his family. The power of a Civil Court to decide questions relating to caste disputes is fully considered by Chandavarkar, J., in 20 B. 174. See also 27 Bom.L.R. 1503. The right of conscience, i.e., the right of individual members of a community to hold certain religious beliefs and opinions is not a matter within the cognizance of Civil Court. But the right to remain in the community or to exercise the rights and privileges of the members of the community is a civil one and must be decided by the Civil Court when called in question. 157 I.C. 302 = 1935 N. 156. Temporary exclusion of some members of a caste from social intercourse with other families on account of infringement of caste rules at the instance of the panchayat is not for the Civil Court. 23 I.C. 801 = 12 A.L.J. 522. See also 15 B. 599; 18 B. 115. But where plaintiff is expelled from the caste suit will lie to determine whether plaintiff's expulsion from caste is valid or not because it is not a matter of social privilege but of legal right which forms part of his status. 15 B. 599, 10 M. 133. See also 21 C. 463, 23 B. 122, 24 B. 13, 12 M. 495, 17 M. 222. A properly assembled caste Panchayat or meeting have jurisdiction to outcaste members of its community who have committed caste offences, and when the Panchayats' proceedings are in order and in consonance with natural justice Civil Courts will not and cannot interfere in the same. 37 Bom.L.R. 417 = 158 I.C. 414 = 1935 B. 361. The general principles applicable to expulsion of members from a club apply to cases of expulsion from caste, while it is open to doubt whether there is an inherent power in the caste not dependent on proof of usage within the caste. 37 Bom.L.R. 603 = 159 I.C. 650 = 1935 B. 367. In order to justify such expulsion, there must be a caste offence, the rules of procedure of the caste, if any, must be complied with, and notice of the charge and of the meeting should be given to the accused and other members of the caste (Ibid). Where the requirements of natural justice are complied with, the Civil Court will not act as a Court of appeal in reference to the decision of the domestic tribunal. 37 Bom. L. R. 261 = 157 I.C. 127 = 1935 B. 268. Nor is it necessary that there should be before the domestic tribunal evidence of the character which would be required in a Court of law. (Ibid). Civil Courts may deal with a caste question where the character of a member has been unjustly injured. 28 M.L.J. 58 = 2 L.W. 446 as to whether suits in respect of caste property are maintainable in Civil Courts. So also suits for inspection of accounts of caste property. 5 B. 83, 34 B. 467. See also 50 B. 124 = 1926 B. 69, 19 B. 507. Suit by caste members to inspect caste documents is maintainable. 56 B. 242. A claim by five of the members of a caste to use the H'adi and the vessels is one of a civil nature. 1921 B. 522. In a case where membership of a caste involves rights to property, the Court has jurisdiction to entertain a suit by a member in respect of expulsion of caste which has been carried out in complete disregard of the rules of the caste. If a caste chooses to make a rule as to the procedure and methods to be adopted in respect of a caste offence, the caste must comply with the rule, and when that rule is disregarded by the caste, the Civil Court will interfere and give relief to the aggrieved member of the caste. 36 Bom.L.R. 901 = 1934 B. 431.

is mandatory, and no discretion is left to the Courts 36 C.W.N. 667=1932 C. 751=140 I.C. 155 See also 61 C. 670 S. 10 does not bar the institution of a suit but only the trial of it under certain circumstances. A Court cannot dismiss a suit under the section but only postpone its trial. 27 M. L.J. 405; 11 A. 148 (154) (F.B.). There is no necessity for stay where there is no possibility of conflict of decrees. 106 I.C. 661 See also on this section 1925 P. 201, 23 A.L.J. 529=1925 A. 615 Nor does the section dispense with the institution of a suit within the proper time when the law expressly requires such institution. 22 B. 640, 77 I.C. 157, 1925 P. 201. Notwithstanding stay of suit, interlocutory orders such as orders for receiver, for an injunction or for attachment before judgment could be passed. 46 B. 431 Under S. 10 a Court has no jurisdiction to decide the question of res judicata. It can only stay the new suit if it finds sufficient reasons 42 C. 926 See also 47 A. 904, 1926 P. 171. Failure of Court to apply section and stay suit—Effect of. 7 Lah.L.T. 4.

OBJECT OF THE SECTION.—The object of S. 10 is to prevent Courts of concurrent jurisdiction from trying two parallel suits in respect of same matter in issue. 36 I.C. 641=24 C.L.J. 514 See also 75 I.C. 231; 48 M.L.J. 251; 23 A.L.J. 585; 1925 A. 677. Object is to avoid conflict of decisions. 29 Bom.L.R. 382=1927 B. 245.

OPERATION OF THE SECTION—If two Courts have concurrent jurisdiction, the institution of proceedings by one party in one Court, cannot, in law, prevent the other party from taking proceedings with respect to the same subject-matter in the other Court, and all that can be done in such a case is to stay proceedings in one of the Courts on the principles of S. 10, in order to avoid multiplicity of litigation 157 I.C. 796, and also to avoid a conflict of decisions on the same points which are involved in the two suits, 1935 S. 225; 1935 L. 76. An appeal is a continuation of the suit for the purposes of the section. 82 I.C. 539, 24 C.L.J. 514; 30 I.C. 753=1915 M.W.N. 844, 36 C.W.N. 1=61 M.L.J. 420 (P.C.); 1931 C. 779 (1); 1932 C. 751 Pendency of an appeal before Privy Council is a bar to the trial of a subsequent suit where the same issue is raised, though the relief claimed is different 23 O.C. 214=58 I.C. 629. The pendency of an application for leave to appeal to the Privy Council is no bar 21 M. 18, 1931 L. 50. A proceeding under S. 47 is not a suit within the meaning of the section 22 M. 256. Interlocutory orders under S. 10 occur in suits and not in execution proceedings. The section is not exhaustive and its application has been extended only to proceedings under certain Acts and miscellaneous proceedings by virtue of S. 141 and this latter section does not cover proceedings in execution of a decree. 119 I.C. 484=1929 L. 694. Where in the absence of a prayer in the plaint the Courts give a direction in the preliminary decree for ascertainment of future mesne profits, a subsequent suit for the same future mesne profits is not barred by S. 10. 57 M.L.J. 515.

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION—One test of applicability of section to a particular case is whether on the final decisions being reached in the previous suit, such judgment would operate as res judicata in the subsequent suit. 61 C. 670=38 C.W.N. 818=154 I.C. 645=1935 C. 1, 36 C.W.N. 667=110 I.C. 155=1932 C. 751. It is not necessary for applicability of the section that the subject-matter and the causes of action should be the same (Ibid). Where the matters in issue in one are directly and substantially in issue in another, the mere addition in the second suit of a prayer for declaration of illegality of an interim order of attachment in the first suit, and of a prayer for an injunction against the first suit being proceeded with, will not affect the identity of the two suits. 61 C. 670 (noted supra) The three essential conditions that are necessary to bring in operation S. 10 are (1) that the matter in issue in the second suit is directly and substantially in issue in the previously instituted suit, (2) that the parties in the two suits are the same, and (3) that the Court in which the first suit is instituted is a Court of competent jurisdiction to grant the relief claimed in the subsequently instituted suit. Where the Court deciding the earlier suit based on title was shown to have no jurisdiction to grant relief as to valuation and apportionment which formed the subject-matter of the later suit, held, that the later suit could not be stayed under S. 10. 60 C. 1096=1933 C. 887. S. 10 requires that "the matter in issue" in the later suit should be directly and substantially in issue in the earlier suit; the section will not apply when only "a matter in issue" is common to both the suits. According to the balance of authority in Madras, the expression "the matter in issue" denotes the entire subject in controversy. 67 M.L.J. 748; 155 I.C. 1002=41 L.W. 449=1935 M. 112. See also 61 C. 670=38 C.W.N. 818; 1935 L. 816. S. 10 is not applicable to the stay of a suit connected with a pending appeal. But the Court has inherent jurisdiction to stay the suit if that is in the interest of both parties. 144 I.C. 107=1933 L. 50. It is mandatory upon the Court, under S. 10, not to proceed with the trial of any suit in which the matter raised is also raised in a previously instituted suit. But it is discretionary with the Court to stop the proceedings at an earlier stage. As a matter of common sense and convenience, if the second suit is parallel to the first, then the best course for everybody concerned is to put a stay upon or arrest altogether the second suit at the earliest possible moment, and in a proper case the Court has power to stay a suit generally at any stage it thinks expedient to do so. 61 C. 670=38 C.W.N. 818. It is hardly open to a party to blow hot and cold and ask the Court not to inquire into an application filed by such party until a previous suit in respect of the same subject-matter filed by him is decided by another Court. 149 I.C. 1169=1934 S. 38.

CONDITIONS FOR OPERATION OF THE SECTION.—There must be substantial identity between the matters in dispute and parties in the earlier and later suits. 44 B. 283; 9 I.C. 929=13 Bom. L.R. 109; 48 M.L.J. 251=88 I.C. 421. 'Matter in issue' has reference to the entire subject-matter in controversy and every matter in dispute should be in issue in both the suits. 82 I.C. 539; 36 I.C. 641=24 C.L.J. 514; 4 Pat. L.J. 557, 48 M.L.J. 251, 103 I.C. 274=26 L.W. 241, 8 L.L.J. 76=26 P.L.R. 185=1926 L. 304; 47 A. 915; 51 A. 1017, 6 R. 775, 1929 O. 341. But see 1932 C. 751. It is not sufficient that there are some issues common to the two suits. 1927 B. 245, 1935 M. 112; 15 L.W. 646=1922 M. 304, 1925 M. 574, 1929 A. 805, 4 Luck. 573, 1931 O. 313. An application under S. 20, Sch. 2, is not a plaint and the hearing of such an application is not a suit though under sub-C1 (2), S. 20, it has to be numbered and registered as a suit. S. 10 is applicable only to suits. 1929 L. 533. Where objections to an award are preferred in a Court no application under S. 10, C.P. Code, for stay of proceedings lies on the ground that a suit in respect of the same subject-matter has been instituted in another Court by the applicant. (1928 S. 169 and 1934 S. 38, Rel on.) 1935 S. 228.

EFFECT OF CONTRAVENTION OF SECTION.—A decree passed in contravention of S. 10 is not a nullity and cannot be disregarded in execution proceedings. 22 P.R. 1919=46 I.C. 419.

'THE MATTER IN ISSUE'.—The expression denotes the entire subject in controversy, and the section is not applicable when there is only 'a matter in issue' common to both the suits. 40 L.W. 715=153 I.C. 769=1935 M. 24=67 M.L.J. 748, 41 L.W. 449=1935 M.W.N. 123=155 I.C. 1002=1935 M. 112, 160 I.C. 805=1935 L. 816. See also 1929 A. 805.

"PREVIOUSLY INSTITUTED SUIT".—The date of presentation of plaint and not date of admission is the date of institution for the purpose of this section. 62 C. 1115. Suit first instituted in wrong Court and subsequently in proper Court—Suit instituted by opponent in another Court in the meantime—Which suit is previous. See 144 I.C. 56=1933 S. 177. In order to arrive at a correct decision as to whether a subsequent suit is "parallel" to a previous suit, so as to attract the application of S. 10, C.P. Code, regard must be had to the position of affairs at the time when each of the suits is respectively instituted and what would be the position of affairs when both the suits have been tried and finally determined. The real criterion to apply is, supposing the first suit was determined, would the position then be that when the second suit was instituted, the matters raised in the second suit were res judicata by reason of the decision in the prior suit. 61 C. 670=38 C.W.N. 818. Where stay of prior criminal proceedings was asked because of the institution of a civil suit subsequently, held, that the principle of S. 10 might be applied and stay refused. 151 I.C. 897=1934 A.L.J. 342=1934 All. 131.

SUIT IN NATIVE STATE.—High Court can order party before it not to proceed with suit in Native State. 1927 B. 135=29 Bom. L.R. 138.

LITIGATING UNDER THE SAME TITLE.—See also notes under S. 11.

INHERENT POWERS.—Stay of suit under inherent powers. See S. 151, C.P. Code. 123 I.C. 50=1930 L. 527; 1933 L. 50; 141 I.C. 186=1933 L. 603.

POWERS OF THE HIGH COURT.—The High Court on its Original Side can order a party to a suit before it not to proceed with a suit instituted by him in a mufassal Court in such a way as to delay or embarrass the trial of the suit in the High Court. 44 B. 283.

BURDEN OF PROOF.—The onus is on the defendant to show that the case comes under S. 10. 39 I.C. 908=3 Pat. L.W. 327.

APPEAL.—An order by a single Judge of the High Court refusing to stay a suit under S. 10, C.P. Code, is a judgment within Cl. 15 of the Letters Patent and is appealable. 61 C. 670=38 C.W.N. 818.

REVISION.—The High Court can entertain an application for revision from an order under this section, if suitable grounds are disclosed. 33 P.L.R. 787=139 I.C. 48=1933 L. 34. An order under S. 10 is not a decision of a case within S. 115 and not liable to revision. 67 I.C. 870=4 L.L.J. 425=1922 L. 54. But see 139 I.C. 48. See also 141 I.C. 177=34 P.L.R. 86=1933 Lah. 191. An order staying a second suit under the inherent jurisdiction of the Court to avoid the risk of conflicting rulings may, if the risk be groundless, be revised under S. 107 of the Government of India Act. 141 I.C. 186=34 P.L.R. 123=1933 L. 605.

Explanation.—The pendency of a suit in a foreign Court does not preclude the Courts in British India from trying a suit founded on the same cause of action.

11. [S. 13.] No Court shall try any suit or issue in which the matter directly and substantially in issue has been directly and substantially in issue in a former suit between the same parties, or between parties under whom they are any of them claim, litigating under the same title, in a Court competent to try such subsequent suit or the suit in which such issue has been subsequently raised, and has been heard and finally decided by such Court.

Notes.

Sec. 11 APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Not exhaustive of the law of res judicata. 16 M. 141; 24 M.L.J. 469; 48 C. 499=40 M.L.J. 423 (P.C.); 26 M. 760; 39 C.L.J. 40=79 I.C. 520=1924 C. 600; 94 I.C. 423=1926 S. 236; 27 P.L.R. 504=1926 L. 603=8 L. 15; 56 C. 639; 117 I.C. 83=1929 L. 781, 1930 L. 487; 32 Bom. L.R. 389; 58 I.A. 158=53 A. 103=61 M.L.J. 196 (P.C.); 61 C. 1=151 I.C. 743=1934 C. 430, 146 I.C. 138=1933 O. 507 (F.B.); 158 I.C. 1074=1935 C. 596, 1935 L. 826. The section not being exhaustive, English decisions may be referred to ascertain the general principles governing the doctrine. 59 I.A. 247=10 K. 22=63 M.L.J. 64 (P.C.) But the general principles cannot be extended to cases which are within S. 11. 9 I.C. 910=1926 L. 670; 56 M.L.J. 52, 152 I.C. 894=1934 S. 112; 1935 C. 792, 40 C.W.N. 174; or where the application of doctrine is expressly forbidden by S. 11 1934 N. 178. If a case clearly comes within the purview of S. 11, then it is not allowable to fall back upon the more or less nebulous doctrine of the general principles of res judicata, and cases must be decided according to the language of S. 11 as interpreted by Courts. 14 L. 437=146 I.C. 880=1933 L. 646. See also 145 I.C. 334=1933 L. 614; 14 L. 369=141 I.C. 454=1933 L. 551. The principle of res judicata is mutual; and even a successful party may in some cases be bound by an adverse finding. 38 Bom. L.R. 853=165 I.C. 987=1936 B. 402. Foundation of rule is there should be an end to litigation as to any issue which has been determined between the parties by a Court of competent jurisdiction. 1 P. 174. See also 36 B. 283, 1929 M. 404, 61 C. 1=1934 C. 430, 60 C.L.J. 324. Where the decision of the Court in a previous suit determined that S. 12-A, Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, did not apply to a transaction, a Court, in a new suit between the same parties with regard to the same transaction, cannot try anew the issue as to its applicability. 63 I.A. 53=15 P. 203=40 C.W.N. 289=1936 P.C. 46=70 M.L.J. 122 (P.C.). See also 159 I.C. 462=1935 C. 725. The doctrine of lis pendens does not prevail over the rule of res judicata if the latter is applicable. 61 C. 494=38 C.W.N. 492=1934 C. 552. The principle of res judicata cannot be pleaded against a statute. But when the decision in the prior suit was not a pure question of law but was a mixed question of law and fact, the rule would apply. 1935 A.L.J. 490=156 I.C. 810=1935 A. 588. Certainty is essential for the application of the rule of res judicata. 1930 M.W.N. 729. Plea of res judicata not a matter of jurisdiction but mixed question of law and fact—Decision on—Final. 9 P. 674. Res judicata differs from estoppel. One ousts the jurisdiction of the Court, while the other shuts the mouth of a party. 36 B. 283=29 S.L.R. 455=164 I.C. 43=1936 S. 99. Does not cover all cases of estoppel by judgment. 36 M. 141=24 M.L.J. 469; 40 A. 593 (P.C.). Allowing a decree to become barred will bar a suit again on the same cause of action. 33 C. 679, 41 M. 641=34 M.L.J. 167 (23 M. 629, 1188, 25 M. 300, Appr.); 99 I.C. 478=1927 O. 60. Dismissal of suit, if contention not established, bars a subsequent suit on the same contention in another form. 37 B. 224. A matter, which is res judicata, cannot be agitated afresh merely by reason of a suggestion, made in a judgment which was unnecessary to the decision of the case, that the party may bring another suit. 158 I.C. 995=1935 Pesh. 150. The rule of res judicata could not be invoked by the plaintiff whose contentions in the two suits were mutually contradictory. 1936 M. 988. Where an application was held by the Court as not being maintainable under S. 47, C.P. Code and the same was confirmed in appeal, a party to it cannot raise the question in a subsequent suit as to applicability of S. 47. 42 L.W. 442=1935 M. 615=69 M.L.J. 139. An order striking out a person's name from the list of defendants is in effect an order dismissing the suit as against him and the dismissal of the suit as against him is final unless and until it is set aside by way of appeal. When the dismissal becomes final, a subsequent suit seeking the same relief against such person does not lie. 152 I.C. 1079=1934 R. 154. Where causes of action are distinct, as many actions as there are causes of action can be brought. 27 C. 142; 1930 A.L.J. 913. A decree in an administration suit does not bar a suit for distribution of the shares declared by the decree. 64 I.C. 813. Where, in a suit for accounts of a dissolved partnership, there was found due to a defendant a certain amount, but he remained ex parte and did not choose to ask for a decree for that amount, there is nothing to prevent that party from claiming the amount due in the prior suit by a fresh suit. 1934 M. 665=67 M.L.J. 413. Dismissal of a prior suit for declaration of title by adverse possession no bar to a subsequent suit provided 12 years' adverse possession after the date of prior suit is proved. 33 A. 463, 1926 L. 668. The dismissal of a suit by reversioner for declaration that he was the next reversioner is no bar to a subsequent suit for possession of the property. 70 I.C. 685=20 A.L.

Explanation I.—The expression “former suit” shall denote a suit which has been decided prior to the suit in question whether or not it was instituted prior thereto.

Explanation II.—For the purposes of this section, the competence of a Court shall be determined irrespective of any provisions as to a right of appeal from the decision of such Court

Explanation III.—The matter above referred to must in the former suit have been alleged by one party and either denied or admitted, expressly or impliedly, by the other.

Notes.

J. 672, 1931 A. 21 Dismissal of suit for partition under a compromise not carried out does not bar a second suit for partition. 37 A. 155, 36 M. 46, 35 M. 75; 20 C.L.J. 583. So also where the first decree, declaring the right of parties to partition, has not been given effect to. 37 B. 307=56 I.C. 610, 31 I.C. 205. But see 40 I.C. 820=1917 M.W.N. 327. Rule has no application to a case where a suit is withdrawn with liberty for another suit. 11 I.C. 831. Withdrawal of suit in appeal—Findings in judgment permitting withdrawal of suit after allowing appeal—Not res judicata. 39 C.W.N. 586. Where there are two inconsistent decisions, later decision operates as res judicata. 44 A. 319, 65 I.C. 877, 37 A. 531, 31 M.L.J. 219; 46 A. 220. See also 18 R.D. 414; 155 I.C. 726=1935 N. 122, 155 I.C. 571=1935 A. 645 Where there are two decrees operating as res judicata, the earlier decree must prevail 49 A. 606. The plea of res judicata is available not only as regards final conclusions. But also regarding the findings necessary for arriving at conclusions. 39 M. 1202=27 M.L.J. 529; 39 C.L.J. 40=79 I.C. 520 See also 1933 L. 534. To operate as res judicata, the finding must be material and necessary 61 C. 1=151 I.C. 743=1934 C. 430. There is no distinction, regarding res judicata, between questions of fact and questions of law 1935 R.D. 242 A judgment can operate as res judicata only in so far as it finally determines a controversy which is directly and substantially in issue in the case 18 N.L.J. 32 The plea of res judicata may be waved by the party. 31 M.L.J. 219; 155 I.C. 571=1935 A.W.R. 270=1935 A. 645 The party omitting to plead res judicata intentionally invites the Court to decide the case on the merits and having failed to secure a decision in his favour he cannot go behind it (Ibid) 48 C.L.J. 577=114 I.C. 129=1929 C. 163. Rule applies though the value of the property on a former occasion was higher. 1931 L. 217=134 I.C. 524

APPLICATION.—Prior decision on a point of jurisdiction is res judicata in subsequent suit relating to same subject-matter as on any other point. 39 P.L.R. 117

VOID DECREES OR DECREES OBTAINED BY FRAUD.—A void decree cannot operate as res judicata. 7 B. 408. A decree obtained by fraud or collusion, is nullity. 26 A. 272; 24 A. 242; 144 I.C. 524=1933 L. 573. So also a judgment of a Court not competent to decide it is a nullity 28 M. 42, 1930 A. 681, or an order without jurisdiction for the execution of a decree, 1928 M. 746=114 I.C. 545, or decision on an issue which Court was not competent to decide 107 I.C. 895=1928 O. 298. It is open to any party to show that the judgment was obtained by fraud or collusion or that there was want of jurisdiction and in such case S. 11 would not apply. 1936 A. W.R. 1009=1936 A.L.J. 1162.

ERRONEOUS DECISIONS.—A Court empowered by law to try a suit has power to try it either rightly or wrongly A judgment of a Court having jurisdiction, however erroneous, cannot be a nullity and will operate as res judicata. 157 I.C. 917=1935 M. 835=69 M.L.J. 196. A wrong decision operates as res judicata. 60 I.C. 404; 1918 M.W.N. 580=49 I.C. 369; 10 Pat.L.T. 630; 1930 R. 294; 1931 A. 425; 1932 B. 257; I.R. 1933 M. 46; 18 R.D. 414, 1933 R. 383, 16 Pat.L.T. 448=158 I.C. 734=1935 P. 526 As to wrong decision on question of law, see 7 L.R. 21 (Rev.), 38 Bom.L.R. 853=165 I.C. 987=1936 B. 402, 162 I.C. 709=40 C.W.N. 627=1936 C. 200, 42 L.W. 446=1935 M. 835=69 M.L.J. 196; 14 P. 633=159 I.C. 173=16 Pat.L.T. 819. Even an issue of law wrongly decided does operate as res judicata, as S. 11 makes no distinction between an issue of fact and an issue of law, specially when there is identity of the matter in issue and also the identity of the causes of action 14 L. 442=143 I.C. 90 (2)=34 P.L.R. 452=1933 L. 325. As to wrong decision on mixed questions of law and fact, see 1926 O. 417, 65 M.L.J. 684=1933 M. 925. An erroneous decision on the question of the construction of a deed of transfer operates as a bar. 29 B. 339 (347) (P.C.), 10 C. 697; 41 C. 778; 31 M.L.J. 97; 59 I.A. 74=54 A. 93=62 M.L.J. 371 (P.C.), 1932 B. 257. An erroneous decision as to when the cause of action for a particular claim arises would be res judicata. 38 Bom.L.R. 853=165 I.C. 987=1936 B. 402. So also where a decision between the parties was considered by the Court and declared not to be res judicata, the latter decision, even if erroneous in law, operates as res judicata. 39 P.L.R. 117 When a Court trying a rent suit decides a question of title, if the decision is necessary for the purposes of that suit and the question is directly and substantially in issue between the parties, the decision, though erroneous, must be treated as constituting res judicata. 158 I.C. 734=16 Pat.L.T. 448=1935 P. 526. Whether distinction can be made between decisions on abstract questions of law and concrete questions such as construction of a particular document, see 45 B. 1260 in which 18 B. 525 is considered. Apparently no distinction can be made. 2 P. 771.

Notes.

CHANGE IN LAW.—WHETHER AFFECTS res judicata.—A change in the law or a different interpretation of it by the appellate Court cannot operate to reopen matters which had previously become res judicata. 121 M. 18; 56 C. 728 (F.B.). See also 26 M. 104. But see 65 M.L.J. 305=1933 M. 745 (Decision on procedure). Similarly what is not res judicata, at the time a suit is filed cannot have that effect by the change in the law. 85 I.C. 574=1925 M. 1107.

DECISION ON QUESTIONS OF LAW.—An erroneous decision on a point of law may be res judicata. 24 A. 138; 29 M. 225; 28 C. 318; 19 I.C. 244, 21 I.C. 979=19 C.L.J. 34, 15 I.C. 911=15 C.L.J. 684, 45 I.C. 252, 39 C. 848, 9 N.L.J. 183=96 I.C. 963=1926 N. 476, 46 B. 1260, 28 Bom.L.R. 876=1925 B. 481, 99 I.C. 528=1927 A. 206. But see 5 O.W.N. 50. An issue of law may be res judicata if the cause of action in the subsequent suit is the same as in the former suit. 9 I.C. 568=13 C.L.J. 119; 37 M.L.J. 554; 10 C. 1087, 15 A. 327; 26 M. 104; 31 B. 128, 28 M. 517. See also 1928 C. 777=1930 P. 585, 131 I.C. 878; 34 Bom.L.R. 198; 33 Bom.L.R. 1443. See also 14 L. 442 cited supra. Where a decision lays down what the law is and is found to be erroneous, it cannot have force of res judicata in a subsequent proceeding to recover a different relief. 39 C. 848; 32 M.L.J. 63; 32 C. 749, 22 B. 669; 1930 L. 907. An erroneous decision that cocoanut garden did not constitute improvement under S. 3 (4)(f), Madras Estates Land Act, should be confined to matters which existed at time of the decision. Hence that decision would not be res judicata with reference to areas and trees not in existence then. 45 L.W. 15=1937 M. 254=(1937) 1 M.L.J. 233 (F.B.). The decision on a question of law in one proceeding does not bar later proceeding except that the right established in favour of one party in the former proceeding cannot be questioned in a subsequent proceeding. 40 M. 989=31 M.L.J. 513. See also 30 M. 461, 32 C. 729, 49 C.L.J. 357=1929 C. 445, 53 B. 676, 31 P.L.R. 123, 36 L.W. 664. Where in a prior suit for rent, the defendants did not contend that the suit must be dismissed as the plaintiff had failed to comply with S. 194 of the Agra Tenancy Act, they are not debarred from raising the plea in the subsequent suit. 49 A. 918. The existence of a custom is a question of fact and an erroneous decision on the point operates as res judicata even though the subsequent suit relates to different properties. 47 I.C. 373. See also 94 I.C. 463=1926 A. 410; 119 I.C. 768=1929 L. 769 (1). But see 22 I.C. 138. As to question whether a custom is or is not opposed to public policy, see 144 I.C. 669=1933 L. 606. An issue of mixed law and fact stands on the same footing as an issue of fact for purposes of res judicata. 28 C. 318, 65 M.L.J. 684=1933 M. 925, 87 I.C. 811=1926 C. 80; 29 M. 225, 92 I.C. 769=1926 L. 251, 56 C. 728 (F.B.), 1932 P. 337 (construction of document); 14 L. 31=142 I.C. 724=1933 L. 274 (question whether a document was an award or not); 14 L. 409=141 I.C. 577=1933 L. 594 (question of executability of a decree). As to decision on a question of procedure, see 65 M.L.J. 305=145 I.C. 397=1933 M. 745. Section does not apply where the decree is a nullity for want of jurisdiction. 1935 Nag. 28. The rule that estoppel by res judicata does not apply to a question of law has no force in the case of consent decree. 35 M. 75=21 M.L.J. 709. Decision based on an admission made by a legal practitioner on an erroneous conception of law is not res judicata. 6 R. 691.

RES JUDICATA IN SUITS FOR REDEMPTION.—If a decree in a redemption suit does not extinguish the right to redeem, it does not operate by way of res judicata so as to prevent the Courts under S. 11, C.P. Code, from trying a subsequent suit for redemption. 56 A. 561=61 I.A. 362=1934 P.C. 205=67 M.L.J. 813 (P.C.). The right of redemption could not be extinguished by the preliminary decree and could only be extinguished by a final decree. 75 I.C. 919=1923 L. 680. The right to redeem is not lost unless an order absolute is obtained under S. 93, T.P. Act (now O. 34, R. 8) and a fresh suit for redemption is not barred by the preliminary decree for redemption. 18 I.C. 326 (All.); 24 A. 44. See also 44 A. 730, 69 I.C. 167, 48 A. 17; 27 A.L.J. 761, 32 A. 215, 43 B. 334 (F.B.); 25 Bom.L.R. 211; 47 B. 692, 5 L. 371. As to cases in which the right of redemption was held to have been extinguished under the previous decree, see 46 B. 348, 39 M. 896=30 M.L.J. 13 following 25 M. 300 and 31 M. 354, 49 M. 691=50 M.L.J. 612; 18 C. 139, 85 I.C. 480=1925 All. 484. In the case of decree for sale obtained by a mortgagee who does not take further proceedings and bring the property to sale, the mortgagor can file a fresh suit for redemption though he fails to redeem under the original decree. 39 B. 41, 1930 B. 401. But in 39 M. 896=30 M.L.J. 13, it was held that whether the decree be in a suit for foreclosure or in a suit for sale or in a suit for redemption, there is in each case a conditional decree for redemption in favour of the mortgagor and a subsequent suit for redemption is barred. See also 49 M. 691=50 M.L.J. 612 reversing the decision cited in 1925 M. 1191. Where a decree provided payment of the mortgage-money in instalments, in default of which the mortgagee was to remain in possession and also reserved the right to redeem a subsequent suit to redeem not barred. 45 B. 1335. See also 23 A.L.J. 888=1926 A. 20. Second suit for redemption of mortgage—Maintainability—Decree in prior suit by Melcharathdar—Non-payment of mortgage-money—Second suit by Jemmi not barred. 1937 M. 213.

APPLICATION OF THE PRINCIPLE TO EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—The principle of res judicata applies to proceedings in execution of a decree. 31 C. 22, 24 A. 138; 2 P. 772; 11 I.A. 181 (P.C.); 47 C. 446, 92 I.C. 254=1925 L. 640; 1926 N. 476; 102 I.C. 94=1926 O. 216; 100 I.C. 23=9 L.L.J. 173, 99 I.C. 1006=

mesne profits awarded by a decree is not barred by the 12 years' rule under S. 48, C.P. Code, is no bar to a plea by the judgment-debtor that a subsequent application for the same purpose is barred by that rule. 53 M. L.J. 440. Where a plea of limitation was raised by the judgment-debtor in a previous stage of an execution application, but was rejected, the same plea could not be raised again in a subsequent stage of the execution proceedings. 48 I.A. 45=40 M.L.J. 197 (P.C.). The judgment-debtor would be precluded from raising the contention, though the decision is arrived at ex parte, after notice to the judgment-debtor. 66 I.C. 751; 1927 M. 813; 45 B. 453, 44 B. 227, 1927 M. 149, 113 I.C. 92; 10 P. 607; 159 I.C. 641=1935 L. 844. But where attachment order was made ex parte, and there was no personal service nor declaration by Court that there was sufficient service of notice, the question of limitation can be raised in respect of a later execution petition 1937 M. 84. In some extreme cases even when there is declaration as to sufficiency of service made by Court, judgment-debtor may be permitted to raise question of limitation 1935 A.W.R. 1371=1935 A.L.J. 1189 (F.B.). Where the Court after examining the decree-holder and holding that the application for execution was in time ordered notice to the defendant and the latter though served did not appear, but the decree-holder also being absent and not taking steps the execution was dismissed, the judgment-debtor can in a subsequent application for execution raise the plea that the prior application was beyond the period of limitation, as there was no decision on the question of limitation in the prior execution case. 38 C.W.N. 1144=40 C.W.N. 510. But where the judgment-debtor appeared and allowed an order of attachment to become final, he could not subsequently contend that the decree was barred by time. 151 I.C. 1015=30 C.W.N. 163=1934 C. 465. The ex parte order need not be written in extenso covering all objections raisable by judgment-debtor. The subsequent dismissal of execution petition for non-prosecution or other cause does not affect the bar of res judicata 1928 M. 1052. Where notice is not served the rule has no application. 30 Bom. L.R. 38, 1929 L. 334, 36 Bom.L.R. 115=150 I.C. 866=1934 B. 113, 146 I.C. 317=1933 M. 844. But want of notice to the judgment-debtors will not make the dismissal of the execution petition put in by the judgment creditor any the less res judicata against the latter. 145 I.C. 397=1933 M. 745=65 M.L.J. 305. Even in an application for transfer of a decree, it is open to the judgment-debtor to plead limitation and he ought to do so. 47 M. 641=47 M.L.J. 4. But see 131 I.C. 702=157 I.C. 971=1935 P. 485. If a judgment debtor after receiving notice to show cause why the decree should not be transferred to another Court for execution does not raise all his objections to execution such as limitation, discharge, etc., it will not be open to him to raise such pleas in a later execution petition on the ground of constructive res judicata. 1929 M. 199. See also 92 I.C. 47=1926 N 200; 1 Luck. 171; 1928 M.W.N. 152. But not where no notice on judgment-debtor was personally served and no declaration of due service was made by the Court. 44 L.W. 460=1936 M. 812=71 M.L.J. 317. A question of the liability of a judgment-debtor may be treated as res judicata in subsequent proceedings in execution of the same decree when it has been dealt with and disposed of at an earlier stage of those proceedings even by a necessary implication. 35 P.L.R. 692=1934 L. 637 (2). The non-appearance in a petition to transfer a decree with which defendant 4 had no connection cannot create any constructive res judicata that the property of the testator in the hands of that defendant was liable to be proceeded against in execution. 144 I.C. 30=1933 M. 508. It cannot be said that the principle of constructive res judicata has no application to execution proceedings. Where the effect of the prior decision is that the application for execution is held as maintainable it has the effect of deciding that the person at whose instance the application is held maintainable has a right to maintain it. 151 I.C. 913 (2)=38 C.W.N. 141=1934 C. 472. See also 1933 L. 3=144 I.C. 259 (Objection as to the power of an agent to file execution not raised in previous application) But the principle is not applicable to application for restitution or to application for execution of portion of a decree. 38 P.L.R. 723=163 I.C. 97=1936 L. 246. An order in execution to the effect that the decree is not executable is res judicata in subsequent execution proceedings. 4 P.L.J. 330=47 I.C. 154. An objection that a decree could not be executed not raised at the first execution application, could not be raised in a subsequent stage. 44 A. 350; 4 Pat.L.J. 213; 80 I.C. 905. See also 31 C. 22, 99 I.C. 870; 151 I.C. 285=1934 Pesh. 64; 38 P.L.R. 580, 160 I.C. 448=1936 Pesh. 9. But where notice of execution petition was affixed on the outer door of the defendant's house when he was absent and there was no declaration by Court that the notice was duly served, it was not due service for the purpose of constructive res judicata and the defendant can in subsequent proceedings show that the application was out of time. 142 I.C. 765=64 M.L.J. 637=1933 M. 406. See also 64 M.L.J. 629=1933 M. 466; 1937 M. 84. A decision as to limitation in an execution application filed by the attaching creditor is not res judicata in a subsequent execution proceedings between the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor. 143 I.C. 542=1933 P. 210. The fact that the subsequent application for execution relates to different items of property does not take the case out of the rule. 45 M.L.J. 71. Judgment-debtor not objecting to addition as supplemental judgment-debtor or purchaser of equity of redemption during pendency of execution of mortgage decree is precluded from objecting later on that the purchase was only benami for the decree-holder. 1929

M. 404. But an omission to raise the objection to a wrong claim in execution, is not res judicata in a latter execution application, proceedings. 44 A. 159; 1933 A. 922. But see 1934 C. 472 cited supra. Failure to raise a plea of payment or to dispute correctness of amount claimed in execution, will not bar judgment-debtor from raising the same at a later stage or in subsequent proceedings. 45 L.W. 291=(1937) 1 M.L.J. 296. Finding as to the value of property in an application to set aside execution sale is not binding on auction purchaser at a subsequent sale. 105 I.C. 153. Where a judgment-debtor omits to raise the objection that an application in execution is not made to the proper Court having jurisdiction, he is not precluded from contending that subsequent applications of which he has had no notice, are also not made to the proper Court. 42 L.W. 856=1935 M. 935=69 M.L.J. 466. The principle of constructive res judicata should not be applied to execution proceedings unless the decision of the question subsequently sought to be agitated was given expressly or by necessary implication or must be deemed to have been implied in the previous decision. 40 M. 780. See also 144 I.C. 365=1933 M. 595. Even if a point is decided by necessary implication, it operates as res judicata in subsequent proceedings in the course of the same execution. Where a declaratory decree for maintenance was executed from time to time, without protest by the judgment-debtor, he cannot be allowed subsequently to object on the ground that the decree, being merely declaratory, was not executable. 14 L. 409=141 I.C. 577=1933 L. 594. See contra 157 I.C. 865=1935 Pesh. 119.

Per Sulaiman, C. J.—(1) Where there has been an express adjudication by the Court in the presence of parties, then the question must be considered to have been finally decided, no matter whether it is raised again at a subsequent stage of the same proceeding, or in a subsequent execution proceeding. (2) Where an objection is taken but is dismissed or struck off, even though not on the merits, and the application for execution becomes fructuous, the judgment-debtor is debarred from raising the question of the invalidity of that application. (3) Where an objection to execution is taken, but it is not dismissed on the merits or is dismissed for default, and the application for execution does not become fructuous, the judgment-debtor is not debarred from subsequently raising the question that that application was not within limitation. (4) Where no objection to the execution is taken but the application becomes partly or wholly fructuous and such fructification necessarily involves, the assumption that the application was made within limitation, then after such fructification the judgment-debtor is debarred by the principle of res judicata from raising the question that that application was not within limitation. (5) Where no objection is taken but the application for execution does not fructify, the judgment-debtor is not debarred by the principle of res judicata from raising the question of limitation later 1935 A.W.R. 1371=1935 A.L.J. 1189 (F.B.). S. 11, Expl. IV does not extend to execution proceedings. An issue not raised in a claim proceeding can be subsequently raised in an application under O. 21 R. 50 (2). 44 A. 130. See also 90 I.C. 276; 1925 P. 588. But see 15 L. 869=35 P.L.R. 429=155 I.C. 286=1935 L. 200; 1936 L. 942, 1936 L. 167, holding that the principle of constructive res judicata as embodied in Expl. IV applies to execution proceedings. While raising his objections in answer to a notice under O. 21, R. 12, the judgment-debtor is not bound to raise all other points than the maintainability of execution application. The dismissal of that objection does not operate as res judicata so as to preclude a subsequent objection by him as to the mode of execution 146 I.C. 1024=1933 L. 826. See also 1928 M. 203. An objection of a judgment-debtor in execution proceedings which is dismissed for default does not operate as res judicata against the judgment-debtor to prevent him from making the same objection again. 1935 A.L.J. 403=157 I.C. 426=1935 A. 502; 1935 A.L.J. 278=153 I.C. 508=1935 A. 238. But see 1935 C. 816. So also where no order was passed by the Court on an application and where the proceeding itself was withdrawn without the Court considering the pleas raised by the party. 158 I.C. 891=1935 M. 786. Nor where the original decree-holder had ceased to prosecute his application and the assignees did not present a fresh execution application under O. 21, R. 16, C. P. Code 1935 L. 966. Where after the execution application has been registered a notice is issued to the judgment-debtor under O. 21, R. 22, C. P. Code, but on the date on which he is asked to show cause, he is absent and fails to object to the execution on the ground that the application is barred by limitation, and the execution petition itself is dismissed for default, the judgment-debtor is not barred by the principle of constructive res judicata from raising the question of limitation in a subsequent application 159 I.C. 637=39 C.W.N. 1206=1935 C. 664. See also 39 C.W.N. 583=156 I.C. 604=1935 C. 306. Judgment-debtor having waived proclamation is barred from objecting to absence of attachment after several adjournments. 139 I.C. 866; 1928 M. 203; 1930 M. 414=120 I.C. 863, 1930 M.W.N. 729. Omission to appear and settle terms does not bar a plea that property was not liable to attachment in execution. 46 M. 768=45 M. L.J. 346. An order of attachment before judgment maintained in spite of objections does not act as res judicata in execution proceedings as to attachability of property attached. 150 I.C. 213=1934 L. 153. Omission by judgment-debtor to object to the execution being taken out for an excessive amount does not bar the same objection in later petitions. 1929 M. 903. See also 1929 R. 172; 143 I.C. 783=1933 N. 182. But a decree-holder having recovered by execution from judgment-debtor the amount stated in his execution petition as being due under the decree is precluded from putting fresh execution petition for further sums as being due under decree. 119 I.C. 223 (2)=1929 R. 182. But an erroneous order recording adjustment passed without notice to parties does not bar a subsequent application for recovery of a larger sum as due. 142 I.C. 579=1933 S. 112. A plea that an application for setting aside an execution sale is barred cannot be set up by the auction-purchaser at a late stage of the proceeding. 48 B. 638. Where no finding is given by a Court on an issue as to the jurisdiction of a Court to pass certain order which forms the basis of the execution proceedings, the question of the application of the doctrine of res judicata cannot arise in such a case 159 I.C. 739=1935 N. 250 (F.B.). Where an objection petition in an execution proceeding is dismissed for non-prosecution, there is no adjudication on the merits and it cannot be res judicata 67 I.C. 663=1923 C. 287. Also dismissal for default of an execution application. 1929 B. 217; 160 I.C. 835=44 L.W. 565=71 M.L.J. 490. But see 144 I.C. 488=1933 L. 697. Where the controversy was between the legal representatives of the decree-holder and an alleged assignee of a portion of the decree regarding the right to execute the decree and where the previous application by the legal representatives was dismissed for default of appearance. See also 163 I.C. 38=1936 P. 616. An order passed by the Court ex parte after notice duly served, binds the defendant on general principle of res judicata as much as a contested order. 37 M. 462=26 M.L.J. 189, 26 M.L.J. 83. See also 45 B. 453, 44 B. 227, 1927 M. 149, 10 P. 607, 1927 M. 813. An omission to object to the execution application being not in accordance with law operates as res judicata. 1928 C. 861. But see 1935 A.L.J. 642=155 I.C. 673=1935 A. 727. Omission to object to assignment of decree by judgment-debtor after due notice and the recognition of assignment by Court bars judgment-debtor from questioning assignment at later stage. 40 C.W.N. 1393. Even where judgment-debtor objects and the Court proceeds with execution with intervening assignee substituted as decree-holder, the assignment, by implication, operates as res judicata 1935 R. 174. The dismissal of an execution petition bars a fresh execution petition for a different relief if based on the same question of fact 122 I.C. 579=1929 M. 404. As to effect of dismissal of an application for delivery after an order for delivery had been passed once, see 65 M.L.J. 305=145 I.C. 397=1933 M. 745. The issue of notice to legal representatives of deceased judgment-debtor under O. 21, R. 22 does not involve the question whether a particular property belongs or not to the deceased judgment-debtor and that question is not barred by res judicata in later proceedings 1928 M. 746=114 I.C. 545; 60 M.L.J. 628=1931 M. 303. Where an application is made in a pending execution to bring on record a person as the legal representative of the judgment-debtor and such person's objection for his being impleaded is dismissed, he can subsequently raise the plea that the execution is barred by limitation as he is not bound to take this objection when he was sought to be impleaded. 150 I.C. 947=11 O.W.N. 814=1934 O. 289. Where an objection to sale on the ground that the land was service inam and was not liable to be sold was dismissed, the same objection cannot be raised in subsequent execution proceedings against some other items of the same survey number, even though a decision of the Collector was obtained in the meantime under the Madras Hereditary Village Officers Act that the land was service inam land 140 I.C. 779=1933 M. 130. Order in execution proceeding regarding nature of land to be sold is not final and cannot operate as res judicata to a later suit. 7 O.W.N. 1162=1931 O. 62. Where however judgment-debtor with full knowledge allows settlement of proclamation, and the sale, he cannot afterwards impeach the sale on the ground that the mortgagee has caused to be sold in execution proceedings properties which were not comprised in the suit mortgage and which could not therefore be lawfully sold. 40 C.W.N. 428. An over allowing claim to rateable distribution becomes final when not appealed against or set aside otherwise, and principles of res judicata would apply to it. 1936 L. 891. The principle of res judicata must be applied wherever it is relevant, and a decision between the parties in execution proceedings operates as res judicata in a subsequent suit between them. 158 I.C. 1059=37 Bom.L.R. 123=1935 B. 174.

APPLICATION OF PRINCIPLE TO OTHER MISCELLANEOUS PROCEEDINGS.—Dismissal of an application to set aside an ex parte decree (not a suit within the meaning of the section) on the ground of non-service of summons would bar a subsequent suit to set aside the decree on the same ground. 1 R. 500, 14 P. 439=16 Pat.L.T. 647=1935 P. 458. Where an application for setting aside an ex parte decree is withdrawn as being defective in certain formalities, a second application for the same purpose is not barred by res judicata by reason of the prior application having been dismissed. 152 I.C. 974=11 O.W.N. 1639=1935 O. 35. Where an application to amend a decree has once been refused on the merits, the decision is conclusive between the parties, and no further applications would lie. 27 I. It has however been held that a suit lies 40 C. 541 Where in a proceeding under O. 22, R. 5, a certain person is (or is not) held to be the legal representative of a deceased party the same question can be re-agitated in a separate suit and is not barred by the rule of res judicata 1924 L. 465; 1936 A.L.J. 622=163 I.C. 283=1936 A. 412 (82 A. 109, Foll. and 24 A.L.J. 546, Diss.) So also the rejection of an application for review 1930 O. 112; 5 P. 276 A question at issue between the parties once heard and finally decided, binds the parties at subsequent stages of the same suit, under general principles of law, though not under S. 11. 48 C. 499=40 M.L.J. 423, 94 I.C. 313=1926 O. 420, 122 I.C. 724; 1930 P. 260, 1930 O. 378 (F.B.) venue Court that a certain firm was a branch of the insolvent firm, and the decision was necessary for the question before it and was upheld by High Court on appeal, it was held that the decision operated as res judicata between the parties. 14 R. 652. But in a petition for adjudication questions as to title to property as between the debtor and others cannot properly arise for determination, and a decision at that stage cannot be regarded as a final determination. 156 I.C. 537=42 L. W. 7=1935 M. 634 As to partition proceedings in revenue courts, see 130 I.C. 382. Where a revenue suit is instituted for ejecting the tenants and this is the only jurisdiction exclusively vested in the Revenue Courts, that Court cannot determine the question of title in that case and its decision therefore cannot operate so as to prevent the Civil Courts from entertaining the subsequent suit, which involves the question of title 1935 L. 739. As to different application in Revenue Court regarding same subject-matter, see 15 L.R. 361 (Rev.)=18 R.D. 331 As to the effect of proceedings for the correction of revenue papers in a subsequent suit, see 14 L.R. 27 (Rev.)=17 R.D. 23. The principle of res judicata is applicable to proceedings taken under the U.P. Land Revenue Act. 14 L.R. 298 (Rev.)=17 R.D. 418. See also 14 L. R. 147 (Rev.)=17 R.D. 232 The decision in qabiz ghaur qabiz proceedings cannot operate as res judicata, when the parties are not present and no issues are struck. 1936 R.D. 44. An order by the Assistant Record Officer passed in the course of revision of records declaring a particular person as an occupancy tenant, does not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit to eject that person as a non-occupancy tenant. 1935 R.D. 407. In proceedings for demarcation of areas and fixing rent in the course of mutation, defendant claimed exproprietary rights, but they were disallowed. Subsequently when the landholder sued to eject him, held, that the disallowance of his claim in prior mutation proceedings did not operate as res judicata but that it was a distinctively relevant fact. 18 R.D. 580=15 L.R. 681 (Rev.). Where application for mutation has been dismissed, fresh application under S. 34, U.P. Land Revenue Act, on same grounds and in respect of same succession or transfer is not maintainable. 18 R.D. 711 (1)=16 L.R. 104 (Rev.) The decision on a question of title, in proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act, to apportion the compensation payable, does not operate as res judicata. 20 M. 269. See also 12 C. 484 (P.C.); 34 C. 466; 45 M. 320=43 M.L.J. 78; 56 B. 50 An order in a claim case, on the validity of a wakf is not res judicata in a suit between the same parties, in which the property in dispute is not the same as that in the claim case though both were included in the wakf 44 C. 698=37 I.C. 887. A decision in a previous proceeding for letters of administration, negating the claim of A as heir of the deceased, arrived at after hearing full evidence, bars a subsequent suit by A for declaration that she is the heir of the deceased. 1 R. 258; 36 C.W.N. 583=164 I.C. 743=1936 R. 401. The finding of a Court under the Succession Act with regard to the genuineness or otherwise of a will is conclusive and operates as res judicata against the parties affected [1914 Bom. 8 (F.B.), Foll.] 161 I.C. 47=1936 Pesh. 39. An order passed after contest in a probate proceeding is res judicata in any subsequent proceeding of any sort against the caveators who contested it as also those who had an opportunity of putting forward their objection 46 M.L.J. 583. See also 57 I.A. 24=58 M.L.J. 171 (P.C.), 36 C.W.N. 583=1932 C. 634. But an order passed on compromise in such proceeding cannot operate as a bar to an application for probate of the same will. 51 C. 745 An order dismissing the application of a party to revoke the grant of probate is conclusive and operates as res judicata in subsequent proceedings. The unsuccessful party cannot therefore re-agitate the matter by entering caveat in a subsequent application for a fresh grant. The fact that the grant had been revoked in the meanwhile at the instance of another person does not remove the bar. The revocation of a grant is not a revocation for all persons, and the parties who have once unsuccessfully attempted to get it revoked cannot come in again 39 C.W.N. 1071. A decision given in a case under S. 37 of the Agra Tenancy Act that certain land is ancestral land bars a subsequent suit by the defeated party for declaration that the land was separately acquired by his branch 14 L.R. 141 (Rev.)=17 R.D. 239 Proceedings taken under S. 77 of the Registration Act cannot operate as res judicata so as to bar a suit for specific performance 54 A. 68 Word 'suit' in S. 11 includes also arbitration proceedings 41 C.W.N. 193 Objection raised before arbitration tribunal may also be res judicata in subsequent suit 1932 L. 378, 1926 S. 42; 1928 S. 20; 1930 S. 195, 1936 L. 865

"FORMER SUIT"—For meaning of "suit", see 1930 P. 588, 13 Pat.L.T. 793 A decision in proceedings for dispaupering will not act as res judicata in the case when the issue is before the Court as an issue in the suit, as the proceedings for dispaupering is not a "former suit" within the meaning of S. 11 149 I.C. 1004=1934 A. 323. An application to file an award under para. 20 of C.P. Code does not bar a subsequent suit for recovery of the properties covered by that award. 147 I.C. 684=1934 M. 68. The expression denotes a previously decided suit under Expt. I, and the same rule applies to appeals 37 C.L.J. 184=74 I.C. 591; 12 A. 678; 12 P. 139=141 I.C. 762=1933 P. 78; 32 A. 67; 8 P. 107. Judgments coming into existence during the pendency of proceedings by way of appeal or revision are not excluded from the operation of the rule of res judicata, if such judgments are allowed to become final. 59 M. 777=43 L.W. 189=1936 M. 190=70 M.L.J. 223. Therefore if a suit is decided between the same parties by a Court establishing the title of one of the parties to the property in dispute, and such decision has become final, the decision constitutes the question of title res judicata, even for the purpose of an appeal or revision from a decree in another suit between the same parties in another Court though the decision relied on as res judicata has been given only after the decision appealed against or sought to be revised (Ibid).

A finding based on evidence in appeal on a ground different from that given by the lower Court would operate as res judicata, 58 B. 544=36 Bom. L.R. 612=1934 B 313. Where there were two suits in the primary Court, decided by a common judgment but concluded by separate decrees and an appeal is preferred only in the first suit, while none is preferred from the decree in the second suit, the decree made in the latter becomes final and operates as res judicata so as to bar the appeal 37 C.L.J. 184=74 I.C. 591; 1924 P. 823, 74 I.C. 583. So also in two cross suits for damages involving the same issue and ending in two separate judgments, decreeing the one and dismissing the other. 34 C.L.J. 281=64 I.C. 574, 74 I.C. 583; 35 A. 187; 19 I.C. 76, 11 A.L.J. 214 (where one appeal abates by reason of the death of the appellant). 2 R 623 (where appeal from one decree dismissed). But if there is nothing prejudicial to the appellant in the decree from which no appeal has been brought, which is not raised and cannot be set right if the appeal which he has brought succeeds the right of appeal is not barred by res judicata. 45 A 506 (F.B.); 87 I.C. 804=1925 A. 488.

"MATTER DIRECTLY AND SUBSTANTIALLY IN ISSUE"—The decision of an issue is res judicata only when the issue arises directly and not incidentally having regard to the subject-matter of the particular suit or proceeding. 14 P. 70=157 I.C. 433=1935 P 306. See also 65 C.L.J. 90=1937 C. 237. The expression "matter in issue" in S 11 of the Code is distinct from the subject-matter and the object of the suit as well as from the relief that may be asked for in it, and the cause of action on which it is based and the rule of res judicata requiring the identity of the matter in issue will apply even when the subject-matter, the object, the relief and the cause of action are different 33 C.W.N. 876. See also 1933 O 535; 37 Bom L.R. 62=1935 B. 131. The matter in dispute should have been put in issue and then decided. 62 M.L.J. 221=1932 P.C. 50=36 C.W.N. 365 (P.C.) See also 56 C.L.J. 369. It should have been put directly in issue. 60 C.L.J. 324=1935 C. 256. The word "directly" seems to be used in contradistinction to the words "incidentally" and "collaterally". The words "substantially" means "in effect though not in express terms" 25 C 136. In a rent suit by a landlord against a tenant, there being no dispute as to the relationship of landlord and tenant, or as to the rate of rent or of the period in arrears, an issue as to whether the landlord has included in the suit all the plots of land covered by the jamas in question, is only an incidental or collateral issue. 62 C.L.J. 517=1936 C. 772. But the relationship of landlord and tenant is the very foundation of a decree in a suit for rent and therefore when such a suit has been decreed the Courts must proceed on the footing that it was a matter necessary to be determined and in fact determined in the earlier rent suit 165 I.C. 623=17 Pat L.T. 633=1936 P. 556. The dismissal of a suit which was primarily one between a landlord and tenant, does not bar a subsequent suit based on title, the plaintiff claiming in the second rights, as against the defendants, which it was not possible to raise in the prior suit. 155 I.C. 7=37 Bom L.R. 62=1935 B. 131. A decision on a point not substantially in issue in a suit cannot operate as res judicata 17 I.C. 860. See also 1926 P.C. 63=30 C.W.N. 673; 96 I.C. 625, 50 M.L.J. 136 (P.C.), 7 Pat L.T. 150=1926 P. 87, 48 A. 17; 1926 C. 1228, ibid 513, 1927 B 145 (Case-law reviewed), 1933 L 920 Under Expl. III the matter must have been alleged by one party and either denied or admitted by the other 6 A 358, it does matter whether the cause of action is the same or different provided the matter directly and substantially in issue, has been directly in issue in a former suit between the same parties. 2 P. 772. But see 144 I.C. 734=1933 R. 106 (First suit for rent, second suit for damages for use and occupation), 58 C.L.J. 145=37 C.W.N. 1144 (Question of abandonment of holding in the second suit after the termination of the earlier suit). In order to see what was in issue in a suit, or what has been heard or decided, the pleadings and the judgment must be looked at and not merely the decree. 37 I.C. 674=14 A.L.J. 1171, 12 I.C. 9=14 C.L.J. 220, 51 I.C. 981=1919 P. 393, 21 A. 251, 16 C. 173; 24 I.A. 33, 29 M. 42, 33 C. 116. See also 150 I.C. 519=1934 O. 265. If a question was directly and substantially in issue in the previous case it will operate as res judicata though decided on other grounds as well 41 I.C. 479. But where all issues framed in former suit were decided against plaintiff, yet eventually decision of suit was based on one issue only the bar of res judicata will not apply as to other issues 161 I.C. 63=1936 Pesh. 61. For a matter to be in issue under S. 11, it is not necessary that an express issue should be framed on it, but it is sufficient if a decision about it is necessary for the decree. 9 L.W. 84=52 I.C. 258; 53 C. 837; 58 C.L.J. 196, 159 I.C. 45=1935 R. 118. But see 62 M.L.J. 221 (P.C.). Or if raised in the pleadings and decided after arguments. 113 I.C. 155. The decision in a previous case on an issue which did not arise at all, cannot operate as res judicata in any subsequent suit 43 I.C. 754, 13 L 524. As to when a decision on an irrelevant issue can operate as res judicata, see 102 I.C. 28(2), 1927 M. 643=103 I.C. 90; 33 Bom.L.R. 1303; 1937 M. 114. Finding on question not necessary for decision of former suit, and not forming basis of decision would not be res judicata. 1936 C. 203; 1935 C. 733. Especially where appellate Court held that the question did not arise at all in the former suit. 165 I.C. 213=17 Pat.L.T. 677 It is the matter in issue and not the subject-matter of the suit that forms the essential test of res judicata. 13 B. 25; 1925 O. 444, 89 I.C. 282, 63 C. 550 Matter in issue in suit need not be in issue in appeal. 4 A.W.R. 1484=153 I.C. 497=1935 A. 268 A suit relating to a $\frac{1}{2}$ share in property covered by a deed of gift is not barred by res judicata by reason of a previous litigation relating to $\frac{1}{2}$ share retained by the donor, when the cause of action is distinctly different and the questions involved in the suit were not substantially and directly in issue in the previous suit. 1936 R.D. 275=1936 O.W.N. 582. Where the question whether a particular sale-deed was a valid document was directly and substantially in issue in the previous suit, the decision of the issue is res judicata though the property involved in the subsequent suit is different from the one which was the subject of the prior suit. 45 A. 515, 4 R. 8, 106 I.C. 861 (2)=1928 N. 112 So also where the question decided is as to the validity of an adoption. 8 M. 219, 2 I.A. 283; 13 A. 53, 13 B. 25; 24 A. 112; 30 A. 470, or as to the status of one party in relation to the other. 152 I.C. 894=1934 S. 112. OTHER ILLUSTRATIVE CASES. Rent suits.—

A rent decree is res judicata on the question of the existence of the relationship of landlord and tenant. 54 I.C. 763, 25 I.C. 204; 10 I.C. 363, 60 C.L.J. 13 (Order of revenue officer under S. 105, B.T. Where in a previous suit by A against B, it was held that B was a tenant of A, a subsequent suit by B against A and C, a pro forma defendant for a declaration that B is not a tenant of A but of C is barred. The decision in a prior suit for rent does not operate as res judicata in a later suit for declaration of title as between the parties but the prior decision can be taken into account as evidence. 60 C. 1307=37 C.W.N. 924. See also 37 Bom.L.R. 62=1935 B. 131 (First suit as between landlord and tenant—Second suit on title) But where the entire question of title to the property was directly and substantially in issue in the previous suit, as in the case where the tenant sets up his own ownership, denying that of the landlord, the decision will operate as res judicata. 12 I.C. 9, 42 I.C. 785 (2). See also 85 I.C. 804=1925 C. 1004, 147 I.C. 1055=1934 P. 282 If the question of title thus substantially in issue in the former suit had been decided, the decision will operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit for rent for a subsequent period. 1 C. 202; also 24 A. 112 If an issue as to the nature of the tenure held by the defendants was directly raised in the previous suit for rent, the decision on the point will operate as res judicata in subsequent suits for rent. 25 C. 136, 14 M.L.J. 379; 13 M. 287, 26 B. 25, 30 M. 510; 30 A. 470; 1930 O. 335; see also 14 L.R. 867 (Rev.) certain period will be res judicata in subsequent suit for rent for a later period unless the matter in dispute was peculiar to that particular year. 1934 M. 563=40 L.W. 656. See also 65 M.L.J. 684=1933 M. 925. A rent decree is not res judicata as to the rate of rent or as to the area for which the rent is payable but only as to the amount due for the years for which the suit was brought 68 I.C. 298; 1923 C. 282 (2), 3 O.W.N. 313 (Sup)=98 I.C. 77=1927 O. 32. [It is, however, good evidence on these points 47 I.C. 173, 1922 P. 213.] But if the Court determines them it is binding on the parties in a suit for rent for subsequent years 43 C.L.J. 116=94 I.C. 844=1926 C. 672. The question of rate of rent is a necessary issue in a suit for enhancement of rent and the Court's decision thereon is res judicata in a subsequent suit for rent, in which the same question is at issue. 59 I.C. 752. This is so even if the decree is passed ex parte 91 I.C. 380=1926 C. 767. But the question whether defendant is occupancy or non-occupancy tenant is not a necessary issue in suit by landlord for enhancement of rent. 1935 R.D. 407. A decision in a suit by ryot to set aside a distrain on the ground that the tender of patta is not proper operates as res judicata on the point in a subsequent suit for rent. 45 M.L.J. 199. Where after the dismissal of a suit for rent, a subsequent suit by the tenant for a declaration of his rights was decreed and a suit was thereupon filed for the apportionment of rent, held, that the previous rent suit operated as res judicata, 35 C.W.N. 46. Order regarding rate of rent in one falsi is res judicata regarding a subsequent falsi. 1932 M.W.N. 639. Dismissal of a suit for rent does not bar a subsequent suit for damages for use and occupation. 144 I.C. 734=1933 R. 116. Where a claim of a third person based on a mortgage is disallowed, and also his suit for a declaration of his mortgage rights is dismissed, he cannot enforce by a regular suit his rights under the mortgage. 44 M. 268=40 M.L.J. 7. Suit by heirs against widow for possession dismissed for non-payment of dower debt ordered by Court to be paid by plaintiff to widow. Second suit for possession by the heirs is not barred. 47 A. 250. First suit by auction-purchaser to set aside order of redelivery under O. 21, R. 101, C.P. Code, dismissed. Subsequent suit for partition of the judgment-debtor's share not barred. 49 M. 596=50 M.L.J. 681. Where a reversioner brought a suit for a declaration that an adoption by a widow is not binding on him and got a decree, the question of relationship is res judicata in a subsequent suit for a declaration that a gift by her is not binding on him. 59 I.C. 808. Dismissal of a suit to declare an alienation by a widow was not binding on the reversioner is res judicata in a subsequent suit by the reversioner for possession after the death of the widow. 59 I.C. 946. See also 1925 M. 1270. But the decision in a suit against Hindu sons on a mortgage executed by their father upholding the mortgage cannot operate as res judicata in a suit by the sons of the defendants in the former suit (grandsons of the alienor) to set aside the mortgage 43 L.W. 677=1936 M. 488=70 M.L.J. 627. The dismissal of a prior suit by the plaintiff's ancestor for chur right in a river on the ground that it formed part of his estate, bars the subsequent suit for establishing his right of fishery in the said river. 1927 C. 403. Where a suit for possession of certain parts of a permanent holding was dismissed on the ground that the plaintiff was not entitled to the tenure a subsequent suit for recovery of certain other plots alleged to form part of the same tenure, is barred by res judicata 37 C.W.N. 810=1933 C. 879=147 I.C. 719. A previous decision between the parties regarding the ownership of a wall in dispute is res judicata in a subsequent suit for injunction regarding the wall and for possession of the strip of land, and a decision of the survey officer with regard to the boundary given in the interval cannot prevail against the previous decision 36 Bom.L.R. 502=1934 B. 248=152 I.C. 60. The decision in a suit based on a possessory right is no bar to a subsequent suit on title. 16 I.C. 431. But it has been held that the decision in proceedings under S. 9, Specific Relief Act, operates as res judicata so as to bar a subsequent suit between the parties on the question of possession 60 C. 1171=37 C.W.N. 1148=1933 C. 923. Where on the death of the previous holder of an estate an application was presented by the appellant for mutation of his name in place of the deceased and the application was based on a valid adoption of the applicant but the application was rejected and subsequently a suit was filed against the applicant challenging the validity of his adoption. Held, that the order rejecting the application did not operate as res judicata as the validity of adoption was not considered and decided by the Court during the proceeding on the application 159 I.C. 437=1935 C. 716. In a previous suit the question of validity of wakf was raised and decided on the admission of parties to the suit and on other matters into which the question of the validity of wakf did not directly, but incidentally enter. In a subsequent suit the validity of wakf was in issue and it was held that the decision in the previous suit did not bar its decision in the subsequent suit. 1935 C. 792.

In cases where a will is in question, no decree or decision in proceedings to which the executors are not parties can be binding on any person or can obliterate the will 1936 C. 585.

EXPLANATION V.—The legal effect of this explanation is that of treating the omission to grant the relief asked for in the plaint as equivalent to an express refusal and the claim thereto in a fresh suit as res judicata. 14 M. 328, 21 C. 265, 21 A. 425. Relief claimed but not expressly granted—Decree in prior suit substantially in favour of plaintiffs but the findings being against them—Appeal not preferred—Effect in subsequent suit, see 38 M.L.J. 374; 1927 M.W.N. 116=101 I.C. 648. It refers to the case where several heads of relief independent of each other are claimed, put in issue, and duly controverted, and one of them is neither granted nor refused 12 B. 454. The granting of future mesne profits which the Court has a right to give or refuse is not such a relief. 15 M.L.J. 462, 32 C. 118, 21 A. 425 (F.B.), 25 B. 115, 24 M. 681; 80 I.C. 710. Where the mortgagee claims a money decree and in default of payment for sale of the mortgaged property, but is content to take a money decree only, he could not sue again to have the amount paid by sale of the mortgaged property 33 C. 849. See also 145 I.C. 373=1933 R. 158.

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—The words "relief claimed" refer to a relief which the Court is bound to grant and not one which it is discretionary with the Court to grant. (21 A. 425, 41 M. 188, Ref.), 1931 P. I. Previous suit for certain properties—Statement by plaintiff that he would pay additional Court-fee if it was found that he was entitled to further properties—Subsequent suit for further properties not barred. 1926 M.W.N. 94=93 I.C. 1=23 L.W. 415. Redemption suit—Claim for mesne profits—Withdrawal of claim for mesne profits—Separate suit, if lies. 1926 C. 178; 25 A.L.J. 425. In ejectment suit prayer for use and occupation referred—Subsequent suit after notice—Question of damages cannot be gone into 104 I.C. 190=1927 P. 395. Mortgage suit—Personal remedy asked for in plaint—Decree silent regarding same—Effect—Party not barred from subsequently asking for the same. 53 M.L.J. 489, 157 I.C. 533=1935 A. L.J. 279=1935 A. 411. But where a definite application under O 34, R. 6 was made and not granted, it would operate as res judicata. 38 P.L.R. 700=163 I.C. 119=1936 L. 388.

EX PARTE DECREE.—An ex parte decree can operate as res judicata. 16 C. 300; 40 C.L.J. 507; 26 A.L.J. 185; 85 I.C. 562=1925 M. 1025, 50 A. 394, 116 I.C. 567=1929 A. 346; 1929 A. 761 (2); 144 I.C. 669=1933 L. 606. But the only matter that can be res judicata is matter in respect of which relief has been claimed by the plaintiff in the plaint 16 C. 300, 27 I.C. 999; 9 L.R. 345 (1) (Rev.). On this point, see also 6 Bur.L.J. 148. Where a previous suit for arrears of rent was decreed ex parte, the defendant cannot contend in a later suit for arrears of rent that the relationship of landlord and tenant did not exist. 49 A. 658. Two constructions possible regarding ex parte decision—Res judicata not to be inferred 1929 A. 29=113 I.C. 758. Rent—Ex parte decree for arrears of—If res judicata as to rate of rent—Test 118 I.C. 497=1929 M. 673.

CONSENT AND COMPROMISE DECREES.—S.11 is not strictly applicable to consent or compromise decrees as it applies in terms only to what has been heard and finally decided by Court. 35 M. 75=21 M.L.J. 709, 1935 P. 39=16 Pat.L.T. 12, 153 I.C. 515=1935 O. 121, 30 B. 395, 116 I.C. 116=1929 M. 96; 1933 S. 53. Expl 5 has reference to what has been adjudicated by the Court and not to the result arrived at by a compromise, in which the parties may have omitted to settle a part of their dispute, even though a decree may have been passed in accordance therewith 149 I.C. 244=11 O.W.N. 528=1934 O. 293. The plea of estoppel by res judicata may prevail even when the result of giving effect to it will be to sanction what is illegal in the sense of being prohibited by statute. If the legality of an act is a point substantially in dispute, it may be a fair subject of compromise in Court like any other disputed matter, and a decree passed on such compromise is valid and binding until it is set aside, and will operate as res judicata. 164 I.C. 703 (2)=38 Bom L.R. 593=1936 B. 301. But not in case where the legality of transaction was not in dispute and it depended on facts not disclosed in the case 153 I.C. 585=11 O.W.N. 1571=1935 O. 121. A compromise decree cannot be taken to decide every point that ought to have been pleaded, as a decree on the merits must 51 A. 575. A consent decree however raises an estoppel. 24 C. 216; 24 B. 77, 43 C.L.J. 116=94 I.C. 844=1926 C. 672, 4 Luck 181. A consent decree operates as res judicata if the question agitated between the parties in the subsequent suit had been put in issue in the prior proceedings though ultimately it was decided against the contesting party by his consent 1929 M. 694=117 I.C. 295, 111 I.C. 1=1928 C. 852, 121 I.C. 164=1930 S. 195. The Court, if the matter is in any way challenged, should be careful to see that the decree, if by consent, is not vitiated by fraud or otherwise. 63 C. 454. A consent decree or order is as effective as a decree or order passed on contest, not only with reference to the conclusions arrived at in the suit in which it is passed, but with regard to every step in the process of reasoning on which the conclusion is founded, i.e., the findings on the essential facts on which the judgment on the ultimate conclusion is founded. 63 C 550. A consent decree passed between the predecessor-in-interest of the parties, touching matters now substantially and directly in issue, between them, is res judicata 36 B 283, 46 A. 820. See also 145 I C 352=1933 O 322. But see 148 I C 548=1934 L. 758. To have such effect, the consent decree should have the effect of deciding finally the question raised. 151 I C. 964=1934 M 454=67 M L J. 198. A consent decree relating to matters outside suit does not operate as res judicata 48 C. 1059. The decision by oath of any matter in issue in a former suit between the parties is res judicata in a subsequent litigation between them 36 M. 287=24 M L J. 321, 24 M. 444. A decree or order passed on a razinama would constitute the matters contained in it res judicata between the parties to suit 36 M 45=21 M L J. 820, 21 B 465; 36 L W 414. But a compromise in a suit between the predecessors of the parties in which the issue in question in the later suit was neither raised nor decided, does not operate as res judicata in a later suit between the parties. 150 I C 1005=1934 A 1038. A deed of compromise entered into in the course of a revenue proceeding and making a purely temporary arrangement for the purpose of the Revenue Courts does not operate as res judicata in subsequent suit in a Civil Court 147 I C 715=1934 A 75.

THE DECISION MUST BE NECESSARY FOR THE DETERMINATION OF THE SUIT—Matter which was not necessary for the decree passed in the suit is not matter directly and substantially in issue in the suit which was heard and finally decided 5 C W N 445; 26 M 104. See also 101 I C 522=4 O W N 307; 102 I C 22 (1), 30 Bom L R 902=1928 B. 349, 31 Punj L R 406; 1930 A L J 1309. If in the mortgage suit it is necessary for the Court to decide whether the trees were included in the mortgaged property, and, on the pleadings the Court does decide that the trees were not in the mortgaged property, the decision must operate as res judicata between the parties if the issue is raised again between them in a subsequent suit 9 Luck 291=147 I C. 984=1934 O 50. If a finding arrived at on a certain issue is sufficient to completely dispose of the case other findings on other issues not necessary for the disposal of the case are not a final decision of the matter covered by them and do not operate as res judicata. 36 I C 643; 70 I C. 666, 44 B 321, 7 I C 317=1923 L. 523, 73 I C. 854=1923 L. 248, 43 C L J 501=95 I C. 1011=1926 C 1003. See also 1934 R 375. Where there are two findings, either of which would in law be sufficient to dispose of the case that one which in the logical sequence should have been first found rendering the determination of the other issue unnecessary, is the finding which operates as res judicata 9 I C 983=8 A L J

409; 28 I.C. 580=21 C L J 296; 17 A.174. But it has been held by the Madras High Court that the decision on both the issues would be res judicata and the rule of logical priority is inapplicable. 38 M 158. See also 113 I.C. 155. If a decision is based on two grounds, both of them operate as res judicata 31 M L J 97. Where a judgment is based on findings on more than one issue but it is doubtful as to on which issue the final conclusion is based, the decision on all issues is res judicata. 34 M L J. 431. A question raised at the instance of a party and decided by the Court as necessary operates as res judicata, even though the issue in the previous suit was in fact not necessary 63 I C. 161=33 C L J 317; 10 Pat L T. 630, 118 I C. 168, 57 C 672. When a Court decides a case upon a preliminary point as well as on merits, it cannot be said that the decision on the merits does not operate as res judicata 1930 L 487, 1930 A 619; 24 C. 900. But see 40 C. 29. Where an ejection suit is dismissed on the ground of absence of notice, a finding recorded, that the permanent tenancy alleged by the defendant, is not proved, cannot operate as res judicata. 47 M 453=46 M L J. 198, 43 B. 568, see also 18 C. 647. But where first Court decreed the suit for ejection negating the claim of permanent occupancy, but the appellate Court reversed it for want of a proper notice to quit, though upholding the finding as to the nature of the tenancy, the decision on the point is res judicata 46 M L J 515. But see 40 B 662 (a suit of a declaratory nature); 1929 C 449. Where an appellate Court confirms the decision of the trial Court by deciding on one point only without giving its decision on another point which was also decided by the trial Court, the decision on this point is not res judicata in subsequent suit 42 C L J 500=92 I C. 981=1926 C. 163, 4 Luck 404, 37 C W N. 892. An obiter dictum not necessary for the decision of the case is not a decision on a point directly and substantially in issue and does not constitute res judicata 45 A. 466, 4 Pat. 12 L.W. 277; 1 C. 144; 10 M. 102. The defendant is entitled to appeal against such findings. 47 M. 633; 47 M.L.J. 487. When a decree was based on independent grounds and the adverse finding was not implied in the decree, it would not operate as res judicata. 37 M. 25=21 M.L.J. 947. But where the decision on an issue is necessary but the party against whom the finding is made could not appeal, as the final decree is in his favour the decision on that issue is res judicata. 34 M.L.J. 431; 24 C. 900, 36 L.W. 388. Such a finding may be appealed against and constitutes res judicata. 40 I.C. 771. The fact that a party against whom an issue is found has no right of appeal does not affect the rule of res judicata. 34 M.L.J. 431=29 M.L.J. 535. Sec. 11, Expl. IV.—(See also notes under heading 'Constructive Res judicata'). The correct principle as to constructive res judicata is that if the decree made in the earlier suit is such that it would be inconsistent with the plea which might and ought to have been raised, but not actually raised, it must be taken that there has been, for the purpose of res judicata, a final decision by necessary implication. 157 I.C. 381=39 C.W.N. 692=61 C.L.J. 301. Pre-decree compromise not presented to court in previous suit and a decree was passed on merits, the compromise cannot be pleaded in subsequent suit 39 P.L.R. 29. Expl. 4 can be applied only if it could be shown that the Court had passed an order in the earlier proceedings adverse to such party. 158 I.C. 891=1935 M. 786. Also the parties should be litigating under the same title. 156 I.C. 543=1935 L. 753. Expl. IV, embodying the rule of constructive res judicata applies to execution proceedings as well I.L.R. 1936 N. 30=165 I.C. 948=19 N.L.J. 129=1936 N. 123; 163 I.C. 671=1936 R. 218. As regards application of this Explanation, there is no distinction between consent decree and decree on contest 37 P.L.R. 65=157 I.C. 749=1935 L. 487. The rule will apply even with reference to questions of law, e.g., the legality of any particular act forming the subject of a compromise decree 29 S.L.R. 455=164 I.C. 43=1936 S. 99. Omission to raise plea of res judicata in earlier stages will not entitle party to raise it after appellate Court remanded the case to be tried on merits. 1936 C. 454. So also as to plea of want of jurisdiction, see 161 I.C. 324=1936 S. 34. Where a decree is a nullity for want of jurisdiction, Expl. 4 to S. 11 would not apply. 157 I.C. 90=1935 N. 28. Adverse finding against successful party cannot operate as res

judicata. 1935 M.W.N. 871=1935 M. 701

This explanation does not apply to the case of an application for restitution under S. 144: 153 I.C. 572=1935 A. 195. A defendant who has applied under O. 9, R. 13, C.P. Code, for setting aside a decree on the ground that proper service has not been carried out and has failed, is barred from agitating the same point later on in an appeal from that decree or in a petition for revision against the order passing the decree. The order of the Court will stand in his way. Conversely a defendant who has failed in an appeal or revision on that point cannot subsequently have recourse to proceedings under O. 9, R. 13, C.P. Code, for decision on it. 160 I.C. 462=1936 Pesh. 1. A Court is empowered to entertain an objection to attachment under S. 60 (1) (c) at any time and decide it on the merits even though it was not raised at a preliminary stage. It would not be barred by principle of res judicata (1930 N. 11 and 1930 A. 727, Foll.) 1935 L. 942. So also where it was raised but not decided 38 P.L.R. 691=1936 L. 930. A holder of two separate mortgages is not prevented from suing separately on each of such mortgages either by O. 2, R. 1 or by S. 11. The two separate mortgages give rise to two independent causes of action; hence O. 2, R. 1, does not bar the second suit. (1921 C. 321, 20 A. 322 (F.B.); 1924 P. 77, Foll., 1915 B. 54, Not Foll.) 159 I.C. 758=1935 N. 226 (F.B.), 63 C.L.J. 110=1936 C. 698. Successive suits for redemption would not be barred when no final decree had been passed in the former suits and the mortgage was extinguished 15 P. 607=163 I.C. 908=17 P. L. T. 564=1936 P. 420. Where in execution of a decree the decree-holder gets declaration that only half interest in certain property is liable to attachment, he cannot in execution of another decree against same judgment-debtor claim to attach the whole interest in the same property 159 I.C. 465=1935 R. 399. A suit was brought on the basis of a mortgage deed impleading therein besides the Hindu mortgagor, his sons and grandsons also, who are the appellants. The Court dismissed the claim against the appellants and gave the plaintiff a money-decree only against the mortgagor. In execution plaintiff could not be allowed to attach and sell the entire joint family property 1935 O.W.N. 1113=158 I.C. 490. Where in a previous suit decided on an award, the entire property including the house in dispute was treated as jointly owned by the brothers, and neither before the Court nor before the arbitrator did the plaintiff set up the plea that he was the exclusive owner of this house under his father's will, he is barred from relying on the will under

Notes.

Expl. IV in a subsequent suit by him for a declaration that the house was his exclusive property 157 I. C. 368 (Lah.). Where a person who had a subsequent mortgage over a property had also in addition to this redeemed a prior mortgage and a puisne mortgagee sued on his mortgage impleading the former only as a subsequent mortgagee but not as an assignee of the prior mortgagee and in execution of the decree so obtained by which it was ordered that the claim of the plaintiff puisne mortgagee was to be satisfied first, the subsequent mortgagee claimed that he was entitled to be paid first his money due as assignee of prior mortgagee. Held, that the rule of res judicata did not apply and that to make the rule applicable it was necessary for the plaintiff puisne mortgagee to attack his rights as assignee of the prior mortgage. 1935 Lah. 218. See also 1936 A.W.R. 653=1936 A.L.J. 774=165 I.C. 7=1936 A. 578 (F.B.); 19 N.L.J. 290. But see 18 N.L.J. 274. Plaintiff who was prior mortgagee in his suit for sale failed to claim benefit of S. 101, T.P. Act. as against puisne mortgagee in respect of portions of mortgaged property already purchased by him. It was held that he would not be debarred by res judicata from making the claim in defence to suit by puisne mortgagee on his mortgage 43 L.W. 478=1936 M. 473=70 M.L.J. 505. In a previous suit as regards a claim to the Mahantship of an Asthal, the defendant had to defend himself against that claim, but he was not put forward any claim of his own to the Mahantship. Hence a later suit by the defendant for declaration of his own title to the office of Mahant and for possession of the properties of the Asthal was not barred by res judicata. 62 C.L.J. 153. A woman defended a certain suit under the plea that she was heir to certain property in dispute under the customary law. The suit was decided against her. Subsequently she filed a declaratory suit basing her title to same property as heir under Mahomedan law. Held, her suit was barred by res judicata 158 I.C. 995=1935 Pesh 150. In a pre-emption suit, the minor sons of the vendor were impleaded and were represented by their step brother as their guardian ad litem. The pre-emptor paid the amount and got possession, subsequently the minor sued to set aside the sale by his father as not being valid. It was contended that this plea ought to have been raised in the pre-emption suit and as such the doctrine of constructive res judicata applied. This contention was held not tenable 159 I.C. 693=1935 L. 489. A suit against two defendants was decreed as against defendant 2 and plaintiff was asked to pay costs of defendant 1. In an appeal by the plaintiff against costs, defendant 2 was impleaded but he made no contest and he was asked to pay costs of defendant 1. Subsequently defendant 2 filed an appeal against the main decree passed against him. It was contended by the plaintiff that the points in dispute in the appeal ought to have been raised in the appeal as to costs by plaintiff and hence this appeal was barred by res judicata. Held, that these points were not such as ought to have been raised (though they might have been raised) in the appeal by the plaintiff and that the present appeal was not barred by the constructive rule of res judicata 1935 L. 825.

PRINCIPLE OF CONSTRUCTIVE RES JUDICATA APPLIES TO SUITS ON MORTGAGES.—In a mortgage suit, all claims relating to the mortgage right up to the end of the proceedings, must be determined and a defendant who omits to put forward a counter-claim cannot bring a subsequent suit for recovery thereof. 12 L.W. 173, 26 B 661. In a suit for redemption of usufructuary mortgage, must be included the entire accounts between the parties in relation to the mortgage, the claim of the

mortgagor for overpayments to the mortgagee or excess profits received by the latter must also be included, and if they are not included, a subsequent suit in respect of such claims would be barred by reason of S. 11, Expt IV and O 2, R. 2, C.P. Code. 162 I.C. 709=40 C.W.N. 627=1936 C 200. The mortgagor obtaining possession in a redemption suit by him cannot subsequently sue for profits realised by the mortgagee for a period prior to the date of delivery of possession. 30 A 36. Where mortgagee has failed in a suit for redemption to obtain an order for sale of a mortgaged property on failure of payment by the mortgagor of the mortgage amount within the time fixed for payment, he cannot afterwards bring a separate suit for sale upon his mortgage. 13 B. 507. See also 7 L 40. (As to res judicata in suits for redemption, see under a separate heading.) Where in a suit by a prior mortgagee the puisne mortgagee is also impleaded as a party and a decree is passed directing the sale of the property, the persons claiming under the parties to a previously puisne mortgagee is not debarred from enforcing his mortgage in a subsequent suit. 41 M 90=35 M.L.J. 639. See also 1 Luck 25. A prior mortgagee who is impleaded in a suit on a subsequent mortgage, but whose mortgage is not impugned has a paramount title outside the controversy of the suit and is not bound to set up his mortgage as a defence. 47 C 662=38 M.L.J. 424 (P.C.), 35 A. 111; 18 C.W.N. 1013. 58 I.C. 33, 1930 A. 163; 36 C.W.N. 1138, 144 I.C. 716=1933 N 190. But where it is sought to displace his prior title and to postpone it to the title of the plaintiff, it is the duty of the prior mortgagee to prove his title and if he fails to do so, the decision in the suit will operate as res judicata against him. 21 435=4 Pat L T 118. Where in consequence of the failure of the prior mortgagee to claim priority under his mortgage, a decree for sale follows, in pursuance of which the properties are sold, he could not thereafter enforce the claim under his prior mortgage. 39 C 527, 34 A. 599=19 C.W.N. 947, 4 Luck. 25=115 I.C. 833=1929 O. 463. But see 10 J. 234. Where the issue in respect of prior mortgage was struck off on the prior mortgagee not desiring to press for an enquiry in respect of his mortgage his claims are not barred by res judicata. 110 I C 79=5 O.W. N 210=1929 O 88. Where in a suit on a mortgage executed by two brothers, a third brother also was impleaded as a pro forma defendant, and there was no assessment in the plaint that the mortgage had been in respect of the share of the third brother as well, the question that this share was not liable to the mortgage would have been a question of title paramount outside the scope of the suit, and his sons are not precluded by the rule of res judicata from bringing another suit after his death, that the previous decree is not binding so far as it related to their share. 150 I.C. 529=58 C.L.J. 294=1934 C. 384. C. 552. (Where the prior mortgagee who had purchased the property in execution of his decree was impleaded in a suit by a subsequent mortgagee) Suit to redeem invalid mortgage dismissed—Suit for redeeming a different mortgage not barred. 1930 M. 264. Suit for redemption—Sub-mortgagee made a party—Decision of his rights in his absence—No res judicata. 6 O.W.N. 851=1929 O. 455. If being a party to a suit on a mortgage prior to his own, he omits to claim his right to redeem such prior mortgage, he cannot afterwards sue for that purpose on the mortgage he has omitted to plead. 24 A. 429 (P.C.) See also 20 A. 110 (F.B.); 26 M. 770. A subsequent mortgagee claiming title as owner of a portion in a prior mortgage suit may set up his title in a separate suit as the question cannot be raised in the former suit. 16 A.L.J. 639=40 A. 584. On this point, see also 52 M.L.J. 52. Redemption suit by part owner or equity of redemption—Omission to pray for possession of other mortgage items does not bar suit for contribution. 27 A.L.J. 1162=1929 A. 696. Mortgage suit—Defendant impleaded as person interested in equity of redemption—Plea as to paramount title can be raised in later suit. 1929 C. 672. But see 58 C. 1222. Usufructuary mortgagee purchasing entire property from one of the heirs—Omitting to plead the mortgage in defence to a suit for possession of their shares by other heirs—Is debarred from suing on his mortgage, if he fails in former suit. 50 A. 306=1925 A. 714. SUIT ON MORTGAGE.—Preliminary and final decrees passed without any objection by mortgagors—Sale of properties—Suit by mortgagors for declaration that preliminary and final decrees were void for want of jurisdiction, dismissed—Application for personal decree against mortgagors—Question as to jurisdiction. Held, that the effect of the dismissal of the mortgagor's suit was that the question of jurisdiction became res judicata between the parties. 14 R. 94=161 I.C. 989=1936 R. 87 (S.B.)

"SAME PARTIES, ETC."—A judgment not inter partes or in rem is not res judicata in a subsequent suit though it may be received as evidence. 8 P. 122. See also 1934 O. 449; 1935 A.W.R. 95; 18 R.D. 700, 11 O.W.N. 1608. The matter decided in a previous suit is res judicata only as against those who had been parties to the previous suit. 33 A. 493; 26 C. 428, 54 C. 770=53 M.L.J. 123 (P.C.). Person party to suit but omitted in formal order by oversight is affected. 57 I.A. 24=1930 P.C. 22=58 M.L.J. 171 (P.C.). Where some of the defendants in a previous suit do not appear and are exempted from plaintiff's claim the decision in it does not operate as res judicata. 1 A.L.J. 363, 12 C. 580. S. 11 does not apply when the plaintiff, in the later suit were not parties to the previous suit, and only the defendants were parties. The decision in the prior suit does not therefore operate as res judicata, and the defendants who were parties to the previous proceedings are also not in any way bound by the decision in the prior proceedings. 59 C.L.J. 320=1934 C. 788 See also 18 R.D. 339. Appeal by several parties—Death of one pending appeal—Legal representative not brought on record—Common decision—Binding nature of on legal representative 53 M.L.J. 220=103 I.C. 618. Where in a previous appeal in which the issue was decided the plaintiff and the defendant were arranged on the same side as respondents, it was, held, that the decision was res judicata in a subsequent suit. 151 I.C. 70=1934 P. 270. A decision arrived at in a prior suit is not res judicata against a person who was merely a nominal defendant in the previous suit. 35 I.C. 543; 12 C. 580, 25 B. 549, 27 A. 59. Res judicata operates against a person who took an active part in the litigation in contesting the claim of the plaintiff notwithstanding the fact that he was described as a pro forma defendant. 21 C.L.J. 157=27 I.C. 954=19 C.W.N. 1280 (14 B. 176; 14 B. 408, Dist.); 85 I.C. 953=1925 C. 985. But see 40 C.W.N. 1205=165 I.C. 662. As to the application of the principle to pro forma defendant, see 23 I.C. 381, 45 I.C. 318. A pro forma defendant in a suit would be as much bound by the decision therein as any other defendant. 1917 M.W.N. 330=38 I.C. 184, 44 I.C. 546. But see 39 B. 29. But where in the former suit, no relief was claimed against the pro forma defendants and the nature of the two suits is wholly dissimilar and the cause of action arose only in consequence of the decision in the first suit, the second suit is not barred. 14 L. 380=141 I.C. 435=1933 L. 109. See also 40 C.W.N. 1208=64 C.L.J. 3, 1935 L. 942; 62 C. 642=39 C.W.N. 938=61 C.L.J. 193; 40 C.W.N. 1205=165 I.C. 662. A party unnecessarily impleaded in the previous suit is not bound by a decree therein. 44 A. 428. See also 5 O.W.N. 510. See also 1935 N. 61. Where a suit for declaration of title to an office is dismissed, a subsequent suit against another party for recovery of money alleged to be due to the person entitled to the office is not barred by res judicata. 44 M. 778=41 M.L.J. 223. A decree for partition in a suit instituted by one member of a joint family impleading the others as parties is res judicata between all the sharers who are parties to the suit. 27 M.L.J. 76=24 I.C. 294. As to res judicata in the case of minors, see 1935 L. 44. The bar of res judicata cannot be evaded by addition of unnecessary and non-contesting parties in the subsequent suit. 1929 A. 500. Decision in a prior suit between B and A that certain wkf. is void is res judicata in later suit by B against A and C for declaration that the property was wkf. 1928 L. 888=113 I.C. 120. A decision against a mortgagor is not binding on a mortgagee whose title under the mortgage arose prior to the suit against mortgagor. 40 B. 679, 10 P. 234, 140 I.C. 796. See also 150 I.C. 868=1934 A.L.J. 597; 140 I.C. 796=1933 L. 66; 41 L.W. 600=1935 M.W.N. 506=1935 M. 414. The same rule holds good in the case of purchaser, lessee or donee also.

Explanation VI.—Where persons litigate bona fide in respect of a public right or of a private right claimed in common for themselves and others, all persons interested in such right shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to claim under the persons so litigating.

Notes.

See 1933 L. 66; 35 B. 297. A lessor cannot be considered as a party claiming under his own lessee and the dismissal of the latter's suit for ejectment does not bar the present suit for ejectment by the lessor 1527 B. 270; 1935 O.W.N. 674=155 I.C. 1087=1935 O. 394. So also in the case of creditor and debtor. 105 I.C. 647=32 C.W.N. 248. As to whether attaching decree-holder and auction-purchaser are representatives of judgment-debtor, see 1935 A.L.J. 1001=156 I.C. 387=1935 A. 888; 1936 A.L.J. 295=163 I.C. 239=1936 A. 722. In a suit under O. 21, R. 63, the decree-holder claims under his judgment-debtor within S. 11, and a decision in previous litigation between the claimant and the judgment-debtor recognising the latter's title to the property, is res judicata in a subsequent suit by the claimant under O. 21, R. 63, impleading the attaching decree-holder and judgment-debtor as parties 151 I.C. 41=1934 R. 206. An auction-purchaser is a representative of the judgment-debtor for the purpose of S. 11, C.P. Code, though he may not be one under S. 47, C.P. Code. 141 I.C. 448=1933 L. 171. A pre-emptor only stands in the shoes of the original vendee, a decision in whose favour operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit by the vendor for setting aside the sale 143 I.C. 883=1933 L. 529. Party who is privy to a decree is bound by the decree whether he has notice thereof or not 1929 R. 183. Decision against a reversioner is not res judicata against another 43 A. 558. As to how far, the decision in a suit by one reversioner for a declaration that an adoption or alienation by a Hindu widow is invalid, is binding on other reversioners, see 29 M. 390 (F.B.); 27 M. 588, 27 A.L.J. 741=121 I.C. 387. The dismissal of a suit by a Hindu father to set aside an alienation of a joint family properties or the ground of undue influence and fraud is no bar to a suit by the sons to set aside the alienation on the ground, that it is not for a binding family purpose 35 M.L.J. 451. See also 34 L.W. 598=1931 M. 559, 1933 N. 44 (2). When both parties to a subsequent litigation claim through the same part in the prior suit, there is no bar of res judicata. 78 I.C. 65, 30 C. 556, 55 M. 40. A decree for ejectment by the landlord against one of several joint tenants of a holding does not bind the other tenants 16 I.C. 698=24 M.L.J. 79. Decision in a suit, in substance on behalf of a trust though in form between private parties is res judicata between the trust and the defendants therein. 116 I.C. 142=1929 M. 687. Decision between the insolvent and creditor that the debt is time barred is not res judicata between the insolvent and the surety, when the latter was no party to the prior proceedings 1932 A. 610. Suit on mortgage by five brothers. Plea by another brother that the mortgage amount belonged to others on record. Finding that amount belonged to joint family is not res judicata 55 M. 483. Land acquisition proceedings with Collector as party. Subsequent suit by Secretary of State. No bar of res judicata 56 B. 501. Where a Municipality has been delegated by Government with an authority to manage certain tanks, a decision in a former suit against the Municipality cannot bind the Government as the Municipality were not the owner of the tanks; and the Government cannot be said to claim under the same title as the Municipality nor the Municipality were litigating under the same title 1935 N. 61 (2).

Sec. 11, Expl. VI.—See 28 M. 457 (F.B.); 13 C. 352, 33 A. 493. For cases where the explanation cannot apply, see 30 M. 185, 33 A. 493. As to the applicability of the explanation, see 14 L. 442=143 I.C. 50=1933 L. 325; 52 M.L.J. 641. Explanation VI applies to those suits only which are instituted in a representative capacity 157 I.C. 106=1935 L. 537. Where the parties are different in two suits, the findings in the previous suit cannot be res judicata in the subsequent suit unless it is shown that the plaintiffs in the subsequent suit are claiming under the plaintiffs in the previous suit and the plaintiffs in the previous suit had claimed the right in common for themselves and for the plaintiffs in the subsequent suit 1935 L. 391. The expression "private right claimed in common" in Explanation VI, extends also to village communal rights 31 M.L.J. 26, G.C. 49. But see contra 52 M.L.J. 641, 1937 L. 70. To attract the operation of Expl. VI, the former suit need not have been instituted with leave of Court 31 M.L.J. 26, 54 M.L.J. 8 (F.B.), but see 43 M. 427=38 M.L.J. 493, 49 I.C. 796, 8 M. 496. Where the litigation is bona fide and the non-compliance with the conditions of O. 1, R. 8 has been inadvertent and no injury has been caused the prior decision may come within the explanation but the onus is on the party relying on the plea to prove the exception. Held, on the facts that the non-compliance with the conditions of O. 1, R. 8, rendered the prior adjudication of no effect against non-parties and that the doctrine of res judicata was inapplicable 60 I.A. 278=56 M. 657=1933 I.C. 183=65 M.L.J. 87 (P.C.); 163 I.C. 817=1936 I. 965. There is no bar if the prior suit is compromised, 55 I.A. 96=54 M.L.J. 609=55 C. 519=1928 P.C. 16 (P.C.) Or withdrawn 14 L.R. 64 (Rev.)=17 R.D. 60. Decree against Municipality in respect of Government land transferred in trust and vested in it under S. 74, Punjab Municipal Act, 1884, operates as res judicata in subsequent suit by Government. 1936 L. 998. Prior suit by joint family manager acting on behalf of minor members—Decree therein bind members. See 54 I.A. 122=

Notes.

51 B. 450=52 M.L.J. 4/2 (P.C.); 89 I.C. 120=1926 A. 201. Where the father omitted to take part in the previous suit, and declined to redeem doing thereby a great injury to the family property, the right of the son to bring a suit for redemption is not barred 144 I.C. 521=1933 N. 44. Where the effect of a compromise entered into by a karta of a family is to the advantage of the family and major members have assented to it either expressly or impliedly these majors should not be allowed to litigate the same point again 1934 P. 617 (1). A decree obtained by a trustee on behalf of the trust is binding also on all persons interested in the trust 46 A. 657. A suit for setting the amount of Kattubadi from an Agraharam is one in which all the agraharamdars are necessarily interested and the decision is binding on all agraharamdars. 43 M. 427=38 M.L.J. 493. Where a suit instituted bona fide in respect of a public right claimed in common was dismissed, a subsequent suit by two others in respect of the same right is barred 36 A. 424. Where a collateral files a suit for a declaration of title and for possession claiming the whole property for himself thereby excluding the title of any other collateral, it cannot be said that he must be deemed to have been litigating on behalf of any other reversioner or collateral. The decision in that suit does not operate as res judicata, but it is of great evidentiary value 1935 L. 505. Where a suit by a reversioner brought in a representative capacity that an alienation made by a Hindu widow in possession is without legal necessity is decided after a fair contest in the absence of fraud and collusion the decree will be binding on the whole body of the reversioners 44 A. 19. See also 103 I.C. 454=28 Punj L.R. 369, 145 I.C. 352=1933 O. 322. But see 95 I.C. 178=1926 A. 573, which holds that one reversioner does not represent the whole reversionary body, and so a finding against one does not bind another. 51 I.A. 381, Ref. Where in a previous suit against the adoptive mother, a decision is given that she possessed no authority to adopt, it is binding on the adopted son, though he may have been adopted by her subsequent to the decision and could have been no party to the previous litigation 108 I.C. 817 (855).

REPRESENTATIVE SUIT—As to what is a representative suit and how to decide whether it is one or not, see 54 M.L.J. 587=109 I.C. 199. A judgment benamidar operates as res judicata against the real owner 15 M. 267, 4 A.L.J. 689, 18 A. 69; 22 B. 679. A decree against a shebait as representing the idol is binding on his successor in the absence of fraud or collusion 42 C. 440. See also 1935 A.W.R. 95=157 I.C. 1092=1935 A. 255. Also decrees against holders of similar offices as trustees, karnam, etc. 11 M. 191; 12 M. 235, 9 B. 198; 29 B. 96; 39 C. 887; 1935 A. 255. So also a decision against a Karnavun of a Tarwad is res judicata against the junior members of the Tarwad. 44 M.L.J. 443;

17 M. 214; 30 M. 215. See also in the case of a father and son in a joint Hindu family. 1929 M.W.N. 776=120 I.C. 375, 7 P. 840; 53 B. 444; 1929 A. 775=52 A. 71. Objection by Hindu father in execution dismissed for default—Son's suit not barred. 1930 A. 727=127 I.C. 447. Dismissal of a suit brought by the managing member of joint family is a bar to a subsequent suit by a junior member who had been a pro forma defendant in the former suit, in respect of the same property and on the same cause of action 42 A. 359. See also 34 L.W. 598, 1933 N. 44 (2). An action by or on behalf of a family may result in res judicata as against absent or future members of the family, only when the action was so constituted according to the local rules of procedure or by a representative order or in some other way that all such members can be regarded as represented before the Court. 44 L.W. 73=162 I.C. 461=1936 P.C. 147 (P.C.). A creditor is bound by an adjudication against his debtor on his title to property in the absence of fraud, collusion, etc. 38 M.L.J. 266. But not so a debtor by dismissal of the creditor's suit under O. 21, R. 63. 55 C. 448. Decision against Official Liquidator in the winding up is conclusive on all parties represented by him 43 M. 550=32 M.L.J. 444. A decree fairly and properly obtained against a Hindu widow limited owners in the absence of fraud or collusion, is binding on the reversionary heir 40 A. 593; 36 M.L.J. 597, 43 B. 249, 49 C. 45, 1929 L. 586, 27 A.L.J. 518=119 I.C. 446, 108 I.C. 817. The principle does not apply to compromise or an award decree. 45 C. 590; 34 M.L.J. 298=43 B. 249 (365); 38 C. 369, 29 A. 239. Where the compromise is due to collusion on the part of the widow a suit by the reversioner is not barred 21 I.C. 605=11 A.L.J. 574. Where an alienee, from a widow of the last owner, gets a declaration of the validity of his alienation against the mother who is the next reversioner, the decision is binding on the male reversioners. 34 M.L.J. 319. Adjudication about B's title subsequent to A's deriving title from B does not bind A as res judicata 110 I.C. 548=1928 M. 635. In order that the decision obtained against a Hindu widow might operate as res judicata, the widow must represent the estate so that there is trial of the rights of the reversioners and a decree fairly and properly obtained. 14 P. 518=155 I.C. 213=16 Pat L.T. 713. The mere fact that the widow has been impleaded as a party in a suit by rival claimants to the property is not sufficient to confer on her the representative capacity so as to bar a fresh claim by reversioners. 144 I.C. 442=35 Bom.L.R. 118=1933 B. 126. A Hindu widow cannot be deemed to represent her husband's estate so as to bind the reversionary heirs of her husband in relation to anything which she may have done herself to the prejudice of these reversionary heirs. 23 I.C. 761. But the decision in a suit by a widow or a limited owner, in respect of and for the protection of her own rights in certain property bars a subsequent suit by reversioners in respect of that property even though such a suit may not be of a representative character (42 I.A. 125 and 1924 P.C. 247, Foll.) 1936 A. 422. A decree given against a Hindu widow on a ground personal to herself and on her admission in the prior litigation is not binding on the reversioner. 21 Bom L.R. 837=43 B. 869. In a litigation which is personal to a widow, the widow does not represent the estate fully so as to bind reversioners. 42 B. 69. As to when a litigation can be said personal to the widow, see 73 I.C. 284=18 L.W. 491. Successor of shebat when bound by decree against predecessor in shebatship barred. 42 C. 244=27 M.L.J. 100 (P.C.). Under Mahomedan Law one heir does not represent his co-heirs, and so decree against one heir does not bind the rest. 11 O.W.N. 1608=153 I.C. 42=1935 O.W.N. 62. A decision against a Municipality operates against the chairman suing subsequently for the same relief. 36 L.W. 664.

DECREES AGAINST MINORS.—S. 11 does not bar a suit if plaintiffs who were minors were not adequately represented in a prior suit. 39 B. 29. See also 6 P. 388; 16 Pat L.T. 484. A compromise involving a minor without the Court's sanction does not operate as res judicata. 36 B. 53. Compromise by minor's guardian set aside—No bar to fresh suit on the same allegations. 110 I.C. 550. Where the guardian ad litem is guilty of negligence, the decree will not operate as res judicata against the minor. 53 I.C. 412; 27 M.L.J. 486, 25 M.L.J. 379, 19 B. 571, 22 C. 8, 65 M.L.J. 518=1933 M. 806. An omission to rely upon a judgment in support of a plea of res judicata is not such negligence as would get rid of the bar of res judicata. 47 M.L.J. 700. Nor an omission to produce some evidence which existed and which might have been produced. 4 O.W.N. 748=105 I.C. 59=1927 O. 354. An omission on the part of the guardian to produce the document supporting the minor's title to the property in dispute, which it was plainly her duty to do, is gross negligence and the decree in the prior suit would be of no effect and would not operate as res judicata so as to bar a subsequent suit by the minor to enforce his rights. 67 M.L.J. 927=40 L.W. 823. A guardian is not bound to contest a suit to which there is no good defence. 47 M. 476=46 M.L.J. 291. Where guardian is not guilty of fraud nor his interests adverse. 9 L.W. 479=51 I.C. 724. The minority of the defendants at the time of prior decision does not preclude the operation of res judicata against them provided that some of the defendants had identical interests with theirs. [25 A.L.J. 319 (P.C.), Rel on.] 119 I.C. 567=1929 A. 346. Where on an alienation by the minor's father, a pre-emption suit is filed and the minor's step-brother on his own behalf and as guardian of the minor defends the suit and admits the validity of the sale, the minor cannot subsequently reopen the matter and challenge the validity of sale. 157 I.C. 801=1935 L. 44.

RES JUDICATA AS BETWEEN CO-DEFENDANTS.

—The doctrine should be applied to co-defendants with great caution. 25 C.L.J. 322=21 C.W.N. 639; 51 I.C. 997. To constitute res judicata between co-defendants it is necessary there should be (1) conflict of interest, (2) adjudication should be necessary to give appropriate relief to plaintiff and (3) the question must have been finally decided between the defendants. 164 I.C. 468=1936 R. 308, 159 I.C. 340=37 P.L.R. 89=1935 L. 605; 33 M.L.J. 740, 17 A.L.J. 225, 7 L.W. 104; 4 Bur L.J. 250=1926 R. 75, 97 I.C. 205=1926 P. 478, 96 I.C. 406=1926 S. 282, 30 C.W.N. 415=94 I.C. 235=1926 C. 568; 1927 A. 365, 103 I.C. 701; 1927 M. 50, 119 I.C. 167=1929 M. 638, 117 I.C. 100, 13 R.D. 831; 6 R. 575, 110 I.C. 596=1928 M. 630, 1930 P. 355, 148 I.C. 441=1934 L. 688, 151 I.C. 1013=1934 O. 437; 36 Bom L.R. 694=1934 B. 329; 1935 L. 102; 37 P.L.R. 89, 1936 O.W.N. 982. Where in a suit by the mortgagee the question as to whether there was a partition between the two defendants in that suit was specifically raised and decided and it was not necessary for the adjudication of the claim of the mortgagee. Held, that the decision did not operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit between the defendants. 157 I.C. 1047=1935 M.W.N. 801=1935 M. 649. Where an adjudication between the defendants is necessary to give the appropriate relief to the plaintiff, the adjudication will be res judicata as between the defendants, if there is a conflict of interests amongst them, and a judgment defining the real rights and obligations of the defendants inter se. 11 B. 216, 20 A. at p. 442 (F.B.), 22 B. 245; 25 B. 71, 18 A. 65, 22 A. 386, 47 B. 534, 46 A. 220, 38 B. 438, 14 L. 442=143 I.C. 90=1933 L. 325, 1933 A. 206, 1933 R. 255, 14 L. 31=142 I.C. 724=1933 L. 274, 1933 P. 146. If the conditions above-mentioned are satisfied, it is immaterial that no distinct issue on the point was struck for trial or that there was no active contest between the co-defendants. 14 L. 31=142 I.C. 724=1933 L. 274 [21 C. 430; 61 M.L.J. 196 and 63 M.L.J. 64 (P.C.), Foll.] One of two mortgagees brought a suit for his half share of the mortgage money to which he had become entitled by partition. Besides the mortgagor he also impleaded the other mortgagee as a party defendant and alleged that the latter's share of the mortgage money had been paid off. The mortgagor defendant pleaded that he had discharged the whole debt by payment to the other defendant-mortgagee. The latter remained ex parte. The Court found that the mortgage had not been discharged so far as the plaintiff was concerned and gave him a decree. The other mortgagee then brought a suit for his share of the amount impleading also the plaintiff in the former suit as a party defendant. Held, the claim was barred by res judicata by

W. 298=1935 M. 821=69 M.L.J. 527 Where in a previous suit, there had been a conflict of interests between the defendants inter se, which it was necessary for the Court to decide in order to dismiss the suit, and the Court did in fact decide that conflict against the plaintiff in that suit, the decision would operate as res judicata in a subsequent suit by one of the defendants. 40 L.W. 823=67 M.L.J. 927. See also 58 B. 544=36 Bom.L. R. 612=1934 B. 313. Where a defendant is ex parte, it cannot be said that there has been an active contest between him and another defendant who is not ex parte. 14 M. 324, 57 I.C. 252 See also 157 I.C. 511=1935 A.W.R. 867=1935 A. 678 Where in a partition suit, none of the parties claimed or resisted partition except the plaintiff, any questions regarding partition which might thereafter arise between defendants remains open to be decided 47 B. 534. See also 96 I.C. 406=1926 S. 282, 146 I.C. 131=1933 O. 415. The estate was in the name of B-1 who was the son of B. B at first denied any joint estate but later on entered into a compromise with A admitting the jointness of the estate. The compromise was admitted to Court and a decree was passed on it. In a suit by C against B and B-1 to get his share of property. Held, that the former decision was res judicata as to the jointness of the property. 1936 M. 252 In a former suit it was necessary to decide the dispute between the plaintiffs and defendants as to the validity of certain sale for the purpose of giving the plaintiff appropriate relief. In the subsequent suit, the same question as to the validity of the sale was again in issue between the same defendants, who were ranged as plaintiff and defendant 1, though the subject-matter of this suit was different. Held, the decision in the former suit was binding upon them and that issue was res judicata. 14 P. 611=39 C.W.N. 1124=1935 P.C. 139 (P.C.).

RES JUDICATA AS BETWEEN THE CO-PLAINTIFFS—A finding to become res judicata as between co-plaintiffs must have been essential for giving relief against the defendant. 36 B. 207 It must be also on points actively contested between co-plaintiffs 38 I.C. 213, 1917 M.W.N. 14 There must also be conflict of interest between persons ranged as co-plaintiffs. 70 I.C. 232=1921 P. 369. On the point, see also 17 I.C. 205=14 Bom.L.R. 854, 21 M. 8, 36 B. 207, 31 M.L.J. 77; 1933 L. 569. Where in the prior suit it was not necessary to decide the rights of the plaintiffs inter se for granting relief as against the defendants and the later suit related to the individual right of one of the original plaintiffs, the prior decision did not operate as res judicata. 57 B. 488=35 Bom.L.R. 418=1933 B. 287

There is no question of res judicata where the judgment has been delivered by a Court not competent to deliver it affecting the subject-matter of the suit. 37 B 563, Rel. on, 1935 R 517, 156 I.C. 1031 (L.)

COURT MUST BE COMPETENT TO TRY THE SUBSEQUENT SUIT—The section applies only when the Court whose decision is cited as res judicata is competent to try the second case 1 A.L.J. 503. See also 1925 M 1270, 91 I.C. 1026=1926 C 603, 43 C.L.J. 606=1926 C 1053, 56 M.L.J. 52=110 I.C. 551=1928 M. 840, 108 I.C. 623, 1931 A 454=53 A 560; 12 Pat L.T. 582, 151 I.C. 70=1934 P 270, 57 B. 456=35 Bom L.R. 630=1933 B 398, 14 L 437=146 I.C. 880=1933 L 646, 1933 L 614, 14 L.R. 248 (Rev.)=17 R.D. 314. In determining the competency of a Court for purposes of res judicata, a distinction has to be drawn between an inherent want of jurisdiction and want of jurisdiction on grounds to be determined by the Court itself. The first makes the decree a nullity which can be ignored, and which will not be res judicata. The second does not make the decree a nullity but only voidable. 42 L.W. 446=1935 M 835=69 M.L.J. 196. The "competent" Court is the Trial Court and it does not affect the question whether the decision is that of an appellate Court. 44 A. 712; 5 C. 832, 30 B 220, 23 C 415; 35 C. 356, 9 L.R. 264 (Rev.)=12 R.D. 547; 58 C.L.J. 120. See also 99 I.C. 299=1927 A 189. Court which decided the former suit must have been competent to try and decide not only the particular matter in issue in the later suit but also the latter suit itself in which the issue is subsequently raised. 45 B. 805, 29 C. 707 (P.C.), 14 L. 369=141 I.C. 454=1933 L. 551. In determining the jurisdiction of the Court which decided the former suit regard should be had to the jurisdiction on the date, not of the subsequent suit, but of the former suit. 19 C.W.N. 128, 27 I.C. 954, 10 C. 697; 11 C. 153, 15 M. 494, 10 L. 528, 1928 L 929; 1932 C. 271=59 C 636, 37 C.W.N. 810=1933 C. 879. Where property in two suits is identical, the mere fact that its value has arisen in the interval between the two suits and the subsequent suit is, therefore, beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the former Court, cannot affect the question of res judicata. 1936 L. 998=44 L.W. 530=1936 M 951=71 M.L.J. 619. Court which at date of the institution of the first suit had jurisdiction to try the subsequent suit but was deprived of such jurisdiction before it pronounced judgment in the first suit, is a "Court of jurisdiction competent to try such subsequent suit." 42 M. 702=37 M.L.J. 248. If the Court which passed the decree in the first suit is competent to try the subsequent suit, it is immaterial that it is prevented from entertaining the subsequent suit by reason of the existence of another Court with preferential jurisdiction. 28 B 338, 27 M. 63, 29 M 65. See also 54 C 114, 54 A 824=1932 A 660. Where the previous suit relates to only a portion of the property which is the subject-matter in the subsequent suit, if the other conditions under S 11 are satisfied, the finding in the previous suit that the property therein is ancestral will be res judicata as regards that portion of the property which is the subject-matter in the subsequent suit notwithstanding the fact that the subsequent suit is beyond the limit of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the previous Court 1935 L 391. A plaintiff cannot evade the provisions of the section by joining several causes of action against the same defendant in the subsequent suit and instituting it in a Court of superior jurisdiction. 28 C 72, 22 A.L.J. 745=1924 A 849, 50 A. 306=1928 A 714=113 I.C. 745. But it would be different if cause of action in subsequent suit was not available or did not exist at time of former suit. 1935 C 792=40 C.W.N. 174. If any specific question be within the jurisdiction of the Court which decided it in the previous suit, the trial of it is barred though the whole suit is beyond the jurisdiction of the former Court. 25 M. ejectment and for declaration of title, in a Civil Court 30 C. 339; 25 A. 138; 26 A. 468, 26 A. 601. But see 13 M. 287, 33 A. 453. See also 37 A. 280, 41 A. 319. But see contra 34 P.L.R. 642=1933 L. 738 where the previous ejectment suit was exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Revenue Court. Certificate Officer under Bengal Public Demands Recovery Act is not a "Court" 112 I.C. 71=1929 C. 130. Decision under Bengal Tenancy Act, S. 106, in a suit for correction of entry in Record-of-Rights is res judicata in a subsequent suit. 49 C.L.J. 285=33 C.W.N. 623=1929 C. 385. Prior decision in land acquisition case though between same parties and in respect of adjacent land is not res judicata if land is acquired under a different notification. 1928 L. 263=112 I.C. 797.

EFFECT OF APPEAL—When a judgment of a Court of First Instance is appealed against, it ceases to be res judicata. 11 A. 148 (161) (F.B.), 24 C. 616; 39 C. 925, 12 L. 497. But if the appeal fails, or abates or is otherwise not proceeded with, the judgment becomes final, and does not lose its effect or finality for the purpose of res judicata. 14 P. 633=159 I.C. 173=16 P.L.T. 819; and if the appellate Court declines to decide that issue and disposes of the case on other grounds, the judgment of the first Court on that issue is not a bar to a future suit, 6 B. 110, 5 C.L.J. 653, 164 I.C. 610 (L.). Where the plaintiff's suit was decreed both in the question of title as well as on a plea of adverse possession and the same was confirmed on appeal but in second appeal the question of adverse possession was not argued or considered, held, that the adjudication as to adverse possession would operate as res judicata in a later suit. 53 B. 676. As to the effect of appeal with some only of the defendants as respondents, see 6 R. 29=54 M.L.J. 88 (P.C.). When an appeal is preferred against the finding of an issue and the appeal is disposed of on other points, the finding of the lower Court cannot operate as res judicata. 28 M. 338; 4 Luck. 404. Where in appeal, permission is granted to withdraw a suit with liberty to file a fresh suit, the order of the trial Court on the merits ipso facto falls to the ground and hence cannot operate as res judicata. 74 I.C. 894; 40 M. 259=32 M.L.J. 477. Dismissal of the application to file appeal in forma pauperis decision cannot operate as res judicata. 1930 L. 501, 1930 A. 112. Such an order though erroneous and unjustifiable is not void or one made without jurisdiction and consequently the prior suit is not res judicata. 31 C.L.J. 482=24 C.W.N. 723 (F.B.); 32 M.L.J. 434. But the contrary has been held in 46 I.C. 322=3 P.L.J. 404, 44 C. 367. The dismissal or withdrawal of an appeal has the same effect as a decision on the merits and leaves the finding of the trial Court final. 22 A.L.J. 365=78 I.C. 677. Where pending a Privy Council appeal the matter is compromised and the appeal withdrawn, the decree of the High Court becomes final. 6 M. 43; 138 I.C. 406. A decision in the previous suit is final though an appeal is pending against the same in the Privy Council. 4 R. 8; 12 L. 497. Other defendants claiming through 1st defendant, plaintiff appellant not joining 1st defendant as respondent in appeal—Decision of res judicata between him and all the defendants. 54 M.L.J. 88.

CONNECTED OR CROSS SUITS TRIED TOGETHER.—Where two actions were tried together and there was a common judgment though separate decrees and no appeal was preferred against one of the decrees, the finding in the suit not appealed against operated as res judicata in the connected proceeding taken in appeal. 12 P. 139=141 I.C. 762=1933 P. 78; 75 I.C. 570 (Pat.), 34 C.W.N. 839; 37 C.L.J. 184=74 I.C. 591; 33 A. 51; 33 A. 151; 35 A. 187, 41 A. 54; 2 R. 633; 14 L.R. 552 (Rev.), 1934 Pesh. 116; 15 L.R. 6 (Rev.); 15 I.L.R. 339 (Rev.); 14 L.R. 879 (Rev.); 10 O.W.N. 1093=1933 O. 531; 102 I.C. 171=4 O.W.N. 297, 40 C.W.N. 1176, 62 C. 642=39 C.W.N. 938=61 C.L.J. 193; 156 I.C. 998 (Lah.); 164 I.C. 743=1936 R. 401. But see contra 29 M. 333=16 M.L.J. 63; 1926 M. 378=92 I.C. 352, 29 M.L.J. 551, 67 M.L.J. 364; 8 L. 384=104 I.C. 849 (F.B.); 105 I.C. 850=9 L.L.J. 526; 1927 L. 98; 8 L.L.J. 136=93 I.C. 1014, 16 C. 233; 33 C. 1101, 14 L.R. 41 (Rev.)=17 R.D. 32.

CROSS SUITS.—One decided after the other—Decision in the former is res judicata in the latter. 96 I.C. 694. See also 8 L. 384 (F.B.); 1927 L. 821; 14 R.D. 324; 34 C.W.N. 839. Where cross-suits between the same parties on the same facts are tried together and disposed of by one judgment but separate decrees are passed and an appeal is preferred against one of the decrees alone, the decree unappealed does not operate as a bar under S. 11, C.P. Code, so as to preclude the appellate Court from dealing with the decrees appealed against. The doctrine of res judicata has no application when the very object of the appeal, in substance if not in form, is to get rid of the decision which is pleaded in bar. 152 I.C. 114 (2)=67 M.L.J. 364 [29 M. 333 (F.B.), Foll.] Cross-appeals from the same decree decided by appellate Court allowing one appeal and dismissing the other—Second appeal preferred against decree of dismissal only—No bar of res judicata. 50 A. 517.

"CAUSE OF ACTION"—See 16 C. 98 (P.C.) and 34 M. 97.

RENT SUITS—In a suit for recovery of rent under the Bengal Cess Act (1880), the decision as to amount of cess cannot be res judicata. 1927 P. 58.

PROOF AND PRACTICE—The judgment pleaded in bar of the suit must be strictly proved. 31 M.L.J. 311. The original pleadings should be filed to sustain a plea of res judicata. 47 C. 662=47 I.A. 11=38 M.L.J. 424 (P.C.). Judgments which do not operate as res judicata may be used as evidence. See 22 I.A. 60; 24 I.A. 10; 12 A. 1; 25 M. 300 (F.B.); 28 C. 109. Plea of res judicata cannot be allowed to be taken for first time in second appeal when not already taken. 111

12. Where a plaintiff is precluded by rules from instituting a further suit in respect of any particular cause of action, he shall not be entitled to institute a suit in respect of such cause of action in any Court to which this Code applies.

13. A foreign judgment shall be conclusive as to any matter thereby directly adjudicated upon between the same parties or between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title except—

(a) where it has not been pronounced by a Court of competent jurisdiction;

written statement and not discussed in lower Courts 1929 M. 775.

A DECREE is not sufficient evidence to support a plea of res indicata, for it does not afford any information as to the matters which were in issue or have been decided 43 L.W. 670=161 I.C. 748=1936 M. 469. Where the judgment of appellate Court was not filed even though it was a confirming judgment, the grounds for decision could not be ascertained and the decision of any particular point by the trial Court could not be treated as res judicata 1935 C. 792.

Sec. 12—As to rules which preclude the institution of further suit in respect of same cause of execution, see O. II R. 2 (suit in respect of part of claim omitted or relinquished), O. IX, R. 9 (where decree was passed against plaintiff by default), O. XXII, R. 9 (abatement of suit), O. XXIII, R. 1, (withdrawal of suit without leave of Court) Dismissal of suit for non-prosecution under Ch. X, R. 36 of Calcutta High Court Rules (Original Side) does not bar fresh suit 62 C. 15=38 C.W.N. 1132=60 C.L.J. 158=155 I.C. 158=1935 C. 212. Where a person obtains a decree of the extent of the assets against a supposed legal representative of a deceased debtor, who is subsequently found not to be so, a fresh suit on the same cause of action against the right legal representative is barred. 9 Pat. L.T. 807=108 I.C. 558=1928 P. 362.

Sec. 13.—SCOPE AND APPLICATION—This section enacts a rule of res judicata in the case of foreign judgments, except in the six circumstances specified in this section. It follows that in order to so operate, two other conditions of S. 11 should be fulfilled 2 L. 107=63 I.C. 387. See also 158 I.C. 547=1935 R. 284. A Court which entertains a suit on a foreign judgment cannot enquire into the merits of the original action or the propriety of the decision 46 A. 119. See also 28 C. 641, 107 C. 352=47 C.L.J. 263=1928 P.C. 83 (P.C.), 36 Bom. L.R. 844=155 I.C. 711=1934 B. 390. Where a judgment falls under any of the exceptions no judgment on them can be passed in a British Indian Court 50 M. 261=52 M.L.J. 240 (F.B.). Every issue decided by the foreign Court is not binding on the British Indian Court. The expression "matter directly adjudicated upon" in the section should be held to include the right set up by the plaintiff limited only to the particular relief granted or refused 51 M. 720=54 M.L.J. 479; 1929 L. 627=139 I.C.

482. Section is not confined in its application to plaintiffs suing on foreign judgments. A defendant is equally entitled to non-suit the plaintiff on the basis of a foreign judgment. 54 M.L.J. 479=51 M. 720. A foreign judgment has no force or authority as such in British India, but may give a cause of action for a suit to obtain the same relief in British India. 31 M.L.J. 563=43 I.A. 215=44 C. 186 (P.C.). The judgment of a foreign Court obtained on a decree of a Court in British India is no bar to the execution of the original decree. 7 C. 82. A foreign judgment may, in certain specified cases, be enforced by proceedings in execution, instead of by a suit (See S. 44.) But S. 44 does not override this section 53 A. 747=1931 A. L.J. 653=136 I.C. 353=1931 A. 689. Hence a British executing Court can enter into the question whether the foreign Court had jurisdiction to pass the decree 37 P.L.R. 240=158 I.C. 232=1935 L. 551; 63 C. 1033=63 C.L.J. 175=40 C.W.N. 591. Foreign judgments in respect of immoveable property in British India do not bar the trial of the same question in British Courts 119 I.C. 482=1929 L. 627. But a suit upon it lies in a British Indian Court. 6 M. 273, 7 M. 164, 24 B. 86, 22 C. 222=21 I.A. 171 (P.C.). See also 13 B. 224. A foreign judgment cannot directly affect land situated in British India 19 M. 527. As to the effect of adjudication of insolvency in a foreign Court, see 23 M. 458. British Indian Courts are not bound in all cases to take cognizance of a suit based on a foreign judgment, and they may refuse to entertain it on grounds of expediency (ibid).

Sec. 13 (a). JURISDICTION OF FOREIGN COURT—A British executing Court has jurisdiction to see whether the foreign Court had jurisdiction to pass the decree in question. Scope of Ss. 13 and 14 considered. 39 M. 24=27 M.L.J. 535 (F.B.), 40 B. 551; 53 A. 747=1931 A.L.J. 653=136 I.C. 353=1931 A. 689. The defendant must either be a subject of the foreign State or reside in it, at the date of suit where the claim against him is of a personal nature 37 M. 163=24 M.L.J. 619; 22 C. 222 (P.C.); 26 C. 931, 24 B. 77, 20 M. 112; 32 M. 469, 158 I.C. 24, 63 C. 1033=63 C.L.J. 175=40 C.W.N. 591, 59 M. 918=43 L.W. 607=1936 M. 552=71 M.L.J. 93. A service on the agent of a firm within jurisdiction cannot create jurisdiction against non-resident partners and the judgment against the firm does not amount to personal decree against them. 37 M. 163=24 M.L.J.

Notes.

619 See also 20 M 112, 24 B 77; 63 M.L.J. 761=140 I.C. 588. But where there has been submission to the forum by the partners for many years, a decree against them can be personally enforced against them. Service of suit notice on agent of partnership whose members reside outside jurisdiction does not create jurisdiction on the ground of residence. 37 M. 163=24 M.L.J. 619. Irregularities which do not affect the jurisdiction of the Court do not vitiate a foreign judgment. 30 M. 292, 36 Bom L.R. 844=155 I.C. 711=1934 B 390.

SUBMISSION TO JURISDICTION—Where there has been consent to submit to the jurisdiction of the foreign Court, the decision is binding. 37 M. 163=24 M.L.J. 619. The question whether a party has submitted to the jurisdiction of a foreign Court is one of fact. To give jurisdiction and validity to the decree there must be submission before judgment is pronounced. Submission afterwards, unless supporting an inference that there was submission before, is only effective as creating a sort of estoppel. 57 M. 824=1934 M. 434=67 M.L.J. 187=39 L.W. 705=1934 M.W.N. 620=149 I.C. 1168. See also 39 M. 733=30 M.L.J. 148; 64 M.L.J. 531, 37 M. 163=24 M.L.J. 619; 15 M. 82; 30 M. 292. Though a defendant who remains ex parte does not, by that mere fact, submit to the jurisdiction of foreign Court, his conduct both before and after the decree is passed may afford evidence of his submission to jurisdiction and his intention in remaining ex parte. 59 M. 918=43 L.W. 607=1935 M. 552=71 M.L.J. 93. See also 53 A. 747=1931 A.L.J. 651=130 I.C. 353=1931 A. 689, 57 M. 824. The protest against jurisdiction must be made at an early stage of the proceedings. 7 M. 105. Where defendant appeared before foreign Court in the suit, thus recognizing its jurisdiction but failed to appear at a later stage and a decree was passed against him ex parte, he cannot afterwards in proceedings in execution of the decree, taken in British India, contest that the foreign Court had no jurisdiction. 44 L.W. 752=1936 M.W.N. 1165=71 M.L.J. 833; 63 C. 1033=53 C.L.J. 175=40 C.W.N. 591. The mere fact that a party has once appeared before a foreign Court in the character of plaintiff, is not sufficient to regard him for ever afterwards as having submitted to its jurisdiction in any suit instituted against him later on in that Court, in which he never appeared at all. 71 M.L.J. 838=44 L.W. 752=59 M. 918 (noted supra). Nor does the fact that a British subject has entered into a partnership in the foreign country, and that the suit relates to a transaction entered into in the course of the business of the partnership, lead to the inference that he has agreed to be bound by the decision of the foreign Court. 36 L.W. 756=1933 M. 112=63 M.L.J. 761. If the decree at the time when it was passed was an absolute nullity, it cannot be subsequently and retrospectively clothed with jurisdiction by an application by the judgment-debtor to the foreign Court to set aside the ex parte decree. 37 L.W. 410=1933 M. 393=4 M.L.J. 531. But see 8 L. 54=1927 L. 200 where it was held that there was voluntary submission to jurisdiction when a party applied for review of an order passed against him. Execution of power of attorney whether submission. 92 I.C. 491=1926 M. 259. The mere engagement of a pleader to defend a suit, does not amount to submission to jurisdiction, where the pleader reports no instructions at the time of trial. 18 M. 327. But see also 40 M. 112 (P.C.) and 39 M. 95=27 M.L.J. 670. Where defendant appears not voluntarily but under duress or coercive process, the decree cannot be binding. 39 M. 733=30 M.L.J. 148; 64 M.L.J. 531=144 I.C. 557. A submission to jurisdiction for saving property is not a voluntary submission. 39 M. 24=27 M.L.J. 515 (F.B.). What amounts to submission. See 22 N.L.R. 82=1926 N. 77; 1931 A. 689.

PERSONAL ACTIONS—So far as personal actions are concerned, competency of jurisdiction must be determined, not by territorial law of the foreign state but by the rules of Private International Law. 63 C. 1033=63 C.L.J. 175=40 C.W.N. 591. A foreign Court has jurisdiction in an international sense in personal actions in the following cases, viz., (1) where defendant is subject of the foreign country in which judgment is obtained, (2) where he is such subject when action is commenced, (3) where he, in the character of plaintiff, has selected the foreign Court in which he is afterwards sued, (4) where he has voluntarily appeared in that Court and submitted to its jurisdiction; (5) where he had contracted to submit himself to the foreign forum in which the judgment is obtained (Ibid.). But the case may be otherwise where the non-resident foreigner is a subject of the same sovereign power which legislates, although even in such a case there must be an express power of territorial legislation conferred by statute to give use to jurisdiction over him (Ibid.). Therefore where the judgment is that of a Court in England and the defendant resides in British India, the decree is not a nullity. 28 C. 641; 40 M. 112=44 I.A. 6=15 A.L.J. 92=19 Bom L.R. 206=21 C.W.N. 358=5 L.W. 342=34 I.C. 683=32 M.L.J. 35 (P.C.).

SUIT RELATING TO IMMOVABLE PROPERTY.—Where a suit relates to immovable property foreign Court will have jurisdiction where defendant has such property within the foreign jurisdiction in respect of which cause of action has arisen during his stay within that jurisdiction. 63 C. 1033=63 C.L.J. 175=40 C.W.N. 591. But the claim must be with reference to the property itself, and it will have no jurisdiction in personam over the possessor, even in regard to obligations connected with that property. (Ibid.) [Emmanuel v. Symon, (1908) 1 K.B. 302.]

SUIT RELATING TO WILL.—Grant of probate of a will or revocation thereof by a foreign Court cannot be treated as a judgment in

(b) where it has not been given on the merits of the case;

(c) where it appears on the face of the proceedings to be founded on an incorrect view of international law or a refusal to recognise the law of British India in cases in which such law is applicable;

Notes.

rem so as to make it incumbent on a Court in British India to hold that the deceased left a will or died intestate 43 L.W. 75=160 I. C. 733=1936 M. 197. The Court in British India can, in spite of the revocation by a foreign Court, hold that the will is true, valid and binding in respect of properties left by the deceased in British India, the devolution of which is governed by the law in British India and not by the law of the place where the owner of the properties resided and died. (Ibid.)

SUIT RELATING TO TRUST.—In actions relating to the recovery of the office of trusteeship the Court of competent jurisdiction is the Court of what may be called the domicile of the trust 54 M.L.J. 479

SUIT FOR DIVORCE AND MAINTENANCE.—Where a decree for divorce was passed by a foreign Court under which husband was to pay a monthly sum for maintenance of wife and children, and a suit was filed in British India based on that decree in respect of instalments which had already become due, it is final and conclusive. But she would not be entitled to obtain except by means of a fresh suit for the instalments accruing after the institution of the suit. 158 J.C. 547=1935 R. 284.

Sec. 13 (b)—This clause refers to cases where, for one reason or another, the controversy raised in the action has not, in fact, been the subject of direct adjudication by the Court. 40 M. 112=44 I.A. 6=38 I.C. 683=21 C.W.N. 358=32 M.L.J. 35 (P.C.). Where the defendant raised a defence in the suit but refused to answer interrogatories submitted to him, and his defence was consequently struck out without investigation under the English Supreme Court Rules, and judgment was given to plaintiff, held, it was no judgment on merits. (Ibid.) Judgment cannot be said to be on merits, when it has only followed as a penalty upon defendant not complying with orders of Court and the facts and circumstances of the case were never gone into at all. 41 A. 521=50 I.C. 780=17 A.L.J. 501; 50 A. 270=105 J.C. 186=25 A.L.J. 877=1927 A. 510. As to the true test of deciding whether a judgment has been given on the merits, see 14 L. 58=34 P.L.R. 311=140 I.C. 82=1932 L. 649. Decree passed on admission of defendant is one on merits 16 L. 768=37 P.L.R. 852=158 I.C. 113=1935 L. 396.

EX PARTE DECREES.—Where defendant does not appear, his default and failure to contest after due service of summons tantamounts to an admission of the claim, and judgment given in favour of plaintiff is one on merits (Ibid.) 41 A. 521=50 I.C. 780=17 A.L.J. 501; 50 A. 270=105 I.C. 186=25 A.L.J. 877=1927 A. 510. But see contra, 50 M. 261=100 I.C. 555=1927 M. 265=52 M.L.J. 240 (F.B.). Where it was held that a foreign judgment passed on default of appearance of defendant duly served with summons, merely on the plaintiff allegations without any trial or evidence is not one passed on merits (This overrules. 47 M. 877=82 I.C. 425=1925 M. 155=47 M.L.J. 356; 22 L.W. 820=92 I.C. 491=1926 M. 259.) See also 62 C. 682=39 C.W.N. 557=61 C.L.J. 29. Decrees passed under Ceylon, C.P. Code, Ss. 85 and 86, on plaintiff's affidavit in the absence of defendant, are not decisions on merits but are a penalty for default of appearance 30 L.W. 349=123 I.C. 579=1930 M. 149=57 M.L.J. 459. See also 38 L.W. 232=144 I.C. 22=1933 M. 544. Where pleader holding power does not receive instructions to defend the case on the merits, and appears in it, the mere fact of his being without such instructions, does not prevent the decision from being one on the merits 32 Bom.L.R. 1178=128 I.C. 609=1930 B. 511. See also 41 A. 521. Judgment for plaintiff in defendant's absence based on agreement between the parties is one on merits 158 I.C. 547=1935 R. 284; 52 M. 503=29 L.W. 575=1929 M. 469=56 M.L.J. 547. A foreign judgment cannot be said to be not on the merits merely because it happens to be erroneous on the merits 13 B. 244; 24 B. 86, or because it has proceeded on a wrong view as to burden of proof or as to the legal liability of a party. 41 M. 205=45 I.C. 703. See also 36 Bom.L.R. 844=155 I.C. 711=1934 B. 390. Absence of notice to defendant before a foreign judgment is passed renders it void 13 M. 496, 11 B. 241. But not mere irregular service of notice 47 M. 877 (noted supra).

Sec. 13 (c). MISTAKE OF LAW—A mistake of law in a foreign judgment is no ground for vacating it. A wrong view as to burden of proof will not make a foreign judgment erroneous on the face of it 41 M. 205=34 M.L.J. 295. In a suit by a Mahomedan widow for the administration of her husband's estate against the executors, the Supreme Court of Straits Settlements gave her a decree for a third share, including certain properties in British India, even though the probate granted by the Court in respect of the will left by the deceased had been explicitly confined to the property at Penang. In a suit brought in British India on that foreign judgment, held, that the judgment was not one on which a suit in British India could be successfully maintained for two reasons: (i) the foreign Court had no jurisdiction to bind, dispose of, or distribute immovable property outside the Crown Colony; so the judgment was founded "on an incorrect view of international law." (ii) Under the Mohammadan Law relating to the Sunnis of the Hanafi School as applied in British India, the widow, who has a child, is only entitled to one-eighth share in the property of her husband. As the foreign Court,

Sec. 13 (d).—There must be something in the procedure anterior to the judgment which is repugnant to natural justice 41 M. 205=45 I.C. 703=34 M.L.J. 295. A decree pronounced in absence of a party in personal action by a Court of a foreign State is null and void. 22 C. 222=21 I.A. 171 (P.C.); 40 B. 551, 64 M.L.J. 531=144 I.C. 557. A judgment without notice of suit to the party is contrary to natural justice. 28 C. 641; 29 C. 509, 5 B. 223, 9 B. 346, 11 B. 241; 13 M. 496. Where in a foreign judgment no guardian ad litem of a minor was appointed, where legal representative of a deceased defendant were not brought on record and where after a decree a third application for review was allowed such a judgment falls under Cl. (d). 8 L. 54=102 I.C. 523=1927 L. 200. See also 36 Bom. L.R. 844=1934 B. 390=155 I.C. 711 (Case where a foreign Court appointed as guardian ad litem a person having adverse interest. A procedure opposed to rules of natural justice) Where a judgment is passed by a Court composed of persons who have an interest in the judgment and its result, it would be contrary to natural justice 191 P.R. 1888. Where a foreign Court has held service of notice of suit sufficient it must be presumed to be correct in the absence of evidence to the contrary. 47 M. 877=82 I.C. 425=1925 M. 155=47 M.L.J. 356

Sec. 13 (e): FRAUD.—Where a decision is obtained by fraud, it is not binding on the parties. 1922 L. 175 See also 15 B. 216 7 M. 164; 191 P.R. 1888. In the case of a domestic judgment, the fraud must be extrinsic to the matter tried in the cause, and not merely that consisting in false evidence or forged documents submitted to the Court, and the truth of which was contested before and passed by it. 26 C. 891. Whether this rule applies to foreign judgments also. (Ibid.) A foreign judgment cannot be rendered ineffective merely by reason of frauds perpetrated on the Court by witnesses other than the plaintiff, the only way in which it can be rendered ineffective on the ground of fraud is by proving that it was obtained by fraud of the plaintiff who relies on it. 36 Bom. L.R. 844=1934 B. 390=155 I.C. 711. See also 144 I.C. 557=1933 M. 393=64 M.L.J. 531.

Sec. 13 (f).—Where limitation only prohibits the remedy but does not destroy the right itself, a foreign judgment cannot be impeached on the ground that the suit could not have been brought in British India under the law of limitation. 2 M. 400, 4 M. 14. Where a foreign Court passed a judgment according to the law of limitation in force in that foreign country, although it is not in accordance with the law of limitation in force in this country, it may operate as conclusive in a suit in a British Indian Court based on that judgment 46 A. 119=21 A.I.J. 890=79 I.C. 332=1924 A. 161, 9 Bur. Sec. 15: SCOPE AND OBJECT OF SECTION.—This and the following sections under the head 'place of suing' regulate the name in British India and apply only to those places where the Code is in force. They deal with matters of domestic concern and prescribe rules for the assumption of territorial jurisdiction by British Indian Courts in matters within their cognizance, and do not govern claims against persons or things wholly outside their jurisdiction. 9 L. 455=109 I.C. 28=1928 L. 297. This section merely lays down a rule of procedure so as to prevent the Courts of higher grades from being overcrowded and it is not meant to oust the jurisdiction of the Courts of higher grades. 7 A. 230 (F.B.). See also 17 C. 255, 25 C. 46; 31 C. 849; 14 M. 183; 14 C.W.N. 322 Exercise of jurisdiction by a Court of higher grade than is competent to try it is a mere irregu-

JURISDICTION—PRINCIPLES REGULATING— In order to determine the jurisdiction of the Court the plaint and not the written statement should be looked into. 13 P. 65=145 I. C. 294=1933 P. 246. Nor does it depend upon the amount found and decreed by the Court. 8 B. 31; 13 A. 320; 16 A. 286. The plaintiff's valuation determines jurisdiction not only of the first Court, but of the Appellate Court (ibid). But see 38 C. 639=12 I.C. 464. But where the plaintiff knowingly makes false statements, it is a fraud on the Court and the Court would have no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. 45 A. 193=71 I.C. 411. Consent of parties cannot confer jurisdiction. 9 A. 191=13 I.A. 134 (P.C.). See also 38 C. 639=12 I.C. 464; 24 C.W.N. 633; 89 I.C. 353. See however, 14 C.L.J. 337, 43 C.L.J. 116; 73 I.C. 903. Where the plaint is amended so as to render the claim beyond the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court in which it is instituted, the suit cannot be tried by that Court 9 M. 208

OVER-VALUATION OR UNDER-VALUATION OF SUIT.—Though jurisdiction is determined prima facie by valuation given by plaintiff, he is not quite free to give any arbitrary valuation and thus institute the suit in the Court of his choice 31 B. 73, 40 C. 245=17 I.C. 162; 17 C. 680. Where it is patent on the face of the plaint that suit is over or under valued, the Court will return the same to be presented to proper Court under O. 7, R. 10. Where it is not so patent, even then, the plaintiff may be called upon to prove proper valuation, when objection is raised to it by the defendant. 24 C. 651, 24 M. 158, 21 M. 271. Where in the course of preliminary inquiry it becomes clear to the Court that there has been gross under-valuation, it is the duty of the Court on the motion of either party or ex proprio motu to order that the plaint be returned for presentation in the proper Court if the value be held to be not higher than the figure up to which that Court has jurisdiction. 3 A.W.R. 405=1935 A. 157. As to validity of decree passed in suit instituted in Court of lower grade, see S. 11 of Suits Valuation Act, 1887. See, however, 38 C. 639=12 I.C. 464

WHERE SUBJECT-MATTER OF SUIT IS INCAPABLE OF VALUATION—See S. 9 of Suits Valuation Act, 1887. Suits for restitution of conjugal rights are incapable of proper valuation, and plaintiff's valuation must hold good 28 A. 545; 34 C. 352. But the same cannot be said in the case of suits affecting property, e.g., suit to compel registration of document, suit for removal of karnavan, suit to set aside adoption. In such cases the Madras High Court has held that the proper valuation would be the interest of the plaintiff in the property that would be affected by the suit 31 M. 89 (F.B.), 13 M. 56, 14 M. 169, 15 M. 294, 11 M. 266; 6 M. 192, 75 I.C. 115. But see 15 A. 378; 32 C. 734=8 Bom.P.J. 334 in which a different view has been held. See also 11 M.L.T. 155.

Sec 16—As to pecuniary limitations, see S. 15, supra, and as to other limitations prescribed by law, see S. 92, infra and S. 32 Bombay Civil Courts Act, 1869, Small Cause Courts Acts, Provincial and Presidency SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF SECTION—This section does not apply to chartered High Courts, vide S. 120, applies to moveables. 96 I.C. 691=1926 L. 503. In suits relating to moveable property the Court within whose jurisdiction the moveable property is kept has jurisdiction to try the case 147 I.C. 591=1934 A. 226. Transfer of place where subject matter is situated to jurisdiction of different Court does not deprive Court which originally entertained the suit from jurisdiction to try to its conclusion 47 M. L.J. 448=87 I.C. 152, 1928 M. 746=28 L.W. 885. The jurisdiction of Courts in British India is governed by the same principles as are applied by Courts of Equity in England except in so far as they may be at variance with legislative enactment. S. 16, C.P. Code, does not lay down any rule of law different from that prevailing in England 28 S.L.R. 54=155 I.C. 677=1934 S. 123. Non-compliance with the provisions of this section and of Ss. 17 to 20, is in no way fatal to the jurisdiction of the Court, and does not render a decree passed by a Court of competent jurisdiction a mere nullity so as to empower the executing Court to refuse to execute it on that ground. 25 S.L.R. 204=131 I.C. 182=1931 S. 47.

Sec 16 (a) IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY.—As to definition of term, see Cl. (25) of S. 3, General Clauses Act, 1897. Trees standing on land are immoveable property, 19 B. 207, but they are no longer such when cut down. (Ibid) Growing crops are not immoveable property, see S. 2 (13), supra

IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY IN FOREIGN COUNTRY—JURISDICTION OF BRITISH INDIAN COURTS—The English Courts, and so also British Indian Courts, have jurisdiction in personam in respect of foreign immoveables against persons locally within their jurisdiction, in cases where there is an equity between the parties arising from contract, fraud, or trust, provided that the decision of title be not directly involved. But such an equity must be of a personal nature, either a fiduciary relationship or privity of some other kind between the parties. Such jurisdiction

- (b) for the partition of immovable property,
 (c) for foreclosure, sale or redemption in the case of a mortgage of or charge upon immovable property,
 (d) for the determination of any other right to or interest in immovable property:
 (e) for compensation for wrong to immovable property,
 (f) for the recovery of movable property actually under distraint or attachment, shall be instituted in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate:

in personam has always to be exercised for the purpose of deciding the existence of a valid trust in respect of foreign immovables and for the purpose of giving relief against fraudulent and inequitable dealings with regard to foreign immovables, for ordering accounts of rents and profits and for appointing a receiver of foreign property, and although the Courts have not and could not put the receiver in possession of such property, they have given effect to such orders by dealing for contempt the party preventing possession being taken. 28 S.L.R. 54=155 I.C. 677=1934 S. 123, 23 N.L.R. 170 (suit for mesne profits as to immovable property situated within foreign jurisdiction) British Indian Court has no jurisdiction to pass a decree upon a mortgage of immovable property situated in Berar 4 N.L.R. 61, 1935 N. 192, 31 N.L.R. 43 (Sup.)=159 I.C. 739=1935 N. 250 (F.B.)

S. 16 (b).—When in a suit for partition of movable and immovable property, the latter is situated outside the jurisdiction of the Court, leave can be granted to withdraw the suit, so far as it relates to it and relief may be granted so far as the movables are concerned. 28 M. 216, 25 S.L.R. 275=131 I.C. 186=1931 S. 50, 4 B. 482; 1926 L. 503, 27 M. 157. This clause does not include a suit for dissolution of partnership. 41 A. 513=17 A.L.J. 567=50 I.C. 156

S. 16 (c).—Suit for a declaration that a mortgage in favour of the defendant is invalid, falls under the section. 23 M.L.J. 679. Where a Court grants a decree declaring a charge on immovable property situated wholly outside its jurisdiction, a purchaser under such decree would be treated only as a purchaser under a money decree. 8 A. 117. A suit to enforce a charge created on the land for Government revenue on it can be instituted at the place where the land is situated. 29 M.L.J. 639=39 M. 795. Where lands are situated in 2 districts, and an order has been passed by the revenue authorities for the payment of the revenue regarding both the lands in one of the Districts and they were so paid, neither the order nor the payment would show conclusively that a civil suit in respect of that land lies within that district. 149 I.C. 758=1933 P. 555.

S. 16 (d).—RIGHT TO OR INTEREST IN IMMOVABLE PROPERTY, WHAT ARE.—This clause includes a charge on immovable property. 25 S.L.R. 204=131 I.C. 182=1931 S. 47. Right of fishery in enclosed water. 24 C. 449, a right of ferry, 13 M. 54, right to have a water course opened. 4 W.R. 107. But see 9 Bur.L.T. 119=36 I.C. 431. Suit for recovery of unpaid purchase money. 28 M. 227, Suit for declaration of plaintiffs right to rent, where it is denied by the defendant. 22 B. 22.

RIGHT TO OR INTEREST IN IMMOVABLE PROPERTY, WHAT ARE NOT.—A suit for arrears of rent is not governed by this section but by S. 20 although the plaintiff's title to the property may incidentally come in question. 6 B.H.C.A.C. 29, 10 I.C. 267=9 M.L.T. 372. Suit for declaring validity of adoption is not governed by this section. 30 L.W. 691. Suit for declaration of title and for administration, declaring prior probate proceeding as not binding does not come under this section. 1925 L. 456=94 I.C. 1046, 1926 L. 503=96 I.C. 691. A suit for declaration that the plaintiffs are beneficiary interested in a decree for sale, although it did not run in their names, does not fall under the clause. 26 A. 603. A suit for dissolution of partnership is not one to a right in immovable property, even though partnership assets include a factory. 41 A. 513=50 I.C. 156. So also a claim for accounts relating to a factory. 1931 L. 673=32 P.L.R. 464=132 I.C. 218.

Sec 16 (e).—This clause refers to torts affecting immovable property as in the case of trespass. 20 C. 689.

S. 16 (f).—As to jurisdiction in a suit for recovery of movable property under attachment by a foreign Court. See 14 I.C. 279=1912 M.W.N. 524. In suits relating to movable property, the Court within whose jurisdiction the movable property is kept, has jurisdiction to try the case, 147 I.C. 591=1934 A. 226.

PROVISO.—'Defendant' means all the defendants where there are more than one. 73 I.C. 405=1924 C. 443. A suit by the vendor to enforce specific performance of a contract to wrong to, immovable property held by or on behalf of the defendant may, where the relief sought can be entirely obtained through his personal obedience, be instituted either in the Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the property is situate, or in the court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain.

Explanation.—In this section “property” means property situate in British India.

17. [S. 19] Where a suit is to obtain relief respecting, or compensation for wrong to, immovable property situate within the jurisdiction of different Courts, the suit may be instituted in any Court within the local limits of whose jurisdiction any portion of the property is situate:

Suits for immovable property situate within jurisdiction of different Courts.

purchase land is a suit for land within the meaning of S 16. The proviso appears to extend the section to a suit by the vendee. Hence the Court in whose jurisdiction the property is situated has jurisdiction to try the suit even though defendant does not reside within the jurisdiction of the Court. 143 I.C. 759=1933 M. 436; But see 9 Bur. L.T. 119=36 I.C. 431. When the relief granted by the award is a declaration of proprietary title to certain immovable property, the proviso to S. 16 is not applicable and the Court outside whose jurisdiction the property is situate has no jurisdiction to file the award. 55 A. 542=1933 A.L.J. 741=1933 A. 380. See also 153 I.C. 300=1934 S. 183 (2). The fact whether the charge, over immovable property was or was not the subject-matter of reference is not material. 25 S.L.R. 204=131 I.C. 182=1931 S. 47. See also 32 P.L.R. 464=132 I.C. 218=1931 L. 673. Suit for mesne profits of lands, situated outside British India can under the proviso be instituted in a British Indian Court, if the defendant is residing within its jurisdiction. 46 B. 108=68 I.C. 510=1922 B. 188. But if the defendant is a non-resident foreigner, the suit would not lie in British Indian Court. 41 L.W. 381=1935 M. 545=68 M.L.J. 506. The Secretary of State for India in Council is not a person who dwells or carries on business or personally works for gain within the local limits of Calcutta within the meaning of the proviso. 40 C. 308. On this section (proviso). The proviso will not apply when the property is in the possession of the plaintiff. 20 C. 689.

S. 17.—OBJECT AND APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—This section is only permissive, and so where the properties are situate in different jurisdictions, the section is no bar to parties bringing successive suits. 32 I.C. 423=3 L.W. 107 (22 B. 922, 14 C. 835, Foll.). See also 3 M.H.C.R. 376, 14 M. 324; 12 C. 566, 59 I.A. 268=63 M.L.J. 336 (P.C.). The object of the section is to avoid plurality of suits. 16 A. 359. As to applicability of section to movable property, see 96 I.C. 691=1926 L. 503. This section does not apply to Chartered High Courts in their original Civil jurisdiction (See S 120 infra). As to applicability to Oudh Rent Act, see 13 R. D.

130. All the Courts situated outside the Santal Parganas to which S 17, C P Code applies have concurrent jurisdiction with the Courts inside the Santal Parganas for the trial of suits in which the properties involved are both outside and inside the Santal Parganas and the value of the properties exceed Rs 1,000, and therefore in ordinary circumstances the Gaya Court has jurisdiction to try such suits, barring of course the restrictions placed under S. 5 of Santhal Parganas Regulation (1872) 13 P. 486=152 I.C. 301=1934 P. 292. The C. P. Code including this section extends to Courts established under the Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act. 63 I.A. 311=15 P. 567=40 C.W. N. 1061=38 Bom L.R. 768=44 L.W. 88=163 I.C. 49=1936 P.C. 189=71 M.L.J. 60 (P.C.). The choice given by this section can be utilized only if the C. P. Code applies to both the Courts (Ibid).

The Court passing decree under this section as to immovable property situated outside its jurisdiction, can also execute it in respect of that property (See S 38 infra).

COURTS.—‘Courts’ in S 17 means Courts to which the Code applies. The Court of a district subject to the Code has no jurisdiction under S 17 to entertain a suit so far as it claims a decree for sale of mortgaged land situated in a scheduled district. 42 M. 813=46 I.A. 151=51 I.C. 185=37 M.L.J. 11 (P.C.), or in respect of properties situate out of British India. 54 B. 495=59 M.L.J. 379 (P.C.). See also 42 C. 116=27 M.L.J. 459 (P.C.); 33 B. 373=2 I.C. 489. But if in such suits, properties within jurisdiction also are involved, relief may be given with reference to such properties, while declining relief with reference to the rest of the properties. 14 C. 836; 22 B. 922.

BONA FIDES OF PARTIES.—Jurisdiction vested in Courts—Whether can be taken away by proof of plaintiff items not being within jurisdiction. Bona fide suit protected 1930 N. 189. A bona fide compromise as to properties situated within jurisdiction will not divest the jurisdiction of the Court to proceed with the trial regarding the claim as to rest of properties outside jurisdiction (included in the suit) unless it was shown that the compromise was a mere continuance to defeat the policy of the rule of procedure as of any suit relating to that property, and its decree in the suit shall have the same effect as if the property were situate within the local limits of its jurisdiction

Provided that the suit is one with respect to which the Court is competent as regards the nature and value of the suit to exercise jurisdiction.

(2) Where a statement has not been recorded under sub-section (1), and an objection is taken before an appellate or revisional Court that a decree or order in a suit relating to such property was made by a Court not having jurisdiction where the property is situate, the appellate or revisional Court shall not allow the objection unless in its opinion there was, at the time of the institution of the suit, no reasonable ground for uncertainty as to the Court having jurisdiction with respect thereto and there has been a consequent failure of justice.

19. [S. 18.] Where a suit is for compensation for wrong done to the

ILLUSTRATIVE CASES.—Under O. 1, R 3, a plaintiff can in the same suit combine distinct causes of action against several defendants provided that the relief claimed arises from a series of acts or transactions and that there is some common question of law or fact arising in the suit. Where the question that arises for decision is common as against all the defendants, but the property in dispute is situate in different districts S. 17 is applicable and the plaintiff can bring a suit in any one of such districts 124 I C 202=37 L.W 681=1933 M 622. (b) any of the defendants, where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on

Notes.

M. 477, 19 A.L.J. 696=65 I.C. 93. The C. P. Code does not forbid the institution of a suit against a defendant resident in British India even if the decision may involve adjudication regarding plaintiff's title to immovable property outside British India. 23 N.L.R. 170. Cause of action arising in native state where parties reside—British Courts have no jurisdiction to try suit. 54 B. 192=32 Bom L.R. 171. Court's jurisdiction does not cease because the place of cause of action ceases to be in its jurisdiction after the institution of the suit. 1928 M 746=28 L.W. 885. Agreement cannot confer jurisdiction where there is none. 1929 S 227.

QUESTION OF JURISDICTION—MODE OF DETERMINATION.—It is well-settled that the question of jurisdiction is to be determined with reference to the allegations in the plaint and not with reference to the pleas. Where it was alleged in the plaint that according to the agreement, which was the basis of the suit, the amount claimed was payable at the place of suit, the question of jurisdiction could not be separated from the merits of the case, and the Court should allow the parties to produce their full evidence in regard to the execution of the agreement before coming to any decision as to whether the suit was cognizable by it or not. 151 I C. 726=36 P.L.R. 6=1934 L. 803.

Sec. 20 (a) ACTUALLY AND VOLUNTARILY RESIDES, ETC.—Under S 20 residence means permanent residence, not a temporary or casual residence as traveller. 54 I.C. 65 (Bur.), 38 B 125 Foll. But see 14 I.C. 573 (M.) See also 34 M. 257; 143 I.C. 357=34 P.L.R. 908=1933 L. 120. A Government servant liable to be sent to various places but stationed in one place for several years cannot be said to have only a temporary residence there. 111 I.C. 851=4 Bur. L.T. 183. The mere fact that the defendants had their ancestral home within the jurisdiction of the Court would not give jurisdiction to it. 64 I.C. 688 (1)=19 A.L.J. 822, 38 I.C. 62=112 P.R. 1916. But see 57 C. 65. The fact that the debtor had a family home in a particular place is not conclusive of the question whether he resided there. 145 I.C. 755=34 P.L.R. 658=1933 L. 851 (1). The words actually and voluntarily resides applies only to natural persons and not to legal entities. 1930 L. 818.

CARRIES ON BUSINESS.—The test of 'carrying on business' is not the continuity or intermittency of the business, but the fact of owning interest in the business and receiving profits. 28 N.L.R. 118=140 I.C. 63=1932 N. 114. 'Carrying on business' is used as distinct from personally working. It does not involve personal appearance or personal effort. It means having an interest in business, a voice in what is done, a share in the profit or loss and some control upon the business. 19 A.L.J. 696=65 I.C. 93. See also 4 M. 29; 96 I.C. 887=31 C.W.N. 174=1926 P.C. 88 (P.C.) But where business is carried on by an agent, he should be an agent in the strict sense of the term. 23 M. 458. The employment of a mere commission agent without power to enter into contract is not enough. 8 B.H.C. 102, 12 B. 507; 8 C. 678; 73 I.C. 205=1923 L. 427=29 S.L.R. 292=164 I.C. 1015=1936 S. 121. Partnership contract by P and D firms both having head offices at Calcutta—P firm having branch at Muzaffarpur District—Contract that jute be purchased by P at Muzaffarpur and sold at Calcutta by D—Suit by P for dissolution of partnership and accounts at Muzaffarpur Court. Held that purchase of suit for purpose of business could not necessarily be 'carrying on business of partnership', and hence Muzaffarpur Court had no jurisdiction. 160 I.C. 353=1936 P. 6. Whether mere letting of house property through an agent can be said to be carrying on business. 66 I.C. 865=1922 L. 164. A minor French subject cannot be said to carry on business in British India merely because he has immovable properties there. 20 L.W. 691. A corporation resides wherever it carries on business, irrespective of the location of its Head Office and if a Bank has 50 branch offices, it has 50 separate and distinct jurisdictions. 4 P.L.J. 141=48 I.C. 943; 1933 L. 11=14 L. 42=149 I.C. 473. See also 8 C. 678, 56 M.L.J. 299. "Business" means commercial business and not business of Government. The whole of a province cannot be said to be a single place for the purposes of Expl II and a Government cannot be sued at any place within that province. 1930 L. 818=126 I.C. 514.

Sec. 20 (b) : LEAVE OF THE COURT.—Leave may be given even after the institution of the suit. 30 B. 570. An application for leave under S 20 (b) can be made after the passing of a judgment on the preliminary issue relating to jurisdiction but before the plaint is ordered to be returned for presentation to the proper Court. 145 I.C. 706=27 S.L.R. 230=133 S. 179. Applicability—City Civil Court, Madras—Suit in—Defendant residing outside Madras—Leave to sue—May be obtained before or after suit. 68 M.L.J. 205. Leave to sue may be granted without previous notice to the defendant. 64 I.C. 794, 25 A. 603. The leave can be granted in appeal by the District Judge. 35 I.C. 74=4 L.W. 411. Where leave to sue was sought for but refused, the suit, cannot go on with the defendants on the record, when no permission was granted by the Court. 46 B. 229. A defendant may be taken to have "acquiesced in such institution" if he does not object.

business, or personally works for gain, provided that in such case either the leave of the Court is given, or the defendants who do not reside, or carry on business, or personally work for gain, as aforesaid, acquiesce in such institution; or

(c) the cause of action, wholly or in part, arises.

Notes.

See 6 M 349; or apply under S. 22, 30 B. 81. As to when and how objection to jurisdiction is to be taken, see Ss. 21 and 22. When cause of action arises in Courts jurisdiction—Leave if necessary. 1929 S. 170. If leave is granted without notice to the opposite party Court can in the exercise of its inherent jurisdiction, hear objections and pass necessary orders under S. 151. 150 I.C. 559=1933 L. 266. Discretion of lower Court in granting or refusing leave will not be lightly interfered with by the appellate Court, but where the lower Court has refused to exercise its discretion in a fit case, the appellate Court can interfere. 145 I.C. 706=27 S.L.R. 230=1933 S. 179.

Sec 20 (c) CAUSE OF ACTION.—The expression means the bundle of facts which is necessary to be proved to entitle the plaintiff to a decree. 29 B 368; 22 C 451; 23 C.W. N. 517; 30 B 167, 39 A 506; 31 M.L.J. 816; 72 I.C. 920=1923 M. 109, 1924 N. 308; 65 I.C. 425=1922 O. 109=3 A.W.R. 11=147 I.C. 591=1934 A. 226; 61 C 1023=39 C.W.N. 293=155 I.C. 882=1935 C 160, 27 S.L.R. 230=145 I.C. 706=1933 Sind 179, 30 S.L.R. 182=1936 Sind 229; 57 B. 306=35 Bom.L.R. 168. 143 I.C. 335=1933 B 179. It means everything which if not proved gives the defendant an immediate right to judgment, every fact which is material to be proved to entitle the plaintiff to succeed, and every fact which the defendant would have a right to traverse. 58 C 539=134 I.C. 65=1931 C 659, 60 C 918, 28 S.L.R. 102, 1934 R 234. A bona fide voluntary assignment affords a valid cause of action not only against the assignor, but also against the original debtor. 1926 S 31, 145 I.C. 706=27 S.L.R. 230=1933 S. 179, 34 P.L.R. 771=1933 L. 940. (Assignment of promissory note within jurisdiction giving rise to cause of action) The cause of action must be antecedent to the institution of suit. 4 P.L.J. 387 (393). The term means the cause of action as it was at the time when the right to sue arose for the first time. Per Krishnan, J., in 31 M.L.J. 816. It has no relation to the defence set up or to the character of the relief prayed for in the plaint. 16 C. 98; 46 I.C. 913. For place of filing an application under Sch. II, para 17, see 1933 L 18.

CAUSE OF ACTION—SUITS ON CONTRACT.—The cause of action in suits on a contract arises at the place where the contract was made or the place where the contract was to be performed or performance completed or at the place where in performance of the contract any money to which the suits relate was expressly or impliedly payable. 1 R. 231. 7 N.L.J. 25, 79 I.C. 30, 13 I.C. 943=16 C.W.N. 325, 27 I.C. 129=8 S.L.R. 107. If there is a contract made by means of correspondence between the parties, part of the cause of action arises where some of the letters are written or sent, and a suit can therefore be instituted at that place. 39 C.W.N. 171. If the parties to contract for supply of goods agree that the delivery is to be made at a particular place, a cause of action would arise there in part at least, because under the terms of the contract it is the place where a part of the contract is to be performed. And if owing to the action of the buyer the seller is unable to perform the contract at the place agreed upon, he will have a right to institute his suit there. In a suit for damages for breach of contract the cause of action consists of making the contract, and of its breach, so that the suit may be filed either at the place where the contract was made, or at the place where it should have been performed. 56 A 828=153 I.C. 824=1934 A.L.J. 1093=1934 A. 740. Where the plaintiff residing in a place T gave orders to the defendant firm in M to send certain goods for which he sent an advance and instructed them not to send the goods per V.P.P. and when the goods were sent by V.P.P. in contravention of his order he refused to receive them and claimed the refund of the advance paid by him by a suit in the Court at T. Held, that the Court at T had jurisdiction as the contract was made and was to be performed or the performance thereof completed at that place. 40 L.W. 498=1934 M 581=67 M.L.J. 296. A suit for damages for breach of contract can be brought either where the contract was made or where the breach was committed in the place where it ought to be performed. 16 C.W.N. 325, 50 I.C. 139, 21 B. 126, 27 M 494. See also 27 M 355, 103 I.C. 37 (2), 19 S.L.R. 207. Where no place for the performance is prescribed by the agreement, the place where it is intended by the parties that such contract should be performed ought to supply the forum. 13 Bom.L.R. 46; 11 B 649; 31 M. 223.

CONTRACT OF SALE.—A contract is made where it is accepted and the buyer at Agra cannot sue at Agra for breach of a contract to sell goods concluded by acceptance at Delhi. 41 A 602. On this point, see also 60 I.C. 481; 2 L.L.J. 555; 53 I.C. 331. Cause of action may arise in the place of delivery of goods, if such place is an essential part of the contract. 39 A 368. See also 144 I.C. 828=1934 L 44. Even if the price was stipulated to be paid at another place. 1930 N. 90. A suit on account of non-delivery of goods may be brought in a Court of the

(a) the defendant, or each of the defendants where there are more than one, at the time of the commencement of the suit, actually and voluntarily resides, or carries on business, or personally works for gain; or

The cause of action for a suit by the seller for balance of accounts due from the buyer arises at the place of consignment of the goods to the railway 24 I.C. 423=1914 M.W.N. 803. Delivery to carrier is equivalent to delivery to buyer. 1925 L. 555=89 I.C. 751, 144 I.C. 828=1934 L. 44 (66 I.C. 501 Not Foll). Cause of action arising in place where money is payable See 42 A. 480, 1925 O. 209. Payment is due at creditor's place in absence of express or implied specification 83 I.C. 339, 118 I.C. 898. Place of performance of contract is place where money is payable. See also 86 I.C. 1046, 89 I.C. 181=1925 N. 408; 40 M.L.J. 806 (P.C.), 1930 O. 91. In a contract of sale of goods by Calcutta firm to Madras firm, where the payment was to be by hundies to be drawn by the former upon the latter, the cause of action for a suit to recover money overpaid arose in Madras, the payment having been made in Madras. 47 M. 403=46 M.L.J. 82. When there is a clause in the contract that all claims should be decided at a particular place, whether suit can be instituted at any other place where cause of action may have arisen See 144 I.C. 828=1934 L. 44 See also 110 I.C. 727; 113 I.C. 783, 119 I.C. 481, 49 M.L.J. 25 (P.C.). Contract—Principal and agent—Supply of goods by agent—Balance struck at principal's place of business—Suit by agent at his place of business—Maintainability 152 I.C. 802=1935 L. 68.

PARTNERSHIP SUITS.—A suit for dissolution of partnership can be brought only at the place of its business 42 P.R. 1916=33 I.C. 953; or where the partnership is entered into, 1929 A. 236; 32 P.L.R. 464=132 I.C. 218=1931 L. 673. If there are two such places at any one place, 23 L.W. 361=92 I.C. 915=1926 M. 427; 50 M.L.J. 298. A suit for dissolution of partnership carried on in foreign territory is maintainable in British India if the parties are resident there 23 Bom.L.R. 543=63 I.C. 959=45 B. 1228. Where partnership business was carried on at two places suit for dissolution can be filed at either place and also at the place where partnership accounts are maintained 50 M.L.J. 298, 1931 L. 673. But where the transactions had at a place cannot be said to amount to "carrying on of business", that place cannot have jurisdiction to entertain suit for dissolution of partnership and accounts. 160 I.C. 353=1936 P. 6 (1926 M. 427. Dist.).

CONTRACTS OF AGENCY.—Where goods are sent to place to be sold there and a sale takes place in contravention of instructions, a suit for damages will be at place A 1924 N. 308. In a suit for damages caused by the agent's negligence, cause of action was held to have arisen in the place where the agent's negligence occurred and the Court elsewhere had no jurisdiction 34 A. 49, 1922 N. 167, 94 I.C. 287=1926 S. 238. The cause of action in a suit for accounts against an agent arises at the place where the contract of agency took place or where it was to be performed and where account was to be rendered or was refused. 55 I.C. 266=12 Bur.L.T. 198, 94 I.C. 287=1926 S. 238. Where money was intended to be paid to the plaintiff at his place part of the cause of action arose there 46 M.L.J. 371. Unless the contract clearly indicated the contrary a commission agent is liable to render account only at the place where all the business is transacted 46 A. 465. See also 152 I.C. 802, 92 I.C. 273=1926 L. 287.

CONTRACT FOR REMUNERATION FOR SERVICE.—The defendant wrote a letter from S to plaintiff at F calling upon him to go to S to treat the defendant. After plaintiff's arrival at S an agreement regarding the fees, payment, etc., was arrived at S and the plaintiff was to be paid at S. Plaintiff sued for the fee fixed at F, held, that the cause of action arose at S as the whole contract was made at that place. Held further, that as there was no failure of justice caused by the suit being tried at F the objection as to jurisdiction need not be given effect to in revision 148 I.C. 875=1934 A. 549.

SUIT FOR MONEY.—The cause of action for the payment of a debt will arise at the place where the debt is payable 20 I.C. 683 (Bur.). If there is nothing as to the place where the money under a bond is payable, the Court must be guided by the intention of the parties. 49 I.C. 950. Payment actually made by debtor at place other than where creditor resides resists the above presumption 1930 L. 818=126 I.C. 514. The debtor must seek his creditor and pay him 27 I.C. 1027=1926 M. 1207. See also 24 A.L.J. 48; 23 L.W. 3=1926 M.W.N. 108; 53 I.A. 58=53 C. 88=49 M.L.J. 806 (P.C.), 118 I.C. 718=1929 L. 868 (1); 131 I.C. 303 (2)=1931 L. 431. Where loan was made at creditor's residence in British India to defendant residing outside British India, and the contract was silent as to the place of payment, held that the creditor could institute a suit for the recovery of the amount in the British Indian Court having jurisdiction over his place of residence 59 B. 365=37 Bom.L.R. 357=1935 B. 283.

SUIT ON NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.—A suit on promissory note lies at the place where it is drawn and signed and dated. 28 M. 19. Where money on a pro-note was intended to be paid in place A the Court at A has jurisdiction to entertain a suit on the pro note, 2 P.R. 1916=31 I.C. 698. The assignment of a promissory note is a part of the cause of action and the assignee can sue on it in the Court within whose jurisdiction it took place. 31 M.L.J. 816, 34 P.L.R. 771=147 I.C. 229=1933 L. 940. The cause of action on a hundi arises at the place where it is endorsed by the payee. 22 C. 451 See also 107 I.C. 218 The dishonour of a hundi by non-acceptance constitutes part of the cause of action in a suit against the drawer 20 B. 133 Where a hundi drawn in Cawnpore for acceptance and payment in Calcutta is so accepted and paid in Calcutta, part of the cause of action arises in Calcutta 47 C. 588 Where in respect of sale of goods at Tuticorin to plaintiff residing thereby defendant carrying on business at Rangoon, the contract was that plaintiff should make payment by hundis, and the defendant should obtain payment by endorsing the same at Rangoon, held, that Tuticorin Court had jurisdiction to entertain suit for damages for short delivery. 41 L.W. 519=156 I.C. 1041=1935 M. 665=68 M.L.J. 504 (F.B.). S. 19 is subject to limitations of S. 19 An action in tort for wrongful conversion of a hundi is subject to the rule in S. 19 and must be instituted in the Court within the limits of whose jurisdiction the defendant wrongdoer resides, and the Court within whose jurisdiction the hundi is endorsed over to the plaintiff will not have jurisdiction But if the suit is one for money had and received upon an implied contract, the position would be different, for in this case, S. 20 would determine jurisdiction 30 S.L.R. 182=1936 S. 229

MATRIMONIAL SUITS—In matrimonial suits, to which the Divorce Act does not apply, questions of jurisdiction should be decided under the Civil Procedure Code 54 I.C. 65=12 Bur L.T. 120 A Court is competent to try a case of breach of contract of betrothal when the breach took place within its jurisdiction, though the defendants may be residing elsewhere 37 I.C. 114=93 P.R. 1916 In a suit for damages for breach of contract to marry, part of the cause of action arises at the place where the marriage is to take place, though the agreement to marry is entered into at another place 65 I.C. 812 A suit for restitution of conjugal rights may be brought either where the husband resides or the wife resides 18 B. 316, 54 I.C. 120 In a suit for restitution of conjugal rights the mere fact that the plaintiff has his home within jurisdiction is sufficient to give the Court jurisdiction Even where the defendant is not resident within its jurisdiction and the parties had at no time been living together within that jurisdiction the Court cannot refuse to entertain the suit 59 M. 392=43 L.W. 307=1936 M.W.N. 19=161 I.C. 485=1936 M. 288=70 M.L.J. 288 (on appeal from 67 M.L.J. 271 which held otherwise). But where wife's father is also impleaded and injunction is claimed against him, so far as he is concerned it cannot be maintained at the plaintiff's place when the father lives beyond jurisdiction (Ibid) A suit for dower lies in a Court within whose jurisdiction the marriage and divorce took place. 32 C. 146. See also 18 A. 400 A suit for recovery of prompt dower lies also in the place where the plaintiff resides, on the principle that debtor must follow creditor unless there is different contract between them 63 C. 726=40 C. W.N. 392=161 I.C. 427=1936 C. 97

SUITS FOR DAMAGES FOR TORTIOUS ACTS—If tort is committed within the limits of one Court and the tort-feasor resides within the limits of another, both Courts have jurisdiction. 39 M. 483=28 M.L.J. 310 Where a person purchases a ticket for journey by railway at A, but fell out of the train and was injured owing to the neglect of the Railway Co., at B, the cause of action for a suit for damages arises at B and not at A 42 A. 488 See also 9 L. 140=112 I.C. 153 A suit for defamation may be instituted at the place where the defamatory matter was published. 13 B. 178 In a suit for malicious prosecution and arrest part of the cause of action arises at the place where the person is arrested 6 Bom.L.R. 141

INSURANCE CONTRACTS—In cases based on contract of insurance, the words 'cause of action' do not include the loss or damage of the property insured, which is merely a cause of the cause, the real cause of action being failure to pay money under the contract. 1 R. 231=76 I.C. 482=1924 R. 2 But see 1928 N. 305 (2) The only definition of cause of action that will work if it has to be applied to cases of all kinds is the entire set of the facts that gives rise to an enforceable claim In the case of an insurance policy payable at death, the claimant must prove the death of the insured; hence the place of the death of the assured is a place where the cause of action arises, so as to give jurisdiction to the Court of that place. The words "on proof to the satisfaction of directors, that the sum assured has become payable" mean only proof of death of insured 28 S.L.R. 192=151 I.C. 516=1934 S. 76, 44 I.C. 694=22 C.W.N. 517, 41 I.C. 392 (M.), 34 Bom.L.R. 815=140 I.C. 262=1932 B. 292 See also 98 P.R. 1918=45 I.C. 900=29 P.L.R. 1918.

LEASE—A lessee of a grove must apply to the lessor to fix a place for payment of the premium due, and when he does not do so, he has to make the payment at the lessor's place of residence, because he, as a debtor, has to find the creditor. Therefore a suit by the lessor for the premium due can be instituted at the place where the lessor lives, since part of the cause of action arises there, though the lands may be situate and the lessee may reside in a different place. 18 R.D. 403=15 L.R. 527 (Rev.). A instituted a suit in the Court of Small Causes at X against her agent D, for recovery of Rs 100 being the unpaid balance of the premium collected by D in respect of a lease in favour of B On D pleading that he had recovered Rs 800 only and the remaining Rs 100 was paid by B to A herself, A amended the plaint impleading B claiming the sum from B in the alternative. The grove to which the lease related was Explanation I.—Where a person has a permanent dwelling at one place and also a temporary residence at another place, he shall be deemed to reside at both places in respect of any cause of action arising at the place where he has such temporary residence.

Explanation II.—A corporation shall be deemed to carry on business at its sole or principal office in British India or, in respect of any cause of action arising at any place where it has also a subordinate office, at such place.

(b) A resides at Simla, B at Calcutta and C at Delhi. A, B and C being together at Benares, B and C make a joint promissory note payable on demand, and deliver it to A. A may sue B, and C at Benares, where the cause of action arose. He may also sue them at Calcutta, where B resides, or at Delhi, where C resides; but in each of these cases, if the non-resident defendant objects, the suit cannot proceed without the leave of the Court.

SUITS AGAINST NON-RESIDENT FOREIGNERS—A British Indian Court has jurisdiction to entertain a suit if the cause of action arises within its jurisdiction, even where the defendant is a non-resident foreigner 59 B 365=37 B L R 357=1935 B 283 (suit for recovery of loan); 35 M L J 189 (a case against a foreign ship-owner for short delivery of goods) See also 56 A 828=153 I C. 824=1934 A L J. 1093=1934 A 740 Neither the fact that the rent sued for is in respect of property situated in a Native State, nor that defendant is resident of a Native State, will prevent British Indian Court from entertaining the suit for rent where the rental agreement had been executed in British India 41 L W. 381=1935 M W N 174=157 I C 281=1935 M 545=68 M. ARBITRATION—Refusal to refer to arbitration by the other party is a fundamental part of the cause of action in an application under Sch II, para 17 to have the agreement filed in Court. Such refusal confers jurisdiction 1933 L 18=150 I C 674 It is immaterial that the proposed arbitrator resides elsewhere, and the cause of action as to the other reliefs also have arisen elsewhere (Ibid).

SUITS TO SET ASIDE DECREE ON THE GROUND OF FRAUD.—A suit to set aside a decree obtained by fraud, where no other relief is claimed, cannot be maintained in any district outside the district in which the fraud was committed and that the decree obtained. 29 A 418, 25 A 48; 36 A 564 Defendant fraudulently obtained a decree in S and transferred it to A and in execution had the plaintiff arrested in A. Held, a suit to set aside the decree could be filed at A as the material portion of the cause of action accrued at A. 39 A 607, 5 C.W.N. 559 See also 3 Luck 142=4 O W.N. 1103, 1927 L. 778=100 I C. 164 (2) As to whether the Court in whose jurisdiction the property attached under the decree is situate, has jurisdiction to entertain a suit to set it aside, see 37 A 189 Decree obtained at one place and transferred to another place for execution. Suit to set aside can be filed at either place. 7 L. 61=94 I C 377.

REVISION AND APPEAL—No hard and fast rule as to revision can be laid down in cases of decisions as to jurisdiction under S 20 and each must be decided on its own merits 1923 L 565; See also 41 A 602 Where leave to sue is granted or refused by the trial judge, his discretion should not be lightly interfered with in appeal. But where the trial judge has refused to exercise his discretion, the appellate Court can interfere 27 S L R 230=145 I C 706=1933 S. 179.

Sec 21—SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY OF SECTION—Section 21 is new and the alterations in procedure are retrospective in effect 87 P.R. 1914=26 I C 543 There is a distinction between an absolute want of jurisdiction and an irregular assumption of jurisdiction. 36 C. 193 It is a well established rule that where the Court has no inherent jurisdiction over the subject-matter of a suit, its decree is a nullity even though the parties may have consented to the jurisdiction of the Court. The parties cannot, by their mutual consent, convert it into a proper judicial process although they may constitute the Judge their arbitrator. 27 C.W.N. 542=1923 C 619 See also 146 I.C. 204=1933 M 471=38 L.W. 896. Even when objection is not taken, when there is a complete absence of jurisdiction, acquiescence of the parties cannot give the Court jurisdiction in the matter. (41 I.C. 276, 36 I.C. 457 and 70 I.C. 396, Rel.) 142 I.C. 613 (1)=1933 M 346, 1933 M.W.N. 208, 9 A. 191=13 I A. 134 (P.C.), 11 M. 26, 14 I.A. 160, 9 Bom. 266; 8 B. 313, 9 B.H.C. 242; 38 C. 639; 1931 A. 454, 33 Bom.L.R. 1364=135 I.C. 170=1932 B. 42, 6 Luck. 697, 31 N.L.R. (Supp.) 57=161 I.C. 877=1936 N. 1 (P.B.) The exception contained in this section cannot be so interpreted as to have a wider application than what is justified by the terms of the section 27 C.W.N. 542=1923 C. 619 It is only when the Court is competent to try, and the parties join issues and go to trial that this section is applicable, and the defendant cannot subsequently dispute its jurisdiction 31 N.L.R. (Sup.) 57 (Noted supra). But this section does not apply to a case where the objection is not one as to the place of suing, but one going to the nullity of the order of the first Court on the ground of want of jurisdiction and it can be taken at any time The Court of a district subject to the C.P. Code has no jurisdiction under S. 17 to entertain a suit so far as it claims a decree for sale of mortgaged property situated in a scheduled district and the order for sale of the land can be set aside although no objection to the jurisdiction of the first Court was taken 42 M. 813=37 M.L.J. 11 (P.C.) overruling 4 I.C. 411. See also 152 I.C. 135=35 P.L.R. 482=1934 L. 652; 7 A. 230, 13 M. 25; 2 B.H.C. 40, 12 B. 155; 13 B. 424, 13 M. 273; 33 B. 664; 13 B. 650; 23 B. 22, 97 I.C. 770=1926 C. 1101; 33 Bom. herent incompetency of British Indian Court the cause of action arising outside British India. 10 Lah L.J. 87. Section does not apply to execution of foreign judgments. 86 I.C. 492=1925 M. 788; 120 I.C. 279=1929 L. 449. The section does not apply when the question is whether the suit is triable on the small cause side or regular side (1931 O. 411), or to a case triable in the Original Side of the High Court where part of the cause of action arose outside its jurisdiction and leave to sue had not been obtained therefor 56 B. 324=34 Bom.L.R. 236=137 I.C. 381=1932 B. 291; 40 C.W.N. 65=164 I.C. 907, 160 I.C. 818=1935 R. 517. (1929 C. 358 Rel on, 1926 M. 421; 1920 M. 1019, 1925 M. 117, Dist) Section does not modify Cl 12 of the Letters Patent (Cal.). 56 C. 940. Where the provisions of the Arbitration Act are wholly inapplicable to an award under the Act, it cannot become capable of enforcement under the Act merely on account of the failure to raise any objection in the Court filing the award This section is not applicable to such a case 35 P.L.R. 482=152 I.C. 135=1934 L. 652 The section applies where there is want of territorial jurisdiction not merely at the institution of a suit but at any stage during the progress of it. 47 M.L.J. 448=87 I.C. 152, 47 M.L.J. 192=87 I.C. 341=1924 M. 697, 46 M.L.J. 250

CONDITIONS FOR APPLICATION ON SECTION.—(1) AT THE EARLIEST OPPORTUNITY—All conditions mentioned in the section must be fulfilled before decree can be set aside 96 I.C. 544 (1) Objection should be at the earliest opportunity. 49 M. 74=50 M.L.J. 161 If the plea as to objection is taken in the original proceedings at any stage thereof the Court should return the plaint for proper presentation. A defendant who objects to the jurisdiction of a Court cannot

(2) FAILURE OF JUSTICE.—A decree passed by Court having no territorial jurisdiction over the subject-matter will not be set aside on that account in the absence of proof of prejudice or failure of justice 149 I.C. 1050=36 P.L.R. 99=1934 L. 233 Where there has been no failure of justice, the plea as to want of territorial jurisdiction cannot be entertained in appeal 49 I.C. 441; 55 I.C. 442, 36 I.C. 431; 1922 L. 164, 1929 A. 236, 31 P.L.R. 616 1932 L. 135=32 P.L.R. 874=136 I.C. 17, 131 I.C. 603=1931 A. 556; 32 P.L.R. 50=1931 L. 142=131 I.C. 276 In a suit on a promissory note where defendant on whom onus lay remained ex parte and without satisfactory reasons and a decree was passed (without jurisdiction), neither the appellate nor the revisional Court would interfere as there was no failure of justice within the meaning of this section, 158 I.C. 252=1935 M. 574 The question cannot be gone into in second appeal unless it was raised at the earliest possible moment in the course of the suit 48 I.C. 465, 41 I.C. 161. An objection as to territorial jurisdiction raised before appellate Court must be determined on merits to ascertain whether there has been a failure of justice. 42 A. 74; 37 I.C. 114=93 P.R. 1916; 87 P.R. 1914=26 I.C. 543; 1922 O. 124, 19 A.L.J. 305=62 I.C. 399. When a suit is instituted in a British Indian Court the Court must determine whether it has jurisdiction to hear the suit or not by the aid of the Code. In case of doubt as to whether a Court had jurisdiction the objection cannot be entertained by the appellate Court unless there has been a consequent failure of justice 147 I.C. 591=1934 A.L.J. 226 See also 1933 P. 555=149 I.C. 758 Although the objection was taken at the earliest opportunity before issues were settled the High Court refused to interfere in revision as there was no prejudice to the parties. 44 I.C. 694=22 C.W.N. 517 See also 2 Pat. L.R. 74=80 I.C. 745

APPLICABILITY OF SECTION 1 TO EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS.—Though S. 21 does not in terms apply to execution proceedings, the principle underlying it, being one of general application, applies to execution proceedings. Where an objection to jurisdiction is not taken before the sale of the property in execution, it cannot be raised at a later stage 40 L.W. 284=1934 M.W.N. 878=152 I.C. 891=1934 M. 573 See also 28 L.W. 885=1928 M. 746. An execution sale after confirmation cannot be avoided on the ground that the Court had no territorial jurisdiction over the property 24 M.L.J. 70 See also 43 M. 675=39 M.L.J. 203 (F.B.), 46 M.L.J. 250. The rule of territorial jurisdiction does not apply to execution of mortgage decrees 49 M. 74=50 M.L. 161 The section applies to all objections based on the alleged infringement of the provisions of Ss 16 to 18, C.P. Code, as regards the institution of suits relating to immoveable property. A Court executing a decree could not entertain an objection on the ground of want of territorial jurisdiction 43 M. 675=39 M.L.J. 203 (F.B.) See also 50 M. 882=52 M.L.J. 605

(2) APPEAL.—Although S. 21 does not in terms apply to appeals, the principle underlying it is of general application, so as to cover proceedings other than original suits. Hence where an objection as to jurisdiction is not taken in the lower appellate Court, the plea must be deemed to have been waived and cannot be raised in second appeal [43 M. 675 (F.B.); 55 M. 801 (F.B.), 87 I.C. 152; 87 I.C. 341, Ref.] 29 N.L.R. 342=1933 N. 318. Decree cannot be questioned in an appellate Court when the objection has not been raised in the trial Court 93 I.C. 103=7 O.W.N. 1079; nor a Court of second appeal 1930 M. 541. Where first appellate Court upholds objection to jurisdiction and returns plaint for proper presentation, the plaintiff may agitate the matter in second appeal, even though it may not be specifically set forth in memo. of appeal. 131 I.C. 603=1931 A. 556. Respondent to appeal raised preliminary objection based on fact that suit has been overvalued, at a late stage after appellant's arguments had proceeded for some time. Held, the Court will not refuse to hear the objection though it may disallow costs to respondent. 14 P. 414=10 Pat. L.T. 103=1935 P. 160.

(3) REMANDED CASE.—Neither S. 21 in terms, nor any principle underlying it is applicable to a remanded case being dealt with by a Court other than the Court specified in the order of remand. 44 M.L.J. 238=72 I.C. 314.

(4) APPLICATION to set aside EX PARTE DECREE.—Section applies to application to set aside ex parte decree. 52 A. 947=1930 A.L.J. 997.

DECREE WITHOUT JURISDICTION.—INDEPENDENT SUIT TO SET ASIDE DECREE.—MAINTAINABILITY.—S. 21 does not provide against the question of jurisdiction being agitated by means of an independent suit. It only bars the raising of the question for the first time in a later stage of the same suit before the appellate or revisional Court 1931 A.L.J. 240=131 I.C. 248=1931 A. 454, 1923 C. 619=27 C.W.N. 542; 31 N.L.R. 43 (Sup.)=159 I.C. 739=1935 N. 250 (F.B.) Sec 22:—SCOPE AND APPLICATION.—This section and S. 23 of the C P Code do not apply to a case in which the question is whether a suit should be tried by a Court subordinate to a High Court or by a High Court or the Chief Court of Oudh. Such a case is not covered by any specific provision of the Code, and in the absence of a rule of law specifically applicable thereto, it is open to the High Court to exercise powers similar to those contemplated by Ss 22 and 23. If it appears that the plaintiff has chosen a forum in utter disregard of the convenience of both parties, for some ulterior object and in abuse of his position as dominus lites the High Court can, in the exercise of its inherent power, determine which of the two Courts having jurisdiction should try the suit. 1934 A 14=56 A. 201=1933 A L J 1507=147 I C 513. Neither this section nor S. 23 applies to Chartered High Courts in exercise of Original Civil Jurisdiction. 56 C 940=1929 C 358. Ss 22 and 23 do not provide for the transfer of a case from a Court subordinate to one High Court to the original side of another Court. 69 I C 772. See also 57 I C 649=1 Pat L T 389. This section has to be invoked only in cases where option is given to the plaintiff to choose his own forum (Vide Ss 16 and 20), 12 A. L. J. 896=24 I. C. 318, 71 I C 268=1923 A. 288. The provisions of the section are mandatory. An application for transfer cannot be maintained after the settlement of issues. 78 I. C. 608=1925 L 175; 11 P. R. 1917=35 I C 616=16 P. L. R. 1917, 7 L. L. J. 93=88 I C 531=1925 L 322. The Provision as to notice is mandatory. 107 I C 593. Both Courts must have jurisdiction in order that an application can be made under S. 22 or S. 23. Where jurisdiction is denied, no application for transfer can be made. 24 I C 318=12 A. L. J. 896, 71 I C 268=1923 I. 288 (2); 12 A. L. J. 986, 48 I C 105=21 O. C. 217. In an application for transfer under Ss 22 and 23, the question of want of jurisdiction of the trying Court cannot be raised. 34 I C 707; 1 Pat L T 277=56 I C 920. In a suit pending before the Original Side of the High Court an application to transfer the case to the Court where the suit ought to be tried should be made under S. 22, C P Code, on the Original Side of the High Court which has seizin of the case. And the Court has power to pass such an order under S. 151. 12 R. 548=151 I C 573=1934 R 265 (F B)

GROUND FOR TRANSFER.—The plaintiff has always a right to choose his forum. The jurisdiction conferred by Ss 22 and 23 must be exercised very cautiously and only when a clear cause has been shown. The mere fact that it would add to the defendant's convenience is no ground for transferring a case. 73 I. C. 860. See also 13 B. 178; 69 I C 772, 69 I C 239, 54 I C 935=167 P. R. 1919, 34 I C 686, 25 I. C. 874; 24 I C. 707, 57 I C 649=41 A 381; 32 I C 613=14 A. L. J. 242, 1928 L 183, 1927 L 14=97 I C. 390; 1928 L 159=106 I C. 869. A suit can be transferred only upon two grounds, viz. (a) that there will not be an impartial trial by the trying Court, or (b) that there is manifest preponderance of convenience to the petitioner, if the suit is transferred to the other Court. 56 I. C. 920=1920 P. 235. See also 33 I. C. 797, 106 I. C. 870=1928 M 15; 4 O. W. N. 1114; 97 I C. 390.

BIAS OF JUDGE.—The apprehension that there will not be an impartial trial must be such as a reasonable man might reasonably be expected to have. 1923 L 564. The fact that a Judge has decided a point of law arising in a case analogous to the case is not a good ground for transferring the case from his file. 67 I C 228=1922 L 369, 15 I C 569. Where the Judge merely took an erroneous view in disposing of a certain application but there is nothing to suggest any bias in his mind for or against any party an application for transfer cannot be entertained. 1934 A 37 (2). Observations injudiciously and thoughtlessly made by the Judge, not a sufficient ground for transfer. 29 I C 29. But see 133 I C. 876 (1).

CONVENIENCE OF PARTIES.—Convenience to the parties and witnesses would be a good ground for transfer. 1924 O 410. Balance of convenience may be considered in deciding an application for transfer. 72 I C 592=1923 L 383, 44 A. 278, 9 O. L. J. 413=69 I C 717. An order of transfer passed without regard to the convenience of the parties and without hearing the other party is illegal. 33 I. C. 797=23 C. L. J. 295. On this section, see also 85 I. C. 852=6 Pat. L. T. 540.

Sec. 23.—As to scope and application of section, see 50 A. 201, 56 C 940 and 69 I C 772 noted under S. 22, supra. The Original Side of a High Court is not subordinate to

But see contra 1928 L. 183 (1922 L. 306, Diss. and 1923 R. 22, Foll.). The High Court may order a transfer of a suit pending in a Court subordinate to it to a Court under a different High Court where another suit between the same parties is pending. 35 C. 541. See also 51 B. 26=100 I.C. 154=1927 B. 79; 1928 P. 640=110 I.C. 699. But see also 20 I.C. 758. A Subordinate Judge is nevertheless subordinate to the District Judge, although the appeal in respect of the particular case of which the transfer is sought lay to the High Court and not to the District Judge. 10 C.L.J. 208=3 I.C. 539. The Oudh Chief Court is a High Court. 4 O.W.N. 1114.

Sec 24 SCOPE OF SECTION.—S 24 is exhaustive of the judicial power to transfer suits and no Court has jurisdiction to transfer a suit from one Court to another unless both Courts are subordinate to it. This power is entirely different in character and legal effect from the one in case of an order returning the plaint for presentation in proper Court. 40 I.C. 393=13 N.L.R. 81. Where a Court having really no territorial jurisdiction enquired fully into the case, but when the defect was found out, returned the plaint, held, it was a proper case in which the High Court should send it for disposal to the first Court itself. 21 A.L.J. 86=1923 A. 249. All that is necessary to bring into play the jurisdiction of the High Court or the District Court to exercise the power of transfer and withdrawal given under S 24 is that the suit, appeal or other proceeding sought to be transferred should be 'pending before it' or 'pending in any Court subordinate to it'. The mere fact that the suit, appeal, or other proceeding is pending in a Court not having jurisdiction to dispose of the same cannot oust the jurisdiction of the High Court or the District Court to withdraw or transfer that suit, appeal, or other proceeding from the Court in which it is pending to some other Court competent to try the same. 150 I.C. 942=1934 A.L.J. 345=1934 A. 569. See also 54 A. 824=1932 A. 660, 53 A. 916, Diss. But see 53 I.C. 892= 1919 P. 409, 125 I.C. 334, 1930 L. 195; 150 I.C. 839=1934 S. 95, 37 C. 574, 26 S.L.F. 277=139 I.C. 496=1932 S. 215. The word 'suit' where it occurs for second time in sub-S (2), must be taken to include a proceeding, for otherwise parts of the sub-section would be quite meaningless. 161 I.C. 54=1936 Pesh. 56. This section is wider in scope than S. 22 and no notice before institution of application for transfer is necessary under this section. 146 I.C. 38=1933 L. 635. The transfer of a case from one competent Court to another is not invalid because it may affect some other order of the Revenue Court. 53 A. 62=133 I.C. 319. This section contemplates transfer of case from one existing Court to another existing Court. Hence where a Small Cause Court has ceased to exist or the officer invested with small cause powers has been transferred and there is no other officer possessing such powers, there would be no Court from which the District Court can transfer the case to another Court. To such contingencies S 35 of Provincial Small Cause Courts Act applies. 54 A. 171=1931 A.L.J. 953=136 I.C. 357=1931 A. 574 (F.B.).

GROUND FOR TRANSFER, WHEN NOT SUFFICIENT.—That defendant is an influential man of the locality is no ground. 98 I C. 859=1927 L. 80 (1). Prejudice against pleader, if good ground for transfer See 90 I C. 559=1926 M. 359. The mere convenience of the defendant is no ground for transfer of a case and that a strong case should be made out where such transfer is prayed for 146 I C. 38=1933 L. 635, such as that the expenses and difficulties of the trial would be so great as to lead to injustice, or that the forum has been deliberately chosen by the plaintiff for the purpose of working injustice 130 I C. 523=1930 L. 944. The mere fact that in a case of communal nature the presiding Judge of the Court is a member of a rival community is no ground for a transfer of the suit from that Court. It must be shown that there is a reasonable apprehension in the mind of the applicant for transfer that he will not get a fair trial 150 I C. 334=36 P. L R. 29=1934 L. 762. Where the evidence for the parties has been closed and even the arguments have been heard, it would be most inadvisable if at such an advanced stage when the judgment only is to be pronounced, a case is transferred to another Judge who will be handicapped by the fact that he shall have merely to pronounce judgment in a case in which he has taken no proceedings and recorded no evidence. (1926 M. 359, Foll.) 35 P L R. 574=1934 L. 593 Where a Commissioner passes an order of dismissal of a person from the office of Gatwal and a declaratory suit is filed in the Court of the Subordinate Judge who is also a Deputy Collector, the mere fact that the Subordinate Judge is subordinate to the Commissioner in his executive capacity is no ground for the transfer of the suit from his Court. He has to decide the suit sitting as a judicial officer and an appeal from his decision lies to the High Court 1933 P. 638=146 I C. 1087. The fact that the Judge has once decided the point of law is not good ground for transfer 1930 L. 176=124 I C. 687 See 133 I C. 876. But see 8 Luck 347=141 I C. 570=1933 O. 154

GROUND FOR TRANSFER—BURDEN OF PROOF.—The onus of establishing sufficient ground for transfer lies heavily on the applicant. He must prove that he has a reasonable apprehension that he might not get justice in the Court in which the suit is pending 35 P L R. 574=1934 L. 593, 153 I C. 386, 41 A. 381=50 I C. 368

Notice may not be necessary when transfer is made suo motu by the District Court without any motion being made to it by any party 53 A. 916. Party is entitled to personal notice, and notice to pleader in original Court is not sufficient. 14 L. 240. Transfer without notice is ground for setting aside ex parte decree 1923 L. 44, 18 A L J. 351=58 I C. 560, 53 A. 916. But according to Madras and Calcutta want of notice does not render the order of transfer void, but is a mere irregularity which may be waived. 1932 C. 265=137 I C. 430, 13 M. 211; 21 M L J. 829=8 I C. 7 S. 24 is wider in scope than S. 22 and no notice before institution of an application for transfer of case is necessary under S. 24 146 I C. 38=1933 L. 635.

AT ANY STAGE.—These words have been inserted in order to avoid the conflict of rulings that existed previously as to whether an order of transfer can be made after the hearing of the suit had commenced. See 22 B. 778, 26 M. 595, 7 A. 342, 15 C. 177

SUIT, APPEAL OR OTHER PROCEEDING.—“Suit” includes execution application 1926 L. 465, 47 A. 57. But it does not include a proceeding under S. 476 of Cr. P. Code. 49 A. 460=101 I C. 247=1927 A. 469. The word ‘proceeding’ in this section covers all proceedings contemplated at the date when C.P. Code, 1908, was passed and not a special proceeding not then in contemplation but established by a subsequent Act, viz., the Cr. P. Code Amendment Act XVIII of 1923 (Ibid). No Court other than the trial or appellate Court can file a complaint under S. 476, Cr. P. Code (Ibid). (3) For the purposes of this section, Courts of Additional and Assistant Judges shall be deemed to be subordinate to the District Court.

(4) The Court trying any suit transferred or withdrawn under this section from a Court of Small Causes shall, for the purposes of such suit, be deemed to be a Court of Small Causes.

S 16 of Provincial Small Cause Courts Act is no bar to the exercise of powers of transfer of the District Judge under this section 37 P.L.R. 177=154 I.C. 112=1934 L 901, 151 I.C. 385=1934 A 530; 147 I.C. 334=1935 A 350 The District Court can withdraw a transmitted execution proceeding to its own file and dispose of it 39 M. 485=29 M.L.J. 712

DELEGATION OF POWERS BY THE DISTRICT JUDGE.—The power of transfer under S 24 can be delegated by the District Judge, but when so delegated it must be exercised in accordance with law. It can only be exercised in cases pending in a Court subordinate to the Court exercising the power 52 I.C. 352=1 L. 158, so a Senior Subordinate Judge to whom the District Judge had delegated the power, cannot transfer a suit from the file of the Junior Subordinate Judge, as the latter is not subordinate to him (Ibid) Ss 37 and 44 of the Punjab Courts Act provided for such a delegation in the Punjab 40 I.C. 111=33 P.W.R. 1917

Sec 24 (4): COURT OF SMALL CAUSES.—A Court of Small Causes under S 24 (4) includes Courts vested with Small Cause jurisdiction as well as the Special Courts constituted under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 39 A 214=37 I.C. 809; 40 A 525=46 I.C. 893, 38 M 25=17 I.C. 425, 31 B 314=9 Bom L.R. 327 (F.B.), 56 C 588, 1 P. 696=69 I.C. 681=1928 P 49, 27 C.L.J. 461=44 I.C. 881, 56 B 387=34 Bom L.R. 931=130 I.C. 194=1932 B 486. A small cause suit may be transferred to another Court which is not a Small Cause Court, nor one exercising small cause powers 27 N.L.R. 307=135 I.C. 402=1932 N 49; 31 N.L.R. 162, 151 I.C. 385=1934 A 530; 147 I.C. 334=1935 A 350, 1935 A.L.J. 511=157 I.C. 122=1935 A 690; 55 M. 960 (noted supra) A small cause suit may, therefore, be transferred to a regular Court irrespective of the small cause powers of the Court to which the suit is transferred. Suit in a Small Cause Court for Rs 900 may be transferred to Sub-Court even though small cause jurisdiction of Sub-Court was only up to Rs 300 56 B 387=34 Bom L.R. 931=139 I.C. 194=1932 B 486 (56 M.L.J. 649=29 L.W. 810=121 I.C. 481=1929 M. 513, Diss.), 55 M. 960=36 L.W. 479=1932 M.W.N. 763=139 I.C. 477=1932 M. 683=63 M.L.J. 689 Such suit must be tried by the Court having no competent small cause jurisdiction, as a regular suit, and an appeal will lie from the decree passed therein 55 M. 960 (noted supra) See also 151 I.C. 385=1934 A 530, 1936 L 983, 29 L.W. 810=121 I.C. 481=1929 M. 513=56 M.L.J. 649 But see 54 A 171=136 I.C. 357=1931 A 574 (F.B.), 31 N.L.R. 170=150 I.C. 151=1935 N 42; 40 A 525, 36 I.C. 317=14 A.L.J. 705, 38 M 25, 27 C.L.J. 461, 31 B 314 (F.B.), 1 P. 696, 56 C 588, 50 A 810, 120 I.C. 412, 23 M.L.J. 373 It was however held in 54 A 171, that when the transfer is not or could not be made under this section, an appeal would lie, as in the case where an officer without possessing small cause powers hears a case which was pending before his predecessor in office exercising small cause jurisdiction (38 A. 425 appr., 13 A 324 overruled). A District Judge cannot transfer a case of a small cause nature to a subordinate Court not invested with the powers of a Small Cause Court so long as the Small Cause Court capable of trying it is in existence. 43 I.C. 314. But see 55 M. 960, 1934 L. 901, 147 I.C. 334; 56 B. 387. The section does not apply to cases transferred from a Court of Small Causes to Honorary Munsiff's Courts in U.P. and the decrees passed by the latter Courts in such cases are appealable 54 I.C. 435, 50 I.C. 648.

APPLICATION FOR TRANSFER.—Where there are numerous suits pending, which are sought to be transferred, an application should be made separately in respect of each suit 49 I.C. 208=4 P.L.J. 13.

25. [S. 20. 21.] (1) Where any party to a suit, appeal or other proceeding pending in a High Court presided over by a single Judge objects to its being heard by him and the Judge is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for the objection, he shall make a report to the [Provincial Government] who may, by notification in the [Official Gazette], transfer such suit, appeal or proceeding to any other High Court.

(2) The law applicable to any suit, appeal or proceeding so transferred shall be the law which the Court in which the suit, appeal or proceeding was originally instituted ought to have applied to such case.

Omission or neglect to draw up a decree following judgment does not deprive party of his right to appeal. 52 I.C. 479 (supra). As to object of section, see 106 I.C. 270. Courts are entitled to give interest in their discretion, and this can be given under this section, and also under S. 73, Contract Act. 162 I.C. 352=1936 R. 141. Section does not apply where the decree is not for a definite sum of money, but only for partition and accounts. 49 B. 282=94 I.C. 686=1925 B. 406. Decree for money must be construed as including a claim to unliquidated damages 51 M.L.J. 243. But see 60 I.C. 288=32 C.L.J. 239. Interest awarded under this section is no part of the claim or relief granted, as in the case of mesne the Court deems reasonable on the aggregate sum so adjudged, from the date of the decree to the date of payment, or to such earlier date as the Court thinks fit.

See also 145 I C. 725=1933 L 440, 61 C. 711 Where a just claim has been unnecessarily prolonged by defendant it is just and equitable to award interest from date of suit till realization. 156 I.C. 836=1935 L. 307. Section 141 of the Oudh Rent Act does not control the discretion possessed by the Court under S. 34, C P Code, to allow future interest at such rate as the Court deems reasonable 148 I C 1207=11 O W N. 763=1934 O 239. INTEREST IN MORTGAGE DECREES—This section applies also to mortgage decrees governed by O 34, C. P. Code, and authorises the allowance of interest upon the decretal amount from the expiry of the date of grace fixed in the preliminary decree until the date of realisation O 34 does not in any way exclude the discretion of Court to allow such interest on the decree Even in a case to which old R 4 (1) of O. 34, before its amendment in 1929 applies, the Court has got such power. Rule 11 of O. 34 as amended in 1929, which in clause (b) specifically allows "subsequent interest up to the date of realisation" only gives effect to previous judicial decisions 63 I A. 114=15 P 210=40 C W N 328=1936 P C 63=70 M.L.J. 355 (P.C.). In the case of mortgage the question as to the rate of interest is to be determined by O. 34, R. 11 and not under S 34 8 Luck. 315=144 I. C 983=1933 O 128 The date referred to in O 34, R 2 is the date fixed by Court for payment of money. The Court must ascertain the amount of interest due on the mortgage up to that date according to the contract rate, unless the Court, for some legal reason, sees fit to decrease that rate 36 A 220; 33 M L J. 679; 17 C L J. 120=18 I.C. 747=17 C W N 457. See also 26 C. 39; 34 C. 150; 20 C 360; 20 B. 744; 21 M. 364, 29 C W.N 118=1925 C 268; 1925 N 193 The date cannot be extended by an unsuccessful appeal by the mortgagor or mortgagee 17 C.L.J. 120=18 I.C. 747=17 C W.N 457. The Appellate Court can extend time for redemption and the mortgagee would be entitled to interest at the contract rate up to the extended date. 29 I.C. 289 Where there is no express stipulation for the payment of interest after the due date, the mortgagee would be entitled to damages for non-payment of the debt on the date The measure of damages would be prima facie but not necessarily the contract rate. 4 L 406. [17 A. 511 (P. C.), 3 L 200 (F.B.), Ref] See also 44 A 772. Where the trial Court did not provide for interest on the mortgage money after the date of filing of a suit for redemption it must be deemed to have declined to award any interest for the period. 37 B. 326=25 M L J. 101 (P.C.). Interest from the date fixed for payment to the date of realisation is to be calculated on the principal, interest and costs found to be due on the date fixed and not on the principal alone. Such further interest is to be calculated at 6 per cent., but the Court has a discretion. 42 M 465=36 M L J. 288. See also notes under O. 34, Rr. 2 and 4.

INTEREST IN CASE OF NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.—In suit on promissory note which expressly specifies interest payable, Court cannot reduce such rate to be paid up to date fixed by it after institution of suit, unless it is exorbitant or penal or otherwise against the law. 154 I C. 470 (L) At the same time it is not necessary that the Court should allow stipulated rate of interest up to date of realization (Ibid)

INTEREST ON COSTS AWARDED BY PRIVY COUNCIL.—The costs of the Privy Council do not carry interest, unless such interest is specially mentioned 13 P 21=15 P L. T 513=1934 P. 192. But where parties have agreed to have the matter of costs submitted to the discretion of executing Court, the latter can grant it 3 C 602=5 I.A. 78 (P C) Interest is awardable on costs realized but subsequently ordered to be refunded on reversal of decree. 4 C 229; 8 A 262

COMPOUND INTEREST—The Court has jurisdiction to award compound interest under S. 34. [3 A. 91 (P.C.), Rel. on.], 150 I C. 467=36 Bom.L.R. 68=1934 B. 86 An order allowing interest up to date of decree and compounding it with the principal on the date of the decree and allowing interest thereon at the Court rate is sanctioned by S 34, C P Code. But where there is no contract, implied or express, and the interest ante litem as well as pendente lite has been allowed at a rate considered by the Court to be fair, there is no point in compounding the principal and the interest due up to the date of the decree and making interest to run on the aggregate sum at the same rate Section 34 or its principle is not intended to be used as a means for providing for compound interest but to relieve the debtor of a harder rate of interest. 61 C. 711

(2) Where such a Decree is silent with respect to the payment of further interest on such aggregate sum as aforesaid from the date of the decree to the date of payment or other earlier date, the Court shall be deemed to have refused such interest, and a separate suit therefor shall not lie.

35. (1) Subject to such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed, and to the provisions of any law for the time being in force, the costs of and incident to all suits shall be in Costs.

S. PARALL SETS OF COSTS—Different sets of costs can be awarded when there are several defendants raising various defences 31 I.C. 312=1915 M.W.N. 1021; 1929 O 536. When the suit of a reversioner against various alienees is decreed with costs, each set of defendants are liable only for the costs proportionate to their interest 1928 M. 16. Where plaintiff's suit is dismissed each defendant is entitled to costs taxed on the basis of the suit valuation and not on the basis of what each defendant's interest might be in the suit itself. 27 Bom L.R. 692=89 I.C. 211=1925 B. 432. When a defence is common and not separate only one set of costs should be awarded. 9 A 205; 4 M.L.J. 281. And it is not material that separate counsel have been engaged 1936 A.M.L.J. 63. See also 11 Bom L.R. 158 (P.C.). Where a suit was brought by the plaintiff against two defendants claiming relief against them in the alternative and his suit was dismissed as against both of them, two sets of costs, one set to each of the defendants, may be properly awarded. 144 I.C. 703=1933 A.L.J. 796=1933 A. 466. Award of costs on abatement of suit, see 37 M.L.J. 596=43 M. 284, 22 M.L.J. 439.

APPORTIONMENT OF COSTS—As to rule for apportionment of costs in England and in India, see 4 P. 510. See also 88 I.C. 141. The expression "costs will follow the event" means that where the action involves separate issues, whether arising under different causes of action or under one cause of action, the costs of any particular issue go to the party who succeeds upon it. So where in a suit praying for sale as well as a personal decree, the plaintiff was given only a mortgage decree and not a personal decree, the Court, if it deprives the defendant of his costs on the issue relating to the personal decree, should, under S. 35 (2), state its reasons for so doing. If it failed to do so, the appellate Court can interfere with the order. 141 I.C. 262=29 N.L.R. 8=1933 N. 49. See also 95 I.C. 446 (2), 142 I.C. 835=1933 R. 38, 144 I.C. 738=1933 L. 329, 1936 A.M.L.J. 63. Case disposed of on a preliminary point—Scale of costs to be awarded. See 1933 R. 337. Where alternative relief was claimed against either of two defendants who were disputing their liability, the unsuccessful defendant should be made to bear the costs of the successful defendant. 42 I.C. 636.

COURT'S DISCRETION TO AWARD INTEREST ON COSTS—The power to award interest on costs is discretionary and can be inserted after judgment while framing the decree. 35 I.C. 218; but see also 60 I.C. 345. Where a decree does not allow interest on costs, it cannot be allowed in execution 6 Bom.L.R. Ap 33; 3 C. 351.

COSTS IN MORTGAGE SUITS—A mortgagor is ordinarily entitled to costs in a redemption suit unless he forfeits his right by laches. 38 I.C. 655. A mortgagee is ordinarily entitled to costs of suit, unless he is guilty of grave misconduct. 19 I.C. 474. Or he denies the mortgagor's right to redeem 91 I.C. 943=1926 M. 405. As to the circumstances in which a puisne mortgagee may be called upon to pay costs, see 10 R. 308. The Court has jurisdiction in a mortgage suit to make a party other than the mortgagor personally liable for the costs of the litigation, if in the opinion of the Court, the conduct of such party justifies it. 40 L.W. 576=1934 M.W.N. 321. On this point see also 56 M. 469=1933 M. 411=64 M.L.J. 489. In the ordinary way a puisne mortgagee is not made liable for costs in the mortgage suit. If the puisne mortgagee, by his conduct, makes himself liable for the contest, in certain circumstances it may be legitimate to make him pay the costs apart from the costs given in the mortgage decree, but the utmost that he can be made liable for is the extra cost, caused by his unnecessary contest. 1933 R. 335. See also 17 L. 520=38 P.L.R. 1024=164 I.C. 841=1936 L. 607. COSTS IN PARTITION SUITS—Costs in a partition suit up to the preliminary decree ought not to be given to plaintiff but to be borne by all the parties. 42 C. 451; 11 L. W. 5. Where in a suit for partition the defendant pleaded prior partition which was eventually proved against, the Court could direct the defendant to pay the costs of the suit. 35 C.W.N. 151.

COSTS IN MAINTENANCE SUITS—While awarding costs Courts have to see whether there was any prima facie excessive or exaggerated claim made in the plaint. 1930 M. 479, where exaggeration of claim is due to defendant's conduct full costs can be awarded. 54 M.L.J. 530. Order conditional on the Court has no jurisdiction to try the suit shall be no bar to the exercise of such powers.

(2) Where the Court directs that any cost shall not follow the event, the Court shall state its reasons in writing.

(3) The Court may give interest on costs at any rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, and such interest shall be added to the costs and shall be recoverable as such.

1[35-A (1) If in any suit or other proceeding, not being an appeal, any party objects to the claim or defence on the ground that the claim or defence of any part of it is, as against the objector, false or vexatious to the knowledge of the party by whom it has been put forward,

(2) No Court shall make any such order for the payment of an amount exceeding one thousand rupees or exceeding the limits of its pecuniary jurisdiction, whichever amount is less:

Provided that where the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of any Court exercising the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes under the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887, and not being a Court constituted under that Act, are less than two hundred and fifty rupees, the High Court may empower such Court to award as costs under this section any amount not exceeding two hundred and fifty rupees and not exceeding those limits by more than one hundred rupees:

Provided, further, that the High Court may limit the amount which any Court or class of Courts is empowered to award as costs under this section.

(3) No person against whom an order has been made under this section shall, by reason thereof, be exempted from any criminal liability in respect of any claim or defence made by him.

(4) The amount of any compensation awarded under this section in respect of a false or vexatious claim or defence shall be taken into account in any subsequent suit for damages or compensation in respect of such claim or defence.]

EXECUTION.

General.

36. The provisions of this Code relating to the execution of decrees shall, so far as they are applicable, be deemed to apply to the execution of orders.

Application to orders.

37. [S. 649.] The expression "Court which passed a decree," or words to that effect, shall, in relation to the execution of decrees, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, be deemed to include,— of land and repeatedly refusing to obey the orders of the Courts, the Court may award punitive costs against the defendant 14 L. R. 145 (Rev.)=17 R. D. 227. See also 15 L. R. 115 (Rev.)=18 R. D. 29. What is awarded under S. 35-A is nothing but "costs" covered by S. 35 and can be awarded against next friend of minor 52 A. 907=1930 A. 577 (2). Costs allowed are compensatory and not penal. 1931 L. 509=131 I. C. 377. The Collector has no power in hearing an appeal to award penal cost on the ground that the claim was false and vexatious 15 L. R. 115 (Rev.)=18 R. D. 29. See also 14 L. R. 145 (Rev.)=17 R. D. 227. Insolvency Court in exercise of its original civil jurisdiction can award exemplary costs under this section 31 N. L. R. 365=158 I. C. 394=1935 N. 207. It is not material whether this section was in existence when Provincial Insolvency Act came into force. (Ibid)

Sec 36.—Section 36, C. P. Code, is not limited to orders made only under the Code, but applies to all orders which can be included in the definition of the term "order" as defined in S. 2 (14). An order made on a notice of motion for contempt is an order within the section 36 Bom. L. R. 992=1934 B. 452. Order under O. 21, R. 11 (2) can be executed as if it were a decree. 2 R. 673. Order under S. 34, Guardian and Wards Act, 1890, directing guardian to pay amount for expenses of marriage of a person dependant on the ward, is not within S. 2 (14) of the Code; and hence this section will not apply 41 M. 241=6 L. W. 526=41 I. C. 341. As to orders under the Guardian and Wards Act capable of being executed by proceedings under that Act itself, see 23 A. L. J. 428=88 I. C. 165=1925 A. 457. Decree passed in favour of and against dead man—Distinction between 1929 C. 527=120 I. C. 459. Partial decree in favour of plaintiff—Unsuccessful appeal—Application for mesne profits—Appellate decree as the starting point 1930 C. 308=33 C. W. N. 904.

Sec 37: SCOPE AND APPLICATION.—The section embodies an inclusive definition and cannot be construed against the decree-

(a) where the decree to be executed has been passed in the exercise of appellate jurisdiction, the Court of first instance, and

(b) where the Court of first instance has ceased to exist or to have jurisdiction to execute it, the Court which, if the suit wherein the decree was passed was instituted at the time of making the application for the execution of the decree, would have jurisdiction to try such suit.

Sec 37 (b) CEASED TO EXIST —The power to execute a decree is vested in the Court which passed the decree. But in the event of the Court ceasing to exercise jurisdiction, it would be exercised by the Court which would have power to try the suit at the time when the application was filed 49 I C 958 (P), 48 I C 107=3 P.L.J. 435 A Court does not cease to be Court which passed the decree merely by reason that the headquarters of such Court are removed to another place or merely because the local limits of the jurisdiction of such Court are altered 6 C 513 Nor because the pecuniary limits of its jurisdiction has been altered 2 P.L.J. 113=39 I C 63 Nor by alter of its name 30 I C 205 Nor by change of Judge 4 P 688=7 P.L.T. 333=92 I C 900=1926 P 209 Change of territorial jurisdiction—Abolition of Court—Original execution petition filed in wrong Court—Subsequent conferment of jurisdiction—Effect. CEASING TO HAVE JURISDICTION —A Court which passed a decree does not lose jurisdiction to execute the same merely because subsequent to the decree its pecuniary jurisdiction has been curtailed. Where the Judge passing the decree had jurisdiction to pass a decree for the amount but his successor before whom the execution application was made had only a more limited jurisdiction so that he could not entertain such suit, held, that the succeeding Judge was competent to entertain the application for execution 37 C.W.N. 679=1933 C 684 Where subsequent to the passing of a money decree the area is transferred from the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree to that of another Court, the latter Court can execute the decree 45 M L.J. 210; 61 M.L.J. 307 See also 49 I C 958 (P); 48 I C 107=3 P. TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION —Territorial jurisdiction though not necessary for the trial of suits is necessary for the executing Court apart from the special and exceptional procedure by precept 33 M L J 750, 35 C.W.N. 77=58 C 832. On this section, see 80 I C 901=1925 P 139 Territorial jurisdiction is a condition precedent to the execution of a decree The Court having jurisdiction over the property which is the subject-matter of the suit in which the decree is passed has alone the power to execute the decree 48 I C 107=3 P L J 435:

See also 50 M. 882=52 M.L.J. 605; 55 M. 801=62 M.L.J. 687 (F.B.). But in cases of decrees for sale of mortgage property, an exception has been recognised and a Court can order sale of properties comprised in the mortgage though some of them are situated in another district. 80 I.C. 901. See also 14 C. 661; 15 C. 667, 19 C. 13; 21 C. 689; 22 C. 871, 107 I.C. 195; 29 I.C. 745 (M.) In the execution of a mortgage decree the executing Court has power to order the sale of the property mortgaged, even though the property may be situated beyond the local limits of its jurisdiction. (14 C. 661; 21 C. 639, 15 C. 667, 49 M. 746; 80 I.C. 901, Foll.) 14 L. 457=143 I.C. 574=1933 L. 687.

PECUNIARY JURISDICTION—As to pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court to which a decree is sent for execution, see the cases cited under S. 39. Jurisdiction is not lost in execution, because the interest which accrued after decree has raised the amount due. 10 B. 200. Also where the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court are exceeded by the amount of rent or mesne profits ascertained for a period subsequent to the institution of the suit. 21 C. 550; 40 C. 56.

CONCURRENT EXECUTION—There is nothing in law against a decree being simultaneously executed in more places than one against the property of the judgment-debtor. 34 I.C. 302=3 L.W. 336, 4 M.I.A. 529; 8 C. 687, 1929 B. 418. Where a decree is transferred to another Court for execution, concurrent execution of it is permissible in the Court from which the decree has been transferred. 39 I.C. 729=15 A.L.J. 532. But see also 37 M. 231 and 39 M. 640, infra; 1930 L. 199; 55 M.L.J. 545=55 I.A. 227 (P.C.); 1936 A.L.J. 237=162 I.C. 51=1936 A. 655. An application for execution has to be made to the Court to which the decree has been transferred and not the Court which passed the decree, so long as the former Court has the seisin of execution proceedings. An application to the latter Court is not a step-in-aid of execution. 39 M. 640=31 M.L.J. 300 (P.C.) affirming 37 M. 231. But see 58 C. 832=35 C.W.N. 77. See also 2 P. 247.

APPLICATION FOR SUBSTITUTION OF LEGAL REPRESENTATIVES—Application by legal representatives for substitution must be made to the Court which passed the decree and not to the Court to which it is transferred for execution. 55 I.C. 156; 1926 M. 411. This is a matter of procedure and non-compliance with it may be waived. Where the decree-holder applied to the transferee Court for substitution of legal representative, and if the legal representative added acquiesced, he is deemed to have waived the objection. 55 M.L.J. 545=55 I.A. 227 (P.C.).

EXECUTING COURT, IF CAN REFUSE TO EXECUTE—An executing Court cannot refuse to execute a decree passed against a minor not properly represented in a suit. 1928 M.W.N. 227, 15 C.W.N. 725, fol.) Decree being a nullity—Single man firm—Suit against firm. Death of person carrying on business—Decree passed after death—Nullity—Power of executing Court not to give effect to it. 34 C.W.N. 36=57 I.C. 931=126 I.C. 118.

Sec 39 SCOPE AND APPLICATION—The section is only directory and not mandatory. 19 C. 13; 15 C. 667. A Court has no power to take away the decree-holder's legal right to execute his decree in such manner as he chooses, having regard to his facilities and convenience. 1 O.W.N. 409. Section 39 only contemplates that the entire decree and not a part of it is to be sent for execution to another Court or Courts. There is no provision in the Code under which a decree-holder can divide a decree into several parts and execute them piece-meal in different Courts or in the same Court. 1935 C. 118=38 C.W.N. 1053, 43 I.C. 186=3 Pat. L. W. 247. Also a decree cannot be transferred for a limited purpose only. 39 I.C. 737=1 Pat. L. W. 582. To make this section applicable, it is necessary that the provisions of the Code should regulate the procedure of both the Courts. 34 C. 576. Section is not applicable to decrees passed under the Presidency Small Causes Courts Act 1928 C. 265.

JURISDICTION OF TRANSFERRING COURT—It is only for limited purposes, e.g., for dealing with applications for recording assignment of decrees under O. 21, R. 16 or to deal with applications against the legal representatives of the judgment-debtor under O. 21, R. 22 that the transferring Court retains jurisdiction. 60 I.C. 1176=37 C.W.N. 1167=1933 C. 906. See also 39 C.W.N. 129=1935 C. 99; 37 C.W.N. 679=1933 C. 684; 162 I.C. 777=1936 C. 267. Transferring Court to decide questions relating to execution. 123 I.C. 881=1930 O. 305; 1929 M. 199=116 I.C. 113. The transferee Court cannot question the power of the transferring Court to order the transfer of a decree for execution. 1934 M. 266=66 M.L.J. 418. Where a decree is transferred for execution without any reservation, the original Court has no longer the power to execute the decree until and unless the decree is returned by the transferee

(a) if the person against whom the decree is passed actually and voluntarily resides or carries on business, or personally works for gain, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court, or

Notes.

Court with a certificate of non-satisfaction It is however open to the original Court to re-transfer the proceedings to itself or to some other Court. If the application for execution is made to the original Court when the transferee Court is seized of the execution, it cannot be said to have been made to the proper Court. 152 I.C. 128=35 P.L.R. 751=1934 L. 728. See also 39 C.W.N. 129.

JURISDICTION OF THE COURT TO WHICH A DECREE IS SENT—The Court to which a decree is sent must be one having jurisdiction and competent to execute the decree, having regard to the amount or the value of the subject-matter. 16 C. 457 at 465, 12 B. 155. See also S. 6. Court to which the decree is transferred must be one having pecuniary jurisdiction to try the suit in which the decree was passed. The provision in sub-S. (2) that the Court may of its own motion transfer a decree to a subordinate Court of competent jurisdiction does not mean that under sub-S. (1) a decree may be transferred for execution to any Court, irrespective of its pecuniary jurisdiction. 1 P. 651. See also 1933 S. 128, 16 C. 457, 37 C. 574. But the Madras High Court has held that the question of competency does not arise where the decree is sent to another Court on the application of the decree-holder. 7 M. 397, 17 M. 309, 1914 M.W.N. 97=22 I.C. 275. See also 12 I.C. 27 (Bur.). The execution Court can substitute legal representatives. 1931 A.L.J. 166=1931 A. 320 (2), but cannot entertain any question as to the transferee's right to the execution sought. 11 P. 94, 1931 L. 90. But the Court passing decree has, even after the transfer of the decree for execution, the power to entertain an application for recognition of the assignment of the decree and for concurrent execution. 63 M.L.J. 788=140 I.C. 591.

NATURE OF ORDER AND LIMITATION—An order transmitting a decree for execution is one of a quasi administrative nature. 78 I.C. 1001. Order for transfer can be made even without there being a formal application. 157 I.C. 971 (1)=1935 P. 485. It would not be a nullity even when made ex parte and without notice or without appointment of any guardian to a minor judgment-debtor. 42 L.W. 943=159 I.C. 762=69 M.L.J. 862. Application for transfer of a decree for execution is a step-in-aid. 33 I.C. 523=14 A.L.J. 415, but is not an execution application within the meaning of O. 21, R. 10. 94 I.C. 482=1926 A. 473. Application made to the Court which passed the decree for executing it in respect of property outside its jurisdiction saves limitation and transfer of decree to the proper Court for execution may be ordered. 35 C.W.N. 77. An order transferring a decree for execution should not be made so as to evade the provisions of the Limitation Act or to validate an invalid application. 42 M. 461=36 M.L.J. 199. An order for transfer cannot be held to be an order for execution which can give rise to the bar of constructive res judicata against the judgment-debtor in respect of a later application, on the ground that he did not raise the plea of limitation, though served with notice of application on which transfer order was passed. 157 I.C. 971 (1)=1935 P. 485.

SIMULTANEOUS EXECUTION—A Court has jurisdiction to execute its decree and at the same time send it to another Court for simultaneous execution. The fact that execution is pending before it is no bar to send the decree for execution. 39 C.W.N. 165=156 I.C. 522=1935 C. 268. An order for transfer of decrees to another Court for simultaneous execution without giving notice to the judgment-debtor and without hearing him is not proper (Ibid.)

CONCURRENT EXECUTION IN SEVERAL COURTS—A Court has power to send its decree for execution to several places. 14 M.I.A. 529, 8 C. 687. See also notes under the heading under S. 38. Execution case once transferred—Certificate under S. 41 not received—Court passing decree cannot transfer it again to different Court. 29 O.C. 84=1925 O. 428.

PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE—A certificate of transfer of decree need not be signed by judge who passed it. 38 P.L.R. 1101=162 I.C. 489=1936 L. 369. A decree-holder need not make a second application for execution to the Court to which a decree has been transferred, when he has already made one application to the Court transferring the decree. 2 P. 909; 162 I.C. 777=1936 C. 267. When a Court passes a decree and there is a decree in appeal therefrom and thereafter a petition for execution to the first Court, there is only one decree to be executed, vis, the original decree as amended by the appellate Court. When in such circumstances a petition for transfer of execution is made and granted it would refer to the decree as amended on appeal, because in the eye of law, there is only one decree, even though the appellate decree is not mentioned in the petition. 38 L.W. 877=1933 M. 872=147 I.C. 386. Questions regarding who are the legal representatives and plea of limitation, if raised, should be decided before transfer. 91 I.C. 1056=23 L.W. 92=1926 M. 411. See also 60 C. 1176=37 C.W.N. 1167=1933 C. 906. An order of transfer of a decree takes effect from the date on which the order is made and the Court to which the decree is so transferred for execution can from that date entertain an application for execution even though a copy of the decree has not been

(b) if such person has not property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed the decree sufficient to satisfy such decree and has property within the local limits of the jurisdiction of such other Court,

(c) if the decree directs the sale or delivery of immoveable property situate outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court which passed it,

(d) if the Court which passed a decree considers for any other reason which it shall record in writing, that the decree should be executed by such other Court.

(2) The Court which passed a decree may of its own motion send it for execution to any subordinate Court of competent jurisdiction.

40. Where a decree is sent for execution in another province, it shall be sent to such Court and executed in such manner as may be prescribed by rules in force in that province.

APPEAL.—An appeal lies from an order rejecting an application for transfer 8 C. W N 575.

Sec. 40.—Section applies only when both transferor and transferee Courts are regulated by the C. P. Code 34 C 576, 12 B 230 The law of limitation applicable for execution of a decree transferred to another Province would be the law in force in the transferring Court 17 C 491, 24 C 473, 36 M 108

Sec. 41. SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY OF THE SECTION.—It is only when the Court to which a decree is sent has executed it or has wholly failed to execute it that the Court is bound to send a certificate under S. 41. It does not matter if one application fails 25 Bom L R 453=74 I C 149=1923 B 396 See also 20 A 129. After the issue of a certificate under S. 41, and return of the copy of the decree, the Court to which the decree is transferred ceases to have jurisdiction. 22 A.L.J 1039=1925 A 179; 26 Bom L R 345=1924 B 359, 5 P 398; 1930 L 508, 11 P 513 See also 28 O C 169=1933 L 149 When the result of the execution is not certified execution by Court which passed the decree, if competent. See 39 C W N 129=1935 C. 99=154 I C. 731. Certificates as to result of each application sent under the executive orders of the High Court cannot put an end to the jurisdiction of the Court to execute the decree. 18 N. L. R. 178=68 I. C. 657=1922 N. 210. As to the applicability of the section to a Court executing its own decree on Small Cause Side, in the Original Side, and entering satisfaction in the Small Cause Register, see 76 I. C. 548=1923 B. 371. On this section, see also 1926 L. 113.

42. [S. 228.] The Court executing a decree sent to it shall have the same powers in executing such decree as if it had been passed by itself. All persons disobeying or obstructing the execution of the decree shall be punishable by such Court in the same manner as if it had passed the decree. And its order in executing such decree shall be subject to the same rules in respect of appeal as if the decree had been passed by itself.

CERTIFICATE OF NON-SATISFACTION—POWER OF TRANSFeree COURT TO GRANT—It is only the Court which has passed the decree that is competent to grant a certificate of non-satisfaction to the decree-holder to enable him to execute the decree in another Court and the Court to which a decree is transferred for execution by means of a certificate of non-satisfaction is not competent to grant such a certificate. The Court can only execute the decree itself and certify the result of execution before it to the original Court. 150 I. C. 905=1934 L. 330.

Sec. 42. SCOPE AND APPLICATION—Section 42, C. P. Code, does not override the plain words of O. 21, R. 16. On the other hand it is subject to O. 21, R. 16. 1934 L. 648. Hence, an application by the assignee of a decree for execution can be properly made only to the Court which had transferred the decree, even though that Court had transferred the decree for execution to another Court before the assignment (Ibid). Where a decree is already transferred for execution by Court which passed it, an application for further transfer should be made to the Court where execution is pending. 47 B. 56. But see 1927 N. 367. Section not applicable to execution proceedings of a decree of Madras Small Cause Court transferred to a mofussil Court, but applicable to execution proceedings in the Madras Small Cause Court. 49 M. L. J. 104. Award filed in Court may be transferred for execution. 1931 N. 170=27 N. L. R. 386. Where a decree-holder obtains an order for the transfer of a decree but the decree is not actually sent, the Court which passed the decree has jurisdiction to execute it. 1 P. 328.

POWERS OF COURT IN EXECUTING TRANSFERRED DECREE—Objections to the execution of the decree should be raised before the Court to which it is transmitted for execution. 78 I. C. 1001, 5 R. 775. In executing a decree against a firm Court can determine whether a person is a partner or not. 98 I. C. 855, 131 I. C. 376. The executing Court has power to consider an objection that the decree-holder's demand must be deemed to have been satisfied under S. 18 of the U. P. Court of Wards Act. 46 A. 560. Under Ss. 37 and 42 the Court to which a decree is transferred has powers to stay execution of a decree under O. 21, R. 29. 60 C. 1119=37 C. W. N. 846=57 C. L. J. 444. But see contra 162 I. C. 865=1936 R. 184. Transfer for execution—Power of Court to order attachment. 91 I. C. 1043. Transferee Court can order removal of obstruction under O. 21, R. 95 and 97, even though it had not passed the decree or sold the property. 30 S. L. R. 290=161 I. C. 524=1936 S. 11. The transferee Court is not debarred from taking cognizance of objections as to jurisdiction of which the Court which transferred the decree could take cognizance. 152 I. C. 135 (2)=35 P. L. R. 482=1934 L. 652. An executing Court can refuse to execute a decree when it finds that the decree is against a dead person and therefore a nullity. There is no distinction in this respect between the powers of the Court passing a decree and those of the Court to which a decree is transferred for execution. 1934 L. 117 (2).

POWERS NOT POSSESSED BY EXECUTING COURT—The Court to which a decree is sent cannot question the propriety of the order transmitting the decree to such Court. 21 B. 456. See also 7 A. 330, 8 M. L. J. 1, 1930 L. 118. It cannot refuse execution on the ground that questions are raised between the parties that cannot properly be dealt with in execution. 11 B. 528. The executing Court cannot call the legality of a decree in question. 8 C. 687, 31 C. 922, 23 A. 181, 7 Bom. L. R. 659, 4 M. 324, 11 B. 528, 7 B. 481, 10 B. 65. But see 28 B. 378. The Court to which a decree is sent can decide whether or not the execution was barred by limitation. 23 C. 39. But it has no such power when the Court which passed the decree makes an order for execution and then transmits the decree for execution to another Court. 15 B. 28. As to proper procedure to be adopted when judgment-debtor desires to question the order transferring the decree on the ground of limitation, see 14 R. 550=163 I. C. 403=1936 R. 271. Court cannot vary decree. See 4 I. A. 137, 8 C. 332, 15 B. 644, 7 A. 194; 22 C. L. J. 561, 34 I. C. 362, 39 I. C. 537, 99 I. C. 535=27 Punj. L. R. 750, 123 I. C. 531 (L). Nor can it pass an order which has the effect of amending, altering or varying the decree itself. An order for payment of a decree by instalments, which is made after the decree has been passed, undoubtedly has the effect of altering or varying the terms of the original decree, and consequently it is not within

Sec. 46.—An indefinite order stating that an attachment is made permanently is not one contemplated by this section. 163 I.C. 374=1936 L. 486. Unlike in the case of a regular attachment, an attachment by precept can have force only for 2 months unless extended. Therefore payment of money attached under precept may be validly paid over

(2) The Court to which a precept is sent shall proceed to attach the property in the manner prescribed in regard to the attachment of property in execution of a decree.

Provided that no attachment under a precept shall continue for more than two months unless the period of attachment is extended by an order of the Court which passed the decree or unless before the determination of such attachment the decree has been transferred to the Court by which the attachment has been made and the decree-holder has applied for an order for the sale of such property.

Questions to be determined by Court executing decree.

47. [S. 244.] (1) All questions arising between the parties to the suit in which the decree was passed, or their representatives, and relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree, shall be determined by the Court executing the decree and not by a separate suit.

to a subsequent attaching creditor after the said period of 2 months 163 I.C. 374=1936 L. 486 (Reversing 161 I.C. 418=1935 L. 914) An application under the section should be made to the Court which passed the decree. The period of two months may be extended after it has expired. See S. 148. An order extending the period of attachment relates back to the date of the petition and the attachment would be effective though the order was passed after the expiry of two months if the application for extension was put in within the period 34 I.C. 302=3 L.W. 336. Court to which decree is transferred cannot issue precept. 1926 S. 157=92 I.C. 621. The Court which passed the decree can issue a precept even after the decree is transferred to another Court for execution 31 C.W.N. 653=102 I.C. 513=1927 C. 581; 9 R. 561=1931 R. 279. It is not open to the Court issuing the precept to attach such property itself. The Court to which it is issued must attach the property and wait for an application for execution being made by the attaching creditor 146 I.C. 991=1933 A.L.J. 902=1933 A. 844. Court to which precept is issued has power to accept money or security. See 94 I.C. 119=1926 L. 433=27 Punj L.J. 757. Application for precept is a step-in-aid of execution under Limitation Act, Art. 182 (5). 146 I.C. 991=1933 A.L.J. 902=1933 A. 844. Application for attachment, if sufficient to entitle applicant to rateable distribution. See 90 I.C. 527.

Sec 47 SCOPE AND APPLICATION—There are important differences in legal consequences between an application under S. 47 and an application under O. 21, R. 58, in respect of further remedies open to the applicant. If the application is only under S. 47, the applicant's remedy in the event of an adverse order on that application is to appeal against that order whereas if the application is really one under O. 21, R. 58, the applicant's remedy will be by a regular suit 158 I.C. 410=1935 M. 923. Section should be interpreted liberally. 3 P.L.T. 613; 19 C. 683;

15 P. 545=162 I.C. 830=17 P.L.T. 434=1936 P. 289. In considering whether an application is under S. 47 of the Code or not, the substance of the application should be examined in order to find out its true nature. The heading given to it by applicant is not conclusive 140 I.C. 779=1933 M. 130, 161 I.C. 21=1936 L. 725. S. 47 (1) is mandatory and in regard to a matter that properly falls under that section, Court is bound to decide it in execution and has no discretion whether or not to refer parties to a separate suit 1933 M. 825=66 M.L.J. 263=57 M. 49. (56 M. 447, Foll.) See also 56 C. 462, 1929 C. 247. Section draws no distinction between the functions of a Court executing a simple money decree and one executing a decree under O. 34. 15 L. 772=1934 L. 438, 127 I.C. 12=1929 L. 762. Application for personal decree in mortgage suit, if falls under this section 62 C. 28=158 I.C. 1074=1935 C. 596. Section applies only to matters arising subsequent to passing of the decree 67 I.C. 753, 25 Bom L.R. 440, and not to events subsequent to execution sale—Separate suit lies 119 I.C. 881=1929 P. 559. Judgment-debtor's objection that he has no saleable interest is matter to be decided before the decree and not in execution of a mortgage-decree for sale 1929 R. 275 (1). As to whether application for personal decree in mortgage suit may be treated as one under this section. See 62 C. 28=1935 C. 596. Section applies to execution proceedings under Tenancy Acts 1931 A.L.J. 529. An application under S. 173 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, to set aside a sale falls under S. 47, C.P. Code, and an appeal therefore lies against the order on such application 60 C.L.J. 36=1935 C. 89=154 I.C. 347. This section applies to execution proceedings of rent decree 16 P.L.T. 443=156 I.C. 881=1935 P. 227. Question of priority as between rival heirs claiming to be entitled to execute decree falls under this section 59 B. 417=37 Bom L.R. 150=157 I.C. 658=1935 B. 298. (But see 151 I.C. 473=1934 A. 730.) PARTIES TO SUIT, WHO ARE—Section 47 is not confined only to cases arising between parties who are opposed to each other in the suit 45 M.L.J. 478; 151 I.C. 776=1934 P. 627. Persons may be parties opposed to each other without necessarily being arranged as plaintiff and defendant in the suit. 70 I.C. 329, 24 M.L.J. 477; 5 R. 418. Parties unnecessarily impleaded are still parties to the suit within S. 47. 67 I.C. 6=34 C.L.J. 477. So also one joined as a pro forma defendant 148 I.C. 901=1934 L. 105. A person impleaded as a defendant in a suit on a bond on the ground that there had been a partition between him and the plaintiff in which the bond had fallen to the share of the plaintiff and that consequently he had no right to the amount due under the bond, is not a mere pro forma defendant but a party within S. 47 1934 A. 699. Where party was impleaded in one capacity and objection (claim) is raised by him in execution in another capacity, it will not fall under this section. 1936 M. 733. The only exception to this rule is the case of a legal representative (Ibid) Person dismissed as unnecessary party to suit—Subsequent addition in execution as legal representative of judgment-debtor—Claim in his own right to property sold in execution falls under this section and should be determined by the executing Court. 44 L.W. 698=71 M.L.J. 725. Where a suit is dismissed against a defendant, the plaintiff abandoning his case against him, he is still a party to the suit within S. 47, Expl. REPRESENTATIVES, WHO ARE—The expression "representative" has been construed in a wider sense than the expression "legal representative" and includes also representative in interest. The two tests to be applied in determining whether a person is a representative within S. 47 are (i) whether any portion of the interest of the decree-holder or of the judgment-debtor which was originally vested in one of the parties to the suit has by act of the parties or by operation of law vested in the person who is sought to be treated as representative and (ii) if there has been devolution of interest whether so far as such interest is concerned that person is bound by the decree. The purchaser of the equity of redemption is a 'representative' of the judgment-debtor within the meaning of S. 47. 14 L. 591=142 I C 408=1933 L 352=1935 S. 214. Where a person has been a principal party in a suit brought under O 21, R 63 that person too is regarded as representative of the judgment-debtor. 158 I C. 229=1935 L 306. The term includes any transferee of the decree-holder's interest or any transferee of the judgment-debtor's interest who, so far as such interest is concerned, is bound by the decree. 24 C 62; 26 A 447; 151 I C 683=1934 P 413. A purchaser of a portion of non-transferable holding from a rayat is a representative of the judgment-debtor within S. 47 and can apply to set aside a sale of holding in execution of a decree for arrears of rent on the ground of fraud. 42 C 172 (F.B.). Mortgagee who purchases property of mortgagor at a sale in execution of decree on his mortgage is representative of his judgment-debtor; and when he is impleaded as party to proceedings in execution of rent decrees against mortgagor, the order passed in execution is open to appeal and second appeal. 18 N L J. 274. Where a transferee pendente lite from a defendant obstructs delivery of possession in execution to the decree-holder and the Court orders it to be removed, the order is one under S. 47, the transferee being the representative of the defendant. 66 I C 722=1921 M W N. 698. Whether Receiver in insolvency of judgment-debtor is or is not representative of the latter for the purposes of S. 47, depends on purpose and nature of the application made by the Receiver. An application by Receiver to have a sale in execution declared null and void, purporting to act as the legal representative of the judgment-debtor and for purpose of having the property escaped from execution, is within S. 47, and an order thereon is subject to second appeal. 62 C 457=157 I C 862=39 C W N 424=1935 C 503.

OBJECTION TO ATTACHMENT, QUESTIONS RELATING TO.—Objection by the judgment-debtor that the property is not saleable comes under the section. 19 B. 328; 27 C. 187. Also an objection on the ground of want of saleable interest. 1 O.W.N. 857. See also 76 I.C. 316. The question whether the property attached before judgment is attachable or not can be raised in a proceeding under S. 47. 58 C.L.J. 289=37 C.W.N. 978=1933 C. 757. An objection by the judgment-debtor to an attachment of property in his possession on the ground that he is in possession as a shebait of a deity falls under O. 21, Rr. 58 and 60 and not under S. 47. 39 C. 298 (F.B.); 12 I.C. 411, 42 C. 440 But see contra, 2 Luck. 145. Where a person was added as legal representative and he objected to a certain attachment as being a legatee, the question falls under the section. 5 R. 393, 1931 R. 314. See, however, 9 R. 305. But where the legal representative sets up title on behalf of a third person, the case does not fall within S. 47. 31 I.C. 393 (M.); 23 M. 195, 23 B. 237; 31 M. 125, 39 C. 298, 15 I.C. 353; 1930 N. 293. Objection by a member of a tarwad that a property attached in execution of a decree passed against a karnavan of a tarwad in his representative capacity does not belong to the tarwad but to a separate javashi to which the claimant belonged could not be enquired into under this section. 51 M. 46=53 M.L.J. 824 (F.B.) overruling 30 M. 512 and 24 M. 658. If two persons one of whom is a party to the suit and one not a party, prefer a claim under O. 21, R. 58, the party to the suit must proceed by way of appeal by virtue of S. 47 and the non-party by way of suit by virtue of O. 21, R. 63. 57 M. 822=1934 M. 435 (1)=67 M.L.J. 36. Where objection is wrongly filed under O. 21, R. 58 instead of under S. 47, and order is passed, suit under O. 21; R. 63 is barred. 1935 A.L.J. 74=1935 A. 183.

SETTING ASIDE OF EXECUTION SALE, QUESTIONS RELATING TO.—The question of the validity or otherwise of a sale held in execution of a decree is one relating to execution arising between parties to the suit. 13 I.C. 133=1912 M.W.N. 44, 1928 R. 215=144 I.C. 679. The fact that the auction-purchaser is interested in the result, does not matter. 19 C. 683. See also 34 M. 417; 34 B. 546. Section 47 applies to a case where the question raised concerns the auction-purchaser as well as parties to the suit, e.g., an application to set aside the sale for irregularity. 41 M. 403=34 M.L.J. 463 (P.C.). See also 150 I.C. 611=1934 N. 21. But see 149 I.C. 445=35 P.L.R. 375=1934 L. 508, holding that proceedings for setting aside a sale are not proceedings in execution. See also 151 I.C.

244=1934 A.L.J. 859=1934 A. 314. An order made under O. 21, R. 97 between the decree-holder-auction-purchaser and another person who had been impleaded as a defendant in the suit is appealable because the dispute comes under S. 47. 150 I.C. 313=38 C.W.N. 497=1934 C. 541. A petition objecting to the whole execution procedure in a case and not merely to the actual irregularity in conducting or publishing the sale may be dealt with under S. 47 and is not fettered by the 30 days' rule for presentation under O. 21, R. 90. 37 I.C. 827=10 Bur. L.T. 249. See also 145 I.C. 113=1933 L. 570 as to limitation. Where property claimed by a person in his personal capacity is sold in execution of a decree to which he was a party in a representative capacity, he can apply under S. 47 to have the sale set aside and a separate suit will be barred by that section. 46 I.C. 458=27 C.L.J. 572; 1931 R. 314; see also 38 C.W.N. 996, 151 I.C. 227=1934 R. 127, following 2 R. 168. An application to set aside an execution sale as illegal falls under S. 47. 22 A.L.J. 413. So also an application on the ground of want of notice under O. 21, R. 22. 5 Pat L.T. 61; see also 142 I.C. 658=1933 M. 224, or suppression of processes. 27 C.L.J. 528. Where an execution sale is challenged on the ground that no notice was issued under O. 21, R. 22, but the Court finds, that no such notice was necessary the order is not one under S. 47. 2 P. 916. Where notice under O. 21, R. 22 is held necessary but was not issued, see 7 R. 110. A sale in execution of property which is subsequently found not to belong to the judgment-debtor is not void. The only course open to a decree-holder purchaser in such a case is to apply under O. 21, R. 91, C. P. Code to have the sale set aside. If that remedy is barred by limitation, he loses his remedy altogether. The sale cannot be set aside by any other means, and if the sale stands, the order recording satisfaction of the decree also stands and cannot be set aside by the executing Court. 41 L.W. 422=1935 M. 340. An order on an objection that the properties could not be sold subject to encumbrances as notified in the sale proclamation is one relating to execution within S. 47. 72 I.C. 860. An order on an application by a judgment-debtor objecting to the sale of certain property falls under S. 47. 31 I.C. 102 (M.). Such an order is appealable. 17 A.L.J. 802. So also an order declining to proceed with execution for the sale of the property, in view of S. 63. 26 C.L.J. 42=42 I.C. 466. So also where it is objected that the property sold is not liable to attachment and sale under S. 60. 6 A. 448, 8 A. 146; 34 M. 417; 34 B. 546; 148 I.C. 200=1934 N. 28. The objection may be made even after sale and before confirmation. 158 I.C. 202=1935 A.L.J. 1137=1935 A.W.R. 1105=1935 A. 1016; also where it is alleged that before sale the decree was adjusted and that consequently the sale was illegal 22 A. 86. See also 33 C.W.N. 795=1929 C. 374 (F.B.). So also an objection that certain lands sold in execution are not saleable being unam lands. 1935 N. 30; 31 N.L.R. 217=156 I.C. 99. The section, however, does not bar a suit to set aside a decree and execution sale thereunder as having been obtained by fraud. 42 C. 244=27 M.L.J. 100 (P.C.) (see also 24 I.C. 695, 26 C. 326; 27 C. 197); or as having been a nullity, the legal representative of the deceased defendant not having been brought on record 21 A. 316. See also 148 I.C. 418=1934 O. 167. The proper remedy for a plaintiff to set aside a sale held in contravention of O. 34, R. 14 is by an application under S. 47 and not by a separate suit 45 B. 174. But an order setting aside confirmation of sale does not fall under the section. 100 I.C. 800=1927 L. 337. Where a mortgage decree is not passed in accordance with law but the properties are purchased by the mortgagee in execution sale, the sale is not void but irregular. The remedy of the aggrieved party is to apply under the section before confirmation of the sale and not by a subsequent suit for redemption treating the execution sale as void. 41 M. 403=34 M.L.J. 463 (P.C.). An application by a Receiver of an insolvent's estate to annul a sale on the ground of a prior adjudication of the debtor is one under S. 47 to which O. 21, R. 90 is not applicable and hence a second appeal lies to the High Court 30 M.L.J. 611. See also 1 R. 533. An objection by a Hindu widow who is a party to the suit to the sale of a certain house without reserving rooms for her residence, can be inquired only under S. 47 and not by a separate suit. 19 I.C. 926 (2) (Pun.).

DELIVERY OF PROPERTY SOLD IN EXECUTION, QUESTIONS AS TO—Proceedings as to delivery of possession of property sold in execution where the auction-purchaser is a stranger are not covered by the section 14 C. 644; 31 M. 177. See also cases cited under the heading "AUCTION-PURCHASER WHETHER A REPRESENTATIVE OF A PARTY". Where on an application for removal of obstruction to delivery, applicant is referred by the final order to a suit, a subsequent suit is maintainable and S. 47 cannot be pleaded in bar. 69 M.L.J. 139. "Where the decree-holder is himself the auction-purchaser, the question is one relating to execution, arising between the parties to the suit, the decree-holder not ceasing to be a party by becoming the auction-purchaser. 35 B. 452; 10 P. 670, 27 C. 34; 31 C. 737; 31 A. 82; 26 M. 740; 13 M. 504; 25 M. 529, 39 M.L.J. 603; 38 P.L.R. 621, 10 I.C. 51=13 C.L.J. 467; 44 I.C. 563; 78 I.C. 930 overruling 35 B. 452; 1935 N. 30. But see 48 B. 550; 5 O.W.N. 108=1928 O. 199 (F.B.) (Contra). Questions relating to the possession of property after sale has taken place are not questions connected with the execution, etc., of a decree within S. 47 and a separate suit for recovery of possession by the decree-holder auction-purchaser is not barred. 33 I.C. 367; 3 Pat. L.J. 571; 48 B. 550; 53 I.C. 460; 10 P. 670; 1929 P. 559, 1931 P. 296 (Partition suit). Even if they are questions relating to execution, the decree-holder cannot be treated as a party to the suit after he has become the purchaser. 31 A. 82; 6 C.L.J. 749. See also 49 I.C. 137=29 C.L.J. 48; 4 Pat. L.J. 716. The question of delivery of possession arising between the decree-holder and defendant against whom no relief is granted is one under S. 47 29 M.L.J. 629. A suit for possession lies by the decree-holder auction-purchaser who is resisted in obtaining possession of the property by the judgment-debtor as well as by a third person claiming to have an interest in the property. 44 B. 977. But see 28 N.L.R. 250. A suit lies by a decree-holder who purchases his judgment-debtor's rights in joint property, for partition against the judgment-debtor and other co-owners. 28 M.L.J. 642; 1 L. 134; 1927 M. 955. Where the decree was for has possession of lands jointly owned with the defendants, a separate suit for partition and possession would be barred 54 C. 524. Where, after sale of the properties in execution of a mortgage decree, a puisne mortgagee who had been impleaded as one of the defendants in the suit applied to the executing Court that he had certain rights in the property by way of easement and as co-sharer and that therefore the possession of the property should not be given, held, the application was one under S. 47 and not under O. 21, R. 100. 144 I.C. 472=38 L.W. 199=1933 M. 569. A plaintiff who has obtained a decree for possession on the basis of a lease and obtained delivery through Court, cannot bring a second suit in respect of the same property praying for demolition of a building which had been built during the period of the lease. S. 47 applies to such a case and bars a separate suit. The fact that another person, the son of the judgment-debtor has been impleaded to the subsequent suit does not remove the bar, unless he has got a separate cause of action against that person 155 I.C. 268=1935 P. 222.

ADJUSTMENT OUT OF COURT, QUESTIONS RELATING TO—An application for certifying payments made out of Court falls under S. 47. 1 P. 644. O. 21, R. 2 does not limit the operation of S. 47. 1 Bur.L.J. 43=70 I.C. 859=Uncertified payment—Suit for recovery of—After satisfaction of decree—S. 47 no bar, 7 R. 310; but not where such application is barred by time. 25 I.C. 884. Application by judgment-debtor to have sale set aside on ground of satisfaction of decree by uncertified payment by another judgment-debtor is governed by O. 21, R. 2 and Art. 174, Limitation Act. If application is barred, he cannot make S. 47. 15 P. 422=17 P. L.T. 195=162 I.C. 810=1936 P. 270. S. 47 has a suit for a declaration that a decree is satisfied. 3 L. 319, 36 I.C. 988=31 M. L. 1 429; 21 C. 437, 15 M. 302; 31 C. 480, 1933 L. 1051, 157 I.C. 814=1935 R. 225. The question of decree-holder's fraud in not certifying the payment and holding a sale after satisfaction did not fall under O. 21, R. 90 but under S. 47. 10 I.C. 625; 30 C. L.J. 248; 41 A. 443. An application purporting to be under S. 151 and O. 47, R. 1, to set aside an order entering full satisfaction of the decree on the ground of fraud is essentially one under S. 47 relating to the discharge of the decree. 148 I.C. 549=1934 P. 202=167 I.C. 401=1937 O.W.N. 231. Though order recording full satisfaction might be reviewed by the judge who passed it, the question whether the petition of adjustment and the order thereon correctly represented the intention of the parties is not one the determination of which falls under S. 47. So, a suit for rectification of a petition for adjustment of a decree and the order thereon, on the ground that the same did not correctly represent the agreement of the parties and that the decree had been recorded by mistake is not barred by S. 47. 39 C.W.N. 966. Agreement by decree-holder limiting methods of execution, if can be recognized by executing Court. 4 A.W.R. 146=1935 A. 364. Where after a decree for possession of a share in an estate, specific lands have been allotted in lieu of the share in partition proceedings, an enquiry as to what are those lands is one relating to execution of the decree. 1 P. 378=43 M.L.J. 124 (P.C.). See also 2 P.L.J. 496. Where after attachment of property decree was adjusted but not certified, and property was mortgaged to another, in a suit on mortgage, S. 47 would not bar the trial Court from recognizing the adjustment. 19 N.L.J. 175.

CASES WHERE SEPARATE SUIT WILL LIE—That which in reality forms the basis of an independent suit cannot be introduced as a question to be tried in execution proceedings. 1 P. 581=43 M.L.J. 589 (P.C.); 49 A. 379; 1929 A. 252=115 I.C. 462. An objection to execution on the ground that the decree is invalid being collusive, can be tried only in a regular suit and not in execution under S. 47. 22 B. 475, 27 M. 118; 28 M. 26; 30 M. 26; 32 C. 265; 21 A. 277 (356), 54 M. 184. So also the question whether a decree was obtained by fraud or collusion. 38 M. 221. See also 9 M. 80; 23 C. 639, 38 M. 1076. A pre-decree compromise which is not embodied in decree cannot be pleaded in execution, but separate suit for declaration of rights on basis of the compromise is maintainable. 39 P.L.R. 29. A separate suit will lie where the existence of the decree itself is denied (1931 A. 490, F.B.), or where the jurisdiction of the Court passing the decree is questioned (1932 L. 601).

Where the final decree was passed after death of the defendant and without substitution of heirs, the real question at issue is the validity and not the satisfaction of the decree, and it can properly be raised in an independent suit by the legal representatives of the deceased defendant who seek to set aside the final decree and the sale in execution. The mere fact that their interests were technically represented by an administrator in execution proceedings cannot prejudice them. 39 C.W.N. 1284. Section 47 does not bar a suit by a person against whom a decree has been passed at a time when he was suffering from unsoundness of mind, to set aside the decree. 50 I.C. 109=17 A.L.J. 257. Where property is claimed not under or in execution of a decree, but the claim is for delivery of property on the ground that the decree is not binding on the claimant the question is one that cannot be tried in execution, and therefore S. 47 has no application. 1937 M. 268. Where a decree-holder under a bona fide mistake brought to sale in execution some of his own properties, the remedy is only by a suit under O. 21, R. 103 and not by an application under S. 47. 15 L.W. 272=1922 M. 63. Contra 116 I.C. 634. A suit will lie against the auction-purchaser for recovery of property sold in execution of a decree, in which the judgment-debtor has no interest. 75 I.C. 238. But see 1929 M.W.N. 811=123 I.C. 12=1930 M. 12. Prior proceeding for recovery of debt—Question of pledge not in issue—S. 47 not a bar to subsequent suit for redemption by pledge. 30 L.W. 898=1930 M. 36. Where the creditor seeks his remedy against the trustee personally the trustee's right to indemnity from out of the trust estate should be pleaded in the same suit or in a different suit. The question cannot however be investigated in execution. 60 C. 801=1933 C. 668. A suit by the decree-holder for declaration that the assets of the deceased debtor are liable to attachment and sale in execution of the decree, when objections are allowed under O. 21, R. 58 is not barred by the section. 71 I.C. 1012=1923 A. 292. So also where it is claimed that the decree passed against a Hindu widow is not binding on the reversionary inheritance. 30 M. 402. Where a decree is of a purely declaratory nature, a separate suit will lie to enforce the rights declared by such a decree. 22 B. 267. See also 18 N.L.J. 110, 39 C.W.N. 725, 64 C. L.J. 55. Suit to declare title to decree is not barred by S. 47. 1931 R. 24. Where a compromise mortgage decree allowed the relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee to continue and provided execution as the sole remedy, the provision as to execution was only a clog on the equity of redemption and a suit for redemption is not barred under the section. 31 L.W. 44=1930 M. 305. Where in a suit by the prior mortgagee impleading the puisne mortgagee as party, the decree does not provide for the working out of the rights of the puisne mortgagee, he can enforce his mortgage by a suit of his own, unaffected by S. 47. 49 I.C. 466=1918 M.W.N. 902. See also 42 M. 90. An alleged agreement between the prior mortgagee decree-holder and a third party who purchased the property in execution of a decree on a subsequent mortgage, subject to the prior mortgage-decree, by which the former consented to be paid off by the latter and not to execute his decree is not a question falling under S. 47 but could only be gone into in independent proceedings. 145 I.C. 528=38 L.W. 728=1933 M. 838 following 57 C. 403 (F.B.). Where a puisne mortgagee impleaded a prior mortgagee decree-holder and obtained a decree, then the prior mortgagee purchased the property in execution of his own decree and objected to the sale by the puisne mortgagee, the order on the puisne mortgagee's application is not appealable. 99 I.C. 658=1927 M. 431. Question of priority of prior mortgagee cannot be gone into in execution of decree on later mortgage. 1930 A. 826 (2)=1930 A.L.J. 1135. In a mortgage suit where some of the defendants claimed paramount title (occupancy rights), the matter cannot be decided in the suit, and S. 47 would not bar the question being raised in subsequent suit. 1936 M. 733. The bar of S. 47 can only apply to cases where there is a duty to raise the question in the earlier proceedings (Ibid.) But see 71 M.L.J. 511 (noted supra). A dispute as to possession between rival auction-purchasers of the same property in execution of different decrees does not fall within the scope of S. 47. 49 I.C. 629=9 L.W. 81. But see 56 M. 909=65 M.L.J. 407=1933 M. 780. Where two decree-holders are proceeding in execution against the same property and the claim for priority made by one is disallowed by the executing Court, the decision does not bar a regular suit by such decree-holder for establishing his priority. 150 I.C. 964=1934 L. 478. The question of priority as between rival heirs claiming to be entitled to execute the decree by right of succession can be decided in execution proceedings under S. 47. 59 B. 417=157 I.C. 658=37 Bom.L.R. 150=1935 B. 298. Section 47 is a bar to a regular suit if the object of that suit is to decide a question between a decree-holder-purchaser and the judgment-debtor. But where the object of the suit is to settle dispute between decree-holder-purchaser and persons other than the judgment-debtor, S. 47 cannot be a bar, and it is no objection to say that there was no delivery under O. 21, R. 96. 1936 M. 733. A suit lies for contribution by one judgment-debtor against another, for his share of the decree debt, the whole of which has been levied in execution from him. 18 A. 106. Decree-holder auction-purchaser omitting to take possession through Court—His transferee suing judgment-debtor for possession—Application or suit as remedy —Limitation 1930 C. 586. Decree-holder purchaser omitting to apply under O. 21, R. 91 within limitation—Subsequent application for realisation of purchase-money in execution of original decree—If competent. 1935 A.L.J. 474=1935 A.W.R. 369. Suit by decree-holder auction-purchaser (10 P. 670) or by the purchaser of an undivided interest (1931 M.W.N. 1176) for possession of the properties is not barred. So also a suit for khas possession by the plaintiff against his co-sharer landlord on the ground that he had purchased the tenancy in Court auction in a suit for rent against the tenant in which the co-sharer landlord also was a party. 60 C. 1401=149 I.C. 11=1934 C. 277. If the profits are not ascertained, a fresh suit to ascertain their amount is maintainable. 33 I.C. 83. Ascertainment of mesne profits is a matter to be decided in suit and not in execution. 12 P.L.T. 127=1931 P. 1. Section 47 is no bar to a suit for actual possession by a purchaser who obtained symbolical delivery after confirmation of the execution sale. 20 C.W.N. 675=23 C.L.J. 587 (26 M. 740, Diss.). Nor to a suit by purchaser who was dispossessed by judgment-debtor after conclusion of execution proceedings. 164 I.C. 260=1936 R. 298. As to when execution proceedings terminate, see 1936 Pesh. 85. A suit by the decree-holder for rectification of a petition of adjustment, in which a mistake has crept in and upon which an order recording satisfaction of the decree has been passed, is maintainable and not barred by the provisions of S. 47, C.P. Code. 165 I.C. 756=40 C.W.N. 914=1936 C. 400.

decree against him falls under the section. 5 R. 44 An order in execution adjudicating the claims of an assignee decree-holder and a person claiming a charge over the properties is not appealable as it relates to a question between decree-holders inter se 24 L. So also where objection was wrongly filed under O. 21, R. 58, C. P. Code instead of under S. 47. 1935 A.L.J. 74=1935 A. 183.

NO SUIT—No suit lies to set aside compromise or adjustment of decree effected by next friend of minor without sanction of Court during execution against minor. Minor's remedy is by application under this section or by way of review 17 P.L.T. 743=165 I.C. 857=1936 P. 506.

APPEAL ORDERS APPEALABLE UNDER THIS SECTION—Interlocutory orders dealing with mere matters of procedure can hardly be said to be determination of any question within S. 47 and are not appealable. There must be determination of the rights or liabilities of the parties as to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree. 24 C. 725; 34 A. 530, 27 I.C. 444=20 C.L.J. 512; 5 R. 534=104 I.C. 324=1927 R. 317; 1929 L. 815, 1929 M. 718, 1929 A. 85 (1), 151 I.C. 61=1934 Pesh. 43 But an appeal lies against an interlocutory order passed in execution proceedings, where the order has the effect of reviving an application for execution dismissed for default 57 I.C. 905; also against an order on the question of

ASSIGNMENT—Where a decree is assigned and the assignee assigns it to another but the second assignee's application for permission to execute the decree and to recognize the assignment is opposed by the first assignee and the application is dismissed, an appeal is competent from the order of dismissal as S. 47 applies 57 M. 457=148 I.C. 55=1934 M. 181 (1)=67 M.L.J. 207. But an appeal by judgment-debtor would not be competent, 37 P.L.R. 305=155 I.C. 974=1935 L. 609. Also against an order allowing execution by an assignee decree-holder. 1934 L. 328.

ARREST—An order on a claim for exemption from arrest is appealable under S. 47. 47 M.L.J. 678. An order refusing to arrest the judgment-debtor in execution of a decree is appealable 4 L.L.J. 266=1922 L. 259 Also an order directing decree to be executed only against the property of the judgment-debtor and not against his person. 1924 L. 604 An order deciding the legality of arrest made in execution of a decree falls under the section. 32 I.C. 731=3 L.W. 35. When objection to the legality of arrest is not made at the time of committal to jail the order is not appealable 7 R. 110 Order to send judgment-debtor to jail on failure to give security is appealable 164 I.C. 459=1936 R. 367 Also an order refusing to make any further effort to apprehend the judgment-debtor 144 I.C. 255=14 P.L.T. 271=1933 P. 248 An order definitely dismissing execution application is an order under S. 47 and is appealable 1933 A. 732. So also an order refusing attachment of pay under O. 21, R. 48. 144 I.C. 927=35 Bom. L.R. 360=1933 B. 185 Order disallowing judgment-debtor's plea of limitation is appealable, 44 L.W. 486=164 I.C. 670=1936 M. 801=71 M.L.J. 388.

ATTACHMENT PROCEEDINGS—Where a judgment-debtor objects to the attachment on the ground that the attached property is debutter and that he holds it not in his private or personal capacity, but as shebait on behalf of a deity to whom the property has been dedicated in consideration of his performing certain services to that deity, the objection falls under O. 21, R. 58, C. P. Code, and not under S. 47 No appeal therefore lies against the order passed on the objection. 17 P.L.T. 810 Where a decree is passed against the assets of a certain person in the hands of his legal representative, and the legal representative makes an objection that the assets in question belong to her personally, the objection should be treated as one under S. 47, C. P. Code and not as one under O. 21, R. 58 Accordingly, an appeal lies from the order dismissing the objection, but no regular suit is maintainable. 1936 A.W.R. 1270=1937 A.L.J. 13=1937 A. 97 Where the executing Court finally negatives the right of the decree-holders to proceed against the land of the judgment-debtor, the order is appealable under S. 47. 2 L.L.J. 398. An order on an objection petition to an attachment put in by a defendant against whom the suit had been dismissed, is one under S. 47 though ostensibly put in under O. 21, R. 58. 1924 L. 589=115 I.C. 691, 150 I.C. 703=1934 P. 281. See also 44 L.W. 460=165 I.C. 59=1936 M. 812=71 M.L.J. 317 Where an objection under S. 47, questioning legality of issue of second warrant of attachment was rejected and no appeal was filed thereon, the question cannot be raised in appeal in the execution case which had nothing to do with that objection 1936 O.W.N. 47=161 I.C. 393=1936 O. 240.

SALE PROCEEDINGS—Where the judgment-debtor himself applies to have an execution sale set aside, a second appeal does lie from the appellate order dismissing an appeal from the lower Court's order dismissing the application as in such a case the provisions of S. 47, C.P. Code, apply 156 I.C. 699=42 L.W. 39=1935 M.W.N. 403=1935 M. 438 A decision of an executing Court as to the order in which properties were to be sold in execution, even though it is a question between judgment-debtors only, is one relating to execution within S. 47 45 M.L.J. 478, 53 A. 391 (mortgage suit) But an order passed on an application under O. 21, R. 64 and 66, C.P. Code, directing that the properties ordered to be sold by a mortgage decree shall be sold in a particular order is not a judicial order and is hence not open to appeal. 156 I.C. 141=42 L.W. 50=1935 M. 714 The order imposing certain conditions on a property being sold last is not appealable 51 A. 752. An order on objection by the judgment-debtor as to the correctness of the area of the land mentioned in the sale proclamation, is appealable as such decision may be said to determine the rights of the judgment-debtor in certain respects 145 I.C. 386=34 P.L.R. 851=1933 L. 383 Order passed in a dispute between the decree-holder, who is also the auction-purchaser and the judgment-debtor relating to the grant of a certificate of sale is appealable. 153 I.C. 85=37 P.L.R. 116=1935 L. 144 (2). An application for setting aside an auction-sale on the ground that the judgment-debtor had no notice of the settling of the proclamation under O. 21, R. 66 falls under S. 47 of the Code and second appeal is open to the parties. 1930 M. 489. But see 153 I.C. 992=1934 C. 761. Order setting aside sale on ground that executing Court had no jurisdiction to sell without attachment 164 I.C. 140=1936 L. 573. Decree-holder purchaser—Order under O. 21, R. 90—Second appeal lies 1930 N. 191 An order rejecting an application by the decree-holder auction-purchaser for possession of the property as being barred by time is appealable 56 C.L.J. 520=1933 C. 311.

RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION—An order under S. 73 rejecting an application for rateable distribution is neither an order under S. 47 determining questions between parties nor a decree under S. 2 (2) and hence is not appealable. 57 I.C. 421=5 P.L.J. 415. See also 42 C. 1; 1924 M. 97; 55 B. 473; 1931 B. 252 But see 31 M.L.J. 820 Orders under S. 73 are appealable, if they affect parties to the suit under S. 47, especially when the appeal is by the judgment-debtor who cannot avail himself of the right of suit given by S. 73 (2) 39 M. 570=29 M.L.J. 96, 1931 B. 252. See also 150 I.C. 970=1934 P. 350 But where order under S. 73 only determines the rights of decree-holders inter se, it will not fall under S. 47 and no appeal will lie. 160 I.C. 892=1936 Pesh. 52; 59 M. 399=43 L.W. 31=160 I.C. 573=1936 M. 136=70 M.L.J. 33. An order not simply refusing rateable distribution but also dismissing execution application in toto is appealable. 98 I.C. 884=1927 L. 100; 1931 P. 359. An order of rateable distribution and of sale of the property attached by two creditors to satisfy the claims of the other creditors, after the making of deposit under O. 21, R. 55, of a sum sufficient to discharge the two creditors who made the attachment, relates to a question in execution within S. 47. 36 B. 156 Where order of Court is passed only under S. 73 and not under S. 47, no appeal would lie 162 I.C. 309=1936 L. 181; 160 I.C. 892=1936 Pesh. 52

RESTITUTION—Order for restitution under S. 144 falls under this section and is appealable. 43 L.W. 773=1936 M. 636 And so also order under S. 151 for something analogous to restitution made as between the parties (ibid.).

AWARD—The proceedings for enforcement of an award under S. 15, Arbitration Act, are governed by S. 47, C.P. Code, and an appeal is competent from an order rejecting such application 151 I.C. 881=35 P.L.R. 635=1934 L. 49.

STAY OF EXECUTION—An order staying execution proceedings is appealable 75 I.C. 419 An order refusing stay of sale falls under S. 47 and is appealable 75 I.C. 789; 1924 L. 631; 75 I.C. 1001. But see 27 I.C. 444=20 C.L.J. 512, 141 I.C. 841=16 N.L.J. 17=1933 N. 84. See also 39 C.W.N. 313 Whether an order for security to stay execution amounts to a decree or appealable order, see 5 R. 534; 106 I.C. 890 (2). No appeal lies from an order accepting security in execution proceeding. 106 I.C. 866 (2).

SATISFACTION—An order on an objection that a sum paid in part satisfaction of decree has not been given credit to is appealable. 1934 C. 761. So also an order allowing objection by the judgment-debtor that the mortgagee had been in possession of the land and had realised more than the amount due under the decree 142 I.C. 313=34 P.L.R. 373=1933 L. 361. Also an order determining objection under S. 60, C.P. Code to sale. 1929 L. 778 (2); 1931 L. 141. An order refusing to discharge a receiver appointed in an execution proceeding is within S 47. 3 P.L.J 513=46 I.C. 655 Also an order allowing execution of a decree alleged by the defendant to be declaratory in nature. 37 M 29=21 M L.J. 1063. An order requiring a Receiver to deposit in Court money part of which was collected by him as a party to the suit (the party being appointed as Receiver) and prior to his appointment as Receiver, is in substance and effect an order directing a party to make a payment and is one in execution That part of it is appealable under S 47, C. Though no appeal lies against an order passed wholly and simply under S. 73, an order which decides a matter covered by S. 47 (1) may although it be passed ostensibly under S 73 be the subject of appeal. 16 L 990=156 I.C 845=1935 L 302. APPEAL ORDERS NOT APPEALABLE UNDER THIS SECTION—An order disallowing the objection of a judgment-debtor that a fresh attachment is necessary is not appealable 34 A 530 An order in execution of a mortgage decree that there ought to be rateable reduction in the decretal amount is only an interlocutory order, as the Court has still to determine the market value and rateable liability of each item 1930 A. 638. Order directing restitution following on setting aside of sale is not appealable—If appeal wrongly entertained—Second appeal lies. 1930 P. 280. See also 35 C.W.N 105=1931 C 779 (2). Order overruling Collector's objections to alienability of land and directing him to proceed with the execution sale of the properties is not appealable being merely a direction by the Court to its ministerial officer 1929 L. 391. An order relating solely to jurisdiction does not determine any question relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of a decree. 52 I.C. 461=4 P. L.J. 461. No appeal lies against an order dismissing "as informal" a decree-holder's tion of some errors therein is not appealable, but a revision lies. 164 I.C. 802=40 C. W.N. 89. Where there is an appeal as from an order under S. 2, C. P. Code, it would be difficult to bring the matter under S. 47 so as to render a second appeal maintainable. 33 C.W.N. 1170. As to appeal against order in delivery proceedings between rival purchasers in execution of a mortgage decree and a decree in suit enforcing a charge created by a security bond, see 56 M. 909=145 I.C. 871=65 M.L.J. 407=1933 M. 780.

Sec. 47 (2).—Power of Court to treat application as suit. See 39 M.L.T. 579; 7 O.W.N. 887. The applicant is not entitled for a conversion as of right. 27 I.C. 570. See also 16 I.C. 543. Where application purporting to be both under S. 47 and O 21, R. 58 was made but was dismissed on merits and thereupon suit was filed by applicant for declaration that attached property was hers and not liable to attachment Held, that the suit was incompetent and could not be treated as an application under S. 47. 158 I.C. 410=1935 M. 923. See also 159 I.C. 960=1936 P. 268. A suit can be converted into an application only if the application under S. 47 would not, at the date of suit, be time-barred. 34 I.C. 774=7 L.W. 400; 45 I.C. 608, 35 B. 452, 53 C. 837, 7 O.W.N. 887; 130 I.C. 117; 60 M.L.J. 219, 471, see also 138 C.W.N. 996, 60 C. 1467=1934 C. 327. Also the Court in which the suit is brought must have jurisdiction to execute the decree. 22 A. 121, 26 A. 101, 29 A. 348; 32 M. 425, 54 C. 419. Thus where a party to a Small Cause suit whose objection to an attachment made in execution of the decree in that suit is dismissed, files a declaratory suit in the Munsif's Court, the suit cannot be treated as a petition under

S. 47 as such an application can be made only in execution proceedings in a Small Cause Court. 1934 A. 699. Where a suit is brought for restitution in spite of the provision in S. 144, it is open to the Court to treat the suit as proceeding in execution in the exercise of its powers under Cl (2). 67 I.C. 319=1922 N. 198. For a converse case, see 1930 M.W.N. 1245. A prior order in execution which led up to the suit would not operate as res judicata. 4 O.W.N. 1045; 35 L.W. 103. A decree passed in a suit barred under this section would still be upheld as an order passed on an application under the section, if it is otherwise good in law. 14 C. 605, 22 C. 483, 28 M. 64; 32 C. 322; 60 M.L.J. 471. Where the proceedings are treated as a suit in the hearing of any objection to the execution, the objector is in the position of a plaintiff and the burden of paying Court-fee falls upon him and not on the decree-holder. 149 I.C. 1003=1934 P. 9. The bar of S. 47 can be pleaded for first time in second appeal and the suit converted into an application at that stage. 1928 M.W.N. 601. As to whether sub-S (2) applies to preceeding on Original Side of High Court, see 40 C.W.N. 428.

Sec. 47 (3).—See 82 I.C. 604. The question whether certain persons are legal representatives of judgment-debtor is one which executing Court is bound to decide. The decision on such a question is open to appeal. 39 C.W.N. 313. Sub-S (3) of S. 47 must be read as ancillary to sub-S (1) and only comes into operation where there is a question arising between the parties to the suit or their representatives relating to the execution, discharge or satisfaction of the decree and it does not apply to a case where the question is between rival representatives of one party the other party having throughout disclaimed any interest. 57 B. 641=146 I.C. 336=35 Bom.L.R. 609=1933 B. 396. The question of the representative character of a party can be determined only for a limited purpose under S. 47. 43 I.C. 165=11 S.L.R. 74, 117 I.C. 122. Where a person applies to be brought on record as the representative of the judgment-debtor so that he may raise a question to be decided under S. 47, the proper Court to entertain the application is the Court executing the decree. 55 I.C. 812=11 L.W. 173. Under S. 47 (3), a statutory obligation is laid on the Court seized of execution proceedings to determine the question whether a particular person is or is not the representative of a party to the decree. When such a question arises in the appellate stage of the proceedings under S. 47, the question must be decided by the

Sec 48 SCOPE AND OPERATION OF THE SECTION.—Saving decrees granting injunctions, S. 48 applies to all decrees. 26 I.C. 244 Section 48 deals with the maximum limit of time prescribed for execution and not period for each application 46 A. 73 Section 48 does not strictly provide a period of limitation but merely bars the execution after 12 years 40 A 198 Sections 19 and 20 of the Limitation Act cannot be applied to S. 48, C. P. Code, because that would render the provisions of S. 48 nugatory. The question of their applicability to S. 48 must be decided without reference to the provisions of S. 29, Limitation Act, because S. 29 does not include the Code in its scope, as a "special law". So acknowledgments and payment by the judgment-debtor cannot operate to extend the period of 12 years fixed by S. 48 151 I.C. 541=11 O W.N. 1103=1934 O. 465. As to the effect of Art. 182 of the Limitation Act, see 1932 O. 220=9 O W N. 430, 60 C.L.J. 123 The section does not apply to decrees passed by Chartered High Courts on account of sub-S. (2), cl. (b). See 6 B. 258; 7 M. 541, nor to orders in Council made on appeal to the Privy Council. 20 C. 551. S. 48 has a retrospective effect and governs an application for the execution of mortgage decree passed before the Code came into force. 45 B. 365; 19 I.C. 899; 40 C. 704; 20 C. W.N. 952, 1 Pat L.J. 214; 27 I.C. 969=11 N.L.R. 25 But see 32 A. 499 (contra). The period begins to run only from the date on which the decree is in all parts ripe and capable of execution. 36 B. 368 See also 43 A. 405; 48 A. 377, 34 C. 874. Section does not apply until the decree becomes executable. 33 Bom L.R. 1082. Section does not preclude an order for execution being made after 12 years if application is made within that period. 44 L.W. 805=71 M. L.J. 808 Section is governed by S. 78 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act. 8 O.W. N. 1186=1932 O. 69. See also 54 I.C. 924. S. 48 covers compromise decrees. 39 B. 256 See also 14 P. 816=156 I.C. 297=16 Pat L.T. 506=1935 P. 380 The executing Court cannot extend the period prescribed by the section under S. 15, Limitation Act 45 M. 785=43 M.L.J. 168. See also 54 I.C. 279, 1931 L. 125=131 I.C. 345, 1931 O. 351; 9 O.W.N. 513=1932 O. 246. An agreement to desist from execution does not attract the provisions of S. 15 of the Limitation Act 52 M.L. 137. S. 6 of the Limitation Act does not extend period provided by S. 48 in favour of minors 27 I.C. 865=13 A.L.J. 166; 36 B. 498, 37 M. 186=24 M.L.J. 96; 1929 M. 394=30 L.W. 361 But see 32 Bom L.R. 1093 The period prescribed in S. 48 begins to run from the date of the appellate decree, even when it is held that no appeal lies. 43 A. 405; 34 C. 874 See contra 48 A. 377. See also 32 A. 136 (Second appeal). It is so even when a portion only of the original decree was appealed against. 21 M.L.J. 1020. See also 26 M. 91. But where an appeal is dismissed for default, the period runs from the date of the original decree. 47 I.C. 125=5 O.L.J. 252 Where a decree is amended, the date of the amendment is date of the decree. 60 I.C. 318. Pendency of appeal by judgment-debtor does not cause suspension of execution where there is no fraud or force. 32 I.C. 931=20 C.W.N. 686. Decree-holder cannot by binding himself not to execute a decree allow himself more time than the law gives him. 13 I.C. 88=15 C.L.J. 678. The time spent in obtaining the Conciliator's certificate under S. 48 of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act can be deducted. 42 B. 367. A mortgage decree-holder will have 12 years to perfect the preliminary decree into an order absolute under S. 89, T. P. Act and another

(a) the date of the decree sought to be executed, or

Nor can a fresh suit on the same cause of action be instituted. 41 M. 641=34 M.L.J. 167. See also 43 B. 703. As to whether an action can be maintained on a judgment, see 20 C.W.N. 58=20 C.L.J. 272. Mere passing of a preliminary decree in any foreclosure suit does not put an end to relationship of the mortgagor and mortgagee. If the mortgagor fails to redeem within six months and no final decree is passed, he can bring a fresh suit for redemption. 39 B. 41. Plea of twelve years' bar cannot be allowed for first time in appeal. 1929 M. 826=123 I.C. 23. As to whether this section applies to decrees of Presidency Small Cause Courts, see 26 S.L.R. 85 and 91.

WHEN AN APPLICATION MADE OUT OF TIME MAY BE TREATED AS CONTINUATION OF A PREVIOUS APPLICATION MADE WITHIN TIME—See 21 I.C. 923 (C.); 16 I.C. 541 (C.), 41 M.L.J. 378; 38 I.C. 411; 54 A. 419; 33 Bom. See also 1937 P. 43, 1937 N. 92. In order that an application may be treated as a continuation of another application within time, it is necessary that the two applications must be of same nature. 34 A. 396. See also 52 M.L.J. 137=1927 M. 347. It is also a necessary condition that the previous application should not have been dismissed for default on the part of the decree-holder. 72 I.C. 862. The execution of a decree is not barred merely because the application for restoration of an execution petition made within 12 years but struck off on account of insufficient process-fees, is made after 12 years. 33 A. 57. See also 3 Pat.L.J. 103=44 I.C. 560. If on an application for execution by issue of a precept, the Court issues, instead, prohibitory orders, which are illegal, all these orders must be ignored and it must be assumed that the application for execution is still pending in Court and no proper order has been passed thereon. The Court is, therefore, competent to pass a proper order by issue of a precept on the basis of the original application, even after the expiry of 12 years from the date of decree. 152 I.C. 685=1934 L. 610 (2). See also 161 I.C. 960=1936 L. 843 (Release of property from attachment on objection—Application for re-attachment after dismissal of objection is no fresh application for execution). See also 1937 N. 92; 166 I.C. 950=18 Pat. L. T. 90=1937 P. 43. Section applies only to fresh execution application and not to amendment of pending execution petitions. It does not matter that the application or order for amendment was made after the prescribed 12 years. Amendments which in substance create a new execution application should not be allowed. 1928 M. 1154. See also 59 M.L.J. 579, 134 I.C. 730=1931 B. 425 (2). Applications, which are only ancillary to the main application are not barred under this section. 1937 N. 92. The period of 12 years prescribed by S. 48, ought to be taken to run from the date of the original decree. The period so fixed is final and cannot be extended by any amendment of the decree, an amendment of the decree does not give a new date for starting a period of limitation. 151 I.C. 541=11 O.W.N. 1103=1934 O. 465. See also 1935 L. 292. An application to transfer a decree to another Court for execution is not an application to execute within this section. 20 A. 78, 16 C. 744, 22 C. 921; 35 B. 103, 34 A. 396; 95 I.C. 96 (2)=1926 A. 660. tion by frivolous, futile and dishonest objections on the part of the judgment-debtors amounts to fraud 44 A. 319; 1930 M.W.N. 729=128 I.C. 455 But see 53 A. 419. But objection which ultimately proves unsuccessful will not amount to fraud The fraud should be such as to prevent decree-holder from executing the decree. 13 I.C. 88=15 C.L.J. 678, 53 A. 419 The mere raising of objections so as to prolong execution proceedings beyond the period of limitation cannot, in all cases, be regarded as fraud for the purposes of S. 48. If the objections are patently frivolous, they can ordinarily and ought to be disposed of speedily by the Court if the decree-holders are diligent. An objection by a person to the attachment on the ground that the Executing Court had no jurisdiction to adjudicate on the question whether he was or was not a partner of the judgment-debtor firm cannot be regarded as dishonest. But where his objection that he was not a partner of the judgment-debtor firm is false and was adopted as a trick by which the decree-holders were forced by no fault of their own to delay execution proceedings until the period of 12 years had expired, his conduct in raising the plea is fraudulent and has the effect of enlarging the period of limitation 161 I.C. 960=1936 L. 843. "Fraud" is used in S. 48 (2) (a) in the ordinary juridical sense of the word; and what is contemplated is some action on the part of the judgment-debtor preventing the decree-holder from taking out execution proceedings and thus allowing time to run against him, or some action of the judgment-debtor which entices the decree-holder to hold his hand. Where the judgment-debtor only takes advantage of the procedure allowed by the law, he cannot be held to have prevented the decree-holder from executing his decree by "fraud", however obstructive he may be. To so hold would be stretching the language of the section beyond what is legitimate. 14 P. 816=156 I.C. 297=16 Pat. L.T. 506=1935 P. 380 An intentional avoiding by the judgment-debtor of arrest under a warrant by the decree-holder to avoid payment of decretal amount amounts to fraud 12 L.W. 710=60 I.C. 630; 47 M.L.J. 428; 6 M. 365. Court's refusal to allow execution to proceed against properties in Receiver's hands will not make S. 48 (2) applicable, when decree-holder failed to proceed within the 12 years against judgment-debtor's other available properties or against surety 1929 P. 597. Court sale—Auction-purchaser's right subsequently found against—Suit against decree-holder for recovering purchase-money—Payment by decree-holder and fresh application after 12 years of decree—Fraud alleged—Limitation ran from payment by decree-holder—Because of fraud S. 48 does not apply. 107 I.C. 653=1928 M. 152 The fraud proved against judgment-debtor can be availed of by decree-holder against legal representative of judgment-debtor, where decree is sought to be attached against assets of the deceased defendant in hands of legal representative 40 L.W. 694=67 M.L.J. 751. As to application to continue execution against legal representatives of judgment-debtor, see 31 Bom L.R. 858=1931 B. 425 (2).

RES JUDICATA.—The Court has jurisdiction to decide rightly or wrongly. Executing Court can determine whether application for execution is barred under S. 48. It may arrive at a wrong conclusion. The wrong decision is binding on parties unless it is corrected at their instance in appeal or revision. But so long as it stands it cannot be attacked collaterally in another proceeding, on the ground of want of jurisdiction in the executing Court. 61 C. 234=38 C.W.N. 348=151 I.C. 253=59 C.L.J. 35=1934 C. 282.

suit for damages. 42 M. 338=36 M.L.J. 376. Judgment-debtor can attach the money deposited by him in Court towards a decree against him, which is assigned to one against whom he has a decree. 19 N.L.R. 164=1924 N. 46. For purpose of S 49 the equities have to be enforced even though the assignee might in fact have been one without notice. Otherwise the very object of S 49 would be in effect frustrated and its provisions rendered nugatory. So a right of set-off available to a judgment-debtor against the assignor decree-holder is also available against the assignee of the decree, though the latter had no notice 145 I.C. 767=1933 M. 215. The principle embodied in S 49 is the same as that enacted in S. 132, T P. Act, the right of set-off being an equitable right. If judgment-debtor has right to set up a cross-decree under O 21, R 18 he has that right also against the transferee of the decree-holder. The right is not however available where there is no cross-decree on the date when the decree is assigned. 37 C.W.N. 758=1933 C 865. Code does not contemplate any specific application to bring on record the legal representative of the judgment-debtor though in ordinary practice such a prayer is usually added in an execution petition. Hence an application for execution against the legal representative is valid and saves limitation even though it does not contain an express prayer for adding him 143 I.C. 844=38 L.W. 224=1933 M. 568.

See also 14 P. 732. Where the judgment-debtor dies in the course of the execution proceedings, there is no necessity for having the names of his legal representatives substituted. If the decree-holder executes his decree, it would only be necessary for him to proceed against the legal representatives after due notice had been given to them. 158 I.C. 419=1935 O.W.N. 1087. If a judgment-debtor dies during execution, it is irregular for the Court which has not passed the decree to proceed with the execution against the representatives of the deceased judgment-debtor, without fresh orders from the Court which passed the decree; under S 50, the application for such execution is to be made to the Court which passed the decree 168 I.C. 346=1937 P. 239. Where a decree is transferred to another Court for execution subsequent to the death of judgment-debtor an application to bring his legal representatives on record must be made to Court which passed decree and not to Court to which decree is transferred for execution (18 Bom 224, Fol; 55 I.A. 227, Dist) 36 Bom L.R. 443=1934 B. 215. (2) Where the decree is executed against such legal representative, he shall be liable only to the extent of the property of the deceased which has come to his hands and has not been duly disposed of; and, for the purpose of ascertaining such liability, the Court executing the decree may, of its own motion or on the application of the decree-holder, compel such legal representative to produce such accounts as it thinks fit.

See also 71 M.L.J. 385 Where the decree-holder has any complaint against the legal representative for not properly administering the estate of deceased although he (decree holder) might have a remedy against him by filing a separate suit, he can deal with this point in execution of the decree itself. 1933

Sec. 51. EXECUTION SALE.—S. 51 lays down the mode in which a Court may execute a decree. It does not give the Court any discretion to choose one particular mode of execution as against another. The Court has therefore no jurisdiction to direct a decree-holder to proceed against the property of the judgment-debtor when he desires to proceed against the person. (i) is likely to abscond or leave the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Court, or

(ii) has, after the institution of the suit in which the decree was passed, dishonestly transferred, concealed, or removed any part of his property, or committed any other act of bad faith in relation to his property; or

Sec 51 (c)—Under S 51 (c), it is not open to the Court, in absence of special circumstances, to say that decree-holder must proceed against the properties of the defendant before applying for his arrest. But there may be circumstances which would not only justify refusal of a warrant of arrest, but would even demand such refusal. Where properties of judgment-debtor are under attachment at instance of the decree-holder or such properties are the subject-matter of a decree on a mortgage at the decree holder's instance, and the judgment-debtor is precluded from raising money on the properties by reason of the decree-holder's action, a refusal of arrest would be justified 38 C.W.N. 1085. W.N. 238=1930 C 502. The Court has no doubt jurisdiction to appoint a receiver of immovable properties in execution of a decree although such properties be situate outside the jurisdiction of the Court. But if the judgment-debtor objects to the appointment of a receiver in execution and if there is a reasonable chance of the decree-holder being able to satisfy his decree by attachment and sale, he should be relegated to that remedy. In a case, however, where the properties of the judgment-debtor prove to be saleable, the Court is entitled to appoint a receiver in execution of properties outside the jurisdiction notwithstanding the judgment-debtor's objection thereto. 40 C.W.N. 1065 Decree—Execution by receiver mortgagee as against decree-holder—Capacity of receiver need not be mentioned in final mortgage decree—Receiver not affected by attachment before judgment or by parties entering into consent decree 31 Bom L.R. 320=1929 B 279. The mere fact that the judgment debtor presses the applicant to accept a smaller amount than the sum decreed or applies to Manager, Sind Encumbered Estates, for his aid does not constitute a valid ground for appointing a receiver, more especially when there is no danger of waste or destruction of the property 1933 S. 231=150 I.C. 473 An appointment of receiver by way of execution cannot be obtained where the decree-holders can execute the decree in the ordinary manner. (Ibid.) A Court has no power to appoint a receiver in respect of property which is not the subject of any suit or of any execution application. (Ibid.)

Sec. 51 and O 40, R 1. APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVER—DISCRETION OF COURT.—No doubt S. 51, C. P. Code, prescribes the appointment of a receiver as one of the modes in which a decree can be executed but the appointment of a receiver in all cases is subject to the provisions of O 40, R 1 of the Code and no receiver can be appointed in any case unless it appears to the Court that it is just and convenient that a receiver should be appointed.

Explanation.—In the calculation of the means of the judgment-debtor for the purposes of clause (b), there shall be left out of account any property which, by or under any law or custom having the force of law for the time being in force, is exempt from attachment in execution of the decree.]

Sec. 52: SCOPE OF SECTION.—As a general rule a decree must be against a person and not merely against something which is not a person, for example, the estate of a deceased person, though it may operate upon such estate by force of a direction to a person, who has the estate in his hands, to discharge the judgment debt out of it. This is what S. 52 provides for. A decree which merely states that the money could be recovered from the assets of a deceased person, without adding in whose hands these assets were to be found, is defective and inexecutable; the proper course is to apply to the Court which passed it to amend it. 151 I.C. 617=1934 M. 562 (2) Where the debtor dies before the suit and a defendant is sued as representing the deceased person's estate, the defendant, in order to bind the estate and the rightful owner, must substantially represent the estate, and where he does not substantially represent the estate, the Court has no jurisdiction to sell the estate and the decree would not bind the real heir. But where a debtor himself is a party to a suit and dies either in the course of the suit or in the course of execution proceedings and the Court by a judicial decision brings a person on the record as the legal representative of the deceased debtor, the decision however wrong will bind the estate of the deceased person, and the rightful heir cannot subsequently come and dispute the correctness of the decision or the jurisdiction of the Court to sell the deceased debtor's estate. 150 I.C. 323=1934 A. 474 Section does not provide for reservation of property to satisfy debts. 30 I.C. 256=18 M.L.T. 147. A person holding a decree against assets of a deceased person can obtain satisfaction by attachment and sale of only such property as is shown to have formed part of the assets of the deceased. The onus is on the decree-holder. When there is a partition in the family and the properties in dispute are not dealt with at the partition, it is for the decree-holder to establish that the property attached formed part of the joint family property. There is no presumption that any particular property is joint family property. 148 I.C. 1113=1934 A. 249.

LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE—MEANING OF.—See 50 I.C. 951 (Executor de son tort is legal representative). See also 38 Bom.L.R. 977.

DECREE AGAINST PARTY AS LEGAL REPRESENTATIVE.—A legal representative can be sued without proving that assets have come into his hands, if there are assets of which he may become possessed. 8 B. 309. See also 13 B. 653; 33 A. 414=8 A.L.J. 199; 56 I.C. 962, 89 I.C. 235; 131 I.C. 862=1931 N. 173. If in a suit on a bond instituted after the death of the executant against his personal representatives, the Court is satisfied that at the time when the suit was brought the defendants had received no part of the assets of the deceased, the only course open to it is to dismiss the suit. 1936 A.W.R. 32. (2) Where no such property remains in the possession of the judgment-debtor and he fails to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied such property of the deceased as is proved to have come into his possession, the decree may be executed against the judgment-debtor to the extent of the property in respect of which he has failed so to satisfy the Court in the same manner as if the decree had been against him personally.

creditor of a deceased coparcener is entitled to a decree against a surviving brother of the deceased without giving any proof that he has got possession over any property belonging to the deceased and held by the deceased separately apart from the joint family estate. When he applies for the execution of his decree then the question will come up for consideration whether the deceased has left any such separate assets. If the decree-holder can prove that the surviving coparcener has got any such assets, then he would be entitled to execute his decree against the surviving coparceners. 157 I.C. 51=1935 A.L.J. 293=1935 A. 390 S. 52 shows that there may be a decree passed against legal representative of a deceased person without showing that the deceased left any property and legal representative got that property. 49 A. 645=1927 A. 459.

Per Ashworth—S. 52 provides for the due application of the assets, i.e., of 'plene administravi' being taken in execution proceedings. Therefore it must be inferred that it cannot be taken at an earlier stage. In English law the plea of 'plene administravi' can certainly be raised by a legal representative sued on a debt due from the deceased. (Ibid) The fact that the estate is not in the hands of the legal representative, but in the hands of third parties, is no bar to a decree against him. 22 C. 259 Plaintiff must prove assets had or ought to have come to the hands of the defendant. 3 M.H.C.R. 161. See also 4 C.W.N. 151, 89 I.C. 477=1925 N. 449. A personal decree may be passed against the legal representative if it is proved that he has received sufficient assets. 20 M. 446 As to effect of obtaining decree against a wrong person as legal representative, see 15 Bom.L.R. 41; 34 A. 79, 1928 M. 243 When a wrong person is sued as representative and property is sold, the proper representative can sue. 9 B. 86. Legal representative should account for mesne profits in the shape of rent or interest. 15 W.R. 285, 30 M.L.J. 391. Also liable for the assets realized by sale of the properties of the deceased. 12 W.R. 177. In case he fails to account for the assets come into his hands, he can be arrested in execution. 12 W.R. 117. Delay in bringing him on record does not absolve him from liability to account, though it may affect the quantum of proof. 129 I.C. 885=1930 L. 332 Absence of assets—Effect of. 1926 N. 170. Right of creditor to follow the assets in the hands of the legatee should be exercised by suit. It cannot be exercised by levying execution against the assets in the hands of the legatee under a judgment against the legal representative. 34 C.W.N. 761=58 C. 170.

Sec. 52 (2).—S. 52 (2) does not apply so long as there are sufficient assets to meet the decree—Meaning of the words "such property". 1930 L. 354. See also 41 L.W. 350=1935 M. 298 Jurisdiction of Registrar of Presidency Small Cause Court to pass order under S. 52 (2). The creditors of the ancestor have a general lien upon the assets of the ancestor's estate for the payment of their debts and can follow such assets in hands of the heirs but not in the hands of other persons. If the heir has disposed of ancestor's property to other persons, who took the property without notice of the creditors' claims, then the creditors' right to follow the property is lost. That right cannot be revived to them by the fact that the heir has been adjudicated insolvent, and that his transfer of the property inherited by him has been set aside under the provisions of the bankruptcy law so that it now becomes available for distribution among his creditors. (22 B. 1, Rel. on) 12 R. 603=152 I.C. 558=1934 R. 162. Once it is admitted or proved that the legal representative of a deceased person had come into possession of assets belonging to the estate of the deceased, it is for him to satisfy the Court as to the extent of the assets received by him and to account for them. In such cases the onus is, in the first instance, on the decree-holder to prove that some assets had come into the hands of legal representative and when this is done the onus is shifted on to the latter to show the extent of the assets received by him and also to satisfy the Court as to how they had been applied. 148 I.C. 980=1934 L. 106. An heir of the deceased is for the purpose of S. 52 a legal representative of the deceased, and the property which he obtains as a result of an administration suit comes into his possession as legal representative. Therefore it is his duty under S. 52 (2) to satisfy the Court that he has duly applied this property. But where such heir disposes of the property so obtained before the passing of a decree against the deceased, his personal property is not liable to attachment in execution of the decree under S. 52 (2). 148 I.C. 1092=1934 R. 93 Rents and profits of property of a deceased person must be deemed as his assets. 137 I.C. 632.

Sec. 53.—This section is new, and gives effect to the rulings under the old Code in 34 C. 642 and 20 B. 385. The law laid down in 31 C. 224; 27 M. 243 and 28 M. 26 are not now good law.

Liability of ancestral property

a son or other descendant which is liable under Hindu Law for the payment of the debt of a deceased ancestor, in respect of which a decree has been passed,

Notes.

SCOPE OF SECTION.—See 20 Bom.L.R. 660=46 I.C. 745. See also 24 A.L.J. 273=40 A. 245=1926 A. 220. S. 53 is only meant to cover the case of a son or other descendant who under the section is to be deemed the legal representative of his ancestor with respect to property which was liable under Hindu Law for the payment of the debt of the deceased ancestor, in respect of which a decree had been passed. It does not apply where a share of a brother of the father has come to the son and no decree has been passed against the father's brother. Hence such share cannot be attached in execution of decree obtained against father. 159 I.C. 233=1935 L. 650. S. 53 deals with the liability of ancestral property in the hands of a son or other descendant for the payment of the debts of a deceased ancestor in respect of which a decree has been passed. Where the ancestor against whom a decree is passed is still alive, there is no question of enforcement of the decree against his legal representatives or against ancestral property in the hands of such legal representatives, and the entire family property is, therefore, not liable to attachment and sale under the section 158 I.C. 490=1935 O.W.N. 1113. S. 53 was not intended in any way to alter the liability of the property under the Hindu Law; the object of the section was to make it clear that the same remedy which might have been available by a separate suit is equally applicable in the execution department and that although strictly speaking it cannot be said that the joint family property in the hands of a son of a deceased Hindu owner is property which has come into his hands as the legal representative of the deceased, it must be deemed to have so come into his hands within the meaning of Ss 51 and 52 of the Code. The word "property" used in S. 53 does not mean any tangible property which is necessarily capable of being seized or possessed physically but must include proprietary interest in such property. Nor does the expression "in the hands of a son" necessarily mean property which is exclusively in the hands of a son without any partner or coparcener. 150 I.C. 411=1934 A.L.J. 483=1934 A. 590 (F.B.) See also 157 I.C. 945=1935 O.W.N. 1005=1935 O. 510; 41 L.W. 61=68 M.L.J. 104. S. 53 provides that a question as to what property would be liable in execution, is to be determined in execution proceedings and not by a separate suit. 16 I.C. 970=16 C.L.J. 85. On this section, see also 23 A.L.J. 467, 28 Bom.L.R. 1322, 41 L.W. 61=68 M.L.J. 104, 14 P. 732=16 Pat.L.T. 393=1935 P. 275 (F.B.). S. 53 was enacted to settle a question, on which there was a conflict of judicial decisions, namely, whether coparcenary property surviving to Hindu sons after the father's death can be proceeded against in execution of a decree against the father. Section makes it clear that such property can be followed by the decree-holder in execution of his decree without obtaining a decree that the property is liable for the debts of the deceased. The section is not intended to allow the representative of a judgment-debtor in a mortgage decree to resist proceedings in the executing Court on the plea that the decree itself ought not to have been passed 1934 L. 438=15 L. 772. To make this section operative there should be a decree against the son as the legal representative of the deceased. 103 I.C. 338=1927 A. 683. But see 1930 N. 134. A son is liable for the decree debts of his father to the extent of the ancestral properties unless the debt was for an illegal or immoral purpose. A Hindu son can, under S. 47, have the question whether the debt had been contracted for immoral purposes, tried. 33 C. 676. See also 20 M. 385, 3 Pat.L.T. 43=1923 P. 142. Sec 54 SCOP OF SECTION.—In case the Collector contravenes the direction in the decree or acts ultra vires, his action is subject to the control and correction of the Court 19 B 435, 28 B 238. The primary object of the section is to prevent the annulment of joint responsibility for the payment of land revenue. See 16 C. at p 205 and 24 C. at p 734 (F.B.). Section only applies to case of estates assessed to revenue in lump and not to those assessed at acre rates 95 I C. 39 (1)=1926 R 80. Nor to partition of a particular moana in undivided estate 1931 C 104=34 C.W.N. 895. Section does not apply to a suit for partition of a revenue paying estate when no separate allotment of revenue is asked for. [24 C 725 (F.B.), Foll.] 13 P 637=150 I.C 608=1934 P. 365. See also 146 I C 201=1933 Pesh 101. Where a Civil Court has passed a decree for partition of a revenue paying estate, a subsequent partition obtained from the Collector does not supersede the Civil Court decrees 13 P. 637=150 I.C. 608=1934 P 365. Section applies only to a case where decree comprehends the partition of the whole of the estate paying revenue to Government. It does not apply where decree is for separate possession of a share of a portion of an undivided estate 64 M L J 63=56 M 443. Per Venkatasubba Rao, J—What S. 54 refers to is the partition of the estate assessed to the payment of revenue and not the partition of the estate as well as the revenue. 56 M 443=141 I.C. 181=1933

POWERS OF THE COLLECTOR.—A Collector cannot refuse to carry out a partition 14 B 450. A Civil Court cannot appoint a Commissioner to make a partition under this section. 23 C. 679. Collector's duty is not confined to mere division of the lands but includes the delivery of the shares to the respective allottees. 11 B. 662. Also 103 I. POWERS OF CIVIL COURT.—A Civil Court has no power to interfere with the Collector's proceedings under S. 54 42 B. 689=20 Bom L.R. 411. A Civil Court is not competent to make a division of revenue-paying land even with the consent of the parties. 30 I C. 209.

ESTATE.—A ryotwari holding is not an estate. 7 M. 382 (F.B.). But see 16 B. 528. The word 'estate' is used in its ordinary sense 10 C 400. Section only applies to cases where revenue is assessed in lump and not at acre rates. 5 R. 206.

Provided, secondly, that no outer door of a dwelling-house shall be broken open unless such dwelling-house is in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor and he refuses or in any way prevents access thereto, but when the officer authorized to make the arrest has duly gained access to any dwelling-house, he may break open the door of any room in which he has reason to believe the judgment-debtor is to be found

Provided, thirdly, that, if the room is in the actual occupancy of a woman who is not the judgment-debtor and who according to the customs of the country does not appear in public, the officer authorized to make the arrest shall give notice to her that she is at liberty to withdraw, and, after allowing a reasonable time for her to withdraw, and giving her reasonable facility for withdrawing, may enter the room for the purpose of making the arrest:

Provided, fourthly, that, where the decree in execution of which a judgment-debtor is arrested, is a decree for the payment of money and the judgment debtor pays the amount of the decree and the costs of the arrest to the officer arresting him, such officer shall at once release him.

(2) The ¹[Provincial] Government may, by notification in the ²[Official Gazette], declare that any person or class of persons whose arrest might be attended with danger or inconvenience to the public shall not be liable to arrest in execution of a decree otherwise than in accordance with such procedure as may be prescribed by the ³[Provincial] Government in this behalf.

(3) Where a judgment-debtor is arrested in execution of a decree for the payment of money and brought before the Court, the Court shall inform him that he may apply to be declared an insolvent, and that he [may]³ be discharged if he has not committed any act of bad faith regarding the subject of the application and if he complies with the provisions of the law of insolvency for the time being in force.

ENTRY INTO PLAINTIFF'S HOUSE TO ARREST HIS BROTHER—TRESPASS—DAMAGES.—Defendant had a decree against plaintiff's brother and the latter though residing outside usually came and lived with his brother. In execution of the decree, defendant entered the basthak of plaintiff's house with the bailiff and naisb sheriff believing that the judgment-debtor was there as usual, with the object of effecting his arrest. The judgment debtor was not there and on the plaintiff's remonstrating, the defendant apologised. Subsequently the plaintiff sued for damages. Held, that the bailiff and naisb sheriff acted lawfully in entering the house bona fide for arresting the judgment debtor, that the defendant accompanied them to point out the person to be arrested, that no trespass was committed and that plaintiff was not entitled to any damages. 146 I.C. 543=1933 L. 723.

The surety would naturally consider himself absolved from his liability on the dismissal of the application in the proceedings relating to which his bond was taken. The judgment-debtor once having been committed to prison, the Court cannot concurrently proceed against the surety. 144 I.C. 239=29 N.L.R. 83=1933 N. 38 In enforcing a bond executed by a surety under S. 55 (4), the Court has no power to reduce the amount for which the bond is executed. The security in such a case is not forfeited by way of penalty. It is part of the fruits of the decree obtained by the decree-holder, and the Court is not entitled to deprive the decree-holder of the fruits of his decree. 30 S.L.R. 177=1936 S. 244 Liability of surety—Previous execution proceedings against judgment-debtor consigned to record—Effect of. Prohibition of arrest or detention of judgment-debtor in execution of decree for money

56. [S. 245-A]. Notwithstanding anything in this part, the Court shall not order the arrest or detention in the civil prison of a woman in execution of a decree for the payment of money.

APPEAL—REVISION—An order passed on an application by the surety for cancellation of the surety bond is not a decree within the meaning of the Code, and is not appealable by the decree-holder. His remedy is only by way of revision. (1928 A. 527 and 43 M. 325, R.) 144 I.C. 731=1933 A. 382

Sec 56—A money decree does not necessarily carry with it a right to execute it by arrest of the judgment debtor, e.g., minor or a female, or a legal representative 18 N.L.R. 145=1922 N. 98.

Sec. 58—Section does not apply to the case of a person imprisoned for contempt 4 C. 655. The Court has no power to fix shorter terms of detention than those prescribed 13 M. 141. Imprisonment on arrest before judgment becomes, after decree, imprisonment in execution of a decree, and the imprisonment suffered must be taken into consideration in calculating the period provided by this section 7 B. 431. In execution of a decree payable by instalments the debtor cannot be detained separately for default in the payment of each instalment. 7 B. 106 The language of sub-S (2) indicates that immunity from re-arrest arises only when there has been release after "detention in the civil prison". See 8 M. 21.

See also 23 C. 128. When a warrant of committal to jail has been made out the discharge of the debtor whilst in confinement in the Court-house for non-payment of subsistence allowance must be regarded as discharge from jail 9 B. 151. But see 8 M. 21; 1929 L. 361=118 I.C. 531. Code contemplates as immaterial the circumstances under which the debtor obtains his release. 20 C. 878. See also 12 C. 652. Code does not forbid re-taking of a person who has been released under S. 13 of the Indian Insolvency Act. 26 B. 652 at 659. A debtor who has been discharged for non-payment of subsistence money cannot be re-arrested. 4 M.H.C.R. 76 Cost of clothing, etc., required under S. 33, Prisons Act, is not subsistence allowance under S. 58. 17 I.C. 911. When a debtor who has been committed to a particular jail is detained in another jail, he is entitled to his release 11 C. 527. While calculating the period of imprisonment under a new warrant, the time of imprisonment suffered by him under the former warrant should be deducted. 17 I.C. 911. A payment is not made to the officer until the officer actually receives the money. 22 I.C. 25.

JOINT DECREE—The only effect of a release under S. 58, is to protect from re-arrest the judgment-debtor who has been released from prison. The incarceration of one judgment-debtor out of eight judgment-debtors in execution of a joint decree for arrears of rent and his release before the expiry of 6 months cannot discharge his debt, nor can it clear the liabilities of the other seven. Crops raised by all the judgment-debtors are consequently attachable in execution of the decree notwithstanding the imprisonment and release of one of the judgment debtors 1937 R.D. 13.

'DETENTION'—MEANING OF—IF INCLUDES DETENTION IN COURT-HOUSE.—Words 'such detention' in proviso (1) and 'detention' under this section' in proviso (2), S. 58, refer to and mean 'detention in civil prison'. Civil prison means civil jail and not Court-house. Detention therefore in the Court-house cannot be said to be detention in a civil prison. A judgment-debtor was committed to the civil prison in execution of a decree but was released during the pendency of the appeal by him against the decree. Decree-holder withdrew the balance of the subsistence allowance deposited by him on release of the judgment-debtor. On dismissal of his appeal he was detained by the appellate Court for the whole day but was released as

(a) where the decree is for the payment of a sum of money exceeding fifty rupees, for a period of six months, and

(b) in any other case, for a period of six weeks:

Provided that he shall be released from such detention before the expiration of the said period of six months or six weeks, as the case may be—

(i) on the amount mentioned in the warrant for his detention being paid to the officer in charge of the civil prison, or

(ii) on the decree against him being otherwise fully satisfied, or

(iii) on the request of the person on whose application he has been so detained, or

(iv) on the omission by the person, on whose application he has been so detained, to pay subsistence allowance:

[S. 341.] Provided also, that he shall not be released from such detention under clause (ii) or clause (iii), without the order of the Court.

(2) A judgment-debtor released from detention under this section shall not merely by reason of his release be discharged from his debt, but he shall not be liable to be re-arrested under the decree in execution of which he was detained in the civil prison.

59. [S. 653.] (1) At any time after a warrant for the arrest of a judgment-debtor has been issued the Court may cancel it on the ground of his serious illness.

(2) Where a judgment-debtor has been arrested, the Court may release him if, in its opinion, he is not in a fit state of health to be detained in the civil prison.

(3) Where a judgment-debtor has been committed to the civil prison, he may be released therefrom—

(a) by the [Provincial]¹ Government, on the ground of the existence of any infectious or contagious disease, or

(b) by the Committing Court, or any Court to which that Court is subordinate on the ground of his suffering from any serious illness.

(4) A judgment-debtor released under this section may be re-arrested, but the period of his detention in the civil prison shall not in the aggregate exceed that prescribed by section 58.

no subsistence allowance was deposited by the decree-holder. He was ordered to appear before the lower Court on a fixed date and on appearance it was contended by the judgment-debtor that he could not be re-arrested in view of proviso (2), S 58. Held, that as at the time of the decree-holder's omission to pay the subsistence allowance the judgment-debtor was not detained in the civil prison but in the Court-house, S 58 did not apply. The judgment-debtor was not therefore exempt from being committed to the civil prison to undergo the remaining term of imprisonment. 1937 L 253

Sec. 59.—The provisions of S. 59 are self-contained and are not controlled by the provisions of S. 55 (3) and (4) and are based on purely humanitarian grounds. If a judgment-debtor is suffering from serious illness the Courts of justice would be well advised in ordering his release so as to escape the moral responsibility if anything happens to him in the event of his being sent to jail. 152 I.C. 427=36 P.L.R. 72=1934 L. 807 (2) The adoption of either or both courses specified in Cls (1) and (2) of S. 59 lies entirely within the discretion of the Court. Asthma and indigestion do not constitute serious illness. And where a Court refused to cancel the warrant of arrest, the appellate Court will not interfere unless the discretion is wrongly exercised. 145 I.C. 709=34 P.L.R. 856=1933 L. 307

Sec 60 CONSTRUCTION OF SECTION.—The provisions of S. 60, which restrict the right of the decree holder to realise the decretal amount from the property of the debtor should be strictly construed. 39 I.C. 375

SCOPE OF SECTION.—Exemption under S. 60 can only be claimed by the judgment-debtor. If for some reason or the other, the judgment-debtor chooses to waive that privilege, his son cannot complain of his action. 145 I.

Property liable to attachment and sale in execution of decree in execution of a decree, namely, lands, houses, or other buildings, goods, money, bank-notes, cheques, bills of exchange, hundries, promissory notes, Government securities, bonds or other securities for money, debts, shares in a corporation and save as hereinafter mentioned, all other saleable property, movable or immovable, belonging to the judgment-

C. 169=1933 L. 251; 102 I.C. 616=1927 P. 233; 52 A. 1027 S. 60 is a prohibition against forcible attachment or sale. There is nothing in this enactment to prevent an agriculturist voluntarily selling or otherwise alienating his house. Where an agriculturist voluntarily agrees to mortgage his house, S. 60 does not apply. 1935 L. 164. See also 1935 L. 942. Section does not apply to sales where there is no attachment, as in mortgage decrees. 23 A.L.J. 841 =89 I.C. 364. See also 47 A. 900, 1929 R. 275 (1). A decree holder can attach all the properties of the judgment-debtor as S. 60 does not limit the extent of properties to be attached. He can also attach property for mesne profits even before they are assessed 16 I.C. 708. The articles given in section as liable to attachment are given only by way of illustration. Per Mukerji, J., in 26 A.L.J. 253=108 I.C. 229=1928 A. 193. Damages resulting from wrong attachment may be recovered from the decree holder though he acts in good faith. 8 N.L.J. 170=1925 N. 390. Objection under this section not taken by party—Court must give effect if it otherwise becomes cognizance of the exemption 1930 A. 727. But see 1930 L. 106. It is a matter of doubt whether a Court has power to grant any form of equitable execution over property which is not liable to attachment under S. 60. 1935 S. 21=154 I. C. 580.

EXEMPTION FROM ATTACHMENT—MODE OF RAISING PLEA.—Where a judgment-debtor is aware of the proclamation of sale and his property has been attached but does not make any objection prior to the sale, he cannot, after the sale, be allowed to raise an objection under S. 60 that the property proclaimed to be sold is not liable to attachment and sale under that section. An objection or application by a judgment-debtor that his property is not liable to attachment and sale under S. 60 is an objection under S. 47 and is governed by Art. 166, Limitation Act. 30 N. L.R. 135=148 I.C. 200=1934 N. 82. See also 58 B. 564=36 Bom L.R. 681=1934 B. 348. A mere right to give a lease is not property which can be transferred. So it is not attachable under S. 60. 161 I.C. 628=1936 Pesh 90.

"DEBT."—It is not necessary that the exact amount due should be ascertained prior to attachment 16 A. 286. See also 16 I.C. 708. So also the interest of an heir in the hands of the administrator holding as trustee though such interest is not determined and allowed to him 117 I.C. 76=1929 L. 600, 33 C.W.N. 282=1929 C. 352. (Accrued debt can be attached—Not one where the debt and its payment rest in the future 1925 C. 561=78 I.C. 881.) The word 'debts' in S. 60, includes share of debts. A debt due to the judgment-debtor and other persons jointly can, therefore, be attached and sold in execution. 41 C.W.N. 410=1937 C. 199. Purchase-money due to a judgment-debtor on certain contingencies is no 'debt'. 133 I.C. 248=33 Bom L. R. 396=1931 B. 288. On this point, see 86 I. C. 626=5 Pat L.T. 504. See also 11 R. 116=142 I.C. 360=1933 R. 23 (F. B.). Insolvent furnishing security for costs of Privy Council appeal—Same can be attached subject to result of appeal 8 P. 478, 1930 A. 225 (F.B.). Money payable under a life insurance can be attached for the debts of the heirs of the deceased. 1928 C. 518. Unpaid balance of mortgage-money payable to third person is "debt" due to mortgagor 17 L. 270, 1935 L. 141. Money left by a judgment-debtor with a vendee to whom he had sold some immovable property for payment to his creditors but which was not so paid within a reasonable time, can be looked upon as a debt due to the judgment-debtor and attached and sold in execution of a decree against him, even though no time-limit had been fixed for its payment to the creditors 39 P.L.R. 201. Arrears of maintenance payable under an order of a Criminal Court under S. 488 of the Cr. P. Code, are neither a "debt" nor "saleable property" within the meaning of S. 60, and are not therefore liable to attachment. 62 C. 404=39 C.W.N. 281=1935 C. 578.

SALEABLE PROPERTY.—What is 28 M. 84, 15 M.L.J. 7, 6 C.W.N. 796, 7 B.L.R. 186 (P.C.) and 30 M. 378. Decision of trial Court as to whether property is saleable or not, cannot be questioned in execution 23 A.L.J. 841. Notes.

The term does not include the instruments of a professional man, like a surgeon or a doctor. 144 I.C. 848=34 P.L.R. 809=1933 L. 936 (1). An artisan is not merely a person who is engaged in mechanical employment but a person who works in the production of some commodity and whatever he uses for the production of the commodity may be considered as his tools. Hence the utensils used by a sweet-meat vendor for preparation of sweet-meats are tools even though he is employed by another to make them 158 I.C. 623=1935 A.L.J. 1011=1935 A. 848

Sec 60 (c) : SCOPE OF SUB-CL (c) —The term 'agriculturist' does not include persons who are agriculturists by virtue of a Government Notification. 106 I.C. 45. For the purpose of exemption from attachment under Provision (c), S. 60 (1), the occupation by an agriculturist of a house belonging to him must be in good faith for the purpose of agriculture 11 R. 372=145 I.C. 326=1933 R. 227 (F.B.). See also 147 I.C. 676=35 P.L.R. 185. An 'agriculturist' includes a person who gains a substantial portion of his livelihood, not necessarily the whole of it, by agriculture. In order to enable the judgment-debtor to claim the benefit of the exemption in S. 60 (1) (c), he must prove the circumstances qualifying for exemption and his bona fides. It is not necessary for him to demonstrate that each square foot of the premises is required for his agriculture. He has to show that the property is occupied by him for purposes of agriculture, i.e., to enable the owner or occupier to cultivate the land. 17 N.L.J. 271 See also 1937 L. 200. A person relied for his livelihood upon trade and contractor's work. He had no agricultural land except a pleasure garden appurtenant to his house nor was this garden used as a source of livelihood. Held, that neither the house nor the garden was exempt from attachment under S. 60. 163 I.C. 621=1936 P. 151. The term "agriculturist" in S. 60 (1) (c) refers to an occupation and a man is an agriculturist who engages in the cultivation of land, that is, who ploughs land, sows the crop and attends to it. The cultivation of land by hired labourers by a person who has a different occupation cannot constitute that person an agriculturist 153 I.C. 511=1935 A.L.J. 306=1935 A. 292. S. 60 (c) is intended to protect agriculturists who are the owners of the houses and in occupation thereof as such owners. If an agriculturist mortgages his house with possession and is occupying a portion of it on rent from the usufructuary mortgagee, his occupation is merely as a tenant and not as owner and such occupation is not protected by this clause 156 I.C. 759=1935 O.W.N. 793. The test applicable in deciding whether a person is an "agriculturist" within S. 60 (c), is whether his main source of income is derived from cultivation or not. The term "agriculturist" is used in the sense of a person who is an agriculturist by profession, that is, a person whose main source of livelihood is cultivation. 157 I.C. 986=1935 A.L.J. 507=1935 A. 448. While there is no justification in the wording of S. 60, for holding that for the purpose of that section the term 'agriculturist' excludes a large land owner or a person who does not depend solely or mainly on cultivation for his livelihood, there is no doubt that a person who does not himself till land and earn his living thereby wholly or partly is not an agriculturist within the meaning of the section 164 I.C. 690=38 P.L.R. 333=1936 L. 737. A man who has been cultivating for many years and who has his cattle tethered beneath his house and a granary at the back of it has all the insignia of a cultivator. Where he occupies the house sought to be attached, and uses it directly for agricultural purposes in housing his cattle, his implements and his seed, paddy and his labourers, he must be regarded as occupying the house as an agriculturist, and is entitled to exemption from attachment. The mere fact that the judgment-debtor owns 150 acres of land makes no difference when there is evidence to the effect that he cultivates only 25 acres, while the rest of the land is cultivated by his son who devotes all the profits to paying off his father's debts; that does not render the judgment-debtor a zamindar or a rent receiving landlord. 162 I.C. 694=1936 R. 215. The judgment-debtor can waive the privilege provided by the section. The judgment-debtor will be estopped from pleading protection under the section, if he mortgages the house 6 P. 254=102 I.C. 616=1927 P. 233. See also 52 A. 1027=133 I.C. 478=1931 A. 112, 1933 L. 251. S. 60 is only intended for the benefit of the indigent agriculturists and not when the judgment-debtor suffers no material inconvenience. 25 I.C. 117=1 L.W. 519. In the case of an agriculturist insolvent, according to the provisions of S. 60, the house of an agriculturist does not vest in the Official Receiver and therefore he cannot sell it. This is so even with respect to a house wherein the agriculturist insolvent is residing not as an owner but as a lessee, for the word used in S. 60 is "occupied" which seems to be a physical fact and not "possessed". 1933 L. 1010. The words "occupied by" in S. 60 (1) (c), C. P. Code, mean "lived in by" or "used for agricultural purposes by". Therefore, if the agriculturist proves either of those conditions, his case can come within Cl. (c) of sub-S. (1) of S. 60 (65 P.R. 1909, Approved.) 149 I.C. 428=35 P.L.R. 509=1934 L. 680 Where a house has not been occupied by a person as an agriculturist and it is not denied that he has other residential premises, it is not exempt from attachment. 35 P.L.R. 520=1934 L. 614 (2) An objection under S. 60 (c), on the ground that the house of the judgment-debtor could not be attached and sold in execution, as he was an agriculturist, is one which ought to be taken before the sale, and could not be raised after the sale as a ground for setting it aside. S. 60 (c) further relates to a house in the actual occupation of an agriculturist. 58 B. 564=36 Bom L.R. 681=1934 B. 348

WHO IS AGRICULTURIST.—A judgment-debtor is not an agriculturist under S. 60 (1) (c) of the Code, where his only source of living is not by cultivation. 63 I.C. 681, 35 I.C. 343=20 C.W.N. 834. But see also 105 I.C. 129 The clause refers only to a house occupied by an agriculturist, and does not refer to his town residence. 7 Bom L.R. 685; 45 I.C. 546. But see 1926 L. 230. Where a house has been used by the judgment-debtor for tethering his agricultural cattle, the mere fact that he has an other residential house and two open sites where he might build a shed and tether his cattle is no justification for not exempting the house, when it has been used bona fide for purposes of agriculture. 1930 L. 1034; 5 P.R. 1897 and 11 R. 372 (F.B.), Rel., 1935 L. 894. A house in town occupied by a bani, who has ceased to do any shop keeping business, but who owns and cultivates two parcels of land, one about eight miles away and the other about two miles away from his house, the bullocks used for cultivation being tied up in the house of labourers in the neighbourhood of the lands and not in the house occupied by him, cannot be held to be the house of an agriculturist, so as to be exempt from attachment under S. 60 (1) (c). 158 I.C. 59 (1)=1935 P. 496 A decree for money was executed against the deceased debtor during his lifetime and his non-ancestral house was attached. The judgment-debtor was not an agriculturist. Subsequently his legal representative inherited it and occupied it as an agriculturist and claimed exemption from attachment. Held, that in deciding the question whether the house is or is not exempt from sale under S. 60, it was not the profession of the legal representative but that of the deceased debtor against whom the decree was and against whom it was being executed, that should be taken into consideration. 1936 L. 895. As S. 60 forbids the sale of materials of a dwelling-house occupied by an agriculturist, a decree for the sale of such a house is bad even though it be a mortgage decree. 33 A. 136, 34 A. 25; 41 B. 475; 39 I.C. 639=19 Bom L.R. 281. In the case of attachment of the cattle of an agriculturist, the Court has to see whether the cattle are necessary to enable an agriculturist to earn his livelihood. 56 I.C. 69, 61 I.C. 777 The right (for improvements) of a mulgani tenant in South Kanara to compensation cannot be attached nor sold in execution. 48 I.C. 705=36 M.L.J. 92

OBJECTION UNDER SECTION DELATED—IF CAN BE ENTERTAINED—Objections under S.60, even if belated could be entertained, and where, therefore, objections under S. 60 (1) (c) were raised two days prior to the sale, the Court ought not to dismiss them on that ground 38 P.L.R. 669

Sec 60 (e) —A right to sue for mesne profits cannot be attached. 9 C 605. Also the right to appeal 3 W.R. Mis. 16. The right to claw compensation being a mere right to sue cannot be attached in execution 31 N.L.R. 235 = 1935 N 135. The right of a co-sharer to village profits does not accrue till the end of the agricultural year. The rights are not ascertainable until the year has ended and consequently any attachment of the share of a co-sharer in village profits before the first day of the agricultural year next following that to which the village profits refer, is an attachment of a mere right to sue and of no effect. 1936 N. 218

Right of a Gangaputra to receive offerings cannot be attached but his right to occupy specific portions of the river can 1929 O. 444; 4 A 81. An inam of land granted to do swathiwachakam service is always burdened with service and is not liable to attachment and sale in execution. 42 M.L.J. 477 = 45 M. 620. The rights of personal service within the meaning of proviso (f) to S. 60, cannot be either heritable or partible or transferable 160 I. C. 355 = 17 Pat.L.T. 77 = 1936 P. 10. The birth of a Mahabrahman is a right to personal service and cannot be sold in execution of a money decree. 41 A. 656. Offerings made at the temple by the worshippers being the personal property of the priest are not liable to be attached. 42 I.C. 390. A future perquisite on account of offering or bhog to the deity will be an uncertain and indefinite income which cannot be attached. 55 I.C. 175 = 1

As to whether and when a religious office can be sold, see 6 M 76 and 6 B. 296.

Sec. 60 (g) —The bar to the attachment of gratuities is not limited to such gratuities as are allowed to "pensioners", but applies to a gratuity granted in consideration of past services 6 A 173. A political pension is not transferable 50 M 711 = 52 M.L.J. 622. The Code makes all political pensions exempt in whatever form they are granted by the Government, that is to say, an allowance granted by the Government in the form of remission of land revenue or assignment of land revenue would be a pension, and if the grounds for grant of pension are political it would be exempt from attachment 38 P.L.R. 531. No distinction can be drawn between the right of a jagirdar, who has been granted the income as jagir of certain water mills, to recover a certain sum per year as revenue, jagir or royalty and his right to recover rent from the lessee to whom he has granted lease of the water mills. The only right he has in the water mills is the right to recover rent from the occupants of the water mills and the rent is really the royalty for the use of water. The occupation of the water mills is merely a subsidiary right to the principal right and the principal right is conferred upon him as a jagir by the Government. Consequently his income from the lease cannot be attached 1937 L. 211. A gratuity granted to the heirs of a deceased employee by a Railway administration is not assets of the employee in the hands of his heirs and cannot be attached in execution of a decree against him 69 I.C. 893. The word 'pension' means the same thing as in S. 11, Pensions Act 4 B 432, 31 A. 382, Foll., 24 I C 805, and implies periodical payments of money by Government to the pensioner 58 I.A. 215 = 1931 P.C. 160 = 61 M.L.J. 208 (P.C.). The word 'pension' as used in S. 60 (1) (g), is wide enough to cover all sorts of periodical payments in whatever shape they are made by the Government. A jagir that is realised in the shape of an assignment of land revenue is a pension within that clause, and is, therefore, exempt from attachment in execution of a decree. 39 P.L.R. 80 = 1937 L. 178. A Malikhana allowance is in the nature

1[(h) the wages of labourers and domestic servants, whether payable in money or in kind; and salary, to the extent of the first hundred rupees and one-half the remainder of such salary;

(i) the salary of any public officer or of any servant of a railway company or local authority to the extent of the first hundred rupees and one-half the remainder of such salary:

Provided that, where the whole or any part of the portion of such salary liable to attachment has been under attachment, whether continuously or intermittently for a total period of twenty-four months, such portion shall be exempt from attachment until the expiry of a further period of twelve months and, where such attachment has been made in execution of one and the same decree, shall be finally exempt from attachment in execution of that decree;]

(j) the pay and allowances of persons; to whom the 2[Indian Army Act, 1911, or the Burma Army Act] apply 3[or of persons other than commissioned officers to whom the Naval Discipline Act as modified by the Indian Navy (Discipline) Act, 1934 applies];

Also an annuity granted by a will 10 C.W. N. 1102 See 15 M.L.J. 7. Although a Jahagir for maintenance is inalienable and therefore unattachable in execution of the decree, a receiver can be appointed to manage the Jahagir for the benefit of the decree-holders subject to a suitable allowance for the maintenance being made in favour of the judgment-debtor The executing Court need not fix the suitable allowance when making the order of the appointment of a receiver. It will have to be fixed on the amount of profits which come into the hands of the receiver and not upon any estimated income of the property. 150 I.C. 635=1933 N. 266 Where a widow sued in forma pauperis to recover from her co widow possession of certain property and the suit ended in a compromise by which the defendant agreed to pay to the plaintiff a certain monthly allowance by way of maintenance and the same was charged on the house and the Government sued to recover the Court-fees by attachment of the house out of which the maintenance was recoverable, held, that the Court had no power to order equitable execution against the property, because that would be frustrating the order for maintenance which was exempt from attachment under S. 60. 57 B. 507=146 I.C. 340=35 Bom.L.R. 615=1933 B. 350

Sec. 62 (3)—When a warrant was being executed at the instance of the applicant (judgment-creditor) the judgment-debtor was not in the house; but his pardanashin lady was. The applicant was warned that she would resent intrusion. In spite of it the applicant pushed open the door and the lady who was behind the door fell down and received injuries. Held, that the applicant being merely a person executing a decree accompanying the person executing process and not being himself, the person executing process, was not entitled to push open the door, it was for the bailiff to take such action as was necessary under S. 62 and so the applicant was guilty of an offence under S. 352 of the Penal Code. 145 I.C. 259

Per Mehta, A.I.C.—Even if the applicant thought he was justified in considering himself as a person executing the warrant, S. 79 of the Penal Code could not avail him since he did not give the notice to the lady required by Cl. (2) that the rooms should be in the occupancy of the judgment-debtor. The Code apparently contemplates that it is sufficient that the decree-holder or the person making the attachment should consider that there may be property of the judgment-debtor in those rooms. 154 I.C. 631=1935 A.L.J. 367=1935 A. 490

Sec. 63 [N.B. —See also Notes under S. 73, infra]—OBJECT OF SECTION is to prevent confusion in execution proceedings. 18 B. 458

SCOPE OF SECTION.—This section refers to attachments and has no relationship with the sections relating to sale and delivery of the property. 3 A. 353 (359). On this section, see also 22 A. 182; 18 B. 458; 25 C. 46; 21 C. 200, 6 M. 357, 16 B. 683; 49 B. 655, 27 Bom. L.R. 363

SECTION EXPLAINED.—S. 63 contemplates a case where attachments of the same property have been made by different Courts at the instance of different decree-holders of the common judgment-debtor, and provides for the distribution among them of the proceeds of the attached property by one of such Courts only. The distribution is to be made by the superior Court but if all the Courts are of the same grade, the distribution is to be made by the Court which first attached the property. In such a case a sale by an inferior Court of the property under attachment by a superior Court or by the Court of the same grade, which attached later in point of time, sale under later attachment pending an earlier attachment is valid; but it is the duty of the Court which sells the property to send the sale proceeds to the Court of superior grade or the Court which attached the property first, as the case may be. When the assets are not so sent by the Court selling the property, the procedure according to the view of the Calcutta High Court is to move the District Judge for asking the Court holding the sale to send the sale-proceeds to the proper Court for distribution. 40 C.W.N. 1307=1936 C. 723.

APPLICATION OF SECTION.—Section applies only as between Civil Courts. 43 A. 612. There must be subsisting attachments of property in execution of decrees of more Courts than one at the same time under execution. 6 A. 255 (258). Where property is under attachment by two Courts of different grades and is sold by the Court of lower grade the sale is not invalid. 38 C.L.J. 266, 32 I.C. 41; 32 I.C. 927; 1924 M. 889. See also 153 I.C. 853=11 O.W.N. 1618=1935 O. 154; 1935 M.W.N. 1300=69 M.L.J. 908; 42 L.W. 783=1935 M.W.N. 1046=1935 M. 938; 33 M.L.J. 217; 46 C. 64. The fact that the several decrees under execution by different Courts are passed by the same Court does not make S. 63 inapplicable. S. 63 would still apply to the case; the words "of more Courts than one" in the section must be read as qualifying the word "attachment" and not the word "decrees". The object of the section is to deal with several attachments no matter whether the decrees are passed by the same Court or by different

Notes.

Courts. The phrase "in execution of decrees" is explanatory of the word "attachment." 59 M. 1028=44 L.W. 358=1936 M.W.N. 655 =1936 M. 797=71 M.L.J. 328. The word "proceeding" in cl. (2) is wide enough to include an order of the inferior Court allowing a set-off which cannot be recalled or cancelled by the superior Court. 35 B. 473. Where property of the judgment-debtor is attached by more Courts than one, the Court of the superior grade is alone entitled to realise such property and determine all claims thereto. 144 I.C. 252=37 L.W. 366=1933 M. 342 (2)=65 M.L.J. 347. When the same property is sold in an execution by two different Courts the sale by the Court which attached later but sold first is valid unless it was done with the knowledge of the prior attachment. When a property has been sold by a Court having jurisdiction to do so, there is nothing left, which can be sold again by another Court. The second purchaser has therefore absolutely no title to the property 152 I.C. 902=1934 P. 511. An attachment by the High Court and one by the Small Cause Court stand on the same footing and the fact that the Small Cause Court decrees have not been transferred to the High Court and that the money is lying in the High Court is of no consequence. In other words, S. 73 of the C.P. Code, must be read subject to S. 63. (21 C. 200 and 6 R. 131, F.) 61 C. 240 =152 I.C. 69=1934 C. 559. See also 37 Bom. L.R. 78; 11 O.W.N. 1618; 69 M.L.J. 908, 1935 M. 938=41 L.W. 783=1935 M.W.N. 1046, 59 B. 310=159 I.C. 505=37 Bom. L.R. 78=1935 B. 176.

COURT OF HIGHEST GRADE—The grade of a Court depends upon the pecuniary or other limitations of the jurisdiction of the particular Court. 19 B. 127, 134 I.C. 273=1931 N. 127. In the North-Western Provinces, the Court of a Munsiff is of higher grade than a Court of Small Causes 16 A. 11 (F.B.). A Small Cause Court, which has a higher pecuniary jurisdiction than the Additional Small Cause Court in the same area, is a Court of higher grade within the meaning of S. 63, C.P. Code, and the additional Court has no jurisdiction to deal with an application for a share in the assets realised by the former Court 1936 N. 270. Assets held by Court of inferior grade transferred to superior Court—Rateable distribution—Inferior Court not agent of superior Court 29 Bom. L.R. 319. Application for rateable distribution under S. 73 must be made to the superior Court. 53 A. 759=1933 A. 2=133 I.C. 426 (51 M.L.J. 661, F.). See also 55 B. 473=1933 B. 350=133 I.C. 817. An attaching creditor in the inferior Court need not have his decree transferred to the superior Court for execution before he applies for rateable distribution in the latter Court. 132 I.C. 832=1931 R. 111 (2).

MEANING OF WORDS.—The words "of property not in the custody of any Court" seem to be more applicable to moveable than to immovable property. 7 C. 410. But see 7 M. 47. "Realise" means "realize" by sale. 3 A. 356, at 54. Rights of attaching decree-holders of different Courts. 29 I.C. 21. See also 26 M.L.J. 406, 6 P.L.J. 332. Money attached before judgment is liable to rateable distribution in execution of decrees against the same defendant. 26 I.C. 941. An attachment of immovable property in execution of a money decree followed by order for sale does not confer on the judgment-creditor any charge on the land. 27 M.L.J. 150 (P.C.) (Reversing 15 I.C. 288). See also 15 C. 202 (210); 37 L.W. 366.

SECS. 63 AND 73—S. 73, C.P. Code, is not to be regarded as the only section for rateable distribution in the Code. The section must be read in conjunction with S. 63. While both Ss. 63 and 73 aim at the fair distribution of the proceeds of sale among the judgment-creditors of the common judgment-debtor, there is a fundamental distinction between the two sections. The fund available for distribution under S. 73 is the entire fund realised or received by the executing Court, leaving out of consideration the proviso to the section. On the other hand the funds available for distribution under S. 63 are the proceeds of common property attached by the judgment creditors. It is the fact of attachment, and attachment of the identical properties by the several decree-holders that brings S. 63 into operation. Where one of several decree-holders executes his decree against the judgment-debtor in a particular Court and sells his properties, if other persons holding decrees against the same judgment-debtor apply for execution to the same Court before the receipt of the proceeds of sale, the whole sale proceeds will have to be rateably distributed among all the decree-holders under S. 73. The latter decree-holders need not take any further steps beyond applying for execution to the Court which sells and realises the assets. 40 C.W.N. 1307=1936 C. 723. S. 73 cannot be regarded as a self-contained rule. To so read the section would defeat and render nugatory the provisions of S. 63. S. 63 must be treated as constituting an exception to S. 73. Where, as stated in S. 73, the property is under attachment in execution of decrees of more Courts than one, if the other conditions specified in S. 73 are fulfilled, the right to rateable distribution arises. 59 M. 1028=44 L.W. 358=1936 M. 797=71 M.L.J. 328. Ss. 63 and 73 must be read together and since the Court of highest grade has been empowered to determine 'any claim' in respect of property, it must include claims for rateable distribution under S. 73. Consequently there is no need for second application for execution in the Court of the highest grade by the decree-holder applying for rateable distribution in that Court. 1937 N. 80. Prior attachment of the property is not essential under S. 63. Under S. 73 also prior attachment is not necessary so far as between such Courts, the Court under whose decree the property was first attached.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to invalidate any proceeding taken by a Court executing one of such decrees.

64. [S. 276.] Where an attachment has been made, any private transfer or delivery of the property attached or of any interest therein and any payment to the judgment-debtor of any debt, dividend or other moneys contrary to such attachment, shall be void as against all claims

Private alienation of property after attachment to be void.

the creditors seeking rateable distribution are concerned. All that is required is an application for execution before the assets are received by the Court entitled to receive them 1937 N 80. Where several decrees, some in favour of one decree-holder and others in favour of another, are passed by the same Court and sent for execution to different Courts, one of which is a superior and the other an inferior Court, and both those executing Courts attach the same properties, each decree-holder acting in ignorance of the proceedings taken by the other, the fact that the inferior Court holds the sale in pursuance of its attachment and allows the decree-holder to set-off the purchase price against the decree amount before the date fixed for sale by the superior Court will not deprive the decree-holder in the superior Court of his right to apply to the superior Court under S 63, on his becoming aware of the sale, to call for the proceeds of the sale from the inferior Court and to distribute them rateably. In such a case the decree-holder purchaser in the inferior Court may properly be given a choice either to elect to have a re-sale, or to pay into Court so much of the price as may become due to the rival decree holder on rateable distribution 59 M 1028=44 L W. 358=1936 M. 797=71 M.L.J. 328. Where property is sold in execution of a decree by a superior Court, and decree-holders, who have obtained decrees against same judgment-debtor in an inferior Court and applied for execution to that Court before the date of sale, apply after the sale to the superior Court for rateable distribution, the superior Court which realises the assets is under a duty to distribute the assets which are realised by the sale and thereby to execute not only its own decree but also those of the inferior Court. The applications made to the inferior Court for execution of the decrees passed by it are in order and valid. Where the right to rateable distribution has to be determined by a Court under S 63, an application for execution made to the Court which passed the decree before the realisation of assets is quite sufficient for the purposes of S. 73; and it is not necessary that such application should be made to the Court holding the assets. The words "application to the Court for the execution, etc." mean application to the appropriate Court including an inferior Court which granted the decree sought to be executed 59 B. 310 =37 Bom.L R. 78=1935 B. 176.

Secs 63 and 73 and O. 21, R 72—The right of set off under O 21, R 72 is subject to the provisions of S 73. The application under S. 73 must be made before the sale and it is not enough to say that it should be made before the entire sale proceeds are paid. If there is no application to the Court which holds sale and the Court allows set-off, the order of the Court is not improper, although in contravention of S 63 41 C.W. N. 350=1937 C. 55

Sec. 64—There cannot be a partial raising of attachment by consent of parties out of Court. Section being absolute in its terms a sale by consent or connivance of the decree-holder is not excepted by it. 101 I.C. 591 (1) =1927 M 648 But see 1934 R. 313, infra. Where the form which the decree takes is entirely dependent on the agreement of the parties and it is by private agreement between them that particular properties are transferred to one of them the transfer is definitely a private transfer although it is embodied in the decree of the Court. 1934 R 313. The object of section is to prevent fraud on decree-holders. 30 B 337; 33 I C 492, and also to preserve intact the rights of attaching creditors against attached property by prohibiting private alienations pending litigation 29 C. 154. This section avoids only private transfers and not awards by arbitrators 35 M.L.J. 441, 63 M.L.J. 664 (P.C.). S 64 does not invalidate a sale of the attached property in pursuance of an agreement to sell made prior to the attachment. But the attachment holds good in respect of such right as the vendor had in the property at the time of the attachment, and if there is an unpaid balance of the purchase-money the attachment fastens to the judgment-debtor's right to recover that money, that is to say, to the unpaid vendor's charge under S. 55 (4) of the T P Act. But the property having passed by sale from the judgment-debtor cannot be sold in execution of the decree in pursuance of the attachment 1935 M 872=69 M.L.J 678. See also 1936 N. 163. S 64, which declares private alienation of property after attachment to be void, does not cover the enforced execution of a conveyance in obedience to a decree of a Court 1936 N. 163. In the case of attachment before judgment as in the case of attachment in execution of a decree any private alienation of property during the continuance of attachment is void. 26 C 531. Purchase made during pendency of attachment is void and purchaser does not obtain a lien 34 I C 34. S 64 avoids an alienation

No doubt a person claiming rateable distribution of assets cannot get the benefit of the Explanation to S. 64, unless he has himself got an attachment on the assets from which he seeks to benefit. But such a person would be entitled to the benefit of S. 64, if he had obtained an order directing the attachment of the property of the judgment-debtor before he mortgaged the property in favour of a third person as the effect of the order of attachment under O. 21, R. 54 (3) is that it should be deemed that there had been an attachment of the property from the very date of the order. 152 I. It must be strictly construed, and before property can be subjected to the restriction imposed, there must be a perfected attachment. 7 C. 702. See also 2 A. 58; 3 A. 698. The mere order to make an attachment does not amount to an actual attachment. The attachment is not complete until it has been effected in the manner prescribed by the rules, i. e., a copy of the order prohibiting the debtor from making payment of the debt until the further order of the Court has been sent to the debtor and duly served upon him. If this requirement has not been fulfilled there is in fact no attachment of the debt and the provisions of S. 64 are not applicable. 152 I. C. 795=1934 P. 619. See also [51 M. 349 (P. No property can be declared to be attached unless, first, the order for attachment has been issued, and secondly, in execution of that order the other things prescribed by the rules in the Code have been done. Hence where a copy of the warrant of attachment is not affixed the attachment is invalid and S. 64 can have no application. 145 I. C. 813=1933 R. 267. The attachment does not affect subsisting equitable rights which could be enforced against the property at the date of the attachment. 8 M. L. J. 261. When the adjudication is made, the insolvent's property, vests in the Receivers and the Receiver's rights are not affected by the prior attachment, whether the attachment is before judgment, or after the decree. The attachment by itself does not give the attaching creditor any charge or lien on the property, nor does it give him any priority in respect of the property attached as against the Official Assignee or Receiver, the only effect of the attachment is to prevent private alienation. The attaching decree-holders therefore are not entitled to execute their decree under the provisions of O. 21, R. 53. 145 I.C. 695=29 N.L.R. 303=1933 N 229. by person who attached before judgment 38 M.L.J. 441. See also 166 I.C. 873=17 Pat.L.T. 847=1937 P. 50. When a suit is dismissed an attachment before judgment terminates without any order of Court and if the judgment is reversed on appeal or annulled on review the judgment does not revive it so as to affect alienations made before the date of such reversal. Even where the plaintiff on the reversal of the decree of the first Court dismissing his suit appeals and on appeal gets a decree in his favour and re-attaches the property in suit, his claim is not one enforceable under the original attachment 147 I.C. 509=1933 A.L.J. 1501. Where property is attached before judgment and the order of attachment is set aside but the attachment is restored the parties are restored to the position they occupied when the property was originally attached. A private sale of the property in the interval is void 42 A. 39. See also 1933 A. 953, 40 C. 598 (P.C.). An interim order of attachment before judgment passed when the minor defendant is not properly represented will operate for the purpose of preventing alienation though the order cannot be made absolute without a proper guardian. A purchaser of the property in the interval can intervene in the proceedings and show that the order should not be made absolute. 106 I.C. 142=1928 M. 1. A re-attachment in execution as a matter of greater caution, of certain immoveable properties which had been attached before judgment does not amount to an abandonment of the original attachment. 26 I.C. 81=1 L.W. 932. Nor will mention in the sale proclamation of a mortgage executed after the attachment amount to a waiver of plea under S. 64. 1928 B. 44. Attachment ceasing under O. 21, R. 57. Re-attachment—Alienation during interval is valid 97 I.C. 547, 7 R. 20. An alienation which is void by reason of its being made contrary to an attachment cannot revive or be validated by reason of the attachment ceasing as a result of the execution being struck off 39 C.W.N. 733. When an execution application is struck off, the attachment made under it cannot be treated as subsisting 18 A. 49. See also 6 A. 33; 7 A. 617; 19 A. 482, 23 C. 829. The assignee of a decree need not apply for a fresh attachment 16 A. 132; 17 M. 58. The death of the judgment-debtor does not cause the attachment to cease 12 A. 440. When a judicial sale takes place all previous attachments effected on the property sold cease 12 C. 317. What are "claims enforceable under the attachment". See 20 A. 421; 23 M. 478; 14 M.I.A. 543; 6 A. 33, 2 A.L.J. 265, 167 I.C. 48=1937 N. 1. See also 10 W.R. 99. Objections under this section are available only to those having claims enforceable under the attachment 1929 P. 1.

EXPLANATION.—This explanation is new and supersedes 16 B. 91 at p. 100; 15 C. 771 and 25 A. at p. 434. Object of explanation. 93 I.C. 366=1926 S. 177. Explanation gives priority to claims under S. 72, C.P. Code, only in connection with the attachment under which they are enforceable. If an attachment is withdrawn or ceases to exist there is no right to rateable distribution 66 I.C. 642=8 O.L.J. 358. The combined effect of S. 64, and the explanation which has been added thereto is to extend the protection of that section to the claimants for rateable distribution against private alienations of property after attachment, just as much as to the decree-holder at whose instance the attachment is made 164 I.C. 1031=1936 O.W.N. 861. One of the objects of S. 64 is to prevent an alienation which might defeat the claim of the attaching creditor. Where, therefore, an alienation has been made after the attachment and the judgment-debtor satisfies the debt of the attaching creditor out of the sale proceeds, then such an alienation cannot be said to be 'contrary to such attachment'. And other creditors who have not applied for attachment but have applied for rateable distribution are not entitled to the benefit under S. 64. The explanation to S. 64 does not apply unless the claim of the subsequent decree-holders can be said to be a claim for rateable distribution within S. 73 and the essential condition of enforcement of such claim is that there should be assets held by the Court. 4 A.W.R. 1236=1934 A. 1057. See also 1933 N. 349. Under S. 64, an applicant for rateable distribution is placed on the same footing as the attaching decree-holder. But if the attachment were to cease, the position of the person who merely applied for rateable distribution might become precarious and he would be unable to proceed further to realise his decree debt. But under the amendment of O. 21, R. 55 by the Allahabad High Court, even if the attaching decree holder is satisfied or withdraws his claim, that would not affect the rights of one who had already applied for rateable distribution. Under the rule, the amount decreed is deemed to include the amount of any decree against the judgment-debtor, notice of which had been given to the sale officer. Consequently a private transferee of the attached property cannot, by satisfying the claim of the attaching decree holder, claim a paramount right so as to override the claims of a decree holder who had prior to such transfer, applied for rateable distribution. 150 I.C. 770=1934 A. 896. Sale.

65. Where immoveable property is sold in execution of a decree and such sale has become absolute, the property shall be deemed to have vested in the purchaser from the time when the property is sold and not from the time when the sale becomes absolute.

66. (1) No suit shall be maintained against any person claiming title under a purchase certified by the Court in such manner as may be prescribed on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of the plaintiff or on behalf of some one through whom the plaintiff claims.

The auction-purchaser in execution of a rent decree and not the judgment-debtor is liable for rents accruing between the date of the sale and its confirmation, as under S. 65 the title of the former dates from the date of the sale. 23 I. Sec 66: SCOPE OF SECTION—As to whether the section has retrospective operation, see 36 C. L. J. 396=27 C. W. N. 305 See also 43 A. 416, 47 C. 1108, 1925 N. 41; 30 C. W. N. 160, 40 C. W. N. 470. A suit for a declaration of title brought after the present Code of 1908 came into force against the transferee from the heir of the certified purchaser, where the sale took place and was confirmed before its enactment, is governed by S. 317 of the old Code, and not by S. 66 of the present Code, and is, therefore, maintainable. 39 P. L. R. 152. Section should be strictly construed. 34 P. L. R. 487=146 I. C. 932=1933 L. 636 See also 1937 M. 362. S. 66 applies only where plaintiff's claim is based on auction-purchase and not where it is prior to and independent of the sale. 36 I. C. 681; 1931 B. 578=33 Bom. L. R. 1296. S. 66 applies only when the plaintiff attempts to enforce his secret title as against the certificated purchaser. It has no application if the heirs of the ostensible purchaser do not appear in the case and deny plaintiff's 'benami' purchase. (75 I. C. 197, Foll.) 165 I. C. 709 (2)=1936 A. L. J. 1169=1936 A. 750. It may be that where the auction purchaser is no party and is indifferent as to which of the two contending parties is held to be entitled to the property purchased by him he being admittedly a mere stake-holder, S. 66 does not apply. Such a proposition does not apply to a case where the defendant is a transferee under a valid title-deed from the auction-purchaser. S. 66 applies not only to cases in which the property is claimed against an auction-purchaser himself but also where it is claimed against his representative in interest. 157 I. C. 615=1935 A. 143. The primary object of S. 66, C. P. Code, is that the certified purchase should be deemed to be conclusive and no one should be allowed to challenge it, unless he comes within the exceptions mentioned in the section itself, and those exceptions are contained in sub s. (2) under which a wrong insertion of the name of the purchaser in the sale certificate made fraudulently or without the consent of the real purchaser can be rectified and under which third persons are absolutely protected. It is immaterial whether the plaintiff claims the whole of the property purchased at the auction or only a share in that property. Where, therefore, the plaintiff brings a suit claiming joint possession over one-half of the property on the ground that it was purchased by the auction-purchaser on his own behalf and on behalf of the plaintiff, the suit is not maintainable. 167 I. C. 683=1937 A. L. J. 52=1936 A. W. R. 1254=1937 A. 176. As to applicability of section, see 90 I. C. 116 (Section not applicable to sale by receiver with permission of Court which appointed him); 83 I. C. 382=1924 O. 218 (Title of persons beneficially interested in the purchase not affected); 84 I. C. 98=1925 O. 20; 8 P. 585. (Section does not exclude evidence as to auction-purchase being benami when such evidence is relevant.) 133 I. C. 551. See also 162 I. C. 553=17 Pat. L. T. 591=1936 P. 429. re-convey made before and after sale is enforceable 62 C.L.J. 88. A suit based on the ground that the plaintiff was the real purchaser at a Court-sale and that the certified purchaser was not really so, is barred by S. 66. It is immaterial whether the plaintiff is in possession and seeks confirmation of possession or whether he is out of possession and seeks to recover it. But if the real owner is in possession of the property and the certified purchaser wants to take advantage of his name being in the sale certificate and brings the suit on that basis the real owner can successfully defend it on the ground of his being the real purchaser. But if the plaintiff bases his suit on some other title subsequently acquired, e.g., adverse possession, the suit does not come under S. 66. 12 P. 616=14 Pat. L.T. 208=1933 P. 264. S. 66, raises an irrebuttable presumption in favour of the auction-purchasers. But there is nothing to prevent him from creating a trust in favour of, and constituting himself a trustee for, the person who supplies the purchase money. Even if there be no registered instrument, twelve years' enjoyment by the beneficiary will confer a prescriptive right in him. 4 A.W.R. 676=1934 A. 990. The auction-purchaser's right arising from the sale cannot, by reason of S. 66, be questioned in suit. But a plaintiff can claim title to the property covered by the purchase not on the ground of the purchaser being benamidar for himself, but on the ground that the purchaser subsequently transferred or agreed to transfer his title to himself or that he acquired the same otherwise, for example by prescription. 4 A.W.R. 676=1934 A. 990, 62 C.L.J. 88; 1937 M. 362. S. 66 (1) has to be strictly applied. Its object is to prohibit on grounds of public policy a suit against the certified purchaser on the ground specified in the section. It does not render benami transactions illegal. If the cause of action is not based on the benami purchase but on a contract or title acquired subsequent thereto, S. 66 is not a bar. 1937 M. 362. In the absence of anything definite to show the contrary, the purchase made by a joint decree holder, though in his own name, would undoubtedly enure for the benefit of all the persons interested in the joint fund which has been utilized in the acquisition of the property. Other persons would be beneficially interested in the purchase, and would be "entitled to recover a share of the properties purchased at auction," conditional on the payment of a proportionate share of the costs incurred in the litigation. And this right can be relinquished without a written instrument, as such right is short of ownership. 1933 A. 854 (2)=148 I.C. 502=1934 A. L.J. 107. A suit for execution of a sale-deed and for recovery of possession on the ground that defendant's father purchased the properties as benamidar for the plaintiff falls within S. 66, and is barred. 29 I.C. 138; 54

M.L.J. 462 (P.C.) S. 66 applies not only to cases in which the property is claimed against an auction-purchaser himself but also where it is claimed against his representative in interest as, for example, a transferee from him under a valid title-deed. 4 A.W.R. 974=1935 A. 143. The section provides that no suit shall lie against the certified purchaser on the ground that the purchase was on behalf of the plaintiff. 44 I.A. 201=44 A. 159 (P.C.) Cases of suits by certified purchasers are beyond the letter and scope of this section. 21 A. at p. 40. The section protects the certified purchaser only so long as he retains the possession given by Court. When he parts with it to the true owner he cannot sue for possession. If he ousts the true owner in possession for more than 12 years the true owner's suit for possession is based upon adverse possession under the limitation and is not barred by this section. 56 I.A. 330=51 A. 675=57 M.L.J. 177 (P.C.). A benami certified purchaser can sue in his own name even when the true owner's name is disclosed. See 22 B. at p. 679. The object of S. 66 is to put an end to benami purchases at Court sales in execution. 43 M. 643=39 M.L.J. 11 (P.C.), 12 Beng. L.R. 317. An agreement subsequent to a purchase is not affected by the section and is specifically enforceable. 43 M. 643=39 M.L.J. 11 (P.C.); 42 M. 615 (F.B.), 31 Bom. L.R. 1271. But see 54 I.C. 726=24 C.W.N. 27; 42 M. 616 (F.B.). But an agreement made prior to the execution sale is affected by the section and a claim to enforce it will be barred. 35 C.W.N. 940=54 C.L.J. 147 [43 M. 643 (P.C.) Dist.]. A suit by a judgment-debtor against an auction-purchaser to enforce an agreement before the sale to reconvey the properties to the judgment-debtor is barred. 50 I.C. 546. The section is intended to prevent fraud, and cannot apply to cases in which its application would promote fraud. 12 C. 204. But see 16 M. at pp. 292-93. The section has no application where it is found that the certified purchaser was, at the date of the purchase, managing the plaintiff's family as its agent, and that he bought the lands as such. 17 M. at p. 286, 287. See also 18 M. 436. But see 22 A. 434. A person is entitled to be regarded as the certified purchaser at any time after the acceptance of his bid at the sale, even though a sale certificate has not issued to him. 25 W.R. 493; 19 I.C. 909=19 C.L.J. 330, 29 I.C. 716; 53 I.C. 961. Section is no bar when the certified purchaser does not contest plaintiff's claim. 82 I.C. 344=1925 A. 47. The section should be construed strictly. 5 Bom. APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—A plaintiff purchaser, at a Court-sale, is not entitled to recover the property from the defendant of whom he was found to be the benamidar, and the benami transaction was found to be free from fraud. 36 B. 116. See also 56 I.A. 330; 108 I.C. 130=26 A.L.J. 245. Th section applies only to sales in execution of decrees of Civil Courts, held under the Code. 14 C at p 585 S 66 has no application in a case where the benamidar himself does not claim under the sale certificate. 27 C.W.N. 208=1923 C 302 A cause of action against the benamidar which arose under the old Code, 1882, is not affected by the new Code. 50 I C. 335=23 C.W.N. 604 See also 18 C.L.J. 616=8 C.W.N. 1331. Section applies to the case of a purchaser at a sale in enforcement and execution of certificate under S. 2 of the Public Demands Recovery Act. 16 C.W.N. 973=16 C.L.J. 412. Where at an auction, a person purchased property in the name of one and it was alleged by another that it was in trust for him, a suit between these two claimants is not within the prohibition contemplated by S. 66. 33 I C. 1000 Section does not apply to cases where a plaintiff who purchases property in the name of another, has been in adverse possession for over 12 years. 19 C. 199. The section applies whether the ostensible purchaser at an auction-sale purchases the whole or part of the property sold. 57 I C. 684 Benami purchaser attesting sale by true owner, effect of—Whether operates as estoppel. See 36 M. 564=23 M.L.J. 301 A manager guilty of fraud cannot take advantage of the section as against the ward. 30 I.C. 212. As to fraud, see also 36 B 116 Joint decree-holders—Co-decree-holders purchasing at execution sale—Rights of others. See 37 A. 545 (P.C.) (affirming 32 A. 541=6 I C. 364). 29 I C. 447 is not now good law. See also 29 A. 557 Section 66 has no application to cases where the manager of a Hindu family or a tenant-in common purchases with funds belonging to the joint family or to all the tenants-in-common. 17 I C. 434=1912 M.W. N 1071 See also 43 M.L.J. 363=45 M. 856, 37 I C. 111. S 66 is intended to discourage benami purchases at execution sales held by the Court by penalising the person who purchases benami in the name of another. The penalty applies equally to any one claiming through him. It does not apply where the name of the benamidar has been inserted in the sale deed fraudulently or without consent of the real purchaser. The section refers to private agreements or understandings between the benamidar and the person who employs him. It has, therefore, no application to a case where the plaintiff says that he and first defendant, the Bara, purchased certain property with joint family funds; that the latter allowed the property to be sold for arrears of rent; that in the auction the property was purchased by second defendant, son of the first defendant, that however was only benami; it was really purchased by the first defendant and that it continued to be the partible property of the joint family. The plaintiff is an innocent person and no party to the fraud, he is not hit by S. 66. 61 C. 440=150 I.C. 1051=38 C.W.N. 494=1934 C. 567. Where properties sold in execution of a decree were purchased with the funds of the manager of a joint Hindu family in the name of his son-in-law, S 317 of the C. P. Code, 1882, bars the claim of the members of the joint Hindu family to the properties as being really joint family acquisitions. 44 I A 201=33 M.L.J. 180=40 A 159 (P.C.) Purchase at Court-auction by two persons with joint funds—Sale certificate in the name of one—It is a joint transaction constituting the parties co-purchasers and not a benami transaction and this section does not apply to it. 50 B. 660 But see 1934 C 322. Some persons purchased a property in execution sale in the name of one of them. They had contracted themselves that they shall be the owners of the property in shares proportionate to their contribution. The benamidar sold away more than his share of the property. One of the contributors filed the suit for declaration of his share in the property. Held, that S. 66 was a bar to such a suit. The operation of S 66 could not be ousted by the existence of any private agreement or undertaking. 61 C 371=150 I.C. 77=1934 C 322

SUIT FOR REPRESENTATIVES OF REAL PURCHASER.—S 66 is intended to bar the institution of a suit against the certified purchaser by the beneficial owner or one standing as successor-in-title of the beneficial owner. 16 I C 480=10 A.L.J. 97 Also see 25 I C 821=12 A.L.J. 1145 157 I.C. 615=1935 A 143 S 66, C P Code, applies to the successor-in-title of the certified purchaser. 55 I C 499=16 N.L.R. 87 (31 B. 61, 35 B 342, Ref.) Also see 19 I.C. 909=19 C.L.J. 330. SUIT FOR POSSESSION.—A plaintiff at a Court-sale is not entitled to recover the property from the defendant of whom he was found to be the benamidar and the benami transaction was found to be free from fraud. 36 B 116 Also see 35 A 138, 29 I C 787; 40 C. 20, 28 M.L.J. 251 (Auction-purchaser not trustee for real purchaser). S 66 is no bar to a suit brought by the principal against the agent for the recovery of properties purchased by the agent in his own name but with the principal's money and for the principal's benefit in a Court-auction though without the knowledge of the prin-to the certified purchaser, on the ground that it is liable to satisfy a claim of such third person against the real owner.

SUIT FOR DECLARATION—A suit by a son, member of a joint Hindu family, for a declaration that a Court auction-purchase in the name of his mother, made out of family funds is benami, is barred under this section 43 A 711. But it has, however, been held that the real purchaser in a benami sale who remains in possession is not precluded by S. 66, from suing for declaration that he is the owner 25 I.C. 810, nor from remaining in possession of the property till the certified purchaser pays him a binding mortgage debt which he paid off bona fide on the basis of his supposed title 133 I.C. 536=1932 A. 32=1931 A.L.J. 601

Sec 68. SCOPE OF SECTION—Under S. 68, only those decrees can be transferred for execution to the Collector which direct the sale of any immovable property or such decrees in execution of which any property could be attached and sold. It is only when the property attached is capable of being sold and is a revenue-paying estate that the Civil Court can transfer the decree to the Collector with a clear direction to sell the property. If the property is non-transferable, the Civil Court is not competent to transfer the decree to the Collector. If the Civil Court is not competent to order the sale of the property, the Collector can have no jurisdiction over such property. 31 N.L.R. 239=156 I.C. 65=1935 N. 133. See also 162 I.C. 362=1936 O. 280. The Collector is bound to carry out the decree, subject to the discretion given to him by S. 1 of Sch. III and the following sections and subject to the provisions contained in Ss. 4, 5 and 6 of Sch. III, 11 A. at p. 95 (F.B.); ordering the sale of any particular kind of, or, interest in immovable property, shall be transferred to the Collector.

Notes

See also 7 B 332. All that the executing Court has to see is whether it is a case in which a decree-holder asks for the sale of the agricultural property and if that is the case, the decree has to be transferred to the Collector for execution as soon as the Court orders that the property should be sold. 147 I.C. 1201=3 A.W.R. 579=1934 A 253. Under the provisions of S. 68, the Local Government has no power to transfer to the Collector an execution case pending in a Civil Court in which that Court has already sold the property but the sale has not been confirmed. The power of the Local Government is confined only to those cases in which the property has not been sold but only an order for sale has been passed. 148 I.C. 464=1934 O. 138=11 O.W.N. 411. If it is declared by notification that a decree for sale of a particular kind of property should be transferred to the Collector for execution, a sale of the property, if made by a Civil Court, is void as such a notification ousts the jurisdiction of the Court so far as regards the execution of the decree. 151 I.C. 244=1934 A.L.J. 859=1934 A 314. The Collector executing a decree transferred to him, under S. 68, is not a Court, and he has no power to certify an adjustment of the decree under O. 21, R. 2. An adjustment recorded by the Collector during execution cannot consequently be treated as certification under O. 21, R. 2. 19 N.L.J. 175, 60 B 729=164 I.C. 9=38 Bom. L.R. 505=1936 B. 277. When execution proceedings are transferred to the Collector under S. 68, for sale of immovable property, and the judgment-debtor is a minor, the Civil Court, and not the Collector has the power to give permission to the decree-holder to bid at the sale, which is required under O. 21, R. 72. 60 B. 688=38 Bom. But he has not got the discretion to decide whether the decree has been satisfied. 37 B. 32. But see 16 A. 228. All that is delegated to the Collector is to consider the proper mode in which a decree may be satisfied by an agriculturist debtor so as to save, if possible, the sale of his property and the Court passing the decree can enquire into the question whether the decree-amount is satisfied or not and order a further execution when the Collector has returned the papers under an erroneous belief that the whole amount had been liquidated. 142 I.C. 579=26 S.L.R. 506=1933 S 112. III in local areas where the Local Government has not issued a notification under S. 68. The Civil Court has under S. 72 power to authorize the Collector exactly as the Local Government has it under S. 68. The Civil Court cannot under S. 72 exercise the powers of Collector under Sch. III due to the express provisions of Ss 72 (2) and 70 (2). 167 I.C. 807=1937 N. 41. The rules in Ch. 40 of the Revenue Manual do not apply to the execution of decrees of Revenue Courts, because Ss 68 to 72, C.P. Code, have been specifically excluded by the Second Schedule to the Agra Tenancy Act. Decrees of the Revenue Courts passed under the Agra Tenancy Act must be executed in the manner laid down in O. 21, C.P. Code. 1937 R.D. 37.

Sec. 70—A Collector acting under the section is a Revenue Court and can pass order under S. 476, Cr. P. Code 14 A.L.J. 1077=38 I.C. 419. After a sale is confirmed by the Collector and retransmitted to the Civil Court, he has no power left to interfere with the sale. 48 A. 568. The function of the Collector on receipt of a C Form issued by the Civil Court according to the rules prescribed under the C.P. Code and in the C.P. Revenue Book Circular, Vol. 2—III 8, is either to execute it by sale of the land attached or to realise the amount due under the decree by a lease or similar arrangement. It is beyond his function, when the sale is closed and the auction confirmed, to entertain a compromise relating to the sale 26 N.L.J. 93. But see 1935 A.L.J. 919. A Collector, who is empowered by rules framed by the Local Government under S. 70 (1) to set aside the sale of immovable property held in execution of a decree transferred to him by the Civil Court, has jurisdiction to set aside such sale even after the sale has been confirmed by him and the record of the execution case has been retransmitted to the Civil Court, if he is satisfied that the decree-holder, by the exercise of fraud, kept the judgment-debtor ignorant of the execution proceedings culminating in the sale of the property and of the confirmation of sale, and that as a consequence of his fraud the decree-holder succeeded in purchasing the property of the judgment-debtor for much less than its real value. An order passed by a Collector confirming a sale is a judicial order and he has inherent power to recall and cancel his order if he is satisfied that it is necessary to do so for the ends of justice or to prevent an abuse of the proceedings held by him. The retransmission of the decree to the Civil Court no doubt puts an end to the jurisdiction of the Collector to take further proceedings in execution of the decree, but it cannot divest him of the inherent jurisdiction possessed by him to correct his judicial orders or to review the same. 158 I.C. 753=1935 A.L.J. 919=1935 A. 868. No suit lies to set aside sale by Collector 3 O.W.N. 739=97 I.C. 1036=1926 O. 612. An order of the Commissioner passed on appeal from the Collector setting aside the objections of the judgment-debtor or auction-purchaser cannot be questioned in a Civil Court 139 I.C. 498=1932 O. 273 (6 O.W.N. 1214, Foll.). Where a decree for sale under a mortgage has been transferred for execution to the Collector under S. 68, C.P. Code, a mortgage of the property comprised in the decree by the judgment-debtor without the written permission of the Collector is absolutely void under para. 11, Sch. III, C.P. Code 153 I.C. 612=11 O.W.N. 1626. See also 11 O.W.N. 1571, 162 I.C. 362=1936 O.W.N. 489=1936 O. 280. A subdivisional officer conducting a sale cannot depute the Nazir to hold the sale, as it is contrary to the imperative provisions of R. 10 (11) of the C.P. Revenue Book Circular framed under S. 70 (1), C.P. Code. It is also illegal to continue a sale already commenced for about 9 days without directing the bidders to be present on the days on which it might be recommenced. A bid made by a prospective purchaser on a previous day cannot also be accepted behind his back several days later, so as to make him liable for loss on re-sale on his failure to pay the price. That is neither proper nor equitable. 18 N.L.J. 11.

similarly be transferred to the decree-holder. He has also no right to compel the decree-holder himself to take the lands on lease at a valuation fixed by the Collector. 160 I.C. 571=1936 Pesh 14. A District Judge executing a decree is not bound to accept the recommendation of a sub-divisional officer to the Collector to arrange to have the decree satisfied by a temporary alienation. 9 P.L.R. 1915=27 I.C. 630. The object of section is to save land by temporary alienation and the Court executing decree cannot vary its terms by authorising satisfaction in instalments. 2 N.W.P. 347. See also 6 N.W.P. 39. A Civil Court is competent in execution proceedings to grant a farm of the land of a judgment-debtor belonging to an agricultural tribe. If the Court in granting such a lease makes the lease money payable by instalments, it might be said that the Court has acted in an unwise or indiscreet manner by not demanding the entire lease money at once but it cannot be said that the Court has passed an order which it had no jurisdiction to pass. Such an order is not illegal or without jurisdiction and the provisions of S. 36 apply to the case and the Court can enforce payment of the lease money by applying the provisions of the Code relating to execution of decrees. (1920 L. 456, Foll.) 38 P.L.R. 936=1936 L. 696. Regarding suit to set aside sale by Collector, see 1 Luck. 558; 1926 O. 612=3 O.W.N. 739. Collector reporting inability to execute. Executing Court should not file execution application but should proceed with the execution. 96 I.C. 199 (1)=1926 L. 632.

CONCURRENT APPLICATIONS FOR EXECUTION OF DECREE—FORM OF EXECUTION TO BE ADOPTED.—When several applications for execution are pending against the same judgment-debtor, and all the applications have been made within the time required to give them a right to share in any realizations, it is obviously inequitable to adopt a form of execution which will favour one of the decree-holders at the expense of the rest. 1935 L. 964. Where more applications than one are pending, and the Collector has represented that the public sale of the property under attachment is objectionable, the correct procedure would seem to be for the Court to give the Collector details of the pending applications and to ask the Collector to suggest a method of temporary alienation which will provide as far as possible for the satisfaction of these decrees. 1935 L. 964.

FARM OF LAND IN FAVOUR OF DECREE-HOLDER.—NATURE AND EFFECT.—A farm of land in favour of a decree-holder is more in the nature of an adjustment of a decree the decree-holder receiving a tenure of the land in satisfaction of his decree as a whole and it stands on a different footing from a lease which is given out either on payment of an initial lump sum, or of rent at stated intervals. A decree-holder may be prepared to surrender his rights under the decree in return for receiving a limited tenure of the land rather than face a continuation of the execution proceedings. 1935 L. 964.

Sec 73: [See also NOTES UNDER S. 63] SCOPE AND APPLICABILITY OF SECTION.—Conditions as to the applicability of the section, and right to rateable distribution. See 30 I.C. 49=21 C.L.J. 624, 19 I.C. 226=19 C.W.N. 535, 42 M.L.J. 473, 48 M.L.J. 459; 42 I.C. 897=1917 M.W.N. 859; 1929 R. 198. Court has power to order rateable distribution in suitable cases even apart from S. 73. 1936 C. 390. S. 146 cannot enlarge the scope of S. 73 as it is expressly made subject to the other provisions of the Code. 159 I.C. 575=40 C.W.N. 26=1935 C. 738. This section must be read with S. 63 supra. See the cases cited on the point under S. 63. S. 73 has been so worded as to include cases in which it is possible that the purchase-money may not be actually deposited. 1933 A.L.J. 1102=1933 A. 666. S. 73 is applicable not only where sale is made by the Court, but also to cases in which execution of a decree is transferred to the Collector and sale is made by him, whether the Collector receives the purchase-money in cash or the decree-holder is declared to be the purchaser and the purchase-money is to be set-off against the decretal amount. 1933 A.L.J. 1102=1933 A. 666. Where an execution sale held by the Collector was set aside and the purchasers having obtained order for refund of their purchase-money applied for rateable distribution of the assets realised by the sale of property in execution of a decree against the decree-holder. Held, that S. 73 did not apply as the applicants had not made applications to the Civil Court in execution 151 I.C. 1027=1934 N. 243. S 73 does not take into account at all whether payment orders have been passed for the different decree-holders who have decrees against the same judgment-debtor. All that the section considers necessary are that assets should be held by a Court and that more persons than one have made applications to the Court for the execution of decrees. The mere fact that the Court has passed a payment order in favour of one of the decree-holders is no consideration which should bar the right of rival decree-holders to rateable distribution. The principle of S. 73 is that as long as the assets are still held by a Court there should be rateable distribution 151 I.C. 266=1934 A. 652. Where the assets are not liable to be rateably distributed, S 73 (2) has no application 42 M.L.J. 473. See also 1933 P. 277. A decree against the judgment-debtor for assets of his father gives no priority over the decrees against him personally 42 I.C. 897=1917 M.W.N. 859. See also 60 C. 923, infra. Scope of the section has been purposely broadened under the new Code of 1908. 70 I.C. 541=35 C.L.J. 327. Execution application praying for a relief which the Court could not grant is no ground for rejecting decree holder's application for rateable distribution. 49 M.L.J. 753=1926 M. 179=91 I.C. 11. An order under this section affects only interests existing at the time. The insolvency of the debtor introduces a new state of things from the date of the insolvency 27 C. 351. A judgment-creditor has no priority over the Official Assignee in respect of property attached by him previous to the vesting order 29 C. 428. Applicability to a Solicitor's claim for costs. 29 Bom.L.R. 1196=1927 B. 542=51 B. 855. The section applies to cases where a District Court transfers execution proceedings in a Small Cause Court to the Court of a Sub-Judge 18 B. 61. See also 15 M. 345. The section applies to cases where property has been attached in execution of a decree of a Presidency Small Cause Court, and the same property has been attached in execution by the High Court 20 B. 377. Nature of proceedings under the section is one of non-judicial character, and the Court cannot enquire into the validity or otherwise of the decrees under which payments are claimed. 19 N.L.R. 172=1924 N. 39=6 R. 582. Under S 73, all the judgment-debtors need not be identical, and if one or more of the judgment-debtors be the same, rateable distribution can be got as regards their share of the property. 156 I.C. 631=41 L.W. 490=1935 M. 399; 4 Pat.L.T. 373=74 I.C. 626, 5 R. 757. See also 9 C. 920; 30 C. 583. But the holders of decrees against one of the brothers in a joint family are not entitled to rateable distribution from out of the sale proceeds of the property pertaining to the share of another brother realised in execution of decrees against both the brothers. 54 M.L.J. 278=1928 M. 362. A decree was obtained by one against party R whilst the decree obtained by the other party was against the sons of R. Held, that the two decrees were not passed against the same judgment-debtor. 159 I.C. 575=40 C. W.N. 26=1935 C. 738, 25 B. 494, 33 M. 465; 1930 C. 454, Foll. The words "same judgment-debtor" in S 73, must be construed liberally. A strict literal construction cannot be adopted in the sense that the decree must be against the same person eo nomine. A decree passed against a deceased person during his lifetime and sought to be executed against his legal representatives and a decree passed against the legal representatives of the deceased after his death, in respect of a claim against the deceased, are both decrees against the "same judgment-debtor" for the purposes of S 73. 42 L.W. 835=69 M.L.J. 711 (F.B.). A literal interpretation should not be given to the word "judgment debtor" in S 73. Where therefore a person is sued as family manager it must be taken that he represents all the members of the family (even if consisting of father and sons) and they are constructively parties to the suit and hence must be deemed to be judgment-debtors for the purpose of the suit 168 I.C. 559=43 L.W. 624=1936 M. 123, 1936 M. 40, Foll. A decree obtained against a Hindu father and a decree against the father and his sons are decrees against the same judgment-debtor for purposes of S 73. 44 L.W. 615=1936 M. 948=71 M.L.J. 541. See also 41 L.W. 490=1935 M. 399, where the question was raised but not decided. But see (1937) 1 M.L.J. 180. If a decree is obtained against a man as heir of a deceased person and another decree is obtained against him in his personal capacity, the two decrees are against the same judgment-debtor within the meaning of S 73. Consequently, if one of the two decree-holders takes out execution and assets are realised, the other is entitled to rateable distribution 63 C. 923=40 C.W.N. 570=1936 C. 210. Claims under this section are claims enforceable by attachment, against which assignments made under S 64 are void. 7 C. 34. Section does not apply to deposits by judgment-debtor for a particular decree 81 I.C. 7=1925 N. 157. Set-off claimed under O. 21, R. 72 is subject to rights of persons who are entitled to rateable distribution. If no such person is in existence on the date of sale or fifteen days thereafter set-off takes effect 1931 M. 103=130 I.C. 458=1930 M.W.N. 568. But see 1925 O. 287. In the pendency of an application under this section, set-off under O. 21, R. 72 cannot be ordered 52 C.L.J. 19. Proviso to S. 73 (1) (b) applies also when the decree-holder and mortgagee are the same provided the decree debt and mortgage debt are distinct. Where they are the same proviso does not apply. first applied for execution of money decree and later for sale of the properties. Held, S 73 (1) (b) not applicable—Remedy against property is by suit 53 M. 670=122 I.C. 366=1930 M. 138. Judgment-debtor's property attached and placed in charge of Superatdar—Failure to produce property—Warrant issued—Payment made to avoid attachment Held, the amount was liable for rateable distribution among the other creditors Held also, that the amount realized from the Superatdar was, in the eye of the law, the sale proceeds of the judgment-debtor's property which was admittedly attached in execution of the decree against him. Simply because the Superatdar failed to restore the property which was entrusted to him, the nature of the execution case was not changed; for all practical purposes the Superatdar represented the judgment debtor 148 I.C. 944=1934 N. 62.

JURISDICTION—Under S. 73, a Court acts in an administrative capacity. It cannot therefore inquire into the validity of a decree, any order to that purpose is entirely without jurisdiction. 152 I.C. 482=1934 P. 545. An application for rateable distribution can be entertained by the original Court even when the petition for execution is transferred from that Court under O. 21, R. 6. 35 P.L.R. 305=1934 L. 113 (1). A custody Court has no authority to make any rateable distribution unless it be the attaching Court as well. Under O. 21, R. 52 it can only determine the question of priority and thereafter act under the instructions of the attaching Court. 146 I.C. 791 (1)=37 C.W. N. 820=1933 C. 814.

RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION—FORMAL APPLICATION, IF NECESSARY.—Per Sulaman, C.J.—Section 73 does not make it necessary for a decree holder to make any formal application for a rateable share in the assets. All that is necessary is that he should have made an application to that Court for the execution of his decree for payment of money. 4 A.W.R. 1236=1934 A. 1057.

WHO CAN APPLY—See 20 S.L.R. 111. Only bona fide decree-holders can apply for rateable distribution, and a Court is bound to ascertain this fact. 11 C. at p. 44. See also 13 B. 154. Application for rateable distribution is not an application for execution. 64 I.C. 53=17 N.L.R. 143. Application for execution is necessary to entitle decree-holder to rateable distribution. Mere petition for rateable distribution is not enough. 87 I.C. 1025=1925 N. 382. The application must be to the Court holding the assets. It is not necessary to have the decree transferred for execution to the Court holding the assets. 132 I.C. 832=1931 R. 111 (2) (5 R. 757 held overruled by 6 R. 131). Attachment, not sufficient. 90 I.C. 527=1926 C. 249. But see 1936 C. 390 holding that the Court has power to allow rateable distribution apart from S. 73 in such cases. A person by simply obtaining an order for attachment before judgment is not entitled to rateable distribution. 30 I.C. 38=28 C.L.J. 614, 12 B. 400. Section 73 only permits "application to the Court for the execution of decrees for the payment of money" and not by persons who have obtained orders for payment of money which are capable of being executed. The definition of decree in S. 2 (2) does not include an order which is defined in S. 2 (14). Therefore a person holding an order for refund of purchase money is not entitled to put in his application for rateable distribution, even though the order in his favour is capable of execution as a decree under S. 36, C.P. Code 17 N.L.J. 146. The holder of a decree for unascertained mesne profits, who has applied to the Court to ascertain the amount thereof comes within the purview of this section. 5 M. 123. On this point, see also 40 L.W. 291=151 I.C. 609=1934 M. 604=67 M. L.J. 303, 23 A. 106, 4 B. 429. Where money due to a judgment-debtor is attached in the hands of this debtor and paid by him into Court, a rival decree-holder attaching it in Court is entitled to rateable distribution. 5 M.L.J. 151. See also 5 L.L.J. 279=1924 L. 132 (Sale postponed to enable judgment-debtor to raise money by private alienation). A mortgage decree-holder who will be entitled to realize the balance by personal decree can apply for rateable distribution under this section. 152 I.C. 770=60 C.L.J. 22=38 C.W. N. 850=1934 C. 764.

WHEN SHOULD APPLICATION BE MADE "BEFORE THE RECEIPT OF SUCH ASSETS."—As to cases bearing on this point, see 13 C. 225; 21 C. at p. 817; 6 B. 588, 28 M. 380, 6 Bom.L.R. 376, 87 I.C. 783=1925 C. 966, 37 L.W. 366=65 M.L.J. 347 (44 M. 100, Ref.) "Receipt" means receipt of the whole of the assets realised by one order for sale. 95 I.C. 205=1926 N. 380. The bringing in of the purchase money realised by execution sale does not constitute "realisation" or "receipt" within S. 73 and in cases where the decree holder purchaser is allowed to set off the purchase-money towards his decree amount, the assets are realised within the meaning of S. 73 on the date of the sale itself and not on the last day of the period of 15 days allowed to a purchaser to deposit the amounts. 159 I.C. 228=42 L.W. 564=1935 M. 893. See also 1937 C. 55. For purposes of rateable distribution of assets under S. 73, C.P. Code, in cases of execution by the Collector, the assets must be deemed to have been received by the Court on the date when they were received by the Collector. 1937 N. 16. Until the Court has received a decree it has no jurisdiction to entertain an application for execution. Where the decree was received by the executing Court the next day after the application for execution was filed, the application is not sustainable in law so as to be the basis of a claim for rateable distribution. 27 L.W. 423; 101 I.C. 908=1927 P. 252.
